At the request of Rose Ann Mudd the following deed of gift was recorded on 3-27-1813: In consideration of love and affection Raphael Mudd (Abce) conveyed to Rose Ann Mudd, daughter of Francis Mudd, one negro man named Peter who was 70 years of age; one negro girl Rachel who was 16 years of age; one girl Ruth (negro) who was 3 years of age; and one iron gray mare which was 6 years old; reserving to his sister Susannah Mudd (i.e. first wife of Francis Lucas Mudd, Abagb) the use of them during her natural life.

ISSUE: Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) said that his father Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Sr. (Abagb g) had fifteen brothers and half-brothers.

It is clearly stated in the Civil War pension claim of Austin Mudd's (Abagb a) former slave that Donatus Mudd (Abagb c), the father of Samuel A. Mudd (Abagb ce), was the brother of Austin Mudd (Abagb a).

Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) was well known which fact was of assistance in establishing his ancestry. Dr. Joseph Aloysius Mudd (Abaga bd) of Wash., D.C. wrote a letter to Joseph Augustine Mudd (Ababc ab) of Chicago, Ill. wherein he stated that Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) was a first cousin to his father Dr. Hilary Pius Mudd (Abaga b) and that "Donatus' father was Francis Mudd, the son of Thomas, son of Henry, son of Thomas Mudd". Dr. Joseph Aloysius Mudd made the mistake of omitting one generation, viz. that of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb) who was the son of Francis Mudd (Abag) and the father of Donatus Mudd (Abagb c); but, he did clearly indicate the line of descent. The Francis, son of Thomas Mudd whom he mentioned as being the father of Donatus, died in 1779 and so it is obvious that he could not be the father of a man born after 1800.

The inter-marriage of the Edelens and Mudds in the lines of Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) and John Lewis Mudd (Abagb f) tends to corroborate the close relationship of these two Mudds whom we have listed as brothers.

In the marriage bond of John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d) and Louisa R. Robertson, John Baptist Mudd was referred to as being a brother of Austin Mudd (Abagb a).

Dr. Joseph Aloysius Mudd believed that the Francis Mudd (i.e. Abagb) whose line included Thaddeus Mudd (Abagb fa) and John Robert Mudd (Abagb fb) was the son of Francis Mudd (Abag). He was mistaken, however, in considering that Thaddeus Mudd and John Robert Mudd were sons of Francis Mudd (Abagb) instead of grandsons as they proved to be.

Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) told the author that Francis Mudd (Abagb) died when his father Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Sr. (Abagb g) was about fifteen years old; that his father Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Sr. had to help support the family and so engaged himself to work for his half-brother Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) who was a blacksmith; and, that he worked for Donatus Mudd for three years before migrating to Texas in 1836 with his mother Ellen Mudd and his brothers Frank (Abagb h) and George (Abagb i). According to Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr., the three Mudd brothers upon arriving in Texas immediately joined arms against Santa Anna and fought under General Sam Houston.

Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. further told the author that his father's life had been saved by the latter's half-brother Donatus Mudd (Abagb c). He said, "While Thomas N. Mudd Sr. was still in Kentucky he was driving a team of four horses for his half-brother Donatus Mudd; the team ran away and Donatus, by using a hand spike, killed the two lead horses and thus Thomas N. Mudd Sr.'s life was saved."

The descendants of the children of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb) and his first wife Susannah Mudd (with exception of Donatus Mudd's, Abagb c, descendants) were somewhat difficult to follow. The proof of relationship of the brothers of Donatus Mudd was established by old letters,[16] wills, etc.

Marion Matilda (Mudd) Layton (Abagb ie) believed that Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) and his brothers were the sons of the Eleanor Mudd who was the mother of her father (her father was George Henry Mudd). This is obviously incorrect, and for proof, see baptismal records of Donatus Mudd (Abagb c), John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d), and John Robert Mudd (Abagb e) whose mother was Susannah.

POSSIBLE ISSUE OF FRANCIS LUCAS MUDD: Fr. Kenny claimed to have some evidence that Francis Mudd (Abagb) and his first wife Susannah Mudd had a son William Mudd. There is no proof of this.

A Mary Elizabeth Mudd who died at St. Charles, Mo. on 12-28-1888 at the age of eighty-three years could have been a daughter (or daughter-in-law) of Francis Mudd (Abagb).

IDENTITY OF FRANCIS LUCAS MUDD (ABAGB): Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc), told the author that his grandfather and grandmother were Francis Lucas Mudd and Ellen Mudd.

(John) Daniel Mudd (Abagb hd), son of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb h), stated that his grandfather was Francis Lucas Mudd.

Henry Mudd (Abagb hb) stated: "Francis Lucas Mudd I and wife were distant cousins." Undoubtedly Henry Mudd (Abagb hb) in making this statement was referring to his grandparents, viz. Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb) and Eleanor ("Ellen") Mudd (Abacf), who we believe were first cousins.

Francis Mudd (Abagb), brother of Thomas N. Mudd (Abaga), is referred to as the grandfather of Thaddeus Mudd (Abagb fa) and John R. Mudd (Abagb fb). (Ref. 44)

The constant recurrence of the name Thomas Nathaniel which is used by the descendants of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb) tends to prove that Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb), who married the two Mudd women, was the son of Francis Mudd (Abag) and brother of Thomas Nathaniel Mudd (Abaga).

THE WIVES OF FRANCIS LUCAS MUDD (ABAGB): The baptismal record for Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) records his parents as being Francis Mudd and Susannah Mudd. We know that Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) and Thomas Nathaniel Mudd (Abagb g) were half-brothers (Ref. Thomas N. Mudd Jr., Abagb gc), and as they were both sons of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb) it is obvious that their father married twice. They could be half-brothers by the double marriage of one parent only; not in any other way.

Fr. Kenny and other investigators are quite certain, as is the author, that the Francis Mudd of the 1810 Charles Co., Md. census is the same Francis Mudd who married Susannah Mudd and Eleanor ("Ellen") Mudd. A statement that clinches the argument as to the marriage of Francis Mudd (Abagb) to the two Mudd women, viz. Susannah and Eleanor ("Ellen") Mudd, was made by Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) when he said that the only half-brothers of his father that he remembered were Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) and John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d).

Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) stated that he did not know the maiden name of his grandmother Eleanor ("Ellen") Mudd, nor whether she had a previous marriage; but if she did have a previous marriage, he did not know whether or not she had any children by this marriage. He stated that his sister Mary Ellen Mudd (Abagb gd) was named "Ellen" for his grandmother.

Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) had a feather-bed that his grandmother Ellen Mudd gave her son Thomas N. Mudd Sr.

The descendants of Francis Lucas ("Frank") Mudd (Abagb) claim relationship to Abraham Lincoln. This relationship is founded on the probability that Eleanor ("Ellen") Mudd, who we believe was the daughter of Luke Mudd (Abac) and who was the second wife of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb), was the sister of Mary Mudd (Abacd) who married Mordecai Lincoln the uncle of Pres. Abraham Lincoln.

Maud McRay (Abagb ie#4) wrote the author that her grandmother Susan Elizabeth Mudd said, shortly before her death, that her husband George Mudd (Abagb i) was a cousin of Abraham Lincoln. When the author visited the mother of Maud McRay, viz. Marion Matilda (Mudd) Layton (Abagb ie), the latter told the author that because the emancipation of slaves had been such a blow to the South, her mother Susan Elizabeth Mudd (wife of George Henry Mudd, Abagb i) had refrained from claiming their relationship to Abraham Lincoln.

We believed for some time that Eleanor Mudd, the second wife of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb), was a daughter (or daughter-in-law) of Bennett Mudd (Abc) inasmuch as Charles Mudd (Abcd) by his will dated 8-2-1828 (probated 9-22-1828) left property to her and her youngest son George Henry Mudd (Abagb h). Undoubtedly, Charles Mudd (Abcd) named her in his will because she, being the second wife of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb) reared the children of his (i.e. Charles Mudd) sister Susannah Mudd who was the first wife of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb).

MIGRATIONS: It is stated that Francis Mudd (Abagb) migrated to Kentucky after the War of 1812. This distinguishes him from Francis Mudd (Abaca) who married Mildred Hayden and who was in Kentucky prior to 1800; and from Francis Mudd (Aaaac) who, it is said, fought in the War of 1812 at New Orleans, La. and who migrated to Missouri from Maryland in 1835.

It is obvious that Francis Mudd (Abagb) migrated to Wash. Co., Ky. prior to 1816 because he married Eleanor ("Ellen") Mudd there on 1-25-1816.

Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) said that his grandmother Ellen Mudd with her three sons, viz. Thomas Nathaniel Sr. (Abagb g), over 19; Frank (Abagb h), over 17; and George (Abagb i), over 15; migrated to Texas in 1836. They took a boat on the Ohio and headed for Texas with two years supplies. At St. Louis, Mo., being sick because the "walls of the boat were too low", Ellen Mudd took a larger boat after having sold many of her things. After landing in the Brazos River, they went up the Columbia River fifteen miles and then taking to horseback arrived at their destination. By using a two wheel ox-cart, their supplies were brought to them from the river landing.

MILITARY SERVICE: Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) heard his father say that Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb) fought in the War of 1812. The Adj. Gen. Records, State of Ky., refer to a Francis Mudd, soldier in War of 1812.

The descendants of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb h) one of whom is Henry Mudd (Abagb hb), and most investigators including Fr. L. J. Kenny, Mary Joseph Mudd (Abaaa adf), and the American Historical Society, agree that Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb) fought in the War of 1812.

CENSUS': In the 1810 census of Charles Co., Md. Francis Mudd was listed with males under 10, 6; 26 to 45, 2; females 26 to 45, 2; and over 45, 1. The additional male and female 26 to 45 were, possibly, Thomas Nathaniel Mudd (Abaga) and wife Hester Ann Mudd; also, the female over 45 was, possibly, Francis Mudd's (Abagb) mother Sarah (Mitchell) Mudd who died in 1810.

A Francis Mudd was listed in the 1810 Wash. Co., Ky. census, but obviously this census refers to Francis Mudd (Abaca) who married Mildred Hayden.

No Francis Mudd was listed in the 1820 census of Maryland.

In the 1820 census of Wash. Co., Ky. Francis Mudd was listed with males under 10, 6; 10 to 16, 3; over 45, 1; females 16 to 26, 1; and over 45, 1.[17] Listed on either side of Francis Mudd in this census are William Nolley and Jacob Pearce.

In the 1850 census of Lavaca Co., Tex. an Ellenor Mudd age 63 (b. Md.) was listed in the household of T. M. (or T. N.) Mudd (probably Abagb g).

PROPERTY: In 1811 Francis Mudd purchased from Richard Beaven tracts of land known as "Hickory Thicket", "Huckleberry Swamp", and "Drum Head".[18] The lands of "Hickory Thicket"[19] and "Huckleberry Swamp" were farms immediately adjacent to "Boarman's Reserve" in Charles Co., Md.

In 1814 Francis Mudd and his wife Susannah sold land in Charles Co., Md. to Caleb Thomas.[20] Also in 1814 Francis Mudd sold to Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a) for $200 parcels of land in Charles Co., Md. amounting to 100 acres more or less and consisting of part of "Hickory Thicket", part of "Huckleberry Swamp", and part of "Drum Head". This transaction was witnessed by Joseph Simpson and John W. McPherson, and acknowledged by Francis Mudd's wife Susannah.[21]

Persons going to Texas in the early days were granted land. If married, he or she were granted a league of land, i.e. about 4428 acres and a labor of land, i.e. about 177 acres. Elanor Mudd, who certified that she came to the Republic of Texas on 11-x-1835 and that she was a widow, was granted a certificate by the Commissioners of Ft. Bend County for a league of land which was located on the NE bank of the Colorado River in an area known as Pecan Bayou in (at that time) Bexar County and a labor of land which was located on the Guadalupe River twenty-two miles NW of New Braunfels in Comal County (Travis District). She paid $5.00 for the league of land and $2.50 for the labor of land.

On 4-14-1840 Eleanor Mudd sold one half league and one labor of land to James Knight and Moseley Baker.[22]

In 1817 Francis Mudd (probably Abagb) was taxed in Jefferson Co., Ky. He had 200 acres of second class land on Henry Patton's Creek and he was a member of Buckner's Co., 1st (or 18th?) Regt.

In 1819 (1818 record missing) Francis Mudd was taxed for 200 acres of land on Pattons Creek while a resident of Washington Co., Ky. He was the only white male over 21 in his household, and he had eight slaves and five horses.

In 1820, while a resident of Washington Co., Ky., he was taxed for 200 acres of land on Pattersons (as copied) Creek and had ten slaves and four horses. He was referred to as Jr. or Sr. (the two are indistinguishable) and another Francis (viz. Abaca) was referred to as Sr. and Jr. also indistinguishable.

COURT AND COUNTY RECORDS: Circuit Court cases of Jefferson Co., Ky. in which Francis Mudd (probably Abagb) was a defendant are: #10929, year of 1815, vs. Hugh Morison; #11207, year of 1816, vs. William Dunn; #11229, year of 1816, vs. Thos. Pearman; and #14348, year of 1820, vs. Benj. Cawthorn.

In certain Jefferson Co., Ky. court actions involving a collection on a supposed note, Eleanor Mudd and James H. Mudd (Abaca a) were referred to as the administrators of the estate of Francis Mudd, dec'd (i.e. Francis Mudd, Abagb) and Charles M. Thurston was referred to as the Plaintiff.[23] Also mentioned in this suit was Charles Mudd (Abcd) who was referred to as "Agent" for Mary Mudd (obviously Abch).[24]

Charles Mudd (Abcd) and a Mr. Edelen brought suit to foreclose a mortgage they held on the personal property of Francis Mudd (Abagb) dec'd. The heirs and representatives of Francis Mudd, dec'd. mentioned in this suit were Donatus Mudd (Abagb c), Austin Mudd (Abagb a), Patrick Mudd (Abagb b), John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d), and Lewis Mudd (Abagb f).

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: By the will of "Sary" Mudd (widow of Francis Mudd, Abag), which was probated 11-13-1810, her sons Thomas Nathaniel Mudd (Abaga) and Francis Mudd (Abagb) were appointed executors. Francis Mudd (Abagb), however, refused to act as executor and on 12-20-1810 his declination was witnessed by Massom Mudd (Abaaa b).

On 9-8-1823 on motion of Eleanor Mudd, widow and relict of Francis Mudd Jr. dec'd., and James H. Mudd (Abaca a), they were granted administration of the estate of Francis Mudd Jr. Their securities were John Jeffrees and Lewis Linton.[25]

On 9-27-1823 an inventory of the estate of Francis Mudd, dec'd. was taken by John Rudd, Thomas James, and Wilfred (or Wilford?) Hayden. This inventory was signed by James H. Mudd (Abaca a) as Administrator.[26] On 2-9-1824 an inventory and appraisement of the estate of Francis Mudd Jr., dec'd. was filed.[27] On 6-14-1824 another inventory and appraisement was filed.[28]

On 3-14-1825 Frederick Nanty (?), William Pile, William Spink, and John Pirtle were ordered to allott and set apart the dower of Eleanor Mudd in the estate of her deceased husband Francis Mudd.[29]

Charles Mudd (Abcd) by his will dated 8-2-1828 (probated 9-22-1828)[30] bequeathed to Eleanor Mudd (she was the first heir named) his chart and oxen, one hundred barrels of corn of the crop then growing, choice of work horses, choice of milk cows, ten head of sheep, fifteen head of killing hogs for that fall, fifteen young hogs for the next year, all his plantation utentials, one barrel of salt, his working geeres, all his flax and all his wheat in the house, and also a sum to pay for the schooling of her youngest son George Henry Mudd (Abagb i) for three years.

On 9-26-1831 a committee was appointed to settle the accounts of the estate of Francis Mudd, dec'd.[31] The committee consisted of John H. Lawson, James Bentley, Mordecai Hardin, and James Champion.

On 12-24-1838 the will of a Mary Eleanor Mudd was probated. We believed for a time that perhaps this Mary Eleanor Mudd was Francis Mudd's (Abagb) second wife, viz. Eleanor ("Ellen") Mudd; but we have concluded that she was Mary Eleanor ("Old Miss Mary") Mudd (Abch) inasmuch as Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) of San Antonio, Texas in 1942 stated positively that his grandmother Ellen Mudd lived until he was about three years old, i.e. 1863. Therefore, Eleanor ("Ellen") Mudd could not be the Mary Eleanor Mudd whose will was probated in 1838.

REFERENCES: Many bits of information were pieced together to complete the history of this important family of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb) whose descendants are so numerous. The reader will note that most important pieces of information were received personally from Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) who the author, in a general search for Mudds, found at the home of his son in San Antonio, Tex. The author and Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. spent many hours discussing this family.

FOOTNOTES

1. Maud McRay (Abagb ie4) reported "born in Ky.".
2. See Wash. Co., Ky. Order Bk. B, p. 317.
3. The will of Bennett Mudd (Abc) which was dated 9-16-1800 refers to his daughters Mary Eleanor, Aminta, and Susannah and bequeaths to them certain property during their "single" lives. This tends to show that the marriage of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb) and Susannah Mudd (Abcf) occurred after 1800, probably shortly afterwards.

6. Ref.: Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc).

7. Considerable difference of opinion existed as to the first name of Donatus Mudd. Some stated that it was Lloyd, others James, and others John. The last is the most probable, in fact, it appears that it was the intention of the parents of Donatus to give all their sons the first name of "John". This was of some value in placing the sons of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb). Mrs. Rose Augusta Van Leeuwen (Abagb cbag) and Mary Effie Mudd (Abagb cdf) were certain that Donatus Mudd's first name was John and that most of his brothers were given the first name of John. The baptismal for Donatus Mudd refers to him only as Donatus.
8. Robert Angier was baptismal sponsor for Donatus Mudd in Charles Co., Md. Baptismal date of 6-15-1805 also given. See Ref. 95, p. 121 and Ref. 72, Vol. XXXV, p. 200.
9. Ref. 95, p. 14. John Baptist Mudd was baptized in Charles Co., Md. on 5-29-1806 (5-26-1806 also copied) his sponsor being Rebecca Mudd (possibly Adbe). His brother John Robert Mudd was baptized this same day.
10. John Robert Mudd was baptized in Charles Co., Md. his sponsors being Henry Mudd (Abcb) and Minta Mudd (Abcg). Ref. 95, p. 14 records the baptismal date of 5-26-1806.
11. His middle name is spelled "Lewis" by some and "Louis" by others; all, however, agree on the nic-name of "Luke".
12. At the Court House in Springfield, Ky. on 9-18-1824 it was ordered that Lewis Mudd, an infant orphan of Francis Mudd, dec'd., age 17 on the 19th of March next be bound out to James L. Simms to learn the art and mystery of a boot and shoemaker (Order Bk. C, p. 328, Wash. Co., Ky.). Thus we were able to determine the birth date of (John) Lewis ("Luke") Mudd.
13. From many sources we were given Thomas Nathaniel Mudd's birth date as 10-15-1816 which is the same date recorded on his grave stone.
14. Francis Lucas Mudd, having been named for his father Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb), signed his name Francis Luke Mudd (Ref.: Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr., Abagb gc).
15. Maud McRay (Abagb ie4) reported 6-15-1822 and Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) said 1821 or 1822.

b (possibly) Anne[5]

May Conway, a great-granddaughter of the widow of John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d) and Charles F. Hagan (Abcah #1), stated that Austin Mudd and Charity Robertson had no children. This statement is corroborated by a war pension record in the Archives at Wash., D.C.

Considerable information concerning Austin Mudd was found in the pension claim of John Mudd, alias John A. Scott, who was one of Austin Mudd's slaves and who served in the Civil War. This pension claim, which contains a statement by Charity Mudd the wife of Austin Mudd (Abagb a), states that Austin Mudd had four or five male slaves (two having taken the names of Charley Mudd and George Mudd respectively) as well as women and children slaves; that "Austin Mudd, brother of Donatus" had no children. It is obvious from this statement that if the children of Francis Austin Mudd (Abagb a) mentioned herein were his, then they died young.

In a letter written by Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) to his brother George Henry Mudd (Abagb i) on 4-15-1845 he says: "Well now I will say something about our relations. Austin is well and he has got rich. They have everything that man can wish. He has Baptist's (i.e. John Baptist Mudd, Abagb d) children and Charles Hagan's (i.e. husband of John Baptist Mudd's widow) three children.

Mary Effie (Mudd) Robertson (Abagb cdf) wrote that Austin Mudd was the only "well-to-do" member of the family and that he drove to church in a carriage driven by a slave while everyone else rode horseback.

In the 1830 census of Wash. Co., Ky. Austin Mudd was listed with males 10 to 15, 1; 20 to 30, 3; and females 20 to 30, 1. According to this census it appears that two of Austin Mudd's single brothers (probably John Lewis Mudd, Abagb f, and John Robert Mudd, Abagb e) were living with him. Another single brother was Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) but he was living separately. It is to be noted that Austin Mudd and his brother Donatus Mudd lived near Springfield, Ky. just four or five miles from one another.

In the 1850 census of Wash. Co., Ky. Austin Mudd age 50 (b. Md.) with real estate valued at $11,540 was listed with his wife Charity age 48.

In the 1860 census of Springfield, Ky. (p. 53) Austin Mudd age 59 (b. Md.) with valuation of $27,480 was listed with Charity, 56 (b. Ky.); and Thomas Hagan, 21. Thomas Hagan listed herein was probably the son of Charles Hagan who married John Baptist Mudd's widow.

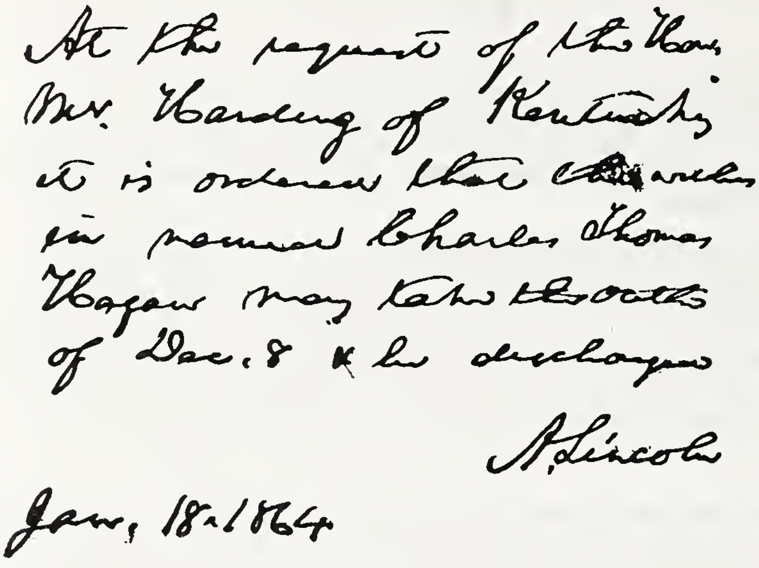
In the 1870 census of Wash. Co., Ky. Austin Mudd age 68 (b. Md.) with valuation of $19,200 was listed with Charity, 66; C. Commerd, 13; and others, probably servants, and William Mudd M.D. (Abagb db), 40 (b. Ky.) with valuation of $2000.

In the 1880 census of Wash. Co., Ky. 197th family (as copied) Charity Mudd age 76 (b. Ky.), father born Md., mother born Va., was listed with niece Carrie Eliza Cain, music teacher, 38 (b. Ky.), father and mother born Ky. niece Mary L. Cain 20 (b. Ky.), father born Ohio, mother born Ky.; nephew Lewis Cain 10 (b. Ky.), father born Ohio, mother born Ky.; niece Kate Cain 7 (b. Ky.), father born Ohio, mother born Ky.; nephew Thomas Hagan,[6] 40 (b. Ky.), father and mother born Ky.; niece Soafy Hagan, 11; nephew William Mudd, farmer,[7] age 41 (b. Ky.), father and mother born Ky.

Charles Mudd (Abcd) by his will dated 8-2-1828 (probated 9-22-1828)[8] bequeathed a share of negroes viz. Randal, Richard, and Caroline to Austin Mudd (Abagb a) who was a "representative of Susannah Mudd, dec'd".

Sterling Robertson made his will in Wash. Co., Ky. on 8-27-1832 (probated 9-24-1832)[9] and bequeathed, amongst others, to his daughters Charity Mudd and Louisa Mudd. It will be noted that Charity Mudd was the wife of Francis Austin Mudd (Abagb a) and Louisa Mudd was the wife of John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d). In other words, sisters married brothers.

On 6-3-1833 Austin Mudd and E. B. Gaither were witnesses to the will of Mary Johnson of Wash. Co., Ky. No relationships were indicated.



At the request of the Hon.
Mr. Harding of Kentucky it is ordered that the rebel prisoner named Charles Thomas Hagan may take the oath of Dec. 8 & be discharged

A. Lincoln

Jan. 18. 1864

The discharge from prison of Charles Thomas Hagan by Pres. Lincoln.

In Oct. 1833 Austin Mudd and John Johnson were securities for Thomas Craycraft in connection with the appraisement of the estate of John Witherow, dec'd. The same two men were securities for Thomas Craycraft when the latter was appointed guardian for Mary Green, infant orphan of Thomas Green.[10]

On January 6, 1864 Charity Mudd of Springfield, Ky., wrote the Hon. Aaron Harding of Ky. that her "adopted nephew Charles Thomas Hagan was captured while serving (as a Confederate soldier?) with Morgan and was in Camp Chase where he was sick; that his uncle had gotten up a petition of Northerners for his release and Dr. Walker took it to Washington but was told that he would be released when exchanged. She prays that Mr. Harding would help her." The letter reached Pres. Lincoln who granted the request.

1. 1875 also given as yr. of death (Wash. Co. Circuit Ct. Rec., #959, dtd 3-22-1876). The death record says Augustus Mudd died 5-10-1874 at the age of seventy-two years. In the St. Rose Catholic Cemetery, two miles west of Springfield in Wash. Co., Ky., we found the grave stone of Francis Austin Mudd which recorded his birth date as 10-29-1801 and his death date as 5-19-1876. It is noted that the dates of the death record and of the grave stone vary. The year of 1876 may be a copying mistake inasmuch as most records give 1874.
2. See Ref. 168, p. 2 wherein Austin Mudd is referred to as a son of Francis Mudd.
3. In the St. Rose Catholic Cemetery, we found the grave stone for Charity Mudd "wife of F.A.". No dates were recorded and obviously either she was not buried there or the records were not recorded on the stone.
4. Another daughter of Sterling Robertson's was Louisa Rose (see will of Sterling Robertson), who married John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d).
5. The record states that John and Anne Mudd of Austin Mudd were confirmed on 4-22-1849 by the Rt. Rev. M. J. Spalding.
6. This Thomas Hagan was probably the son of Charles Hagan who married John Baptist Mudd's widow (see Abcah 1).
7. The only nephew of Charity Mudd named William that we know of was William Robert Mudd (Abagb db) and the William Mudd of this census could hardly be he because William Mudd (Abagb db) was about fifty years of age at the time this census was taken and was an M.D. However this appears to be the same Wm. Mudd M.D. age 40 in the same family in the 1870 census.

Rozella Mudd resided at one time in Fort Scott, Ky.

We were told that Patrick Mudd (Abagb b) married twice, secondly to a Mattingly or Wheatley; and that there were children by the first marriage only. A Patrick Mudd married at Indian Creek, Mo., on 3-6-1862 Nancy Hird, dau of James Hird and Rose (possibly Mudd, see Abagb j). This Nancy W. Mudd died 12-20-1864 age 45 years, 7 mo. 9 days, and was buried on the Leslie Crigler farm in Mo. Mrs. Frances S. Hagan (Abaca adf) wrote that her "great grandfather on my mother's side was Patrick Mudd that first married Nancy Hurd Mudd and after her death a Mrs. Wheatley." The marriage of Patrick Mudd to Nancy Hird was found in the St. Stephens record. He was the only Patrick Mudd residing in that community in our opinion. The witnesses were James Mudd (probably Abag bba) and Rose A. Mudd (probably Abag bj or Abag bbh).

Susan Martha Steele (Abcaa bl) said that her maternal grandparents were Patrick Mudd and Marie Hager. The author believes that she was confused because her maternal grandfather, i.e. Patrick Mudd married Mary Mildred Mudd (Abaca d) who was the daughter of Francis Mudd and Mildred Hayden (see account of Francis Mudd, Abaca, for discussion of Mildred Hayden's maiden name).

Patrick Mudd (Abagb b) was security for Charles Hagan (Abcah #1) when the latter was appointed guardian for the orphans of John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d), viz. Francis Sterling Mudd and William Robert Mudd.

In the 1830 census of Wash. Co., Ky., Patrick Mudd was listed with males under 5, 1; 20 to 30, 1; females under 5, 2; 5 to 10, 1; and 20 to 30, 1.

In the 1850 census of Monroe Co., Mo. (p. 229, Dist. 59) Patrick Mudd age 47 (b. Md.), farmer with $2000 valuation, was listed with Mariah, 46 (b. Ky.); John P., farmer, 15; William A., 9; and Rosellen, 7 (all children b. Ky.). The next listing in this census was that of William Mud (Abcaa b).

In the 1860 census Monroe Co., Mo. Indian Creek Twsp., Patrick Mudd b. Md. 56, Mariah M, 56, William A. 19, Rose E. 16.

On 3-13-1813 Raphael Mudd (Abce) of Charles Co., Md. in consideration of the natural love and affection which he "hath and beareth unto Patrick Mudd, son of Francis Mudd," deeded him two tracts of land known as "Hickory Thicket" and "Boarman's Reserve", containing 250 acres more or less, reserving unto his sister Susannah Mudd, wife of Francis Mudd (Abagb), her natural life interest in the aforesaid tracts.[19] This deed of gift was recorded 3-27-1813. No explanation has been found as to how Raphael Mudd (Abce) came into possession of this land he deeded to Patrick Mudd, but one explanation would be that he exercised his right under his father's will (see Bennett Mudd, Abc) inasmuch as his father, Bennett Mudd (Abc), left property to his daughters only as long as they remained single and his daughter Susannah Mudd (Abcf) married probably after her father made his will.

On 3-18-1824 Patrick Mudd of Wash. Co., Ky. appointed Charles Mudd (Abcd) of the same county, his attorney to sell forty-seven acres of "Hickory Thicket" and part (number of acres not known) of Boarman's Reserve". On 9-3-1824 Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a) for $70 in cash and $140 in notes acquired the property mentioned herein from Charles Mudd (Abcd) who was the agent for Patrick Mudd.

In 1831 Patrick Mudd of Wash. Co., Ky. sold to Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a) of Charles Co., Md. for $1000 all his right and interest in two parts of land in Charles Co., Md., viz. "Hickory Thicket" and Boarman's Reserve", containing 250 acres; the property being the same as was referred to in a deed from Sheriff Thomas A. Davis to Theodore Mudd on 5-5-1818. Mildred, wife of Patrick Mudd, waived dower.[20]

About the year 1843 Patrick Mudd migrated from Kentucky to Indian Creek (just outside of Monroe City), Mo. During the early days of his residence there, he had several slaves.

Charles Mudd (Abcd) by his will dated 8-2-1828 (probabed 9-22-1828)[21] bequeathed a share of negroes, viz. Randal, Richard, and Caroline to Patrick Mudd (Abagb a) who was a representative of Susannah Mudd, dec'd.

Edward Edelen, son of Robert Edelen, made his will in Wash. Co., Ky. on 5-26-1846 (probated 6-22-1846) and bequeathed to his wife Priscilla a note in the amount of $398.05 which was owed him by Patrick Mudd. This was one of many notes owed him by various persons.

4. Harriet

In her marriage license Lucy Mudd is referred to as Lucy L. Mudd.

In 1942 (James) Lee Tewell resided in Monroe City, Mo.

James Francis Mudd had a son Luke (birth date not given) baptized 5-3-1861 at St. Stephen's Church, Indian Creek, Mo. He was found when this genealogy was about to be published and to avoid confusion in the lettering was omitted above.

It is likely that James Francis Mudd's first son was George Patrick Mudd (Abagb baa) because there is an affidavit of Harriet E. Mudd and George P. Mudd in a Civil War pension claim which was filed by James F. Mudd's (Abagb ba) former negro slave, viz. Greenburg Mudd alias Henry Green Smith.

James Francis Mudd as a youth (probably about the year 1843) migrated from Kentucky to Missouri.

In the 1850 census of Lincoln Co., Mo. (p. 851) James F. Mudd age 23, with $548 valuation, was listed with Harriet, 22; Mariah, 3;[16] and George, 1. All were born in Kentucky.

1860 census Monroe Co., Mo. p. 263 Jefferson Twp. James F. Mudd 34, farmer, Harriet 33, Harriet M. 12, George D. 11 (all b. Ky.) Susan 8, Eliza 5, Lutecia 4, Austin 2. all b. Mo.

On 12-31-1852 James F. Mudd and his wife Harriet sold land in Lincoln Co., Mo. to Benjamin S. Mudd (Aaaac d).[17] On this same day they also sold forty acres of land in Lincoln Co., Mo. to Robert Mudd Jr. (probably Abcae a).[18]

In the pension claim of James F. Mudd's negro slave Greenburg Mudd (see above) it is therein stated that this slave first belonged to Patrick Mudd (Abagb b) and later to James Francis Mudd (Abagb ba). A very interesting "find" was that James Francis Mudd sold land which was situated in Florida, Mo. (the home of Mark Twain) to this former slave. Before finding the pension record of this slave, the author during visits to Florida, Mo. often wondered if Mudds had ever lived near Mark Twain. That they did is obvious.

ELDERS: The Mudd family and Elder family inter-married freely. Our best informant on the inter-marriage of the Mudds and Elders was Mrs. C. N. Tichenor (nee Elder). She explained that Thomas Elder married three times and had issue by each wife which resulted in three sets of half brothers and sisters. She stated that one daughter of Thomas Elder, viz. Margaret Ann, was the mother of Georgia

Elder who married Henry Philip Lee the son of Kate Mudd (Abaaa aan); another daughter viz. Harriet Elder, married James Francis Mudd (Abagb ba); a third daughter, viz. Lucy Elder, married Nicholas Bruce Mudd (Abcae ab); and a son of Thomas Elder, viz. James (A.?) Elder, married Susanna Althea Mudd (Abaca ao). The author does not know whether or not these people were related to Joseph Elder, the first husband of Thomas P. Mudd's (Abacb) wife.

Mrs. C. N. Tichenor was certain that Harriet Elder, wife of James Francis Mudd (Abagb ba), was a daughter of Thomas Elder (see above). However, according to the state death record of Harriet (Elder) Mudd which the author copied, her father's name was recorded as "Bessel" Elder.

A Basil Robert Elder, possibly and according to Rev. Fr. Bart Keaney of Millwood, Mo. the father of Harriet E. Elder, wife of James Francis Mudd (Abagb ba), was the father of Elizabeth Ann Monarcha ("Eliza") Elder who married John Nicholas Mudd (Abaca ac).[19] This Basil R. Elder married first Sarah Ann Coomes; and second Margaret Ann Elder, dau of Thomas C. Elder and Lucy Green, according to Father Keaney.

A Basil Elder of Millwood, Mo. is said to have been a Union soldier during the Civil War.

He was in the Confederate Army during the Civil War. He enlisted at Springfield, Ky. on 9-1/10-1862[13]; was assigned to Buckner's Guard; and was parolled at Greensboro, N. C. in 1865.[14]

A record was found wherin a S. A. Mudd married a Miss Lizzie Monk in Lincoln Co., Mo. on 8-31-1871. This S. A. Mudd possibly could be Samuel Alphonsus Mudd but no proof has been uncovered.

Sarah Mudd inherited Donatus Mudd's (her father) home and resided there until her death.

It is interesting to note that three of Donatus Mudd's sons, viz., John Baptist, William Cosmos, and Austin Athanasius married Edelen sisters.[30]

Four of Donatus Mudd's sons, viz. William, Richard, Samuel, and Austin served in the Confederate Army during the Civil War.

About the year 1815 Donatus Mudd migrated from Maryland to the Kentucky hills, probably with his parents, and settled in Washington County. A letter written in the 1870's (exact date not known) by Dan H. Mudd (Abaaa aad) states: "Donatus Mudd, a distant relative, still lives in Kentucky."

On 7-22-1839 Donatus Mudd was appointed Surveyor of Public Roads in the 7th precinct of Wash. Co., Ky.[31] On 4-17-1848 he was appointed surveyor of the Road in precinct #56 instead of George Clements. (Order Bk F, p 235, Wash. Co., Ky.)

In the 1830 census of Wash. Co., Ky. (p. 28) Donatus Mudd was listed with males 5 to 10, 1; 10 to 15, 1; 20 to 30, 1; females 40 to 50, 1; and 50 to 60, 1. It is possible that Donatus Mudd's step-mother and two of his step-brothers were residing with him when this census was taken. There is no proof as to whom the female age 50 to 60 could be.

In the 1850 census of Wash. Co., Ky. Donatus Mudd age 42 (b. Md.), farmer with real estate valued at $9750, was listed with Elizabeth, 35; Joseph, 18; John B., 16; William, 13; Richard, 11; Teresa, 9; Mary E., 8; Samuel, 6; Christopher, 2; and Louisa, 1. It is noted that Austin A., age 5, was not listed in this census.

In the 1860 census of Wash. Co. (Springfield), Ky. (p. 28) Donatus Mudd age 54 (b. Md.), farmer with $26,130 valuation, was listed with Elizabeth, 46 (b. Ky.); Tressa, 19; Mary E., 17; Samuel, 16; Austin, 14; and Lloyd, 6. All children were b. Ky.

In the 1870 census of Wash. Co. (Fredericksburg), Ky. Donatus Mudd farmer 65 (b. Md.) with $7280 valuation, was listed with Elizabeth, 55 (b. Ky.); Saly, 17; Samuel G. (?), 25, with $5380 valuation; Lloyd, 15; and Lulu Smith (Abagb ci#1), 9.

In the 1880 census of Wash. Co., Ky. (as copied) Donatus Mudd age 75 (b. Md.) f and m born Md., was listed with Elizabeth, 65 (b. Ky.), f and m born Md.; Samuel A., son, 36; and Sallie, dau, 26.

Prior to the Civil War (John) Donatus Mudd had acquired between "40 and 60 slaves" and a tract of land consisting of about 800 acres, but President Lincoln's Proclamation of Emancipation spelled financial destruction for him. He sold a portion of his land, gave small portions to his faithful slaves, and retained only about 200 acres of the home site where he resided until his death. This farm was situated on the Bardstown-Springfield Turnpike, five miles from Springfield.

By the will of Charles Mudd (Abcd) dated 8-2-1828 and probated 9-22-1828[32] Donatus Mudd, a representative of Susannah Mudd, dec'd., received the land on which Charles Mudd (Abcd) then lived and a share of the following negroes, viz. Randal, Richard, and Caroline.

On 3-28-1836 Donatus Mudd, witnessed the appraisal of the property in Wash. Co., Ky. of Hezekiah Mudd (Abca), dec'd.[33]

Donatus Mudd made his will in Wash. Co., Ky. 1-31-1884 and left all his property to his wife Elizabeth.

In 1890 court proceedings developed involving the "executors of Donatus Mudd, versus Samuel A. Mudd (Abagb ce) and Teresa Mudd (wife of Abagb cd) executrix of R. E. Mudd (Abagb cd).[34] In this court record the widow of Donatus Mudd is referred to as Elizabeth A. Mudd.

Elizabeth Mudd, widow of Donatus Mudd, made her will on 7-2-1889 (probated 7-24-1893) wherein she devised to her daughter Miss Sallie Mudd; to her son Dr. Lloyd D. Mudd,[35] $400 which was to be paid to him by Sallie Mudd for the education of his children; to her son C. B. Mudd; and to her granddaughter

Miss Teresa Smith. She specified in her will that her daughter Sallie Mudd was to care for Samuel A. Mudd (Abagb ce), a cripple, should he become needy; and that nothing was to be given to her and her husband's other children because they had already received more than her beneficiaries would receive. (Will Bk. U, Wash. Co., Ky. p. 533)

An excellent letter (photocopy in file) written by Donatus Mudd of Springfield, Ky. to George H. Mudd (Abagb i) of Richmond City, Fort Bend County, Texas is as follows:

April 15, 1845
Springfield, Washington, Co., Ky.

Dear brother,

I received your welcome letter from the hands of Dr. Slack which gave me more pleasure than anything I ever read in my life. Tho it was nothing but paper and word I assure you that I appreciate that letter more than any person can imagine. Nothing could give me more pleasure than to receive a letter from one whom I love and esteem so much as you, my dear brother, and at the same time hearing from my most affectionate Mother and the rest of my brothers for this is the first letter I have received from any of you but I hope it will not be the last I shall receive from you. We are all well and have eight children and perhaps some of the prettiest you ever saw--I wont say the smartest, I leave that for others to guess. I had "pervised" eight barrels of flour to send to Mother by Lewis (Abagb f) and a saddle for Brother Nat (Abagb g) but he declined coming to that country and I was disappointed in sending them. It would be a pleasure if I was near you that I could spend some time in your company. I had rather see you all than any person I ever saw in my life. I want you to answer this as soon as you receive it and tell me how Mother looks, whether she has broken much or not and tell me how Nat comon (i.e. coming on). What for looking wife he has--handsome or not, tall or low stand, and particular how Frank (Abagb h) is agreeing? What he is doing and whether married or not and how much land you all have.

Well now I will say something about our relations. Austin (Abagb a) is well and he has got rich. They have everything that man can wish. He has Baptists (Abagb d) children and Charles Hagans (Abcah #1) three children. Louisa (see Abagb d and Abcah #1) has been dead four years and Hagan (Abcah #1) has not married again. Baptists two boys she left are very smart children one of them, Sterling (Abagb da), is said (?) to be the smartest boy in this state. Patrick (Abagb b) is living at the same place. He has lost the John Barlow Place. One of his daughters is married to Jak Mudd (Abcae b). Mrs. Not (possibly Abaci or Aadai) has been dead four years. Mr. Not and Nancy[36] are living at James Not (see Aadai). Mr. Not is very ill and not expected to live many weeks. He has been deranged for six or seven years. Nancy is not married nor no prospect for it. She having got no prettier than she was.

Dr. Mudd (obviously Abcab) is dead and Racid Mudd (probably Horatio, Abcaa)[37] also. Old Elias Mudd (Ababa) and his wife are dead. James Mudd (Abaca a) had a daughter (i.e. Mary Mildred Mudd, Abaca aj) married a few weeks since to John Merran. One of his daughters (i.e. Sarah Elizabeth Mudd, Abaca ai) married Stephen Mattingly. Betz Mattingly (Abaca c) is a widow and left with five children but she makes out very well. I assure you she is raising her children well. She goes among the wealthiest society. She has some promising girls.

Polly Not (see Aadai) has gone to Missouri with Robert Mudd (probably Abcae a).

Aunt May (probably Abch) is dead. After she died Perte[38] refused to give us the will. He said he never had it and I am told that his intention was to buy out the heirs and contest our right to the property. But I had an old will that I kept for something of that kind would be "gionous" (against us) and we got the matter arranged by giving $500. No more on this subject but I will say something about the colored family as perhaps it will interest you all. Harriet is dead, Allen is with Austin (Abagb a), Linder is with Patrick (Abagb b), and I own Jack and Cely. Cely sends her love to Mother and the rest of the boys. I must close now for the want of space. Give my love to Mother and tell her I would give the world to see her again.

Tell Nat (Abagb g) that I never want to see any person so bad in my life. Give my love to Frank (Abagb h) and accept a part yourself. No more now but remain your affectionate Brother until death. Elizabeth (i.e. Donatus Mudd's wife) is not at home. The next time I will try to have space enough.

Donatus Mudd

Excuse my uncommon like letter. I had so many things to say I had to make it a ________subject.

MULLIGAN: This family name is spelled in several ways including Mullican and possibly MULLIKIN. Elizabeth Mudd (wife of Donatus Mudd) was one of the children of Basil Mulligan. The other children were John Mullican (his wife was Susan), Eliza (her husband was Samuel Offutt) Lloyd Mullican (his wife was Nancy), Richard Mullican; Teresa Catharine (her husband was Wm. P. Skidmore) and Wm. L Mullican. The heirs of Basil Mulligan (listed therein) sold on 9-27-1848 their interest in a certain tract of land lying in Wash. Co., Ky. on Road Run being a tract of land that was allotted Teresa Mullican widow of Basil Mullican. (Deed Book R, p. 21, Washington Co., Ky.)

In will book C, p. 261, same Co., Basil Mullican in his will left a dower to Teresa Mullican (his wife?).

In the vital statistics at Frankfort, Ky., Eliza A. Offutt's death record states she was daughter of Basil and Lucy Mullican, so possibly Basil Mulligan married twice.

The descendants of Basil Mulligan are very well reported in a court of appeals (Ky.) case #19467 entitled C. B. Mudd against W. L. Mullican, and unknown heirs of Wm. P. Skidmore et al. In this case, it is stated that the wife of Basil Mulligan was named Teresa Spinks at the time of her death so probably she remarried after Basil's death.

2. See Court House records, Wash. Co., Ky.
3. Sr. Margaret Hamilton (see Aad) copied marriage date as 7-18-1831.
4. In the marriage record her name was recorded as Elizabeth Mullican.
5. A Mary Elizabeth Mudd died in St. Charles, Mo. on 12-28-1888 at the age of 83 years but unless the date of Elizabeth Mudd's (widow of Donatus Mudd) will is incorrect this Mary Elizabeth Mudd was some other person. It was said by Lloyd N. Mudd (Abagb cfb) and others, that Mary Elizabeth Mudd died at the age of 100 years.
6. Mrs. Susan Offutt Neel, wrote that her grandmother was a Mulligan and sister of Donatus Mudd's wife, had no information as to the parentage of her grandmother Mulligan.
7. Joseph B. Mudd's baptismal record was not found with other members of this family in the Wash. Co., Ky. records beginning in 1830, but the official record of his marriage in 1858 records his age as 25 years.
8. Also given 2-15-1834 and 3-14-1834.
9. He was referred to as Cyril Mudd in the baptismal record of his son Richard Skidmore Mudd (Abagb cca).
10. Also given 9-27-1834. William Cosmos Mudd's baptismal record was not found in the Wash. Co. (Ky.) Church, records beginning in 1830.
11. Richard Elzaus Mudd's middle name was reported to be Aloysius.
12. Baptized 10-13-1837.
13. It is said that Samuel Alphonsus Mudd and his brother William Cosmos Mudd entered the service on the same day, but, it was recorded that the former entered on 9-10-1862 and the latter on 9-1-1862. Also it is reported that S. A. Mudd enlisted in October 1862.
14. Ref. 196, p. 133.
15. His baptismal name was Augustinius Athanasius Saturnius.
16. Baptized 3-6-1845.
17. His name also said to be Christopher Barbour Mudd.
18. It is recorded on the baptismal record that Christopher Barber Mudd was baptized on 3-4-1847.
19. It is said that Lloyd Donatus Mudd was baptized Lloyd Edwin Mudd.
20. Recorded 10-14-1853 (Ref. 208).
21. She was baptized Mary Ann Theresa.
22. Marr. Bk., Wash. Co., Ky. The witnesses to this marriage were G. S. Mulligan and Anna Lloyd Clements.
23. Marr. Bk., Wash. Co., Ky. The witnesses to this marriage were Thomas Hayden, Mary Smith (possibly Abagb ci), Notley Young, and Donatus Mudd (Abagb c).
24. His surname also given as Younge.
25. Her baptismal record at St. Rose Priory in Springfield, Ky. was copied "Louise Alice born 8-25-1849".
26. Her name was given as Sarah but she was baptized Sarah Elizabeth.
27. The St. Rose Priory (Springfield, Ky.) records refer to the baptism of Sarah Elizabeth Mudd (age 4) on 2-17-1858.
28. See the will of Elizabeth Mudd, widow of Donatus Mudd (Abagb c), wherein Sarah Elizabeth was referred to as Miss Sallie Mudd.
29. The author was told that (Tina?) Cecil married first to Mamie Mulligan, dau of William Mulligan; and secondly to Sallie Mudd.

34. See South Western Reporter, Vol. 14, p. 355.
35. The fact that Lloyd Mudd's middle initial was recorded in this will as "D." tends to prove that his middle name was Donatus instead of Edwin.
36. Nancy Knott was bequeathed $50.00 by the will of Robert S. Mudd (Abcab).
37. The name of Racid might probably be a nic-name for Horatio. Horatio Mudd died in 1833 which was three years before George Henry Mudd (Abagb i) left for Texas but Donatus Mudd may have thought that Horatio died after George Henry Mudd left.
38. Perte may be the Thomas W. Pirtle who witnessed Charles Mudd's (Abcd) will. Also see Nicholas Mudd's (Ababc) line.

The Smith home in Washington Co., Ky. was five miles west of Springfield.

Probably William Cosmos Mudd (Abagb cc) married twice because the following record was found (Ref. 121): Imelda Mudd, daughter of William Mudd and Hetty Edelen, baptized 3-28-1862; godmother, Alice Edelen.

William Cosmos Mudd was usually dissatisfied with the marriages of his children. Like many Mudd fathers, he considered that his children married "beneath them"; but when William Wallace Mudd (Abagb ccd) married his cousin Sarah Florence Mudd (Abagb cdg), William Cosmos had nothing to say.

Mary Effie Mudd (Abagb cdf) wrote that William Cosmos Mudd, her uncle, was a soldier in the Civil War at the same time as was her father Dr. Richard E. Mudd (Abagb cd) and her uncle Sam Mudd (Abagb ce). A W.D. Mudd[18] (undoubtedly William Cosmos Mudd) enlisted in the Confederate Army in the 8th Kentucky Cavalry (formerly 4th Cavalry) at Lexington, Ky., on 9-1/10-1862[19] and was assigned to Buckner's Guard.

In the 1870 census of Wash. Co., Ky. William C. Mudd age 34 (b. Ky.) with $1020 valuation, was listed with Alice, 21; Richard (Y.?), 2; and James C., 7 months (b. Oct.).

In the 1880 census of Wash. Co., Ky. (as copied) William C. Mudd age 42 (or 45-blurred) (b. Ky.), f. born Md. and m. born Ky., was listed with Alice L. wife, 34; Richard S.; Clancy (?), son; Catherine, 8; Si_____D., son, 6; and two other sons: (Complete information not obtained because the record was badly faded).

In the General Index of the War of the Rebellion, Richard E. Mudd is referred to as an assistant surgeon at Andersonville, Ga. (a war prison) "since Nov. 2, 1862"; having been assigned there by Surgeon Stout.[20]

In the pension claim of a former slave of Donatus Mudd (Abagb c), it is recorded that "Dr. Richard E. Mudd was in the Civil War as a physician for the Confederate Army".[21]

Dr. Richard Elzaus Mudd practised medicine at Springfield, Ky. until his death. In Polk's directory (Ref. 128) of physicians, there is listed a R. H. Mudd of Holy Cross, Ky., but whether or not this referred to Richard Elzaus Mudd, we do not know.

In the 1870 census, Wash. Co., Ky. (Springfield Dist.) R. Mudd, 30, M.D. was living with A. and Martha McKenna and family.

In the 1880 census of Springfield (Wash. Co.,) Ky. (as copied) Richard E. Mudd, physician, age 40 (b. Ky.), f. born Md. and m. born Ky., was listed with Teresa, 34 (24 also copied) (b. Ky.), f and m born Ky.; Mary E., 8; Sallie F., 5; Richard, 4; Arthur A., 2; and Edward D., 1.

When Walter Clements, Dr. Richard E. Mudd's father-in-law, moved to Kentucky from Maryland, he brought with him a large conch-shell horn which doubtlessly had been in his family a long time and had been used to summon slaves to dinner, or to call in the dogs from the fox chase when the hunt was over.[22]

J.W.S. ("Walter") Clements,[23] a nephew of Mary Theresa Catherine (Clements) Mudd, is the author of "Orgins of Clements, Spalding, and Allied Families of Maryland and Kentucky" which contains many valuable genealogical references to the Mudds (Ref. 109).

The administration of the will of Richard E. Mudd was referred to in certain circuit records in Wash. Co., Ky. In Pack 1231 Teresa C. Mudd is referred to as guardian for her six children under 14 yrs. The will of Richard E. Mudd is stated therein as follows:

> To wife Theresa C. Mudd--the Cherry Hill Farm of 260 acres purchased of Dr. Jas. Green.
> To daughter Effie, a piano.
> To mother Elizabeth Mudd--a note and mortgage executed by Donatus Mudd (obviously his father) on 11-19-1874.
> To brother Samuel A. Mudd and sister Sallie Mudd--Will, made 4-23-1886 (Prob. 8-13-1887).
> On 4-24-1894 final settlement was made to Teresa C. Mudd who was the guardian of Effie Mudd (Abagb cdf).[24]

Austin Athanasius Mudd was the step-father of Edgar and John Knott, sons of Lettie Teresa Edelen and her first husband.

About the year 1857 Austin Athanasius Mudd and his brother John Baptist Mudd migrated from Kentucky to Missouri (near Hannibal); thence, about 1870, to Crawford Co., Ks.; and finally to Walnut, Ks.

During the War of Rebellion Austin A. Mudd (also referred to as Oscar D. Mudd and O.D. Mudd), who was referred to as a resident of Springfield, Ky. and as being 5 feet 9 inches tall, was a Lieutenant in the Confederate Army and attached to Company C, Saunder's Bn. of the Kentucky Cavalry. He was further referred to as being 'employed' in the commissary department; as being a prisoner at Camp Henderson, Ky. on 5-12-1863 (discharged 5-26); and, as being a prisoner at Sandusky, Ohio. If this record refers to Austin Athanasius Mudd as we believe it does; then he evidently returned to Kentucky from Missouri during this period.

Dr. Lloyd Donatus Mudd moved to Kansas in 1880 settling in Walnut, where he practised medicine for about four years. He then moved back to Holy Cross, Kentucky and there continued his practice for the rest of his life.

A Marion Co., Ky. law case of 1917 (Mudd vs the L & N Railroad) refers to damages claimed for the death of Lloyd D. Mudd at the Loretto (Ky.) station. Testifying in this case was Lloyd E. Mudd (Abagb chc), who testified that his father boarded the train at Lakeland; and Dr. Ed Mudd (Abagb cdc).

After the death of Dr. Lloyd Donatus Mudd, his widow Rosa Mudd moved to Dayton, Ohio. In 1921 she resided with her son Lloyd Edwin Mudd and her daughter Sarah Frances Mudd at 10 W. Neale Street, in Dayton.

Mrs. Susan Offutt (see Abagb c) wrote that she lived in the home of Dr. Lloyd D. Mudd for several years and that she owed her good traits to Mrs. Rosa Mudd.

William Mudd, farmer, age 41 (b. Ky.) was listed in the 1880 census of Wash. Co., Ky. as living in the home of his aunt, viz. Charity Mudd (see Abagb a). It is probable he was William Robert Mudd (Abagb db).

On 4-15-1845 Louisa Rose Robertson's children, i.e. her two children by her first marriage to John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d) and her three children by her second marriage to Charles F. Hagan (Abcah 1), were residing in the home of Francis Austin Mudd (Abagb a) (see Ref. 174).

It has been said that John Baptist Mudd, son of Francis and Susannah Mudd, was a physician. A John B. Mudd graduated from the University of Md. Medical School in 1827 (Ref. 91). However, this was almost certainly John B. Mudd (Aaaag), as various accounts of John B. Mudd (Abagb d) refer to him as being a farmer "during the whole of his life."

In the 1830 census of Wash. Co., Ky. (p. 144) Baptist Mudd was listed with males under 5, 1: 20 to 30, 20and females 20 to 30, 1.

By the will of Charles Mudd (Abcd) dated 8-2-1828 (probated 9-22-1828)[8] John Baptist Mudd as a representative of Susannah Mudd, dec'd., received a share of the following negroes' Randal, Richard, and Caroline.

John Baptist Mudd made his will, which was witnessed by John B. Smith and Joseph T. Jarboe, on 10-5-1833 (probated Wash. Co., Ky. 10-28-1833)[9] and bequeathed to his "beloved wife Louisa Mudd all of my property and of every description during her single life out of which she is to raise and support the children, the said property I give to her during her life as long as she remains single and at her death to be sold and equally divided between my children.[10] But should my dear wife marry she is to have only one third of my property during her life and the other two thirds divided between my children." He appointed his friends Hugh McElroy and John D. Smith as his executors and directed that he be buried in the burial grounds of St. Rose.[11] This will was presented to the court by Joseph T. Jarboe, the witness, on 10-28-1833.[12]

An inventory of John Baptist Mudd's estate is recorded in Book E, p. 382, Wash. Co., Ky.

Louisa Rose Mudd, widow of John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d), married in Wash. Co., Ky. on 4-28-1835 to Charles Hagan (Abach #1), the son of Mary Ann Mudd and Thomas Hagan (see Abcah for issue. Also see Abagb a).

In May 1835 the Wash. Co., Ky. court appointed Charles Hagan as the guardian of Sterling and William Mudd, the orphans of John Baptist Mudd. Charles Hagan's security was Patrick Mudd (Abagb b).[13]

On 2-22-1841 on motion of Patrick Mudd (Abagb b), who was security for Charles Hagan the guardian of Sterling and William Mudd, Charles Hagan was ordered to give more bond. He refused to do so and in his place Austin Mudd (Abagb a) was appointed guardian.[14] Patrick Mudd then gave bond as security for Austin Mudd.

On 3-27-1841 Charles F. Hagan (Abcah #1) certified to a statement of account as guardian for Sterling Mudd who was John Baptist Mudd's heir. Mentioned in this accounting were items sold to P. Mudd (probably Abagb b) and Austin Mudd the "present guardian". Also mentioned was (as copied) Mildred's dower.[15,16] Also on 3-27-1841 Charles Hagan reported on the guardianship of Robert Mudd who was John Baptist Mudd's heir. In this report Austin Mudd was again referred to as "present guardian", and mention was made of the widow's dower of $334.56; the amount due of $1003. 68; and Sterling Mudd.[17]

On 3-11-1848 Austin Mudd, guardian for Francis Sterling Mudd and William Robert Mudd, both minors and sons of John Baptist Mudd, dec'd., reported on the guardianship. Listed in this report were the proceeds from a female slave, Louise, who sold for $400; and a debt of $18 owed to St. Mary's College.[18]

On 5-8-1860 William R. Mudd and Francis S. Mudd appointed Austin Mudd (probably Abagb a) as their agent and attorney.[19]

On 10-15-1860 Dr. William R. Mudd sold his half interest in two slaves to Dr. Francis S. Mudd.[20]

Frances McClye Mudd, a graduate of Sellman Institute, taught school in Lafayette, La., prior to her marriage.

The Chases resided in Clinton, La.

Dr. Francis S. Mudd attended the local schools in Washington Co., Ky., and completed a literary course at St. Rose College, near Springfield, Ky. He studied medicine under Dr. John Polin of Springfield, and later attended Transsylvania Medical School in Lexington, Ky. In 1850 he moved to Vermillion Parish, La., where he practiced for seven years; then removed to Lafayette, La. In 1882/3 he took a refresher medical course at Tulane University Medical School. On 1-20-1862, Dr. F. S. Mudd certified that he had been a practicing physician in Louisiana for more than ten years (Ref. 128 and 152).[10]

Don A. Grieg, a nephew of the deceased wife of Dr. Francis Sterling Mudd and with whom he lived for twenty years, sent us information about Dr. F.S. Mudd. He wrote that Dr. Mudd resided in a beautiful home (picture in file) situated on 120 acres of land. "Dr. Mudd was about the best doctor in the State, and was called for consultation frequently. Many young doctors studied under him." John Grieg and his wife came to the U. S. about 1798 (his estimate).

The succession of Dr. Francis S. Mudd was filed in Lafayette Parish, La., 12-13-1906. It was a joint succession with Martha Taylor Grieg, dec'd (Probate Docket 2506). The property consisted of certain lands in Lafayette, La.

Augustine Patrick Mudd (Abaga bi) in a letter to Mary Joseph Mudd (Abaaa adf) stated that Robert and Delphine Mudd left two children, viz. Frank and Adaline. We did not uncover any knowledge of descendants of the children of Robert and Delphine Mudd.

It is stated (in Ref. 44) that John Robert Mudd with his brother Luke Mudd (Abagb f) migrated to Missouri prior to 1840[5] and that John Robert Mudd was the father of two sons and two daughters at that time. The Silex, Mo. "Index" dated 3-26-1903 stated that in the fall of 1840 Robert Jameson moved to Missouri and settled on Robert Mudd's (Abagb e) farm.

In a letter written by Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) on 4-15-1845 (Ref. 174) it is written the "Polly Not (see Aadai or Abcah) has gone to Missouri with Robert Mudd." This Robert Mudd undoubtedly was Robert Mudd (Abcae a) who lived in Kentucky until 1843, not John Robert Mudd (Abagb e).

In the 1840 census of Lincoln Co., Mo. Robert Mudd was listed with males 20 to 30, 1;[6] females under 5, 2; 5 to 10, 1; and 30 to 40, 1.

In 1840 Robert Mudd was appointed surveyor of the road in precinct #65 instead of Alexander Bean. As Robert Mudd (Abagb e) was in the 1840 census of Lincoln Co., Mo., this Robert Mudd, the "surveyor," must have been Abcae a.

On 5-1-1832 Robert Mudd of Wash. Co., Ky. sold to Henry C. Boswell of Prince Georges Co., Md. his right and title in "Widows Trouble" in Prince Georges Co., Md., said land having been sold by the late Thomas N. Mudd (Abaga) to said Henry C. Boswell. Elizabeth Mudd, wife of Robert Mudd, acknowledged this sale.[7]

On 12-13-1852 Robert Mudd Sr.[8] and his wife Elizabeth D. sold land in Lincoln Co., Mo. to William Hammonds;[9] to Hilary P. Mudd (Abaga b);[10] and to George J. Dyer.[11] (Probably George Ignatius Dyer).

On 11-21-1854 Robert Mudd Sr. and his wife Elizabeth D. sold land in Lincoln Co., Mo. to Hilary P. Mudd.[12]

By the will of Charles Mudd (Abcd) dated 8-2-1828 (probated 9-22-1828)[13] Robert Mudd as a representative of Susannah Mudd, Dec'd., received a share of the following negroes: Randal, Richard, and Caroline.

Robert Mudd with Clarissa Mudd (probably Abaaa ai) and Levi (?) Gardiner witnessed the will of Lucy O. Dyer (see Abaaa a) which was made in Charles Co., Md. on 10-14-1833.

On 5-22-1855 Letters of Administration were issued on the estate of Robert Mudd, dec'd. and the heirs mentioned were Elizabeth D. Mudd, widow; Mary A. Mudd; and Francis A. Mudd[14]. In the administration, two minor children were referred to but were unnamed. Probably they were Mary Adaline and Francis A. Mudd.

For some time we believed that the Robert Mudd who married Delphine Mudd was a son of Nicholas Mudd (Abcae) but our belief was upset by the following facts: (a) Frances Josephine Mudd (Abagb ed), dau of Robert Mudd and Delphine Mudd, was born in Missouri on 3-7-1838 whereas Robert Mudd (Abcae a), son of Nicholas Mudd did not migrate to Missouri until 1843. (b) The fact that Robert Mudd and Delphine Mudd were the parents of Hester Anne Mudd (Abagb eb) who was born 2-20-1833 at which time Robert Mudd (Abcae a), son of Nicholas Mudd, was only sixteen years old. (c) Robert Mudd, son of Nicholas Mudd, married Eliza Knott on 9-5-1835 whereas we found baptismal records of children of Robert Mudd and Delphine Mudd both in 1833 and 1835. (d) Of the three Robert Mudds of that period, viz. Abagb e, Abcab, and Abcae a, Delphine Mudd must have married Robert Mudd (Abagb e), son of Francis Lucas Mudd and Susannah Mudd, because Robert Mudd (Abcab) who died in 1844 did not name a wife in his will (it is to be noted that Delphine Mudd did not die until 1864), and because Robert Mudd (Abcae a) was probably not Delphine Mudd's first husband inasmuch as divorces in those days were almost unknown. The tendency to marry first cousins in those days is probably the case here.

In March 1859 Delphine Mudd witnessed the baptisms of Alonzo A. Edelen (see Abaca al) and of Eliza J. Davis, dau of Elizabeth Ann Davis.

1860 census Millwood Twp. Lincoln Co., Mo. p. 565, Elizabeth Mudd 57 farming val. $600, b. Md. Mary 25, b. Ky., Francis 16, Mo.

Maria Blanche Corley married Francis Legouri O'Hanlon (Abaaa dd3) of Sherman, Texas; and Rose Ellen (Mudd) Corley visited them in Texas many times.

Rose Anne ("Toza") Corley became Mother Eusebia.

John Louis Corley was the father of Rev. Fr. Francis Corley, S.J. who was ordained at the St. Louis Cathedral on 6-26-1940 and who has in his possession the records of Rose Ellen (Mudd) Corley. When Rev. Fr. L. J. Kenny decided to give up the further study of the Mudd family in 1939, he offered his papers to Rev. Fr. Francis Corley but due to the pressure of work Rev. Fr. Francis Corley declined; and it was then that Fr. Kenny offered the papers to the author, Dr. Richard D. Mudd.

In a letter dated 6-5-1856 from (Judge) Henry T. Mudd (Abaaa aa) to his future wife Mary D. O'Brien, he stated: "Mr. Corley, who by the bye is one of our best men will be married to Rose Ellen Mudd, daughter of John L. Mudd. I have a high regard and opinion for them both and believe it will be a good match" (see file).

Henry Corley, husband of Rose Ellen Mudd, was born in Carracloughan Co., Monoghan, Ireland and emigrated to Pennsylvania and thence to Millwood, Mo. He was a wheelwright in Millwood, Mo. in his early days.[14]

Marie Marian Mattingly became Sr. Rozella of the Sisters of Providence.

Ann Elizabeth Mudd's first husband, William Robert Mattingly, conducted an extensive blacksmith and repair shop and sold farm implements in Millwood, Mo.[18] After his death, she married (Samuel) Lloyd Robey, who had been married to Catherine Joseph Mudd (Abcae ae) and who was a widower.

In 1941 James Earl Edelen and Joseph William Wendell Edelen resided in Silex, Mo.

Henry Cecil Edelen married Jessie Mae Nichols (Abagb fae2) and in 1944 they resided in St. Louis, Mo. In 1941 Virginia H. Edelen Mudd resided with her son Henry Cecil Edelen in St. Louis, Mo.

(Judge) Henry T. Mudd (Abaaa aa) in his list of Mudds residing in Millwood, Mo. in 1888 recorded a William Mudd son of Luke Mudd. There is no record of a William Mudd as being the son of John Lewis ("Luke") Mudd (Abagb f).

At the Court House in Springfield, Ky. on 9-18-1824 it was recorded that "Lewis Mudd, an infant orphan of Francis Mudd, dec'd., age 17 on the 19th of March next be bound out to James L. Simms to learn the art and mystery of a boot and shoemaker."[23] Thus we learned the birth date of John Lewis ("Luke") Mudd (Abagb f).

A considerable amount of difficulty occurred in straightening out this family for the following reasons: First, the nic-name of "Luke" was used by so many branches of the family; secondly, members of John Lewis Mudd's (Abagb f) own family insisted that his name was John Lewis while others insited his name was John Louis; and the third, the existence of two Eliza Knotts at the same time,-Elizabeth Knott marrying John Lewis Mudd (Abagb f) and Eliza Knott marrying Robert Mudd (Abcae a).

Long before we proved that John Lewis ("Luke") Mudd (Abagb f) was the son of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb), Joseph Benjamin Mudd (Abagb faa) told us that in his sister's home (i.e. Joseph Benjamin's sister's home) there was a picture of a Dr. Francis Mudd who had a full set of whiskers and was wearing a Prince Albert coat. On another occasion, Andrew A. Mudd (Abaaa aah) quoted Joseph Benjamin Mudd (Abagb faa) as saying that Dr. Francis Mudd's name was Dr. Charles Francis Mudd. Still on another occasion Mrs. Virginia Edelen (Abagb fi) stated that prior to a fire in which their home burned, there was a picture of her grandfather (her grandfather was Francis Lucas Mudd, Abagb) and the name on the picture was Dr. Charles Francis Mudd.

John Lewis Mudd moved from Maryland to Kentucky with his parents. This distinguishes him from Luke Mudd (Abaca b) who was born in Ky. He lived in Kentucky several years and then heeding the adage of his time "Young Man Go West", he decided to migrate to Missouri in 1839. The trip was made by boat down the Ohio and thence up the Mississippi arriving at St. Louis, Mo. in a steamboat. Apparently he had decided to go to Texas (see Ref. 174) but changed his mind and turned north to Millwood, Mo. arriving at Clarksville Landing. He had brought with him a "fair amount of money" and at that time his family was composed of his wife and three children, viz. Toza, Marian, and Thaddeus, the latter being but two years old. The first domicile of the family was the Lloyd Robey farm known as the "Jackson House" but later they moved to what is now known as the "Abb" Mudd farm.

As Thaddeus C. Mudd (Abagb fa) was baptized in Kentucky on 8-4-1839 and John Robert Mudd (Abagb fb) was born in Missouri on 12-20-1840, John Lewis Mudd's exodus to Missouri occurred during that time.

In "The Peoples Version" (Ref. 44) it is written that "Robert (Abagb e) and Luke Mudd (Abagb f), brothers came from Kentucky about 1841. Luke settled on Lead Creek and died in St. Charles County during the Civil War. He was the father of Thad and John R."

In the 1840 census of Lincoln Co., Mo. Lewis Mudd was listed with males under 5, 1; 20 to 30, 1; females under 5, 2; and 30 to 40, 1.

In the 1850 census of Lincoln Co., Mo. (9-24-1850) John L. Mudd age 42 (b. Md.) farmer on "Cong. Land", was listed with Mary L., 26 (b. Md.); Rose E., 16; Susan M., 14; Thadeus C., 12 (b. Ky.); John R., 9; and Ann E., (b. Mo.).

1860 census Millwood Twp. Lincoln Co. Mo. (p. 575) John L. Mudd 52, farmer b. Md. Mary L. 38 b. Md; John R. 18, Louis F. 10, Amy E. 14, Ann M. 3. (All children b. Mo.).

See under 1870 census of Catherine Josephine Mudd (Abcae ae) for Molley Mudd who may be widow of John Lewis Mudd.

1870 census Portage Des Sioux Twp., St. Charles Co., Mo. Mary L. Mudd 50, keeping house, valuation $2000, b. Md. Louis F. 19; Mary M. 15; Virginia 9.

At one time John Lewis Mudd (Abagb f) was a large land owner.

He and his wife Mary L. Mudd were involved in the following land transactions in Lincoln Co., Mo.:

Bk. Q, p. 304,	3-8-1862 to John Griffith
Bk. R, p. 75,	10-3-1863 to Josiah B. Thomas
Bk. U, p. 173,	6-11-1866 to John H. Janes
Bk. U, p. 263,	10-10-1866 to Frances H. Duncan
Bk. U, p. 541,	1-20-1868 to Thomas W. Withrow, etc.

On 8-27-1848 George Joseph, a slave belonging to John Lewis Mudd, was baptized at St. Peter's Church, Millwood, Mo. This slave was born on 7-4-1848 in the (at that time) Immaculate Conception (Catholic) Parish of Perry, Mo.

By the will of Charles Mudd (Abcd) dated 8-2-1828 (probated 9-22-1828[25]) Lewis Mudd (Abagb f) as a representative of Susannah Mudd, dec'd., received a share of the following negros: Randal, Richard, and Caroline.

It is said that after death of John Lewis Mudd's first wife, he remarried, and after the death of John Lewis Mudd, his second wife remarried to Zimon E. Beck on 1-x-1884. (see however account of Maria Mudd, Abagb fh). (See p. 417a).

1. All informants insist that he was born in Maryland.
2. It is recorded in a St. Charles, Mo. record that Luke Mudd died on 12-8-1868 at the age of 67 years.
3. The marriage record refers to her as Elizabeth Knott but Cecelia Gertrude Hawkins (Abagb fbi) reports that her name was Nancy Knott. In the marriage record of Thaddeus Mudd she is referred to as Mary E. Mudd.
4. The Elizabeth Mudd who died on 8-9-1839 could hardly be the wife of John Lewis Mudd (Abagb f) because she was the "widow of Louis Mudd."
5. Witnesses to this marriage were George B. Mudd (poss. George Bolivar Mudd) (Abaaa da) and Virginia Edlin (see Aaaaj).
6. She was apparently the widow of William Uptegrove (said to be Ike Uptegrove) who married Mary Edelen in Lincoln Co., Mo. on 12-28-1840.
7. Baptized in Kentucky on 8-4-1839.
8. He is referred to as the son of Louis Mudd.
9. Also given 12-20-1841. Cecilia Gertrude Hawkins reported his birth year as 1842.

The Silex, Mo. "Index" of 1902 refers to Alice Mudd as being a resident of Fairview, Mo.

When Thaddeus Chrysostum Mudd was but five months old his parents migrated from Kentucky to Missouri. It was George Sands, an old time resident of the Millwood, Mo. vicinity, who brought young Thaddeus from the river land at Louisiana, Mo. to Millwood, carrying him on horse-back on a pillow.

In (Judge) Henry Thomas Mudd's (Abaaa aa) list of the Mudds in Millwood, Mo. in March 1889, Thaddeus Mudd, age 52 years, was listed

In the Silex, Mo. "Index" dated 1-5-1922 Thaddeus C. Mudd's death was recorded. The article stated in part: "He was a pioneer of Missouri. When he came, there were but a few settlements west of Clarksville. The land was a wilderness of woods and tall prairie grass thru which deer and other animals roamed at will. He espoused the Southern cause during the Civil War, enlisted in the company of Capt. William Meyers. Making their way south to join Price's army, they were attacked by a Federal Force under General Prentice at Mt. Zion. During this sharp engagment, Thaddeus Mudd had the crown of his hat shot away but was himself uninjured. Later he was imprisoned at Palmyra but was released three months later at the special request of his father. He was a charitable, generous and congenial man."

In (Judge) Henry Thomas Mudd's (Abaaa aa) list of the Mudds in Millwood, Mo., in March 1889, John Robert Mudd, age 50 years, was listed.

John Robert Mudd's (Abagb fb) will was made on 11-5-1909 and probated on 3-24-1924.[17]

Harriet Booker Mudd's will was made on 4-9-1918 and probated on 1-8-1929.[18]

Virginia Davis (Abagb fbd#1) wrote the following: "My grandmother was Laura Edelen. She died and my grandfather married a Miss Booker Mudd. Mrs. Stonebreaker (see Abaca al) is not living; her father was Aloysius Edelen (See Abaca al) who was a half brother of James L. Edelen, my grandmother's (i. e. Laura Jane Edelen's) father. James L. Edelen married Miss Kirby of Virginia." Virginia Davis is apparently wrong. James L. Edelen was the father of Mrs. Stonebreaker and Aloysius Edelen was the father of Laura Jane Edelen because in the 1850 census of Lincoln Co., Mo., there is a James L. Edelen listed with his wife Catherine C. (see Abaca al); and an Elloisus Edelen age 54 (b. Md.) listed with Virginia, 17 (b. Md.) and Laura J., 14 (b. Mo.). On 7-10-1851 Virginia Edelen age 18 and Laura J. were baptized in the Catholic Church in Millwood, Mo. In the 1870 census St. Charles (City) Mo. Virginia Kirkpatrick (Wife of Frank) was age 37. This Virginia was an Edelen and probably was the same as Virginia 17 above. In the 1880 census E. E. Mudd (possibly Ella Lee, abagb fbd) and F. W. Mudd 13 possibly Frances Virginia abagb fbe) were referred to as ''nieces of F. Kirkpatrick and V. C. Kirkpatrick'' and therefore it is probable that V. C. was a sister to Laura Jane Edelen.

Mary Louise Edelen (Aaaaj #2), dau of Maria Mudd and (John) Aloysius Edelen, is said to have been a sister of Virginia Edelen. Inasmuch as a Virginia Edelen was listed in the 1850 census of Lincoln Co., Mo., as being the sister of Laura J. Edelen and as being the dau of Aloysius Edelen, the indication is that the father of Laura Jane Edelen, wife of John Robert Mudd (Ababg fb), was (John) Aloysius Edelen who probably married secondly to Ellen Kirby.

Much confusion resulted from the record that an Aloysius Edelen, said to be the son of Joseph Edelen and Salome Noble[19] married in Prince Georges Co., Mo., on 7-14-1831 to Eleanor Kirby (Ref. 122, p. 181). It was not known whether or not this Aloysius Edelen was the same person as the Aloysius Edelen, father of Laura Jane. Mr. Harry W. Newman was consulted regarding Eleanor Kirby's husband and he was positive that her husband was Aloysius Noble Edelen, the son of Joseph Edelen and Alice Edelen. Whether or not an Eleanor Kirby remarried to John Aloysius Edelen, Mr. Newman did not know. A solution to this may be that there were two Ellen Kirbys who married Edelens. Mr. Newman felt this latter explanation was the best. There is an interesting letter, dated 12-25-1861, in the file from James A. Davis to his "dear Aunt Laura", wherein he states he was "taken a prisoner by Federal forces while peaceably travelling the road." He asks about Aloysius Mudd (see Abaga bd) and Alton Mudd (see Abaaa aaa) and Uncle Frank.

1870 census St. Charles City, St. Charles Co., Mo. (p. 327) John Mudd 28, teamster b. Mo., Ella 7, Francisco 6, Louis 2. This family was residing with the family of James F. Mudd (Abaaa dc). Obviously Louis age 2 is a son who died young about whom we have no records. Francisco. (as copied) must have been Frances Virginia, though the ages do not agree.

For further reference to the Edelens see the account of Maria Mudd (Aaaaj).

Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Sr. migrated from Kentucky to Texas in 1836 with his mother Ellen Mudd and his brothers Frank Mudd (Abagb h) and George Mudd (Abagb i).

Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) related the following to the author: ''Upon the arrival of the three Mudd brothers in Texas, they immediately joined arms against Santa Anna and fought under General Sam Houston. In the same company with them were Adam Coble and John Thompson who were brothers-in-law to one or two of them. Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Sr. left home with a detail to guard the women and children of the area which was in Brazoria County. He was one of a group of sixty men detached for this purpose. During the day the women and children were guarded in a big house and at night the guards took their charges, to a hair-pin loop of the river on a jutting piece of land only 300 yards across and easily defended. The women and children and many babies thereby escaped unharmed. This area is now well marked.'' The author visited some of this area with Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. and saw the old tree under which General Houston spoke to the soldiers and the people regarding the dangers to be expected. It is near to an old Inn (now deserted and decaying) where the mail was picked up by the stage coach. Nearby to this area is the highway over which the Mudds drove their cattle north to Kansas City, Mo.

In February 1864 P. N. Mudd age 47 years was enlisted by B. M. Ballard as a Private in the Militia of Lavaca Co., 25th Brig. commanded by Brig. Gen. W. H. Woodward.

In the 1850 census of Lavaca Co., Tex. (10-2-1850, p. 655, home #165) T. M. (or T. N.) Mudd, age 33 (b. Ky.), farmer, was listed with Delfina, 27 (b. Ky.); Mary E., 6 (b. Tex.); Sarah J., 5 (b. Tex.); Ann E., 1 (b. Tex.); and Ellenor, 63 (b. Md.).

In the 1870 census of Lavaca Co., Tex.[9] Thomas N. Mudd age 53 (b. Ky.) farmer with real estate valued at $450 and personal property valued at $500 was listed with Delphine, "keeps house," 48 (b. Ky.); James R., works on farm, 18 (b. Ky.); Caroline, 16; John F., "at home," 13; and Thomas N., 10.

In the General Land Office at Austin, Tex. there are recorded three land grants which refer to the same man, viz. Thomas N. Mudd (probably Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Sr.). This Thomas N. Mudd certified that he came to Texas on 11-x-1835 and the certificate was granted by the Commissioners of Ft. Bend Co., Tex. The land grants are recorded as follows: (a) Thomas M. Mudd, 1476 acres (i.e. 1/3 league) of first class land in the county of Robertson in the locality of Walters, Walnut Creek, Tex.; (b) Thomas N. Mudd, 1/3 league of land in the county of Ft. Bend; (c) Thomas N. Mudd, 1/3 league of land in the county of Ft. Bend.

"Nat" Mudd was referred to several times in a letter written by Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) to his half-brother George H. Mudd (Abagb i) on 4-15-1845 (Ref. 174. See account of Abagb c).

Inspection of records at the Texas University in Austin, Tex. revealed that Thomas N. Mudd was supposed to be mentioned in the Texas "Sentinel" dated 7-15-1841 (p. 4, col. 2) but a copy of that edition could not be found.

It is said that a first cousin of Delphine Mudd (wife of Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Sr.) was Mrs. John Jameson who in 1942 was 88 years of age and who resided in Yoakum, Tex.

REF: Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc).

William Henry Mudd (Abagb hba) and William Thomas Mudd (Abagb gba) stated that Francis Lucas Mudd fought in the battle of San Jacinto. This was confirmed by Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) when he stated that upon the arrival in Texas of the three Mudd brothers, viz. Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Sr. (Abagb g), Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb h), and George Henry Mudd (Abagb i); immediately joined arms against Santa Anna and fought under General Sam Houston.

11. Mrs F. L. Layton (Abagb ie) informed the author that Eliza Ellen Mudd was named for her grandmother, Ellen Mudd, the wife of Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb). Mrs Layton was not sure that the first name, viz. Eliza, was a part of her grandmother's name, but she was certain that the middle name of Ellen was given in honor of her grandmother (see account of Abacf).
12. This census record was rechecked.
13. Probably this was a miscopy and the name instead of being James D. should probably be John D.

Where ever the author would go during the years this book was being written, people would offer information concerning the Mudds. During a sandstorm in Carlsbad, N. Mudd who, although an instructor at Chanute Field, was reclassified as a locksmith because of his ability in that respect.

The Associated Press carried on 12-25-1941 (see the Detroit (Mich.) Free Press) an interesting story concerning Pvt. Dana T. Mudd, a locksmith, who opened a safe for an army supply officer at Wichita Falls, Tex.

Mary Maud Layton married first to______Hill and secondly to______McRay. In 1943 she resided at 642 S. E. Levee Street, Brownsville, Tex.

Lewis Ferdinand ("Ferd") Layton was an M.D. Mrs. Marion M. Layton resd in Brownsville, Tex. till her death.

According to Marion Matilda Layton her father and mother (i.e. Susan Elizabeth Clare) had twins born three days apart both of the twins dying at birth.

George Henry Mudd with his mother Ellen Mudd and brothers Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Sr. (Abagb g) and Francis Lucas Mudd (Abagb h) migrated from Kentucky to Texas in 1836. Thomas Nathaniel Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) stated that upon the arrival in Texas of the three Mudd brothers, immediately joined arms against Santa Anna and fought under General Sam Houston.

On 8-6-1861 G. H. Mudd enlisted at Sweet Home, Tex. as a Private in Capt. Frederick J. Malone's Cav. Co., 24th Brig. of the Texas State Troops of Lavaca Co., Tex. for a period of twelve months.

In the 1860 census of Lavaca Co., Tex. (6-26-1860, p. 207, home #332) George Mudd age 39 (b. Ky.), farmer; was listed with Susan, 27 (b. Mo.); Joseph, 8 (b. Tex.); Josephine, (b. Tex.); and Marion, 1 (b. Tex.).

In the 1870 census of Lavaca Co., Tex. (Item 1298) Susan Mudd age 37 (b. Mo.) with valuation of $1030; was listed with Marion, 11; Henry J., 9;George, 7; and James Clare, stockman, 39 (b. Mo.).

It is recorded at the General Land Office in Austin, Tex. that George Henry Mudd was granted 320 acres of third class land which was situated in Ft. Bend Co., Tex.

Charles Mudd (Abcd) by his will dated 8-2-1828 (probated 9-22-1828)[7] bequeathed to Eleanor Mudd "a sum to pay for the schooling of her youngest son George Henry Mudd (Abagb i) for three years."

When Susan Elizabeth Clare migrated to Texas at the age of sixteen[8] she brought with her a letter addressed to Ellen Mudd, the mother of George Henry Mudd (Abagb i). It is strange that this Susan Elizabeth Clare later married the son of Ellen Mudd.

After the death of George Henry Mudd, his widow Susan Elizabeth remarried in 1877 to S. E. Riney (d. 12-8-1891).

Maud McRay (Abagb ie4) stated that her grandmother Susan Elizabeth Mudd, shortly before her death, stated that her husband George Henry Mudd (Abagb i) was a cousin of Abraham Lincoln. When the author visited the mother of Maud McRay, viz. Marion Matilda (Mudd) Layton (Abagb ie), she told the author that because the emancipation of slaves had been such a blow to the South, her mother Susan Elizabeth Mudd had refrained from claiming their relationship to Abraham Lincoln.

son of Henry ("Harry") Mudd and Elizabeth Lowe m Margaret Ann ________ [1] (d. 1819).

Issue

a Walter — b c 1764

b Eleanor — m Leonard Beavens

Mrs. Leo A. Cohill, Clear Spring, Md., has three Bibles and other records of the Bevans family. In one, there is the following record: Leonard Bevans d. 7-7-1813, age 77; Eleanor Bevans d. 5-16-1819.

Many Bevans' are buried in the Catholic cemetery at Little Orleans, Md. Some of the Bevans' from Allegany Co., Md., moved to the vicinity of Paw Paw, W. Va.

Several Bevins' were listed in the 1800 census of Allegany Co., Md., and in 1810 two Bevans families were listed. None of these listings referred to Leonard Beavans.

In the 1820 census of Allegany Co., Md., a Henry Bivans was listed with males under 10, 2; 10 to 16, 1; 18 to 26, 1; 26 to 45, 3; females under 10, 2; and 26 to 45, 1. Also listed in this census were a Walter Bivans, a Mary A. Bivans, and Malinda Shercliff (Abbc).

In the 1830 census of Allegany Co., Md., Eleanor Beavans age 50 to 60 was listed with males 30 to 40, 2; females 10 to 15, 1; and 20 to 30, 1.

In the 1840 census of Allegany Co., Md., there were listed several Bevans'.

In the 1850 census of Allegany Co., Md., (8th Dist., #2508) Ellen Bevans age 60 b. Md. with property valued at $6,000 was listed with Leonidas, 26; Ambrose, 22; and Isaac Roby, 50. Also listed in the census (#2558) was a Walter J. Bevans age 26 who was listed with a family.

Leonard Bevins' (apparently the Leonard Beavens Sr. age 77 who died 2-7-1813; see Cohill Bibles) will was made on 10-23-1812 in Washington Co. Md. In his will he refers to his plantations in Wash Co., Md., in Bedford Co., Pa., and Franklin Co., Pa. He names his children as follows: Alexander, Mary, Basil, Martha, Jane, Thomas Leonard, Anna, Margaret Eliza, and Susanna. Thomas Leonard may be two sons as he apptd his son Leonard as executor. As he refers to no wife, it is probable she was deceased, and therefore the Ellen and Eleanor Bevins' in the 1830-40-50 censuses of Allegany Co., probably referred to the widow of Henry Bevins who apparently was a brother of Leonard. Mrs. Anna Cohill states that Henry Bevins was a son of Ignatius Calvert Bevins and Mary, his wife. It appears that this Mary was Mary Mudd (Abe). The complete Bible record of the Henry Bivans family is in the file. Henry Bivans was born 11-15-1781, and his wife was Ellen Clark. This relationship of these Beavens' to Mary Mudd (Abe) is based on no definite proof. Some land records of Leonard Bevans were located in the Wash Co., Md., records but they contained no genealogical information (see file).

c Melinda[2] ("Milly") — b c 1763

8. William	b. 8-30-1796
9. Clotilda	b. 8-21-1803 d. 8-20-1879

"A. L." is probably Lewis who married Mary Conly on 11-13-1821. Leonard married Honora Mattingly 5-13-1823. Francis married Rosanna Conly 11-x-1818. William Jr. married Annie Mattingly 11-x-1823. These two Mattinglys were probably dau's of Henry Mattingly (see Mattingly file).

Austin L. Shercliff of Flintstone, Md., in writing to us in 1947, stated that he was a son of Honorius Shercliff; that Wm. Shercliff was his (Austin's) great-grandfather and that Melinda Mudd and William Shercliff married in 1783 and had seven children. He stated that the old family Bible was at the home of Irene Elizabeth Stemple at Keyser, W. Va. Leonard Bevins and William Shercliff, he stated, probably went to Allegany Co., Md., together. William Shercliff, he continued, "took up" 1000 acres of land four miles off Route 40 on 15 mile Creek and Leonard Bevins took up 1000 acres and built a tavern on the National Pike (twenty Miles east of Cumberland near Green Ridge) where stage horses stopped and were exchanged. This tavern which was known as the Bevins Tavern was destroyed by fire about the year 1907. Austin Shercliff still owns a part of William Shercliff's holdings which included the farm where William Shercliff was buried.

The author visited Austin Shercliff in Oct. 1948 and saw among other things the diary of Leonard Shercliff from 1844 to 49. It contained many interesting items on the activities, of the period, business dealings, costs, hunting etc.

In the 1810 census of Allegany Co., Md., one Shercliff family was listed., but no William Shercliff.

In the 1820 census of Allegany Co., Md., Melinda Shercliff over 45 years of age was listed with males 16 to 26, 3; 26 to 45 2; females 10 to 16, 1; 16 to 26, 3; and one slave. Next to this census was listed a Francis Shercliff age 26 to 45 who had in his household males under 10, 1; and females 16 to 26, 1. Also listed in this census was Henry Bivans, Walter Bivans, and Mary A. Bivans.

In the 1830 census of Allegany Co., Md., Melinda Shercliff age 60 to 70 was listed with males under 5, 1; 5 to 10, 1; 40 to 50, 2; females 20 to 30, 1; 30 to 40, 3; and two slaves.

In the 1840 census of Allegany Co., Md., there were listed several Shercliff families.

In the 1850 census of Allegany Co., Md., (7th Dist. #2500) a William Shercliffe age 51 (b. Md.) with property valued at $600 was listed with Ann, 35; Jacoby Roby, 4; and John (Roby?), 12. Also listed in this census (#2499) was a Leonard Shercliffe age 63 who was listed with a family.

A complete copy of the Shercliff Bible family records was obtained and is in the file. It states that Milly Shercliff died 3-22-1840. This follows the entry of "Wm. Shercliff died 1-13-1808," and therefore it is believed that Milly here refers to Melinda, as the fourth entry is Milly H. Shercliff (obviously the daughter) died 4-17-1834.

The 1800 census of Chas. Co., Md., lists a Sarah Mudd as having the following females in her household: 10 to 16, 1; 16 to 26, 1; and 26 to 45, 1. This listing may refer to Sarah Mudd (Abbd) or to Sarah Mudd (Aagbb).

e Violetta ("Leta" "Letitia")

m (with dispensation) Chas. Co., Md. 2-10-1805[3] William Cooke.
Issue:
1. Robert b. 7-7-1807[4]

Violetta Mudd was the second wife of William Cooke. He was first married on 5-28-1896 to an Elizabeth Mudd who we believe was the daughter of Francis Mudd (Abag) and Sarah Mitchell. An Elizabeth Cooke, probably a daughter of William Cooke Sr., on 1-7-1806 was godmother for Francis Hiliary Mudd (Abbaa), son of Walter Mudd (Abba) and Mary ("Polly") Cooke.

In March 1821 William Cook, executor of William Cook, filed a claim against Michael Mudd (Aaaaf), William Berry son of John Berry, and William C. Robertson.

The Thomas Cooke who made his will 6-3-1715 (probated 5-3-1716) may have been the father of William Cooke who married Violetta Mudd because in the will of this Thomas Cooke he mentions his wife Elizabeth; his sons Thomas, Henry, William; and his daughters Margaret, Bethe, Elinor, and Mary.[5]

f Rebecca d prior to 1821
m Henry Montgomery
Issue:
1. Margaret

Possibly the daughter of Rebecca Mudd and Henry Montgomery was Margaret Ann who married Richard Cooke because Margaret Florence (Cooke) Mudd (see Abbac e) stated that Polly (Cooke) Mudd[6] was her grandaunt and the sister of Richard Cooke who married a Margaret Ann Montgomery.

ISSUE: In 1820 Wm. Cooke of Prince Georges Co., Md., Richard Cook of Charles Co., Md., Walter Mudd (Abba) and his wife Mary of Charles Co., Md., and Benet Gwin the agent for Leonard Hogan (probably Hagan) and Francis Beavin of Charles Co., Md. requested that "Turners" and "Whights Forrest" and other tracts of land be divided. Obviously Wm. Cooke, Richard Cook, the wife of Walter Mudd and the wives of Leonard Hogan and Francis Beavin were brothers and sisters.[7]

One of the most surprising "finds" in the writing of this genealogy was made by Mr. John Burkett a genealogist in Wash., D. C. who, while inspecting Charles Co., Md. court records at La Plata, Md., found the following that proved the family of Henry Mudd (Abb):

Petition of Eleanor Beavans, Melinda Shercliff, Sarah Mudd, Ann, William, Thomas, Jane and Robert Mudd, and Margaret Montgomery, William Cooke and Letitia his wife:

"Henry Mudd the father of your petitioners died intestate seized in fee of Forrest of 150 acres; that he left six children to wit: Eleanor who married Leonard Beavans of Allegany Co., Md., Melinda the wife of William Shercliff "of said Co.," Sarah Mudd, Walter Mudd, Letitia Mudd who married William Cooke, and Rebecca Mudd who married Henry Montgomery. Rebecca has since died leaving issue Margaret; Walter Mudd has since died leaving five children Ann, William, Thomas, Jane, and Robert minors which children and descendants and heirs of Henry ask division of the land." Commission appointed Theodore Mudd (probably Abaaa a), J. Reeves, and George, John, and Walter Gardiner. The commission reported the land could not be divided and was not in excess of 182 acres.[8] All descendants of Henry Mudd (Abb) can base their ancestry on this "find."

William Shercliff and Leonard Bevans are referred to several times as early settlers of Western Md. (see Ref. 183, Vol II, p. 1365).

CENSUS : There were three Henry Mudds in the 1790 census. They were as follows: (Chas. Co. , Md.)
a. Henry Senr. (probably Abb) listed with males over 16, 2; 5 females; and 9 slaves.
b. Henry J. of Thos. (probably Abaa) with males over 16, 2; 3 females; and 12 slaves.
c. Henry T. (probably Abaaa) with males under 16, 3; over 16, 1; 3 females; and 7 slaves.

The 1820 census of Charles Co., Md. lists no Walter or Margaret Ann Mudd but does list an Ann Mudd in whose home were males 10 to 16, 2; 10 to 26, 1; 26 to 45, 1; females under 10, 1; 16 to 26, 1; and over 45, 2.

MILITARY SERVICE: There is considerable indication that Henry Mudd (Abb) may have been in the Revolution.

Three Henry Mudds signed the Patriot's List (i.e. Oath of Fidelity) before Joshua Sanders in 1775/6. All free males 18 years or older were authorized to sign the Patriot's Oath, and if they did not they were classed as being a "non-juror" and their property was triply taxed. In the Patriot's List these three Mudds were referred to as: Henry Mudd Sr., Henry Mudd Jr., and Henry Thomas Mudd. It is thus evident that Henry Mudd (Abb) was Henry Mudd Sr. and Henry (Abaa) was "Jr."

PROPERTY: In the will of Thomas Mudd (Aba) dated 2-27-1760 it was stated that his brother Henry Mudd (Abb) was to be left undisturbed in possession of the "plantation where he now lives during his natural life." We believe that this indicated Henry Mudd (Abb) was single at that time and was caring for his mother.

On 3-27-1767 Henry Mudd Sr. (Abb), planter, bought of Wm. Wright and Deborah Wright his mother for the consideration of Ł53 6 s. a tract of land called "Forist" on the west side of Zachariah Swamp, part in Charles Co., Md. and part in Prince Georges Co., Md., beginning at the end of Chas. Stuarts fifth course and containing 82 acres. Ann, wife of Wm. Wright concurred to this sale and witnesses were J. Hapburn and William Bladen.[9]

On 5-19-1774 Henry Mudd (probably Abb) bought 100 acres of land known as "Forrest" from Chas. Stewart. This sale was witnessed by Walter Hanson and Dan Jenifer.[10]

In 1783 Henry Mudd Sr. was taxed for 155 acres of land known as "Forrest" in the 3d Dist., Chas. Co., Md., 9 slaves, 3 horses, and 5 cattle. There were 8 white inhabitants (Chas. Co., Tax list, Scharf Collection, Md. Hist. Soc.).

In 1798 Walter Mudd was assessed for 153 acres of land in Bryantown and for 5 slaves in Bryantown Hundred, both in Chas. Co., Md.

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: In April 1784 Henry Mudd Sr. (Abb) and Mary Mudd "Relict of Clemm" (i.e. wife of Clement Mudd, Adb, dec'd) were witnesses in the case of Mary Pennyman vs. William Hays in a controversy concerning the estate of Thomas Hayes[11] dec'd.[12] These two Mudds, viz. Henry Mudd Sr. and Mary Mudd, were again witnesses in June of the same year.[13]

On 3-16-1789 Henry Mudd Senr. and John Wright were bondsmen for Martha Beavin when the latter was appointed administratrix for the estate of Benjamin Beavin.[14]

Henry Mudd was referred to as the administrator for the estate of Henry Mudd dec'd.[15] This was probably an error and should have read Thomas Mudd dec'd. instead of Henry Mudd dec'd. The archivist of Hall of Records, Annap., Md. agreed that it was an error.

Margaret Ann Mudd's Will[16] dated 2-24-1816 and probated 3-26-1819 is as follows: Item: First and principally I commit my soul into the hands of Almighty God and my body to the earth to be decently buried. Item: To my granddaughter Margaret Montgomery, one spotted heifer and the increase thereof, also one bed and furniture. Item: To my son Walter Mudd, one negro man named Jim (provided he pay my granddaughter Margaret Montgomery half the annual value, or hire, of the said negro during her single life). Item: To my granddaughter Margaret Montgomery, one bay mare called "Sway Back" in addition to above. Item: To my daughter Sary Mudd, one negro woman named Mary. Item: To my son Walter Mudd, my falltop desk. Item: To my daughter Letty Cook, my round leaf table. Item: To my grandson William Mudd all the rest and residue of my estate that I may die possessed of. Margaret Ann Mudd appointed her son Walter Mudd as sole executor and signed her will with her mark. Witnesses were Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a) and John W. Wright.

The will of Margaret Ann Mudd was proved in Chas. Co., Md. on 3-26-1819 by Walter Mudd (Abba) and Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a). The fact that Theodore Mudd (obviously Abaaa a), a Bryantown resident, witnessed the will suggests that he was probably a neighbor. The families of Henry Mudd (Abb) and Henry Mudd (Abaa) were closely associated as can be seen by their intermarriages and frequency of witnessing each others wills etc.

On 10-13-1841 Robert Mudd of Prince Georges Co., Md. sold a negro for $750 to George Webster.[5]

In the 1860 census of Chas. Co., Md. Robert Mudd age 40 b. Md., laborer, was residing alone.

In the 1870 census of Chas. Co., Md. Robert Mudd, farmer, was listed in the 3d District of Beantown, Md. living alone listed next to his brother Thomas W.

Probably Ann Mudd (Abbae) was the Ann Louisa Mudd who married Ed. E. Dixon in Prince George's Co., Md., on 1-9-1827.

At the request of Geo. E. Dixon (as copied) and Ann L. his wife, suit was filed against Wm. Cook of Prince George's Co., Md, administrator of Walter Mudd. (Chas. Co., Orphan's Ct. Min. Book 1827-1829, p. 91)

A Louisa Mudd was the baptismal sponsor for a George W. Taylor b. 8-22-1822, son of William and Minta Taylor. She was also the sponsor for an Ann Harriet Cooke b. 2-28-1821,[6] dau of Richard and Harriet Cooke.

f (Mary) Jane b Chas. Co., Md. 11-11-1816[7]
m Prince Georges Co., Md., to Capt. George Webster.

Capt. George Webster's first wife is said to have been Matilda Moulden. There is a possibility that the correct spelling of this name was Moley or Moreland, more probably the latter (see F. N. 4, Abbac). Miss Jessie Webster, granddaughter of Hester Moreland, stated the Moley and Moreland families were distinctly different families, and the name of Capt. George Webster's wife was Hester Moreland instead of Matilda Moulden or Moley.

Robert Mudd (Abbad) and Jane Mudd (Abbaf) were confirmed at Upper Zachiah Church (Ref. 95). (Dates not obtained)

IDENTITY OF WALTER MUDD (ABBA): Prior to the excellent "find" which is recorded in the account of Henry Mudd (Abb), a great deal of research was undertaken to discover the parentage of Walter Mudd The Mudd family of the present day believe that Walter Mudd's father (i.e. Henry, Abb) was born in England, but this has no factual basis.

CENSUS': In the 1800 census of Trinity Parish, Chas. Co., Md. p. 506 (Same page as Bennett Mudd, Abc) Walter Mudd age 16 to 26 was listed with females under 10, 1; 16 to 26, 1; 26 to 45, 1; over 45, 1; and 5 slaves. This census indicates that Walter Mudd was the head of his father's (i.e. Henry Mudd, Abb) family. Possibly the female over 45 was his mother.

In the 1810 census of Chas. Co., Md. Walter Mudd was listed as having in his household (including himself) males under 10, 1; 26 to 45, 1; females under 10, 1; 16 to 26 to 45, 1; and over 45, 1.

As Walter Mudd died in 1820 his wife would be the head of the family and in that year this was the case. She had in her household the following: Males under 10, 2; 10 to 16, 1; females under 10, 1; 10 to 16, 1; and herself still under 45 years of age.

PROPERTY: In 1820 Wm. Cooke of Prince Georges Co., Md., Richard Cook of Charles Co., Md., Walter Mudd (Abba) and wife Mary of Chas. Co., Md., and Benet Gwin[8] agent for Leonard Hogan (obviously Hagan) and wife Elizabeth, and Francis Beavin and wife Sarah requested that Turners and Whights Forrest and other tracts of land be divided. William Cooke received a part of "Wight's Forest" and Mary and Walter Mudd received 70 acres.[9] This partition of property reveals the members of the family of Mary (Cooke) Mudd as it is obvious that Wm. Cooke, Richard Cook, the wife of Walter Mudd, and the wives of Leonard Hagan and Francis Beavin were brothers and sisters. (See will of Wm. Cooke Sr., below)

COURT AND COUNTY RECORDS: In 1818 (March?) Sarah Jameson, Administratrix of the estate of Jesse J. Jameson, filed a claim against Walter Mudd for £18 and Ignatius W. Gardiner went bail.[10] Horatio C. McElderry also filed a claim against Walter Mudd in 1818.[11]

On 10-10-1820 letters of Adm.were granted to Wm. Cooke on the personal estate of Walter Mudd (Chas. Co., Ct. Proc. 1819-21, p. 280). On this same date James Baden, Adm of John Smith, and Wm. Cooke; Adm of Walter Mudd presented a petition to the court stating that James Baden held a bond given by Walter Mudd to John Smith which they stated the Sd petitioners had some difficulty in obtaining. Theodore Mudd, (Abaaaa) George Gardiner and James Reeves were apptd' to effect a settlement.

In March 1821 Henry Cook was referred to as being the guardian of Ann, William, Thomas, Jane, and Robert Mudd,[12] but later Mary Mudd was appointed guardian for William, Thomas, Mary Jane, and Robert Mudd whose ages were as follows: William, age 20 in March 1828; Thomas, age 17 in August 1828; Mary Jane, age 13 in August 1828; and Robert age 11 in March 1828.[13] It is noteworthy that no Ann Mudd was referred to, which makes it appear that there was no daughter by that name.

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: Walter Mudd, Henry T. Mudd (Abaaa) and Jno W. Wright witnessed the will of John Gardiner, made 6-1-1806, prob Chas., Co., Md 7-26-1806 (Will Bk AL #12, 1801-1808 Chas., Co., Md., p. 340).

The will of "Sary" Mudd (see account of Abag) which was dated 3-20-1807 was witnessed by Walter Mudd (Abba), William Cook Sr., and William Cook Jr.

Letters of Adm on the personal estate of Walter Mudd were granted to William Cooke (Ct Proc Chas Co., Md., 1819-21, p. 280). The personal estate of Walter Mudd was inventoried 10-13-1820. Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a) and James Reeves subscribed there to. Wm. Cook Jr. certified to the inventory as being correct on 2-13-1821.[14]

In Oct. 1827, Wm. Cook, adm of the estate of Walter Mudd, made application for reappraisal of the estate of Walter Mudd; Thomas B. Dyer and John Gardiner were ordered to do so.[15]

Wm. Cook made his will dtd 4-26-1819 and probated 7-6-1819. (Chas Co., Md., Book 14, p. 76 to 78) Therein he bequeathed as follows: Item: To son William, 100 a land known as "Little Wood Forrest," now known as "Twins" where he now dwells and 2 negroes. Item: To daughter Mary Mudd, 4 slaves. Item: To son Richard 100 a land part of "Little Wood Forrest" and 2 slaves. Item: To daughter Elizabeth Hagan, 4 slaves. Item: To daughter Sarah Beavin, 4 slaves. Item: To grandson William Henry Cooke, a slave. Item: To Revd Robert Angier, money. Residue to children named as above Walter Mudd to pay $50 he owes him to the estate.

Executor Wm. Cooke, witnesses: James Reeves, Edw. Jenkins, Wm. Fletcher.

Walter Mudd (Abba) at one time lived on "Molly's Delight" which was visited by the author on 8-18-1941. This homestead was situated far off the road near Mattawoman, Md. See account of Athanasius Augustine Mudd (Abafa) wherein is recorded that on 11-27-1838 he (i.e. Abafa) sold part of "Molley's Delight."

The several church records concerning Walter Mudd and family were contained in the Upper Zachiah Parish, which today is St. Peter's Church, near Waldorf, Md.

They are said to have had no children that lived after birth.

A diary, kept as the children of Thomas Walter Mudd Sr. were born, give dates of birth substantially different from other information (see footnotes).

The 1850 census of Chas. Co., Md. (Middletown Dist.) records the family of Thomas Mudd age 37 and his wife Elizabeth just as it is listed in this account with exception of a female, Viz. "Connetin" age 18 who was possibly a close relative of Thomas Mudd.

In the 1860 census of Chas. Co., Md. (Coomes Dist., Beantown, Md. p. 740) Thomas Mudd age 47, farmer with $800 real estate and $415 personal property was listed with Elizabeth, 39; Mary, 19; Easter, 17; Joseph, 14; Nathaniel, 12; George, 10; William, 8; and Walter, 2.

In the 1870 census of Chas. Co., Md. (Vol. 10, p. 7, 3d Dist., Beantown, Md.) Thomas Mudd age 57, farmer with $2000 real estate and $500 personal property was listed with M. C., 28; Esther F., 27; Joseph 25; William, 17; E. C., 14; and Thomas, 11.

On 10-4-1849 Mary Jane Robey of Chas. Co., Md. deeded to Elizabeth Mudd of Chas. Co., Md. for $150 tracts of land known as "Stephens Hope" which consisted of 90 acres more or less, adjacent to Smith's Chance on the S. side of Mattawoman Swamp; "New Title Wood Forest" consisting of 112 acres which adjoined Stephens Hope; "Tanyard" consisting of 40 acres; and "Wright's Park" consisting of 38 5/8 acres, adjacent to "Tanyard" and to "Gant's Enlargement Enlarged" and to land deeded by Messrs. Websters to Nicholas B. Sandsburg. The identity of this Elizabeth Mudd is not positive but it is probable that she was the wife of Thomas Walter Mudd. One wonders, however, that if she was the wife of Thomas Walter Mudd, why did he not buy the land with her? That this is Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Mudd, is indicated by an indenture dated on the following day 10-5-1840 wherein Thomas Mudd and Elizabeth his wife, both of Chas. Co., Md., mortgaged the land on which they now reside known as "New Littlewood Forest" consisting of 112 acres more or less, in order to guarantee the payment of a loan made to them by George H. Cooke of Prince Georges Co., Md.

Thomas Walter Mudd Jr. was a native of Chas. Co., Md. and was a resident of Wash., D. C. for fifty years. He was an employee of St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

COOKE FAMILY: Margaret Florence Cooke was a grand-niece of Mary ("Polly") Cooke, wife of Walter Mudd (Abba).

Francis Hiliary Cooke (b. 3-5-1829) was the son of Richard Cooke and Margaret Ann Montgomery (see Abbf) who were married in Prince Georges Co., Md. on 9-18-1821. There was another Francis Hiliary Cooke (b. Md. 8-22-1822), son of Walter and Mary Cooke, whose godmother was Elizabeth Mudd (unplaced). It is quite probable that these two Francis Hiliary Cookes were cousins and that Richard and Walter Cooke were brothers.

A Joseph Mudd was taxed in Nelson Co., Ky. in 1797. This was the only year that we found a Joseph Mudd on tax rolls of that county up to 1820 (the last year for which we copied the taxes).

The Wash. Co., Ky. tax records refer to Joseph Mudd as being taxed for the following: In 1799 for two white males over 21 and one horse. In 1800 for 175 acres of land located on Beachfork, 200 acres on Pleasant Run, 200 acres on South Fork, two white males over 21, and one horse. In 1802 for 300 acres on Pleasant Run and Rolling Fork, 100 acres on Beachfork, one white male over 21, and four horses. In 1803 for 100 acres on Beachfork, 200 acres on Rolling Fork, and one white male over 21.

This Joseph Mudd was probably the same Joseph Mudd whose estate was probated 11-5-1804 inasmuch as he was not taxed after 1803.

On 12-9-1799 Joseph Mudd signed a note to John C. Owings.

On 11-5-1804 Francis Mudd (probably Abaca) was appointed administrator for the estate of Joseph Mudd (Abcc) with Philemon Walters, Mordecai Lincoln (see Abacd), Joseph Riley, and Clement Buckman (see Abach) as bondsmen.[6] This record led us to believe for a time that Joseph Mudd (Abcc) was the brother of Francis Mudd (Abaca).

In 1801 Joseph Mudd made a complaint in Wash. Co., Ky. Ct. that Levy Springer owed him money for work done in 1799. Wilfred Mudd was summoned to testify 5-11-1801. Joseph Mudd used a middle initial which looks like S. (Packet 28, Wash. Co. Ky. Circuit Court). Inasmuch as there is a tradition that Luke Mudd (Abac) married Miss Sansbury and it is suspected that Luke Mudd had a son Joseph, the finding of S as middle name of Joseph Mudd is significant. The close relationship of Joseph Mudd to Luke Mudd (Abac) is further shown by a Court record seen in Wash. Co. Ky. Court House wherein it is stated that Joseph Mudd and Luke Mudd sold a negro girl to one McElroy on 8-15-1801. Thomas Mudd believed to be a son of Luke Mudd signed apparently as bondsman (Packet No. not obtained).

On 5-1-1802 Joseph Mudd and Luke Mudd of Wash. Co., Ky. signed a note to John Stapleton for £22. John Pirtle and Richard Rudd were witnesses. It would appear that Bennett Mudd (Abc) and Luke Mudd (Abac) each had a son Joseph Mudd. Note that when Bennett Mudd (Abc) made his will 9-16-1800, Bennett considered his son Joseph to be incapable of taking proper care of himself so it is possible that Joseph son of Bennett was mentally or physically incompetent and that the various legal, and court records pertaining to Joseph Mudd of the time referred to here, concern a son of Luke Mudd or the latters brother, Dr. Joseph Mudd (Abaf), who might have been temporarily in Kentucky.

CENSUS: In the 1810 census of Chas. Co., Md. Charles Mudd was listed with males 26 to 45, 1; and over 45, 1.

PROPERTY: In 1817 a Charles Mudd was taxed in Jefferson Co., Ky. He had one horse and was a member of Buckners Co., 1st (or 18?) Regt.

COURT AND COUNTY RECORDS: In 1810 Charles Mudd witnessed the papers of the Apprenticeship of Stanislaus Mudd (Abaaa e) to Theodore Mudd and Ignatius Mudd in Wash., D. D. (see "Court Records," under Abaaa).

On 3-10 1824 the Wash. Co., Ky. records[8] refer to the court action of "Mudd vs. Robertson." This proved to be "Charles Mudd vs. Sterling Robertson" because on 6-9-1823 the case of Charles Mudd vs. Sterling Robertson was again on the calendar. (see Abagba and Abagbd).

On 3-18-1824 Charles Mudd was appointed attorney by Patrick Mudd (Abagb b) to sell his land, viz. "Hickory Thicket" and "Boarman's Reserve." On this same day Eleanor Mudd (Abch) appointed her brother Charles as her attorney to sell her life interest in her land.[9] Prior to the sale of these properties to Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a), Charles Mudd was to collect rents for their use from Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a).

The Jefferson Co., Ky. records show that from 1818 to 1823 Charles Mudd was involved in six Circuit Court actions; from 1816 to 1826 involved in eleven "Old" Common Law actions; and from 1824 to 1825 involved in two Chancery Court actions. In one of these cases in which Frances Mills was the plaintiff, Austin Mudd (Abagb a) was co-defendant with Charles Mudd.[10]

Charles Mudd witnessed the will of Richard Beavin in 1806 in Charles Co., Md. (Book 12, p. 316)

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: On 7-18-1810 Charles Mudd witnessed the will of Henry Thomas Mudd (Abaaa).

The will of Charles Mudd dated 8-2-1828 (probated 9-22-1828) was presented to the court by Thomas W. Pirtle a witness.[11] It reads as follows:

> Imprimis: After just debts are paid etc. ...to Eleanor Mudd (see Abagb) my chart and oxen, 100 barrels of corn of the crop now growing, choice of work horses, choice of milk cows, ten head of sheep, fifteen head of killing hogs for this fall, fifteen young hogs for next year, all my plantation utentials, one barrel of salt, my working geeres, all my flax, and all my wheat in the house. I further give to the above Eleanor Mudd a sum to pay for the schooling of her youngest son George Henry (Abagb i) for three years.

> To Araminta Noble (Abcg) the balance of the estate if living, otherwise to be (disposed as follows):
> The land on which I live to go to Donatus Mudd (Abagb c), the negroes Randall and Richard and Caroline to Austin Mudd (Abagb a), Patrick Mudd (Abagb b), Robert Mudd (Abagb e), John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d), and Lewis Mudd (Abagb f) to be equally divided between the above named heirs and representatives of Susannah Mudd dec'd. (Abcf)
> To Araminta Noble all bonds, notes, etc. Witnesses: Thomas W. Pirtle, Nathaniel L. Fillim (or Hillim), Robert Mitchell, and Aramintha Noble (Abcg) whose security was James Riney.[12] Executors: Daniel and Henderson Mudd.[13] (See Abcbb and Abcbc)
> On 3-23-1829 the estate of Charles Mudd dec'd was ordered to be appraised by David C. Walker, Jacob Barlow, John Walker, and Stephen C. Brown.

e	Raphael (possibly Ralph)	b c 1754 d prior to 5-16-1818

The Thomas Mudd and Raphael Mudd who migrated to Kentucky with Philip Lee in 1780 (?) and settled on Pottinger Creek in Nelson Co., Ky. near the town of Boston, were not sons of Bennett Mudd (Abc) but were sons of John Mudd, viz. Thomas (Adab) and Rhodias (Adaa). Hon. Ben Webb (Ref. 65) found Thomas Mudd and Raphael Mudd at Cartwrights Creek, Ky. but undoubtedly these two Mudds were also Thomas and his brother Rhodias (see Adaa and Adab).

On 2-1-1804 a Ralph Mudd was a contributor to All Faiths Parish, St. Mary's Co., Md. and in 1805 he paid for support of a minister. Whether this Ralph Mudd was Raphael (Abce) we have not determined but we believe they were the same person. If they were the same person, the "Raphael" Mudd earlier in Kentucky was probably a different person (see Adaa).

PROPERTY: On 8-21-1797[14] Henry Lowe Mudd (Abcb) and his wife Martha, both of Prince Georges Co., Md. deeded to Raphael Mudd (Abce) of Chas. Co., Md. for Ł 153 all their part of "Hickory Thicket" nearby the land of John Thomas, which was sold by him to Bennett Mudd (Abc).[15]

On 3-13-1813 (recorded 3-27-1813) Raphael Mudd of Chas. Co., Md. in consideration of the natural love and affection which he hath and beareth unto Patrick Mudd (Abagb b) son of Francis Mudd (Abagb), deeded two tracts of land known as "Hickory Thicket" and "Boarman's Reserve" containing 250 acres more or less, reserving unto his sister Susannah Mudd wife of Francis Mudd (Abagb), her natural right in the aforesaid tracts.[16]

At the request of Rose Ann Mudd (Abagb j) the following deed of gift was recorded on 3-27-1813: In consideration of love and affection, Raphael Mudd conveyed to Rose Ann Mudd dau of Francis Mudd (Abagb), one negro man named Peter, 70 years of age; one negro girl Rachel, 16 years of age; one girl Ruth (negro), 3 years of age; and one iron gray mare, 6 years old; reserving to his sister Susanna Mudd, wife of Francis Mudd (Abagb), the use of them during her natural life.

In April 1814 Raphael Mudd sold to Thos. Lindsey of Prince Georges Co., Md. a tract of land containing 100 acres which adjoined Lancaster's, formerly occupied by Thos. Panel Edelen. No wife waived dower.[17]

COURT AND COUNTY RECORDS: On 6-11-1793 Raphael Mudd appeared before Robert Bowie, Justice of Peace for Prince Georges Co., Md., and swore on the Holy Angels of Almighty God that the estate of George Digges dec'd. owed him Ł 25, the debt having been incurred in 1792 when he (Raphael) was an overseer for the said George Digges.[18]

In August 1797 Nicholas Blacklock, Benj. Cawood, and Smallwood Cawood confessed judgment to Raphael Mudd for 900 pounds tobacco payable at Piscataway warehouse.[19]

On 5-16-1818 Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a) purchased 250 acres of land known as "Hickory Thicket" and "Boarman's Reserve" located on "Devil's Nest" as a result of a sale by the Sheriff of Chas. Co., Md. to satisfy a suit by Robert and James Mandeville, administrators of Joseph H. Mandeville against Francis Mudd[20] and Raphael Mudd late of Chas. Co., Md. On 4-3-1825 Theodore Mudd deeded to Joseph A. Gardiner and Ignatius Gardiner property, viz. "Hickory Thicket" and "Boarman's Reserve" located on "Devil's Nest" which belonged to Rafael Mudd and which Theodore Mudd purchased thru the Cancery Court.[21]

In Chas. Co., Md., Md. on 5-29-1806 Minta Mudd and Henry Mudd (Abcb) were baptismal sponsors for John Robert Mudd (Abagb e), son of Francis and Susannah Mudd.

The will of Araminta Noble was made 3-2-1831 and probated 4-25-1831.[22] She devised as follows:

To Donatus Mudd a desk, set of silver tablespoons, set of silver teaspoons, dozen plates with tea pot, set of knives and forks, iron kettle and skillett, etc.

To Baptist Mudd a gold watch and to his wife Leuesy a saddle.

To Robert Mudd a table, truck, bed quilt, etc.

To Lewis Mudd a bed, blanket, and a calico quilt.

Money to be allowed to purchase three sets of silver teaspoons for Patrick, Robert, and Lewis Mudd.

To St. Roses church $25.00.

"My six nephews Austin, Patrick, Donatus, Baptist, Robert, and Lewis Mudd."

Witnesses: Thomas Pirtle and James Ramey (?) (probably Riney).

A Mitta Mudd was taxed in Chas. Co., Md. in 1783 for one slave and two horses. This was in the 4th Dist. where Burnett Mudd was taxed for 100 acres of land. (Chas. Co., Tax List, 1783, Scharf Papers, Md. Hist. Soc.)

("Old Miss Mary") d Wash. Co., Ky. 11-20-1838[23]

Thomas N. Mudd Jr. (Abagb gc) told the author that there was a Mary Mudd in Kentucky who his father, Thomas N. Mudd Sr., called "Aunt Mary."Thomas N. Mudd Jr. said that "Aunt Mary," a spinster who was considered crazy, was very rich and had a big plantation in Kentucky and an ever present attorney. Her family had all died. Obviously this Mary Mudd was Mary Eleanor Mudd (Abch) the step-aunt of Thomas N. Mudd Sr. (see Ref. 174 wherein is stated "Aunt May is dead"; also, the reference there as to the dispute of her will).

Mary Eleanor Mudd was a litigous person if she was the Mary Mudd concerned in certain circuit court actions in Jefferson Co., Ky. These actions were:
#16935, yr. 1824, vs. Ewell Shipp, pltf.
#18023, yr. 1826, vs. Y. Cirode & Co., pltf.
#18358, yr. 1826, vs. Chas. M. Thurston
Also, Louisville Chancery Court Case #1807, yr. 1824, Ewell Shipp, pltf.

Eleanor Mudd and Francis Mudd (see Abagb) were involved jointly in court actions with Chas. M. Thurston. Probably the Eleanor mentioned here was Francis Mudd's (Abagb) wife.

"Mary Eleanor Mudd" made her will on 4-25-1814 but it was not probated until 12-24-1838.[24] Since Mary Eleanor's will was probated 12-24-1838, it is probable that "Old Miss Mary" was Mary Eleanor Mudd and not Ellen Mudd, wife of Francis Mudd (Abagb). She referred to her brother Charles Mudd and to her "Sister Susanna Mudd's children," and then stated "to nephew Dorinastus (undoubtedly Donatus Mudd, Abagb c) one negro girl named Seal." Some confusion might occur due to the fact that a slave was devised to a minor child but this was not unusual, the idea being that the proceeds from the hire of the slave would accrue to the minor child. There is no evidence that "Dorinastus" was the son of any other brother or sister of Mary Eleanor Mudd, as three of her brothers had no issue and the issue of Henry Lowe Mudd (Abcb) are known to us. Her will also referred to Susannah Mudd as being the wife of Francis Mudd (Abagb) and she bequeathed two negroes to them "to be divided among Susanna's children." She bequeathed to "sister Susannah" all the remainder of her property and after her (Susannah's) death all was to go to Susannah's children. Francis Mudd (obviously Abagb) was appointed executor and Mary Eleanor Mudd signed with her mark before witnesses Samuel T. Wright, John W. Wright, and John Smith.

When the last will of Mary Eleanor Mudd was produced in court on Monday December 24, 1838, Austin Mudd (Abagb a) asked that it be continued for proof until the next court in order to give him time to take depositions from John Smith, John M. Wright, and Samuel T. Wright the subscribing witnesses all of Meriland, and of Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a), Elsey Mudd (unplaced), and John B. Thomas also of Maryland.[25]

As Thomas Mudd (Aa) and his brother Henry Mudd (Ab) both named their oldest sons Thomas, so they named their youngest Bennett, or at least, they were so known. Bennett is a common contraction for Benedict and this was undoubtedly the name of Thomas' (Aa) son. But just as the word 'Lowe' recurs again and again in the Mudd family so does the name 'Bennett,' which like 'Lowe' was a well-known family name in Maryland. The epitaph of the wife of Col. Henry Lowe, nephew of Lady Baltimore, reads as follows: "Here lieth interred the body of Susanna Marie Lowe of the family of Bennets, who departed this life the 28th of June 1714 in the 48th year of her age." It seemed necessary to call attention to this fact in connection with the recurrent names Henry Lowe and Bennett as first names of Mudds.

CENSUS’: Bennett Mudd (recorded as Burnett Mudd) was listed in the 1775/78 constable census of Bryantown Hundred in Chas. Co., Md. (Ref. 46).

In the 1790 census of Chas. Co., Md. Bennett Mudd was listed with males under 16, 1; over 16 (including himself), 3; females, 4; and 11 slaves.

In the 1800 census of Chas. Co., Md. (Trinity Parish) Bennett Mudd, over 45 years of age was listed with males 16 to 26, 1; 26 to 45, 1; females 16 to 26, 1; 26 to 45, 2; and 19 slaves.[26] This was on the same page and followed Walter Mudd. (see Abb)

MILITARY SERVICE: Bennett Mudd of Bryantown, Md. was the only Bennett to subscribe to the oath of Fidelity and Allegiance to the State of Maryland. This was on 3-x-1778. His name appears on the Patriots’ List for Chas. Co., Md. as being sworn in by Joshua Sanders. A Benjamin Mudd’s name (possibly Aaga) also appears.

There appears to have been two Bennett Mudds in the Revolution and it is believed that these were Bennet (Aaga) and Bennett (Abc); or possibly Bennett (Aag). One Bennett Mudd (see Aaga) was in the 1st Maryland Regiment. Both Bennetts were Sergeants. One served from 8-1-1780 to 1-1-1782 and the other from 7-1-1780. It is barely possible that but one Bennett Mudd (viz. Aaga) was a revolutionary soldier because the ages of Bennett (Abc) and Bennett (Aag) would seem to be against their service. Also, Bennett (Aag) died before October 1777 whereas the Bennett of the 3d Regt. served after that time.

It is also reported that a Bennett Mudd was enrolled on 2-9-1779 as a Private and was discharged on 7-1-1780.

Sgt. Bennett Mudd (Aaga or Abc) of the 3d Maryland Regiment (3d Co.) received a Bill of Credit from Robert Denny which represented pay due for “present campaign” on 8-28-1781.

PROPERTY: On 11-13-1754 Charles Blandford of Chas. Co., Md., for natural love and affection, deeded to Mary Mudd his daughter and wife of Bennett Mudd, 152 acres of land being a part of “Hickory Thicket” in Chas. Co., Md. adjacent to land belonging to John Thomas Jr.[27] This deed identifies the wife of Bennett Mudd (Abc).

From 1768 to 1774 Bennett Mudd (referred to as “Bennett Mudd of Zachayah”) remitted quit rents on 150 acres of “Hickory Thicket.”[28]

In 1783 the Chas. Co., Md. tax list records that Bennett Mudd of Bryantown Hundred, who had nine white inhabitants in his family, was seized of 265 acres of land, viz. 200 acres of “Hickory Thicket” and 65 acres of“Boarman’s Reserve.” (Tax Lists, Chas. Co., Md., Scharf Papers, Md. Hist. Soc.) He had obtained 152 of these acres from Charles Blandford in 1754 and the balance from John Thomas on 3-3-(1785?). Inasmuch as Bennett Mudd had eight children, according to this tax record, and it is believed that all survived him, possibly his wife was deceased at the time of this tax record.

On 10-11-1784 (recorded 3-29-1785) Luke Mudd (Abac), farmer, of Frederick Co., Md. sold to Bennett Mudd (Abc) of Chas. Co., Md. for 7000 lbs. of tobacco all his part of “Boarman’s Reserve” lying on the south side of “Devil’s Nest” adjoining “Hickory Thicket” and running thence the course as mentioned in the patent for Henry Mudd (Ab).[29] This was the land that Bennett Mudd willed to his daughters.

On 11-10-1754 Charles Blanford (not Blandford) sold to John Thomas Jr., for 4750 lbs. of tob. 47 1/2 a. of Hickory Thicket adjoining Charles Bevan's "Old Field."[30]

On 3-3-1785 (recorded 8-9-1785) John Thomas Sr. of Chas. Co., Md. sold to Bennett Mudd for 7000 lbs. tobacco “all my part of a tract of land in Chas. Co., Md. known as “Hickory Thicket.”[31] In 1798 Bennett Mudd of Bryantown Hundred was assessed for 18 slaves. This was probably Abc. Bennett Mudd resided in Port Tobacco Parish. This was probably the same person.

COURT AND COUNTY RECORDS: In March 1778 Bennett Mudd and ten others were accused of unlawful assembly and attack on Thos. Barron. They were fined 22 shillings and 6 pence each.[32] This was in Trinity Parish.

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: The will of Bennett Mudd made at Chas. Co., Md. on 9-16-1800 (probated Chas. Co., Md. 1-7-1804) was as follows:[33]

Imprimis: After just debts are paid out of my estate....

To son Raphael Mudd, two negroes.

To my three daughters Mary Eleanor, Aminta, and Susanna Mudd; part of two tracts...of land in Charles Co. One...Hickory Thicket 47-1/2 acres more or less which I purchased of John Thomas dec'd and one other called Boarman's Reserve adjoining sd Hickory Thicket which I purchased of Luke Mudd without knowing the quantity of acres it contained, to them during their single lives and no longer, and (thereafter) to my son Raphael Mudd.

To my son Charles Mudd, three negroes and one table.

To my son Joseph Mudd, three negroes, one bed and furniture, couple of heifers, 5 head of sheep. Whereas my son Joseph being incapable of taking proper care of himself, I do commit him (and) every legacy...to the care...of his brother Raphael Mudd (and) if Raphael mistreat him, daughter Aminta to take care of (him).

To son Henry Low, £20 currency, my executors to have three years to pay this.

To son Raphael Mudd, one bed and furniture.

To son Charles Mudd, one bed and furniture, my black horse, five head of sheep, and a couple of heifers.

To my three daughters (same as above) all the remaining...estate.

Aminta Mudd and Charles Mudd, my son and daughter, to be executrix and executor.

Witnesses: Basil W. Beavin,[34] Richard Beavin, and Ig. Middleton.[35]

BLANDFORD FAMILY: Thomas Blandford, grandfather of Mary Blandford who married Bennett Mudd (Abc), died in 1749 leaving his widow Sarah; sons Charles and John; and daughters Tabitha Mitchell and Martha Clarkson to whom he devised "Brookes Chance," "Ruding Smacking," "Hickory Thicket," "Shrewsberry Plains," and "Widows Trouble." This Thomas Blandford was the son of Thomas Blandford, the pioneer Blandford who came to Maryland about the year 1660.

The State of Kentucky made the following land grants to a Robert Mudd:

DATE OF SURVEY	ACRES	BOOK	PAGE	COUNTY	WATER COURSE
1-30-1837	190	K2	373	Green	Little Brush Creek
8-30-1837	185	M2	422	Green	None

We assume that this Robert Mudd was Abcab inasmuch as we found no other Robert Mudd of that time; but, on the other hand, we found no evidence that he was the grantee of the above lands (Ref. 181, p. 655).

In April 1840 Robert Mudd was appointed Surveyor of Roads in Precinct #65 instead of Alexander Bean.[4]

On 3-25-1839 Robert L. Mudd was appointed administrator for the estate of Horatio Mudd. Patrick Mudd (apparently Abagb b) was on the committee to appraise the estate.[5]

In a letter written by Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) on 4-15-1845 to George H. Mudd (Abagb i), "Dr. Mudd" was referred to as being deceased.

Dr. Robert L. Mudd made his will on 3-16-1844 (probated 3-24/25-1844)[6] and as no wife or children were mentioned we assume that he had none. His will is as follows:

To sister Loretta Craycroft, negro girl slaves.

To sister Elizabeth Lincoln, $200.00.

To brother Benjamin Mudd, $200.00.

To nephews, William Mudd (Abcaa b) and Hezekiah Mudd (Abcaa a), a negro slave each.

To niece Jane Mudd (Abcaa c), a negro slave.

To Nancy Knott,[7] $50.00.

To my above two nephews, William and Hezekiah, $100.00 each to include amount due me as administrator of their father Horatio Mudd's estate.

When William (i.e. Abcaa b) reaches the age of twenty-one years he is to execute a note to my executors for benefit of Hezekiah (Abcaa a) and Jane Mudd (Abcaa c) for $200.00 bearing interest at 4% and payable when they become twenty-one years old.[8]

Robert L. Mudd directed that he be buried at St. Rose Church with a stone wall over his grave and a grave-stone thereon.

Executor: Edward Edelen. Witnesses: L. J. Smith and Thomas W. Pirtle.

A report on the estate of R. L. Mudd was made 10-22-1845 and Loretto Craycroft (Abcai) and William Mudd (Abcaa b) were mentioned. Another report was made 10-24-1845 and William Mudd (Abcaa b), Austin Mudd (Abagb a), Kiah Mudd (Abcaa a), and Martha Mudd (probably Abcbb b) were mentioned.

On 9-28-1846 Levi I. Smith whose security was George C. Thirman, was appointed as administrator de bonis for the estate of Robert L. Mudd.[9]

On 5-25-1847 information was supplied by "Edw Edelen's Admr" and mention was made of the heirs of Mary Mudd dec'd. Also mentioned in this report were John Mudd (probably Abcae b), Raymond Mudd (probably Abcae d), Elizabeth Lincoln (Abcaj), and Thomas Craycroft Sr.[10,11]

On 4-5-1856 Levi Smith, administrator, reported on the estate of Robert L. Mudd.[12] Six devises of $49.25 were made and the following were mentioned: Benjamin Mudd (probably Abcad), Jane Mudd (probably Abcaa c), Martha Jane,[13] Nicholas Mudd (probably Abcae), Wilford (probably Abcba), Seraphine and John Buckman's[14] guardian, John P. Buckman's (unplaced) guardian, Elizabeth Milley Flanagin's (unplaced) guardian, Ann Buckman (unplaced), and Thomas Mudd (possibly Abcae e).

Hezekiah Mudd Jr. was taxed in Wash. Co., Ky. in 1813 and 1814 for one white male over 21 years of age and one horse. In 1814 he was referred to as just Hezekiah Mudd (not "Jr.") even tho his father was taxed that year. A Hezekiah Mudd was a soldier in the War of 1812 (see Adj. Gen. Records, State of Ky.).

3. Susannah
4. Mary
5. James (no proof)

Priscilla Riney made her will on 12-16-1831 and it was prob. in Wash. Co., Ky. 1-27-1834. She mentions her daughter Susannah Wheatley, daughter Mary Hardesty, son Robert and granddaughter Elizabeth Riney. She mentions Joseph and Clement Riney.

There were numerous Rineys in the Cartwright Creek Settlement of Kentucky among them being Jonathon, Zachariah, Jesse, James, John, Basil, and Clement (Ref. 65, p. 80). Thomas Riney made his will in Washington Co., Ky. 4-28-1818, prob. 9-14-1818. He mentions wife Priscilla, sons Robert and Augustin and daughter Susannah Wheatley. Witnesses: Robert Tippett and Raphael Cambron.

g Jane ("Ginny") m [16] by Rev. T. Wilson, Wash. Co., Ky. 1-25-1814 William Rudd, son of (probably) James Rudd and Susannah Brooke.

In 1796 James Rudd migrated with his family from P. G. Co., Md. to the neighborhood of Springfield, Ky. His children were William, Charles, Henry B., John, Richard, James, Margaret, and Christopher. James Rudd died in 1816 and his wife Susannah Brooke died in 1822 (Ref. 65, p. 79).

Susannah Rudd made her will on 8-25-1821 and it was probated in Wash. Co., Ky. 10-14-1822. She mentions her sons John, Richard, James, William and Christopher. Witnesses: John Pirtle, Thomas Janes and Horatio Mudd.

Issue:
1. Charles F.

Charles F. Hagen married in Wash. Co., Ky. on 4-28-1835 to Louisa Rose Robertson Mudd (Ref. 168, p. 42), widow of John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d). Their issue were (a) Charles Thomas b. Wash. Co., Ky. 1-23-1840; (b) Elizabeth Eleanor b. prior to 4-15-1845; and (c) Mary Louise b. prior to 4-15-1845.

According to a letter written by Donatus Mudd (Abagb c) (q. v.) on 4-15-1845, the three children of Charles Hagan (Abcah #1) were living with Austin Mudd (Abagb a) and his wife. See Abagba for account of release of Charles T. Hagan from military war prison.

In the 1860 Springfield, Ky. census Thomas Hagan, son of Charles F. Hagan (Abcah #1), age 21 was living in the home of Austin Mudd (Abagb a); and in the 1880 census Thomas Hagan, age 40, was living in the home of Charity Mudd, widow of Austin Mudd (Abagb a).

4. Parmelia A.[24]	b. Ky. 1827

6. Nicholas	b. Ill. 3-24-1834
7. Ellen	b. Ill. 1840

Abraham Lincoln and his wife moved to Hancock Co., Ill. about 1830, and his name is first found in the county records in 1836 (Ref. 197, p. 459).

All the above issue of Elizabeth Lucretia Mudd and Abraham Lincoln with exception of Hezekiah, are referred to in Ref. 214 (p. 130).

Priscilla Lincoln married John Smith (according to Lincoln Kinsman #38 of Aug. 1941). It is also reported that "Levy" Smith married five times, his fifth wife being Priscilla Lincoln, dau of Mordecai Lincoln and Lucretia Mudd (Ref. 109, p. 49). Priscilla Lincoln and her Smith husband had one daughter, Priscilla Florida who married first to John Anderson, and second to Charles C. McGill.

Parmelia Lincoln died unmarried at LaHarpe, Ill. on 12-12-1895; Mary Jane Lincoln d. Jacksonville, Ill. on 8-29-1888; Robert Lincoln died unmarried on 9-5-1868; Hezekiah Lincoln married Phoebe Ann Brewer in Peoria, Ill. on 1-12-1869; Nicholas Lincoln died unmarried at LaHarpe, Ill. on 3-7-1888; and Ellen Lincoln married on 11-28-1861 to John Sullivan who died at Ft. Worth, Tex. before 12-12-1895.

A personal letter of J. Walter S. Clements dated 1942[25] refers to Clevie Smith McGill as the only living descendant of Elizabeth Lucretia Mudd and Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Louis A. Warren, in Lincoln Lore #322, stated the Elizabeth Mudd who married Abraham Lincoln was the daughter of Charles Mudd. This is incorrect inasmuch as Hezekiah Mudd (Abca) refers to "my son-in-law Abraham Lincoln" in his will.

Abraham Lincoln's will was made 10-4-1851 and probated at Fountain Green, Ill., 3-25-1852. Apparently he died after his wife Elizabeth Lucretia Mudd because she was not mentioned in his will.

He left his home to his daughters Mary Jane, Parmelia, and Ellen.

In a letter written by Hezekiah Mudd (Abcad b) (see file) on 5-1-1885 he mentioned the death of Aunt Franky Lincoln "last winter, the last "land mark" of our connection with the Lincolns." Possibly she was the Frances Day who married James Bradford Lincoln (Abacd #2).

In the 1840 census of Hancock Co., Ill. (p. 205) Abraham Lincoln is listed with males 5 to 10, 2; 15 to 20, 1; 50 to 60, 1; females 5 to 10, 1; 15 to 20, 1; 40 to 50, 1.

In the 1850 census of Hancock Co., Ill. Abraham Lincoln, 55, farmer, valuation $2,200, b. Ky.; Elizabeth, 51; Priscillea (spelling not certain), 31; Robert, 27; Mary J., 25; Permelia, 23; Hezekiah, 20; Nicholas, 17; Ellen, 10; Martha Neighbors, 44, b. Ky. (see Abacd #6); Eden Neighbors, 16, b. Ill. Nicholas and Ellen Lincoln b. Ill; all other Lincolns mentioned b. Ky.

Abraham Lincoln of Hancock Co., Ill., bought a piece of land known as #6496, being the NW 1/4 of SW 1/4 of Sec. 25 on 2-3-1836 in T - N and R6W. (See Quincy, Ill., Land Office Record, Vol. 5, Tract Book.)

ISSUE: The sequence of taxation of the children of Hezekiah Mudd (Abca) in Wash. Co., Ky. was as follows: Nicholas, beginning 1803; Benjamin in 1811; Hezekiah in 1813; and Horatio in 1820. It would appear from this that Nicholas was the oldest and then the others in order named as it was customary for their names to appear in the tax list as they became 21 years of age or shortly thereafter.

James Hezekiah Mudd (Abcad bcb) gave information concerning the children of Hezekiah Mudd (Abca). He wrote that Hezekiah Mudd (Abcac) was "born 1816" and had four brothers, viz., Robert (Abcab), who remained in Illinois; and Benjamin (Abcad), Lincoln, and Horace (Abcaa) who settled in northern Missouri near Memphis. This statement is given for what it is worth.

IDENTITY: Considerable difficulty occurred in the placement of Hezekiah Mudd because he was not mentioned in his father's will, but, by a fortunate circumstance, the widow of Henry Mudd (Ab), viz. Elizabeth, in her will dated 5-25-1761 bequeathed to her son Bennett (Abc) her slave Dick and tobacco due for his hire; and to Bennett's son "Ezekiel" (Abca), her negro boy Clem. Thus, the Henry-Bennett-Hezekiah line is definitely fixed.[26] Probably the reason Hezekiah was not mentioned in Bennett Mudd's (Abc) will was because he (Hezekiah) was in Kentucky and was self sufficient.

MARRIAGE: Hezekiah Mudd (shown as Ezekiel Mudd) and Elizabeth Edelen were married twice, both times in Chas. Co., Md. They were first married by Rev. Benjamin Rolls, a Catholic Priest of Charles Co. and secondly by Rev. Geo. H. Worsley, Rector of Port Tobacco Parish. The first marriage was a Catholic wedding and the second appears to have been a marriage according to the rites of the Established Church.[27] Rev. John Bolton is also said to have performed one of the marriages. (Ref. 51). This second marriage does not necessarily indicate a change of faith because at that date Catholics were permitted, to save their property for their children, to go before a Protestant minister, the only recognized civilian officer, to go through a purely civil action. It is to be noted that the marriage application was made in P. G. Co. but both marriages were performed in Chas. Co. This is the way the author understands the situation; it may not be correct in its entirety.

MIGRATIONS: The records indicate that Hezekiah Mudd resided in P. G. Co., Md. after 1785 because in April 1785 he and Henry Lowe Mudd (Abcb) were witnesses before the grand jury in P. G. Co., Md.[28] A difficulty in determining the identity and residence of individuals who lived in Maryland near the Chas. Co. and P. G. Co. borders is due to the fact that part of these counties changed from one to the other. Piscataway Manor which was mentioned in the will of John Edelen, was in Chas. Co. in 1676, then became a part of P. G. Co. in 1692, and a portion of the manor was in Chas. Co. again in 1748.

All the members of Hezekiah Mudd's family followed him to Kentucky and settled near St. Rose's Priory which was the Dominican center in Kentucky.

It is said that Hezekiah Mudd moved to Wash. Co., Ky. about the year 1795. In the obituary of James Lincoln Mudd (Abcad c) (q.v.) it was stated that Hezekiah Mudd moved to Kentucky when Benjamin Edelen Mudd (Abcad) was five years of age, i.e. 1795.[29]

CENSUS': In the 1790 census of P. G. Co., Md., Hezekiah Mudd was listed with males under 16, 1; 16 to 26, 1; females, 5[30] and 8 slaves. Hezekiah does not appear in the Maryland census' thereafter.

In the 1810 census of Wash. Co., Ky. Hezekiah Mudd was listed with males under 10, 1; 10 to 16, 1; 16 to 26, 1; 26 to 45, 1; over 45, 1; females 10 to 16, 2; 16 to 26, 2; over 45, 1.[31]

In the 1820 census of Wash. Co., Ky. Hezekiah Mudd was listed with males 10 to 16, 1; 16 to 18, 1; 16 to 26, 2; 26 to 45, 1; over 45, 1; females 16 to 26, 1; over 45, 1. Jonas Nale and William Parrott were listed on either side of Hezekiah Mudd in this census.

We could not find a Hezekiah Mudd in the 1830 census of Washington Co., Ky.

PERSONAL HISTORY: Hezekiah Mudd was referred to frequently in the Order Books of Wash. Co., Ky. as Constable and Deputy Sheriff. His securities at various times, from 12-5-1803 to 6-23-1828, were Ed Clarkson, Henry L. Mudd, Basil Smith, Thomas Gallen, John Rudd, Wm. Alexander, James Riney, Thomas James, George Grundy, Wm. B. Booker, and Christopher Rudd. He filed bills for sums of $2.27 to $6.83.

On 7-23-1832 Hezekiah Mudd resigned as Constable and Thomas Davis took his place.[32]

MILITARY SERVICE: Hezekiah Mudd subscribed to the oath of Fidelity and Allegiance in P. G. Co., Md. before Magistrate Osborn Sprigg on 3-x-1778. Inasmuch as all citizens of Maryland between the ages 18 and 40 were required to subscribe to this oath, obviously Hezekiah was at least 18 years old in 1778 (Ref. 51, Vol. 2, p. 307). Francis Mudd (probably Abag), Thomas Mudd (probably Abad), and Henry Lowe Mudd (probably Abcb) also signed in P. G. Co., Md.; and fifteen other Mudds signed in Chas. Co., Md.

On 4-7-1834 John T. Stoddert, a Congressman from Maryland, presented a petition in Congress for the heirs of Martin Mudd, Henry Mudd, Jeremiah Mudd, and Hezekiah Mudd all dec'd.; praying that the bounty land and money due for the services of the deceaseds, as soldiers of the Revolution, be granted to them. When we found an inventory of the estate of Hezekiah Mudd in 1795 we concluded that all four of these were brothers and probably sons of James Mudd (Aab). This Hezekiah Mudd therefore was apparently not son of Bennett Mudd (Abc).

However Harry W. Newman, genealogist of Wash., D.C., believed that Hezekiah Mudd (Abca) was also a soldier of the Revolution and that the one who appeared on the payroll of the Lower Battalion of Militia commanded by Col. Wm. Lyles on duty at Nottingham in the Patuxent dated 6-8-1782 (see Box 6, f. 61, H.R. Annap., Md.), refers to Hezekiah Mudd (Abca). It appears to the author that there were two Hezekiah Mudds in the Revolution but of this there is no proof but we are sure that Hezekiah (Aabi) served in the Revolution.

PROPERTY: William Keeling and wife Susan deeded (deed recorded 11-7-1797) to Hezekiah Mudd fifty acres on Askins Fork of Cartwright Creek.[33]

On 4-2-1800 one Samuel Robertson was appointed to oversee the road from Springfield, Ky. towards Frankfort, Ky. as far as the Beech Fork. His road was to include, among many others, the property of Hezekiah Mudd. It appears that Hezekiah Mudd lived near the intersection of "Dowdolls Road" and "Waltons Old Road."[34] On 8-2-1802 Hezekiah Mudd was ordered to work on the road leading from Springfield to Fergusons mill as far as Ignatius Spinks.[35]

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: A Hezikiah Mudd and Wm. Deakins were witnesses to the will of a Mary Ann Dyer (unidentified).[36]

On 4-1-1800 Hezekiah Mudd, James Rudd (see Abcag), Jesse Head, and Peter Sibert were appointed to appraise the slaves and personal estate of George W. Gibbons dec'd.[37]

The will of Hezekiah Mudd was made in Wash. Co., Ky. on 1-13-1820 and was filed for probate on 6-22-1835.[38] The will read as follows: (1-23 or 1-27-1834 also given as date of his Will).

> To beloved son Horatio, my whole tract of land wherein I now live to dispose of as he sees fit after the death of my beloved wife Elizabeth Mudd; also one horse colt, and young heifer. If the land given is more than his part, then he is to pay the "over plush" to the children hereafter named.
> To my beloved son Robert S. Mudd, an equal part of my property as may be fixed by my executors after the death of my wife, but if my son Robert S. Mudd should not pay a certain debt due James Riney in which my son Horatio and son-in-law Abraham Lincoln are sureties, there must be taken so much of his part of the estate as will pay said debt.
> To beloved son Heisekiah Mudd, an equal part of my property after the death of my wife...provided he should pay back the money he has borrowed of me which is eighty dollars 75 cents in Commonwealth's paper borrowed 11-7-1818.
> To my other children, Pricella Mudd now Priscella Riney; Jane Mudd now Jane Rudd; Nancy Mudd now Nancy Hagen; Elizabeth Mudd now Elizabeth Lincoln; Lorretto Mudd now Lorretto Craycroft; Benjamin Mudd; and Nicholas Mudd; an equal part of my estate after my wife's death.
> To my grandson Charles Hagen, a horse beast to be worth $40.00, a saddle and bridle, a feather bed, and a heifer after my wife's death.
> My executors to sell enough of my perishable property to pay off my debts.
> Executors: Horatio Mudd (Abcaa) and Nicholas Mudd (Abcae). Witnesses: Wm. Spink, Thomas James (also copied Thomas Janes), and John A. Moore.

Benjamin E. Mudd (Abcad) was living in Illinois at the time Hezekiah Mudd made his will, and, possibly that was the reason why Benjamin was not an executor. Evidence that the Benjamin Mudd mentioned in the will of Hezekiah Mudd (Abca) is Benjamin Edelen Mudd (Abcad), father of James Lincoln Mudd (Abcad c), is shown by the fact that Hezekiah's death occurred after the Mudds and Lincolns moved to Illinois and Benjamin Edelen Mudd had a copy of the record sent to him showing the administration of his father Hezekiah's estate (Ref. Letter of Mary E. Thornbrough dated 5-28-1936; see footnote #26).

When Hezekiah Mudd's will was produced in court in June 1835, Horation Mudd (Abcaa), with Thomas Janes and Jacob M. Barlow his securities, acknowledged bond for $8000 as one of the executors; and it was ordered that John Janes, Wm. Spink, Donatus Mudd (Abagb c), and Robert B. Mitchell (or any three) appraise the slaves and property of Hezekiah Mudd.[39]

On 3-28-1836 Hezekiah Mudd's property was appraised and was of considerable value. It consisted of casks, gears, ploughs, ox-carts, wheels, bedsteads, wheat, sheep, pigs, nine slaves, and 117 acres of ground @ $4.50 per acre. Witnesses to this appraisal were Donatus Mudd,[40] and John James.[41]

EDELEN FAMILY: Elizabeth Edelen, wife of Hezekiah Mudd (Abca), was the daughter of Sarah Pannewell and John Edelen, son of Jane Jones and Christopher Edelen, son of Elizabeth and Richard Edelen who came to the Province of Maryland in 1664/5 (Ref. 122). She was a first cousin once removed of the John Aloysius Edelen who married Maria Mudd (Aaaaj).

Elizabeth (Edelen) Mudd was raised in the Established Church of England (Ref. 116). She was known as "Old Mrs. Hezekiah," possibly to distinguish her from the wife of her son Hezekiah (Abcac).

John Edelen, father of Elizabeth (Edelen) Mudd, took the oath of Fidelity and Allegiance to the State of Maryland in P. G. Co., Md. in March 1778 (Ref. 51, Vol. 2, p. 289).

The will of John Edelen dated 9-15-1786 and probated 9-22-1786[42] [43] mentions his daughter Elizabeth Mudd and his granddaughter Anne Mudd (probably Abcah) to whom he bequeathed a negro. Thomas P. Edelen, son of John Edelen, filed the final account of the estate of John Edelen on 6-26-1792[44] and money was paid to Elizabeth Mudd daughter of the deceased, amongst other children.

The will of Thomas Pannewell Edelen, brother of Elizabeth (Edelen) Mudd, made in P. G. Co., Md. on 9-7-1810 directed that after the decease of his widow a tract of land purchased from Raphael Mudd (Abce) was to revert to Thomas Pannewell Lindsay, son of his (Thomas Pannewell Edelen's) sister Sarah.

In the file of Hezekiah Mudd (Abca) there are eight photocopies of the sheets of the "Memphis Reveille" for Feb. 8, 15, 22, 29; March 7, 14; May 30; and one undated (year of 1940) which describe the origin and history of Mudd Settlement in Scotland County. It discusses also the relations of the Lincoln and Mudd families, and contains pictures of old members of this Mudd line, their homes, the early Catholic Church they attended in Scotland County, and the grave of Benjamin Edelen Mudd (Abcad). Copies of these were placed on file in the Kentucky State Historical Society.

Jane Mudd became a Catholic Sister, taking the name Sr. M. Justine. It was at first concluded that Jane Mudd was the daughter of Andrew Mudd (Aaeaa) and Elizabeth Russell (see Ref. 72, Vol. XXV, 1935) but Sr. M. Antonella of Sisters of Loretto at the Foot of the Cross, of Loretto, Ky. found a deposition dated 7-22-1850 (witnessed by Aug. Degauquier and Generose Mattingly) which was made by Jane Mudd of Hardin Co., Ky. wherein she appointed Revd. D. A. Deparcq as her agent to settle with her former guardian Thomas Craycroft (see Abcai) of Wash. Co., Ky. any sums due her in connection with the settlement of her father's estate. Thomas Craycroft is referred to as the head of one of the families of the Cartwright Creek Settlement which was begun in 1788 and where is now located the Dominican Church of St. Rose, seven miles from Loretto. A Thomas Mudd (possibly Adab) is also referred to as a head of one of the families; and, also a Thomas Mudd (probably the same Thomas) is stated to be the head of a family of the Pottinger Creek Settlement which was begun in 1785. It looks as though John Mudd (Ada) and Bennett Mudd (Abc) migrated to Kentucky with their families together (Ref. 65, ps. 28 and 80).

Dr. Robert L. Mudd (Abcab) on 3-16-1844 (date of will) bequeathed a negro slave to his niece Jane Mudd (Abcaa c).

The 1850 census (11-25-1850) of Hardin Co., Ky. (Southern Dist. #2, p. 856, p. 607) lists Justina Mudd age 22 (b. Ky.), female, nun. Sr. Justine received her habit on 4-23-1844. She was a member of the Board of the Sisters of Loretto at the Foot of the Cross.

The 1870 census (6-13-1870) of Marion Co., Ky. (New Market Precinct) lists a Jane Mudd age 39 (b. Ky.), teacher (see account of Aaeaag).

Horatio Mudd was first taxed in Wash. Co., Ky. in 1820 for one white male over 21 (himself) and one horse. Records were not checked after 1820.

In the 1830 census of Wash. Co., Ky. Horatio Mudd was listed with males under 5, 1; 5 to 10, 1; 20 to 30, 1; 30 to 40, 1; 70 to 80, 1; females under 5, 1; 15 to 20, 1; and 30 to 40, 1. Apparently his father, Hezekiah Mudd (age 70 to 80), was residing with Horatio Mudd.

An inventory of Horatio Mudd's estate was made and recorded on 9-23-1833.[5]

In regard to the administration of Horatio Mudd's estate the following motions were made: On 3-25-1839 motion #1 appointing Robert L. Mudd (Abcab), whose securities were Edward Berry[6] and Thomas W. Pirtle, administrator of the estate of Horatio Mudd; motion #2 was appointing a committee including Patrick Mudd (Abagb b) to appraise the estate; and, motion #3 was a request to appraise the slaves.[7] On this record the first name, presumably "Horatio," was scratched out.

On 4-4-1839 an appraisal of the estate of Horatio Mudd dec'd. was made which consisted of a note in the amount of $50.00 due January 1837 from R. L. Mudd (probably Abcab); a note in the amount of $5.12 due 10-5-1836 from James H. Mudd (obviously Abaca a); and an order accepted in the amount of $7.00 on 7-22-1829 by W. Mudd (possibly Aaea).

A sale was held on 4-5-1839 and purchases were made by James H. Mudd (Abaca a), J. R. Mudd (possibly Abagb e), John Mudd (possibly Abagb d), Pat Mudd (Abagb b), and Lewis Mudd (Abagb f).[8] An inventory and appraisement and list of sales was recorded on 12-25-1843,[9] and a settlement of accounts was recorded on 1-22-1844.[10]

On 8-30-1845 administration reports were made on the estate of Horatio Mudd dec'd. As Robert L. Mudd (Abcab) the administrator had died, his executor Edward Edelen reported on the accounts of Horatio Mudd and Robert L. Mudd. There were interesting accounts of slaves; one for the sum of $7.00 to Patrick Mudd; and others. Reference was made to William Mudd (possibly Aaea) regarding the renting of land, and Austin Mudd (Abagb a) was mentioned as money was due him. These accounts became more complicated when Edward Edelen died on 5-24-1847. Levi Smith (see Abcaj), administrator for the estate of Robert L. Mudd (Abcab) and administrator de bonis non for the estate of Horatio Mudd (Abcaa), made an accounting of Horatio Mudd's estate and reported on the following: rent of the farm to W. Mudd (William ?) and K. Mudd (Kiah?) for the year of 1845; several slaves hired out for the year with charges ranging from $20.00 to $70.00; rental of farm to James Mudd;[11] and money owed Wm. and H. Mudd from the estate. Three heirs mentioned were William, Hezekiah, and Jane Mudd. Thomas Craycroft filed receipt as the guardian for Jane Mudd (Abcaa c).[12]

On 6-14-1848 Thomas Craycroft, guardian for Jane Mudd the infant daughter of Horatio Mudd dec'd., reported that $31.61 had been received from the estate of Robert Mudd (Abcab). Also mentioned in this report were William and Hezekiah Mudd.[13]

On 7-22-1850 James Mudd, possibly James Madison Mudd (see Ababaa) as James H. Mudd (Abaca a) had moved to Missouri, made a guardian settlement for Jane Mudd, daughter of Horatio Mudd dec'd. In the report Thomas Craycroft was referred to as "late guardian" indicating possibly that he was deceased. The report mentioned Hezekiah Mudd (probably Abcaa a) and money received from a slave which had been devised by Robert L. Mudd (Abcab) to Jane Mudd.[14]

Susan Martha (Mudd) Steele (Abcaa bl) supplied us a list of Hezekiah Mudd's children which agrees very well with the Missouri birth records and other lists provided by informers in Millwood. She said (in 1942) that none of the children married and all were deceased. It is further said that most of Hezekiah Mudd's children died in infancy or youth.

It is said that all of Hezekiah Mudd's children, with exception of Nicholas (Abcaa ab), were very tall.

Raymond, Nicholas, Thomas, and Aloysius Mudd, sons of Hezekiah Mudd (Abcaa a), and Hezekiah Mudd himself were living in Millwood, Mo. in 1888 and they are to be found in the list of Mudds made at that time by Judge Henry Thomas Mudd (Abaaa aa) (see Ref. 200).

Hezekiah Mudd, "brother-in-law of Robert Mudd (Abcae a) and Ray Mudd (Abcae d)," moved to Missouri in 1847 (Ref. 44).[13]

Dr. Robert L. Mudd (Abcab) on 3-16-1844 (date of will) bequeathed a negro slave to his nephew Hezekiah Mudd (Abcaa a).

In the 1850 census of Wash. Co., Ky. Hezekiah Mudd age 24, (b. Ky.) farmer; Elizabeth Mudd age 19; and Raymond Mudd age 2; were residing in the home of Martha Mudd (see Abcae).

1. 1-2-1847 also shown as date of marriage but 1-12-1847 is the official record. Rev. Bailey F. Davis copied (Ref. 168, p. 33) "married by Rev. Jarboe on 10-12-1847."
2. In the marriage bond her name was recorded as M. Elizabeth Mudd. The Missouri records give Martha, Mary Elizabeth, Elizabeth, and Agalelia as the name of Hezekiah's wife.
3. Estate 3729, Lincoln Co., Mo.
4. Son of Esechia and Elizabeth Mudd.
5. His godmother was Martha J. Mudd (see Abcae). The date of birth recorded here is probably incorrect because he was baptized privately on 5-4-1873 and then baptized in church on 11-22-1873.

Celestia Elizabeth Steele married George Leonidas Mudd Jr. (Aadda bae) q.v.

Susan Martha Steele resd. at Monroe City, Mo. She stated that her "maternal grandparents were Patrick Mudd and Marie Hager." The author believes that she was confused because her maternal grandfather, i.e. Patrick Mudd (Abagb b) married Mary Mildred Mudd (Abaca d) who was the daughter of Francis Mudd and Mildred Hayden (see account of Francis Mudd, Abaca, for discussion of Mildred Hayden's maiden name). This is interesting in view of the persistance of the belief that Francis Mudd's wife was a Hager and some confirmation is added to the belief that Francis Mudd is the son of Luke Mudd (Abac) because Hagerstown is near Frederick Co., Md. where Luke Mudd resided.

Dr. Robert L. Mudd (Abcab) on 3-16-1844 (date of will) bequeathed a negro slave to his nephew William Mudd (Abcaa b).

In the 1850 census of Monroe Co., Mo. (next to the listing of Patrick Mudd, Abagb b), William Mudd age 25 (b. Ky.), farmer with valuation of $500.00 was listed with Elizabeth, 20 (b. Ky.); Patrick R., 2 (b. Ky.); and James, 7/12 months (b. Ky.).

1860 census Monroe Co., Mo., Indian Creek Twsp., William Mudd 36, farmer, Elizabeth, 30, Robert 13, James 11, Charles 8, Jane 7, Rose 4, Albinus 6/12 (f).

Robert Emmet Mudd was in service during World War #1. In view of the fact that Robert Emmet Mudd, son of Joseph Thomas Mudd[3] also served in World War #1; these records need checking. It is an amazing coincidence that there were in each of two different families a Robert Emmet Mudd and a Wilbur Mudd, both having a mother "Missouri Ann" and both families resident in Oklahoma--one in the northeastern corner of the state and the other in the southeastern corner of the state. The world war records of these two Robert Emmet Mudd's are very confusing.

On 11-26-1941 Mrs. A. L. Purdy wrote: "My grandfather died before I was born but my oldest brother Fred and sister Mrs. Utterback remember him." Probably Mrs. Purdy was referring to her maternal grandfather because her paternal grandfather, viz. Charles William Mudd, died in 1889 prior to the birth of Fred Mudd and Mrs. Utterback.

Charles William Mudd was described as a man of few words, yet by the twinkle in his deep blue eyes one could tell that he was given to much thought. He had a great sense of humor, and in view of his large family, one could see that he needed it. Typical of the conservatism identified with this family, he liked his old clothes, wearing the same hat for many years with pride and dignity. He was the essence of honesty, had many friends, and rarely quarreled. He was known to his friends as "Doc."

The Rev. Chas. Van Quickenborne of St. Louis University went three times on extended missionary expeditions thru northern Illinois, Iowa, and Missouri during the years 1832, 1833, and 1834. The pages of the little book in which he recorded his baptisms and marriages were not quite all filled and so another missionary carried the book to Kansas where he used the spare pages as an exercise book for the Indian language. For this reason it happens that the Illinois baptisms may be found today at St. Mary's College, St. Mary's, Ks. Here is the record for May 1832: "I baptized Abraham, son of Benjamin Mudd and Elizabeth, nee Lincoln. The sponsors were Abraham Lincoln[12] and __________."

An account of Abraham Mudd (Abcad e) from one of the Missouri papers is worth reproducing in part: "There passed away before the keen scythe of 1871 a Missouri Mudd who ought to be mentioned in a democratic review, Mr. Abraham Mudd for he was one of those people who did no other great deed than to spread happiness about him copiously but in a gentle way. He was no king of men, but an honest man, the noblist work of God. He reached the patriarchal age of 92 years."[13]

On 1-5-1895 from Bertrand, Nebr. They were apparently having misfortune and were in dire financial straits. She referred to the fact that she had practically raised R. L. Mudd.

The McAtees made their home in Davis Co., Ia. about ten miles south of Bloomfield for four years and then in 1849 moved to Bloomfield, Ia. when only three houses constituted the town.

Martha McAtee married David Duffield at Bloomfield, Ia. Their daughter, Anna L. Duffield, wrote the author (in 1946) that the children of Betsy Mudd (Abcad h) had no middle names.

Mary McAtee married S. J. Priest.

Loretta ("Loie") McAtee married Henry C. Ethell and in 1946 resided in Topeka, Ks.

George McAtee in 1946 resided in Hastings, Nebr. There are four letters in the file from George McAtee (letters dated 12-17-1884 to 7-21-1886) to his Uncle Robert Mudd (Abcad f). He had been in Texas and hadn't liked it.

Emma McAtee married W. P. Caldwell. She had in her possession a worsted pocket-book with the name of Abraham Lincoln written on it. This Abe Lincoln was President Lincoln's grandfather, and "the pocketbook was given to grandfather Abe Lincoln by Daniel Boone's sister."

Emma (McAtee) Caldwell was the letter writer of the family. In the Benjamin Edelen Mudd (Abcad) file there are fourteen letters (first dated 1-9-1897; last dated 1-6-1919) to her Uncle Robert Mudd (Abcad f) and Aunt Fannie his wife. These letters are an excellent record of the movements, the rise and fall of fortunes, the births and deaths, and other interesting information concerning the McAtees. The references of the McAtee children and grandchildren are frequent--also to Annie Duffield, who it appears is a daughter of Martha Roena Mudd, who lived next door to her. The life, sufferings, and death of her mother are clearly portrayed.

Also in the file there are five interesting letters written by Elizabeth McAtee (Abcad h) to her brother Robert Mudd (Abcad f) and his wife. They are (in part):

On 4-11-1893 she wrote that Emma (Abcad h#10) had married and that she (Elizabeth) distributed her belongings amongst her children and moved in with Ethel and Lois (probably Abcad h#7). She was to be 69 years old on 6-6-1893 (1824, therefore, would seem to be the proper year of her birth).

On 6-6-1893 from Bloomfield, Ia. she referred to Robert's wife; his daughter Helen (Abcad fc); and her sister Mary (Abcad g).

On 1-15-1910 she wrote that she was making her home with Emma (Abcad h#10). She referred to her sister Martha (Abcad i), to Horace's (probably Abcad a) boys, and to Robert's daughter Helen (Abcad fc).

On 1-6-1911 Emma Caldwell (Abcad h#10) referred to the serious illness of her mother, and to Uncle Link Mudd (Abcad c) "90 years old in September[18] who comes up to see mother."

2. Nancy Ann ("Coon") b. Monroe Co., Ia. 1-14-1849
3. Horace b. 6-14-1851

After their marriage, Martha Roena Mudd and James Rodgers moved to Holt, Co., Mo. In 1848 they took a claim in Monroe Co., Ia. The snow "came" and they could neither visit or be visited. Nancy was born during the time they were snowed in.

In Lincoln Lore (Ref. 99) it is stated that Benjamin Mudd was the son of Charles Mudd. This is obviously incorrect as can be seen by inspection of the wills of Charles Mudd (Abcd) and Hezekiah Mudd (Abca).

Elizabeth Ann (Lincoln) Mudd and her first cousin, President Abraham Lincoln, corresponded for years when they were young. As far as we can determine, none of the letters were saved.

MIGRATIONS: Benjamin Edelen Mudd at the age of five years (in the year of 1795) migrated with his parents from Maryland to Kentucky (Ref. 167, 2-29-1940). They settled near Bardstown, Ky.

On 3-1-1828 Benjamin Edelen Mudd with his family and relatives, migrated to Hancock Co., Ill., going thence with Mordecai Lincoln's family (see Abacd) to establish Fountain Green. Quoting from the Lincoln Kinsman #38 (August 1941): "James Bradford Lincoln (Abacd #2), son of Mordecai Lincoln and Mary Mudd, was the first of the Lincoln-Mudd family to come to Fountain Green with his family. This was about 1830. Mordecai Lincoln followed, riding horseback all the way from Kentucky. His wife followed, and not long afterward Mordecai Lincoln died there." Wm. C. Priest, grandson of Elizabeth Ann Mudd (Abcad h) visited Leitchfield, Ky., and spent some time studying available records. He came to the conclusion that the Lincolns and Mudds left their settlement at Grayson Springs for Hancock Co., Ill., in 1828.

In 1838/1839 Benjamin Edelen Mudd crossed the Mississippi to Scotland Co., Mo., and settled in the village of Hitt. This settlement of Scotland County was known as the Mudd Settlement.[20] All his children and their families went with Benjamin Edelen Mudd to Scotland County except one daughter, viz. Mary Loretta Johnson (Abcad g), who, with her family remained near Terra Haute, Ill. and then some years later moved to Nebraska.

When Benjamin Edelen Mudd migrated to Scotland County in 1838/1839, a trip of several days by wagon from Canton, he brought cattle, horses, household goods, farming implements, and food supplied. Traveling was most difficult in those days. Not only were there no roads (the first roads were not made until February 1870), but they had to plan their trip, build a home, and put in a Spring crop.

At the time of the migration to Scotland Co., Mo., "only fourteen families" lived in that county; and, grain was taken to Des Moines, Ia. (two days away) twice a year (Ref. 167, 2-8-1940).

CENSUS: In the 1820 census of Grayson Co., Ky., there was listed a Benjamin Mudd who answers the description of Benjamin Edelen Mudd. He was listed with males under 10, 2; 26 to 45, 1 (himself); females under 10, 1; and 16 to 26, 1. Inasmuch as several of Benjamin Edelen Mudd's children were born in Grayson County, it is quite probable that the Benjamin Mudd in this census was Abcad.

In 1830 Benjamin Mudd was living on Section 28, Fountain Green Township, Hancock Co., Ill. Abe Lincoln lived on Section 18 in the same township. In the 1830 census of Hancock Co., Ill., Benjamin Mudd was listed with males under 5, 1; 5 to 10, 1; 10 to 15, 1; 15 to 20, 1; 40 to 50, 1; 50 to 60, 1; females under 5, 2; 10 to 15, 1; 30 to 40, 1.

PERSONAL HISTORY: The Memphis Reveille dated February 8, 15, 22, 29, March 7, and 21 (year of 1940) carried excellent articles on the Mudd Settlement in Scotland Co., Mo., which was founded by Benjamin Mudd[21] and his wife who migrated to Missouri because of the fine prairie land that could be bought for a small price. The family consisted of nine children when they crossed the Mississippi at Canton. They ferried their household goods and stock. There were no roads--only trails, few houses, rarely a villiage. Several days were required to reach their destination over unfrequented trails and paths. There were no schools. They carved a home in the northwest part of Scotland Co., Mo. two miles west of Hitt with great effort and planted their first crop in March 1839. Cabins, out buildings, and corrals for stock that "rove the timber" were constructed. The few stores available were miles away and limited. The mother made the clothing by spinning the wool and making jeans for pants and linsey for shirts. Wild turkey and deer were in abundance. Huge four foot hickory logs were used for back logs in the fire place. A Catholic Church was not erected until 1850. It was named the Sacred Heart Church.

One day while Benjamin Mudd was working in the field, two Indians sprang up near by shooting with the intention of killing. Mr. Mudd, being too quick for them, reached the house and kept them out.

Trips out of Scotland Co., Mo. were made by horseback as when Benjamin Edelen Mudd had to go to the land office at Palmyra. It was on such a trip to Illinois[22] that he caught cold and died from the effects thereof at the home of his son-in-law Samuel McAtee (see Abcad h).

PROPERTY: Benjamin Mudd was first taxed in Wash. Co., Ky. in 1811 for himself over 21 years of age and for one horse; again in 1812 he was taxed for one white male over 21 and one horse; and, again in 1813 he was taxed for one white male over 21. His absence from the tax list after 1813 can be accounted for by his removal to Grayson Co., Ky.

Benjamin Mudd was taxed in Grayson Co., Ky. for the years 1814 to 1828. He was the only male over 21 years of age and the number ofhorses and mares varied from one to three. In 1814, and, from 1816 to 1820 (inclusive) he was taxed for one horse; and, in 1820 to 1828 he was taxed for possession of 200 acres (in 1825 listed as 250 acres) of 3rd rate land on Bear Creek. The tax record for 1822 stated that he had "2 children between the ages 4 and 14." Bear Creek is a tributary of the Green River, running north through Edmonston County and dividing into two branches as it crosses into Grayson County. The West branch runs through Shrewsbury and then on north to Millwood; and, the East branch runs east of Sadler and then north to Grayson Springs. Inasmuch as all Grayson County records were burned, this is the only indication we have as to the residence of Benjamin Mudd.

An Elizabeth Mudd was taxed in Grayson Co., Ky. for the years 1818, 1820, 1827, and 1830 to 1834. Inasmuch as Benjamin Mudd (Abcad) and his wife Elizabeth Mudd went to Illinois in 1828, the Elizabeth Mudd of these tax records was probably the widow of Henry Mudd (Abacc).

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: The will of Benjamin Edelen Mudd of Davis Co., Ia. was dated 4-3-1860 and proved 5-12-1860 (recorded in Scotland Co., Mo.). He bequeathed as follows:

> To Abram and Robert Mudd, my sons, $100 each.
> To my daughters Mary L. Johnson, Elizabeth A. McAtee, and Martha R. Rodgers each $100.

To Elizabeth McAtee, my daughter, one bed and bed-stead now at the home of S. W. McAtee in Davis Co., Ia.

All the remainder of my estate to be divided among my nine children.

Executor: James L. Mudd (Abcad c). Witnesses: A. W. Cook and V. D. Tisdal.

In a letter written on 4-18-1887 by Benjamin Franklin Mudd (Abcad d) to his brother, reference was made to "Link's four boys all of whom died at about age 26 and the same way."

When James Lincoln Mudd was seven years of age he migrated with his parents from Kentucky to Illinois and in March 1839 they moved to Scotland Co., Mo. (see account of Abcad b). James Lincoln Mudd lived in Scotland Co., Mo. from the time of his migration there until his death. It is said that he lived all his life on the same farm which was near Hitt, a small village near Memphis, Mo.

In Ref. 167 (3-1-1940) there is to be found extracts beginning in June 1849 from the ledgers of Lincoln Mudd. Some of the items were: tar; ox yoke $1.00; salt 75¢ bu.; whips two for 75¢; five yards of calico 50¢; casanet $1.00 per yard; 7 lbs coffee $1.00; castor oil; vermifuge; two horse plow $9.00; pair women's shoes $1.37; ball of shoe thread 10¢; and three cakes of shaving soap 25¢.

On 11-16-1914 the 93rd birthday of Link Mudd was celebrated at the home of John Morris, the old Mudd homestead in Scotland Co., Mo. Link Mudd, though confined to bed, was said to be in rare form and enjoyed the day in a royal manner. The celebration was an event long to be remembered by all the local citizens.

Mary Ellen Gristy migrated with her parents from Kentucky to Hancock Co., Ill. and in 1840 they moved to Scotland Co., Mo. Mary Ellen Gristy married William Hall in 1849 and to them were born six children.

An interesting letter[13] written on 7-13-1909 by James L. Mudd (Abcad c) to his brother Bob Mudd refers to the Kinselys, Bourns, and Gristys.

In the Benjamin Franklin Mudd (Abcad d) file there are six interesting letters which were written by Walter A. Mudd to his Uncle Robert and/or Aunt Fannie Mudd (see Abcad f).

On 9-14-1909 Walter A. Mudd of Hitt, Mo. wrote to his Uncle Bob (Abcad f) that he had not heard from him for three years; all were reasonably well in the "Old Mudd Settlement;" and they had about 160 acres of land and were trying to do some farming and stock raising in connection with their business. He referred to George Peck who married Martha Mudd (Abcad di); to Uncle Link (Abcad c); to Jim Hall, Aunt Ellen's (?) son; to Aunts Betsy (probably Abcad h) and Martha (probably Abcad i); and to Uncle Jim Kniseley of California who was in bad health.

Captain George W. Thornbrough, a member of the regular army (U.S. Army Air Corps), "missing in action" June 4, 1942 when the Japanese attacked Dutch Harbor, Alaska, was the first American flier to pilot a plane in a torpedo attack on the enemy fleet during World War II; he scored a direct hit on an aircraft carrier.[10]

Thornbrough Air Force Base, Cold Bay, Alaska, was dedicated to the memory of Captain George W. Thornbrough in formal ceremonies arranged by the U.S. Air Force and held at Great Falls AFB, Great Falls, Montana, September 18, 1948.[11]

The citation for extraordinary heroism states that Captain Thornbrough dived through heavy anti-aircraft fire from several enemy ships to attack an aircraft carrier, and scored a direct hit, smashing the deck of the carrier. Flying a medium bomber, the Martin B-26, he became separated from his flight and after dropping the torpedo, returned to his base, reloaded his plane with bombs, and with a volunteer crew, took off again in search of enemy ships remaining in the area. Dense fog having closed in by the time the search was abandoned, and with fuel almost gone, Captain Thornbrough reported over his base, giving his altitude; however, lacking adequate facilities at that time, it was impossible to land the plane due to the impenetrable fog. Nothing more was heard from him, and after an intensive search of the entire area, parts of the wrecked plane were located some two weeks later on the north side of the peninsula, along the shore of the Bering Sea. The body of the radio operator, still strapped to his chair, was found and identified.

A Letter written from Hitt, Mo. on 1-16-1893 by Martha Mudd (Abcad di) to her Uncle R. L. Mudd (Abcad f) refers to Walter Mudd (Abcad dc) and herself as living at home and keeping a general store; to Charlie Mudd (Abcad db) in Colorado who was interested in the Cripple Creek mine; to Pa (i.e. Abcad d) as being postmaster during Harrison's administration; to Will Mudd (possibly Abcad bc) who was on his mother's-in-law place; to Bob (possibly Robert Craton Mudd Abcad ad) in Memphis; and to Annie, Uncle Link's (Abcad c) daughter who lived a half mile away.[15]

Birth dates of the children of Benjamin Franklin Mudd and Catharine Ann Medley were taken from an old family bible which in 1945 was in the possession of Walter A. Mudd (Abcad dc) of Hitt, Mo.

Benjamin Franklin Mudd's father migrated to Hancock Co., Ill. the year Benjamin Franklin Mudd was born--we have no way of knowing if he were yet born or not. In 1839 he moved with his parents to Scotland Co., Mo.

In the Civil War, Benjamin F. Mudd was a Unionist. He was captured and for a time imprisoned by the Bushwackers who were active in Scotland Co., Mo. Ref. 191 (Vol. 19, p. 552) refers to him as a Union Veteran and pioneer of Scotland Co., Mo.

He was the last surviving child of Benjamin Edelen Mudd (Abcad)--most of the latter's children lived to a ripe old age. He (Benjamin Franklin Mudd) was a sturdy citizen with positive ideas as to right and wrong. He considered himself as good, but no better than his neighbors. He was genial and jovial and attracted young folks in his old age. He was a good musician and a good fiddler. He was a farmer but for several years was in the carpentry business with Zeph Prather as his partner. In 1890 in Hitt, Mo. he started a store under the name of B. F. Mudd and Son (the son was Walter).

There are six very newsy letters dated from 4-17-1887 to 1-17-1909 in file that were written by Benjamin Franklin Mudd to his brother Robert Mudd (Abcad f). On 4-17-1887 he wrote "only the two youngest children, Madaline and Martha are at home" (i.e. Hitt, Mo.); John was "serving his second term as County Attorney;" "Charles and Walter are in Colorado;" Walter had gone to Kansas to stake out a claim but after having to dig 200 feet for water and being 16 1/2 miles from town, he gave it up. On 8-30-1891 he wrote that he had the town postoffice which he combined with a store and a farm; Sallie was living in Uniontown. On 1-17-1909 he wrote regarding the old times when they all lived in their log house together.

John B. Medley (b. 3-14-1796; d. 5-25-1854) married Ellenor Bryan (b. 7-28-1799; d. 4-1-1891) at Elizabethtown, Ky., 5-4-1821. They migrated to Scotland Co., Mo. when their daughter Catharine Ann Medley was about fifteen years old. After Benjamin Franklin Mudd married Catharine Ann Medley, she embraced the Catholic faith of her husband.

September 16, 1891
Downing, Missouri

Dear Brother:

I received yours of the------was pleased to hear from you. It has been a long time since I heard from you and much longer since I have wrote you a shrach of a pen but it is so. This is our birthday which indused me to write you answer. I am 75 today and Lizie is 70. I thought purhaps you had fogott our ages. I am almost broke down. I am not able to to any work more than my garden. I have not done a days work for three years. I had grip two years ago which got away with me, I have never felt like the same person. Lizie does her work yet but is failing. We are living in Downing four miles south of Manington (?) on the M.I.N. (?). Been hear four years last spring, our children all lives hear. George is brick makeing, doing vary well. Since the wether setled he burned 160 thousand all contracted and is molding another Kiln got 4000 on the kiln. Tink is running grocery store doing well. Billy is running delivery wagon, Martha lives by us, has five children, two died. The children all owns property hear of their own. Well Bob I seen Old Charly Fryrear today he came over to Will's with a load of wheat. He looks as naturel as ever, gets around quite spry. He is 83 and Hanner is 85 but quite feable. James Fryrear was over hear other day geting lumber for a barn. Link and Ellen was up visiting us a weaks ago. They was all well then, Link is not having vary good health. Complains a good deal. I suppos have heard Horace death. I did not know whether you had or not; poor old fellow he sufferd a long time before he died. I was down to see him twice before he died. Bob owns the old place. Alvy Jonson lives on the place. Bob lives in Memphis, Will lives with Malissa, Ben lives in Ills.. Link's John was down visiting last weak. He is a holy sanctified preacher. He preached three day at the Plesant Hill Church. So Charley Fryrear informed me and that he done right well, God he did. Ben is in Hitt runing store doing very well so I am informed. I have not seen Ben for four years only hear from them wonce in a while. There has been some deaths in our country this summer and spring of hoom I will name some. Thought perhaps you remember. Wm. Bourn died two years ago from Canser in stomak. Old Jimmy Tadlock last March from old age was 105. Old Jacob Gundy 92, Old Nelly Medly 73, Alex Shanks 65. Those are only the old ones that you remeber. Been considerable sickness through the county this season a good deal of fever of Maleruel nature. Some few deaths. Well now for something else. Our little town is booming. Four New Bricks gon up this summer, one moore in the spring, besides the frames not mentioned. We have a good flowering mill, four Dry Good stores, two Hardware, two Grocery stores, two Drug stores, Book Shop, Tin shop, two Black Smith shops, Waggon and Buggy shop, two Hotells and one Resturant and five Doctors. Downing is on the boom, yes and two Livery barns.

The Railroad gets more stock grane and other produce at Downing than any other station on the road and I tell you that Memphis is climing. You cannot image how Memphis has improved since you last in the place. Around the squire is a solid brick wall. The frames out & gone, never to return.

Well Bob this is the hardest job that I have undertaken for sometime. I have not attemted to write a letter for over a year. It like cuting and splining stove wood on a hot morning it goes against the grain. I am getting so old and neverous that I cannot controle the pen and as to Lizzies pensmanship it is gone for ever. She cannot hardly write her name. She says she will not attempt to write a word in it. But give her best love and regards to you and Fannie and the children.

O yes I forgot to name Jim Knisley he lives on the same place yet doing vary well, but has had a grate misfortune in his family. Rose his youngest daughter broke her leg, poor Jim it come very causing him to do something I cannot say what. Well, I will have to stop. You must write write to soon and often and I will to answer more prompt if only spared for it only a short time that we hear on this earth to corespond with each other. We are travlin fast the Rod that our dear friend have gone over which we must go sooner or later. H & Elizzie Mudd

P. S. I forgot to tell you my weight. 225 in my shirt sleavs.

Helen Louise Mudd was referred to in the letters written by Emma Caldwell (Abcad h#10).[6]

Mr. Edward E. Adams of Taylorville, Ill. in writing to the author reported that Robert L. Mudd (Abcad f) came to Greenville, Ill. as a young man and became a builder and contractor. He met with an accident which caused him ever afterward to walk with a limping gait. He held several local offices and was, Mr. Adams thought, county clerk for Bond County and later deputy county clerk from 1886-1894. Mr. Adams heard that Mr. Mudd was related to the Lincolns and that his wife was a Bond County girl.

Robert L. Mudd, age 32, and wife Fannie C., 27, were residing in Bond Co., Ill. when the 1870 census was taken (Greenville Twsp. T5, N.R. 3W).

A letter in file postmarked Drakesville, Ia. 1-15-1910 from Emma Caldwell (Abcad h#10), dau of Elizabeth Ann (Mudd) McAtee, was sent to "Uncle and Aunt Robert and Fannie." Also, a letter in file to Mrs. F. C. Mudd ("My dear Aunt") dated Mound City, Mo. 4-3-1910 refers to the death of Robert L. Mudd (Abcad f).

No issue[13]

Dr. Joseph Aloysius Mudd (Abaga bd) spoke of Robert Mudd (Abcae a) and Raymond Mudd (Abcae d), brothers, who migrated from Kentucky to Missouri in 1843 (Ref. 44). He stated that Robert settled two miles S.E. and Raymond 1 1/2 miles east of Millwood, Mo.; and, that Ray had no children.

On 2-20-1852 John Mudd (Abcae b) and his wife sold land in Lincoln Co., Mo. to Raymon Mudd (Abcae d).[14]

In Lincoln Co., Mo. on 1-21-1858 Letters of Administration were issued on the estate of Raymond Mudd. The heirs were: Ann Eliza Mudd, widow; Martha Mudd, mother; John, Nicholas, Thomas, and Robert Mudd brothers; and Elizabeth Mudd, sister.

(Eliza) Anna Mudd married secondly John Bell. There were no children by this marriage.

Issue (see Abcaa a)

Robert Mudd (Abcae a) is referred to as being the eldest of Nicholas and Martha (Janes) Mudd's seven children. (Ref. 70)

Mrs. Cecilia G. Hawkins (Abagb fbi) said that her grandfather John Mudd (Abcae b) was a brother of Hezekiah, Thomas, and Bob Mudd that they were "the elect of Kentucky" and had fine dogs and horses and were raised as gentlemen; that when they lost their slaves they lost everything. Mrs. Hawkins is mistaken that Hezekiah was a brother. He married Mary Elizabeth Mudd (Abcae g) and so was the brother-in-law of Thomas Mudd (Abcae e) and Bob Mudd (Abcae a).

There was considerable difficulty in distinguishing the two Nicholas Mudds who lived in Kentucky at the same time, but we have identified the Nicholas Mudd who married Martha Janes as the son of Hezekiah Mudd (Abca); and, the Nicholas Mudd who married three times probably the son of Richard Mudd (Abab).

Nicholas Mudd (Abcae) as a boy migrated from Maryland to Kentucky with his father. James Philip Mudd (Abaca aaa) said that Nicholas Mudd was the first of his family to migrate to Kentucky (Ref: Joseph B. Mudd).

After Nicholas Mudd died, his widow Martha took her family to Missouri.

In the 1830 census of Wash. Co., Ky. (p. 16) Nicholas Mudd was listed with males under 5, 1; 5 to 10, 3; 10 to 15, 1; 40 to 50, 1; and females 30 to 40, 1.

In the 1850 (10-9-1850) census of Wash. Co., Ky. Martha Mudd age 56 (b. Md.) with real estate valued at $1500 was listed with Nicholas, 22; Thomas, 13; Hezekiah, farmer, 24; Elizabeth, 19; and Raymond,[17] 2.

Nicholas Mudd was a farmer, a member of the Catholic Church, and in politics a Whig (Ref. 70).

The following are tax records for Nicholas and Nicholas Mudd Jr.[18] in Wash. Co., Ky. (tax records for 1807, 1808, 1809 not found; record for 1810 missing):

The fact that Nicholas Mudd (Abcae) was the first son of Hezekiah Mudd (Abca) to be taxed in Kentucky strongly indicates that he was the oldest son instead of the youngest.

The Wash. Co., Ky. March court of 1834 appointed administrators and appraisers for the estate of Nicholas Mudd.[21]

On 9-25-1843 Nicholas Mudd (Abcae c) and Raymond Mudd (Abcae d) came into court and made choice of Martha Mudd (obviously their mother) as guardian; also, Martha Mudd was appointed as guardian for Mary Elizabeth Mudd (Abcae g) and Thomas Mudd (Abcae e), all four being orphans of Nicholas Mudd dec'd. Securities for Martha Mudd were John Mudd (possibly her son) and Wilford Mudd (Abcba).[22]

On 7-18-1848 Martha Mudd reported on the guardianship of Nicholas and Thomas Mudd "heirs of Hezekiah Mudd dec'd.;" and, on an amount received from the estate of Hezekiah Mudd.[23] This is an important record because it clearly indicates the relationship of the father of Thomas and Nicholas Mudd to Hezekiah Mudd, this being the most definite clue we uncovered. It is to be noted that Nicholas Mudd (Abcae) was mentioned in Hezekiah Mudd's (Abca) will; Nicholas Mudd married Martha Janes; and now Martha reports on proceeds from the estate of Hezekiah Mudd. Obviously Thomas and Nicholas Mudd Jr. were minors on 7-18-1848.

1. Buried in Wash. Co., Ky., on 3-25-1834 (as copied from St. Rose Church (Record), nr. Springfield, Mo.). It is said that Nicholas Mudd (Abcae) "died at a good old age." A family record reports Nicholas Mudd as dying 3-14-1833, which is probably not correct.
2. Marr. Bk. I, p. 156, Wash. Co., Ky. The date of license was 11-1-1816.
3. Her maiden name also spelled Jeanes. Martha Janes and Elizabeth Janes, wife of James Henry ("Jimmie") Mudd (Abaca a), were sisters.
4. Ref. 70 states that she was born in Kentucky, but her parents came from Maryland.
5. Ref. 70 states that she died when quite old. June 1866, given.
6. See account of James Henry ("Jimmie") Mudd (Abaca a). Also see Kentucky Historical Society Records.
7. Also reported as Robert A. Mudd. Also see Ref. 44.
8. Also said to be 6-x-1816, but Bible record is 10-9-1817.
9. His middle name said to be Robert. Joseph B. Mudd (Abagb faa) stated definitely that John ("Baldy") Mudd's name was John Nicholas Mudd, but inasmuch as John Mudd (Abcae b) had a brother Nicholas Mudd (Abcae c), Joseph B. Mudd is probably mistaken. John Mudd (Abcae b) was also referred to several times as John P. Mudd in the St. Alphonsus Church records at Millwood, Mo.
10. Also said to be 1827.
11. See 1850 census record for John Mudd (Abcae b). The year 1829 is also given, but the family record gives 1823.
12. In the marriage record she was referred to as Anne Elizabeth Mudd. Ref. 168, p. 110, referred to her as Ann Eliza Mudd and to her husband as "Ragman" Mudd.
13. Susan Martha Steele (Abcaa bl) reported "no issue."
14. Bk. K, p. 219, (Lincoln Co., Mo.?).
15. His name also given as Thomas Herbert Mudd Sr. (see death notice of Ena Mudd, Abcae eg, in the Troy, Mo., Free Press). It is quite probable that Thomas Mudd's name was Thomas William Mudd, because it is stated on the tombstone of Thomas Herbert Mudd (Abcae ec) that his father was Thomas William Mudd.
16. Buried in Millwood, Mo.
17. See account of Hezekiah Mudd (Abcaa a).
18. The expression "Jr." after his name did not necessarily indicate close relationship to "Nicholas Mudd Sr." (see Ababc).
19. Probably Nicholas Jr. because Sr. was in Bullitt County. No other Nicholas listed in 1811 Wash. Co.
20. May be Road Run as we first believed.

Catherine Elizabeth married John Havlik.

Robert Mudd (Abcae a) is referred to as "Jr." in the Bible record, probably due to the fact that Robert L. Mudd (Abcab), his uncle, or Robert Mudd (Abagb e) was considered as Sr.

Eva Thomas Mudd (Abcae abb), son of Nicholas Bruce Mudd, stated that his father had a brother named Ray. Further, Fr. Corley (see Abagb fe 8) thought that a Raymond, son of Robert Mudd (Abcae a), died young. It is probable that Robert Mudd had no son Raymond inasmuch as no Raymond was mentioned in the 1850 census; nor was he, his wife or children mentioned in the will of Robert Mudd. It should be noted that Robert Mudd (Abcae a) had a daughter named Ray.

Most of the family state that Robert Mudd (Abcae a) had no middle name. Some say he was Robert A. Mudd.

Robert Mudd was reared on a farm in Kentucky and was educated in the "old field schools." After farming in Kentucky until 1843, he with his wife, family, and brother Raymond Mudd (Abcae d) migrated to Lincoln Co., Mo., near Millwood. In 1845 they moved to a 290 acre farm where they were living in 1888 (see Ref. 200). When Robert Mudd first arrived in Millwood, Mo., he had $25.00 and an old horse.

Dr. Joseph Aloysius Mudd (Abaga bd) spoke of Robert Mudd (Abcae a) and Raymond Mudd (Abcae d), brothers, who migrated from Kentucky to Missouri in 1843 (Ref. 44). He stated that Robert settled two miles S.E. and Raymond 1 1/2 miles east of Millwood, Mo.; that Robert had two sons and two daughters and died "about a year ago" (1900) at the age of 83 and his wife died twelve years before him (1888).

In the 1840 census of Wash. Co., Ky., Robert Mudd was listed with males under 5, 2; 10 to 15, 1; 15 to 20, 1; 10 to 30, 1; females under 5, 1; 20 to 30, 1; and 30 to 40, 1.

In the 1850 census of Lincoln Co., Mo., Robert Mudd was listed as follows: Robert, farmer on Cong. land, 34 (b. Ky.); Eliza, 36 (b. Ky.); Charles P., 12 (b. Ky.); Nicholas, 11 (b. Ky.); Mary, in school, 9 (b. Ky.); Martha, in school, 7 (b. Mo.); Josephine, 5 (b. Mo.); Ann, 4 (b. Mo.); Julia C., 1 (b. Mo.); and Mary Mudd, 48 (b. Ky.).

In the 1860 census, Lincoln Co., Mo. (Millwood Twsp.) Robert Mudd 43, farmer, valuation $2000, Eliza 43, Martha 18, Josephine 16, Ann 13, Eliza 8, James Hase (Hays?) 15 (laborer); Nicholas Mudd 22, Lucy A. 18, Julia C. 12 (age not certain also copied, age 3/12).

In the 1870 census, same Co., p. 118, Robert Mudd 52, farmer, valuation $3500.00; Eliza 53, Anna 21, Eliza R. 18, Harriet 9, Martha 18, Wm. Dwyer 61, farmer.

Robert Mudd was the Constable of Millwood Twp. in Missouri for many years. (Ref. 70)

On 12-30-1852 James F. Mudd (Abagb ba) and Harriet E. his wife, sold 40 acres of land in Lincoln Co., Mo., to Robert Mudd Jr.[21] Whether or not this Robert Mudd Jr. refers to Abcaea, we are not certain, but, Robert Mudd Sr. has been identified as Abagb e. It should be noted that (John) Robert Mudd (Abagb-e) is a first cousin once removed to Robert Mudd (Abcae a), both having Bennett Mudd (Abc) as their common ancestor. On checking the deposition of the above land we found that Robert S. Mudd (Abcae-aaa) and his wife Mary E. sold his 1/8th undivided interest in this 40 acres to his brother Howard Mudd (Abcae aae)[22] so it is quite probable that Robert Mudd (Abcae a) was known as Robert Jr.

Robert Mudd died testate on 1-31-1900. His will which was dated 1-22-1900 (probated 2-6-1900) mentions his many heirs.[23]

FOOTNOTES

1. Date taken from the estate settlement. It was also stated that Robert Mudd died in 1856 and his wife in 1864, but these dates are obviously incorrect. Robert Mudd was buried in Millwood, Mo.
2. Bondsmen were Robert Mudd and Lewis Mudd (probably Abagb f) (county record). An A. Montgomery was also shown as bondsman.
3. Sr. Margaret Hamilton (see Aad) copied 9-12-1835.
4. Eliza Ray Knott's maiden name according to the St. Alphonsus (Millwood, Mo.) records is spelled "Nott." It is stated in Ref. 168 (p. 45) that Robert Mudd married Eliza Knott; also, the church record is that Robert Mudd married Eliza Knott. Ref. 70 stated that Robert Mudd married Miss Eliza Mudd; and, Eva Mudd (Abcae abb) stated that Robert S. Mudd's wife was Eliza Mudd. While many of the Millwood, Mo., records refer to the wife of Robert Mudd as being Elizabeth Mudd, it is noteworthy that Charles Pius Mudd (Abcae aa) was the son of "Robert Mudd and Eliza Knott" and when he married, it was recorded that he was the son of Robert Mudd and Elizabeth Mudd.
5. Ref. 70 stated that although her ancestors came from Maryland, Miss Eliza Mudd was a native of the same county as her husband Robert Mudd.
6. Also said to be baptized in Wash. Co., Ky. on 8-3-1836. The family Bible record stated he was born 7-24-1836. In Judge Henry T. Mudd's (Abaaa aa) list of Millwood, Mo., Mudds, Charles P. Mudd was mentioned as being 53 years of age in 1889.
7. Birthplace of Springfield, Ky., and date of 7-7-1841 also given. Henry T. Mudd (Abaaa aa) listed Nicholas Bruce Mudd age 50 with a family of eight in his list of Mudds in Millwood, Mo., in 1889 (Ref. 200). The family Bible states "born 8-11-1838."
8. Recorded as a daughter of Robert Mudd and Eliza Knott. "Born 6-12-1840" is family Bible record.
9. The 1850 census records her birth place as Missouri. The family Bible gives her birth date as 7-6-1842.
10. Brother of Michael Edward Flynn who married Hattie Mudd (Abcae ai).
11. See the will of Julia Isabella Mudd (Abcae aag).

17. Second youngest daughter. Referred to in the Bible record as Lizy Ray.
18. Youngest daughter.

Charles Pius Mudd (Abcae aa) with his sons Sterling (referred to as Sterling P.), Eugene, and Athanasius Mudd were listed by Judge Henry Thomas Mudd (Abaaa aa) as Millwood, Mo. residents in 1888 (Ref. 200).

A Charles Mudd who died about March 1936 was a member of the Millwood Council (Mo.) Knights of Columbus.

Charles P. Mudd is said to have raised his big family (said to be 12 or 13 children) on 40 acres of land in Millwood Township in a two room log house with an upstairs attic. He was wont to have a dance at this cabin every Saturday or so with Leander Henry who was courting one of the girls doing the strumming on the fiddle.

The farms of Charles P. Mudd (Abcae aa), Thomas Mudd (Abcae e), and Bruce Nicholas Mudd (Abcae ab) cornered in a gooseberry patch by a chinkapin tree (the top of which tree had been 'knocked out' by lightning). The northwest corner of Thomas Mudd's farm and the southeast corner of Charles P. Mudd's farm (in Range 2, West, Millwood School District, Millwood Twp.) touched each other.

The estate of Charles P. Mudd was turned over to his widow Jane Maria Mudd.[16]

Jane Maria Mudd died intestate in Lincoln Co., Mo. on 7-2-1917. The heirs to her estate were referred to as given herein. Her son Eugene was referred to as "of Kansas" and Atha as "of Texas."[17]

In the administration of Julia Isabella Mudd's (Abcae aag) will, the children of Samuel Eugene Mudd (Abcae aab) were "Benta" Mudd, (probably this was Beula), Lewis Mudd, and Marvin Mudd. No other record of Lewis Mudd was found.

Following the breaking up of his home when his first wife and first son died in Millwood, Samuel Eugene Mudd moved to Kansas about 1900, where he became a wheat farmer. Prior to his death, Samuel Eugene Mudd resided in Alamota, Ks.

Mrs. Etta Mudd resided in Dighton, Ks. Her untimely death was a shock to her family and her friends.

Bridget Dwyer's children were said to be Gertrude, Mary, and Thomas who m. Ida Gilmore in 1923 the "oldest charter member in the Catholic Church at Millwood, Mo."

Mrs. Etta Mudd wrote that her ancestors came from England 125 years ago and settled in Pulaski Co., Ky. One of the earliest ("if not the first," she says) battles of the Civil War was fought on her grandfather's farm at Mill Springs. Following the battle and the return of the residents, there was a large mound where the dead were buried. "The officers were buried at Somerset," Mrs. Etta Mudd reported.

Kenny, however, found a birth record of a John Mudd, son of John Mudd and Matilda McLain. It is obvious that if 1821 is the correct year of birth of John Mudd (Abcae b), then John, born 4-10-1836, is not his son. This is the only suggestion that John Mudd (Abcae b) had a wife named Matilda McLain.

Issue (see Abagb fb)

In the marriage record of Harriet B. Mudd her father is referred to as John B. Mudd.

John Mudd and his wife Susanna Mary Mudd must have migrated to Missouri from Kentucky shortly after 1-22-1849 because 1-22-1849 was the last Kentucky birth record of a child born to them. They were in Wash. Co., Ky. in April 1845 (Ref. 174).

In the 1850 census of Lincoln Co., Mo. (p. 850) John Mudd age 29 (b. Ky.), farmer with valuation of $320.00 was listed with Susan, 27; Mary, 6; Nicholas, 4; Ann, 1; Raymond, 21; and Ann E., 17. Obviously, John Mudd age 29 and Raymond Mudd age 21 were brothers; and, Ann E. age 17 was Raymond Mudd's wife.

In the 1860 census Monroe Co., Mo., Indian Creek Twsp. John Mudd 38, farmer, Susan 34, Mary 16, Nicholas 14, Ann 12, Martha 10, Harriet 8, Malvina 6, P. R. 4, James 1, all b. Ky.

The following are land transactions in Lincoln Co., Mo. in which John Mudd took part:

(a) On 2-20-1852 John Mudd and Susan his wife sold property to Raymon Mudd (Abcae d) (see Bk. K, p. 219).

(b) On 12-3-1862 John Mudd and Susan M. his wife; and, Robert Mudd (Abcae a) and Eliza his wife, sold property to Thomas Mudd (probably Abcae e) (see Bk. R, p. 102).

In Judge Henry T. Mudd's (Abaaa aa) list of Mudds in Millwood, Mo. on 3-25-1889 John N. Mudd "54 years old" was mentioned. This John N. Mudd could be (and probably is) John Nicholas Mudd (Abaca ac).

Mattie (Mudd) Scott was not mentioned in her father's will. Walter Philip Scott was mentioned.

A daughter of John Scott and Julia A. Cummins, viz. Mary Ann Scott, married Aloysius Gonzaga Mudd (Abagb fba).

Thomas Mudd, it is said, was a charitable, sober, industrious, honest and truthful man who was tall and thin with flowing white hair and beard. He talked frequently of his parental home in Kentucky and had a tender regard for their home negroes, three of whom migrated to Missouri with his mother. Thomas Mudd was referred to as "Shanghai Tom" because he was so tall.

Thomas Mudd migrated to Missouri, near the town of Millwood, in the year 1857. A few years prior to this, three of his brothers preceded him to Missouri. His father Nicholas Mudd being deceased, his mother, sister, and brother-in-law Hezekiah Mudd (Abcaa a) and family soon followed him to Missouri leaving one brother, viz. Nicholas Mudd (Abcae c), in Kentucky. In the 1860 census Thomas Mudd age 27 was residing with Hezekiah Mudd family (Abcaa a).

1870 census Lincoln Co., Mo. (Millwood Twp.) Thomas Mudd 35, farmer, valuation $1500, Imilder 20, Nicholas 4, Herbert 2, Bernina 4/12 (b. Feb.) and three of a negro family.

In Judge Henry T. Mudd's (Abaaa aa) list of Mudds in Millwood, Mo. in 1889 he recorded Thomas Mudd age 60 with four in his family. This was Thomas Mudd (Abcae e) because Thomas William Mudd (Abaca aa) of Millwood, Mo. died in 1864. Also listed separately were Robert (?) Lee (also copied as Thomas Lee) son of Thomas Mudd Sr. with one in the family, and, Herbert, son of Thomas Mudd Sr. also with one in the family (Ref. 200).

On 6-12-1861 Thomas Mudd (either Abcaee or Abacaaa) purchased property from Nicholas Mudd (Abaca ac) and Eliza his wife.[7]

In 1861 Thomas Mudd purchased from the heirs of his deceased brother Raymond Mudd (Abcae d) an 80 acre farm situated 2 1/2 miles east of Millwood, Mo. and on this farm he lived the remainder of his lifetime. The farms of Thomas Mudd (Abcae e) and Hezekiah Mudd (Abcaa a) joined each other.

On 12-3-1862 Thomas Mudd (possibly Abcae e) purchased property from John Mudd (Abcae b) and Susan M. his wife; and, Robert Mudd (Abcae a) and Eliza his wife.[8]

The will of Thomas Mudd made 2-9-1912 and probated 2-20-1912 names his wife Imelda and his children as we have recorded them herein.[9]

Fr. V. F. O'Daniel found that a Wilfred Mudd was a contributor to the church at Cartwrights Creek in 1805-1807.

The following are tax records of Wilfred Mudd in Wash. Co., Ky. (tax for years of 1809, 1813, 1814, 1817, and 1819 not found; tax for 1810 and 1818 missing):

Issue:
a. Priscilla Isabella bapt. Wash. Co., Ky. 3-17-1835
b. Martha Jane

A Daniel Mudd married Frances Stewart on 12-24-1833 in Hardin Co., Ky.

Daniel Mudd first appeared in the Wash. Co., Ky. tax list in 1811 when he was taxed for himself and one horse. His name also appeared in the 1812 and 1819 tax lists of that county. He was in the army during the War of 1812 (Ref: K.S.H.S.) and so probably this accounts for his absence from the tax list from 1812 to 1819.

In the 1820 census of Wash. Co., Ky. Daniel Mudd over 45 years of age was listed as residing alone. Daniel Welch and Leroy Gregory were listed on either side of Daniel Mudd in this census.

A Daniel Mudd was taxed in Hardin Co., Ky. in 1837 for himself over 21, and a horse. This was the only year he was taxed there.

The fact that Priscilla Mudd, dau of Daniel Mudd (Abcbb), was not mentioned in her grandmother's (i.e. Martha Mudd) will suggests that she (Priscilla) died prior to the time (7-20-1839) the will was drawn.

On 10-4-1839 Peter Brown, who had James W. Remy as his security, was appointed guardian for Martha Jane Mudd (Abcbb b) infant daughter of Daniel Mudd.[3]

On 3-12-1842 Peter Brown, guardian for Martha Jane Mudd (Abcbb b), reported on his guardianship. The following items were reported on:[4]

(a) Amount received ($343.41) from the administration of H. Mudd's estate after deducting the widow's third.
(b) Cash received from Daniel Mudd's administrator.
(c) Cash received from Henry L. Mudd's administrator.
(d) Costs.
(e) Amount paid to Frances Mudd.

On 7-20-1850 and 7-22-1850 Peter Brown gave another report of his guardianship for Martha Jane Mudd "dau of Daniel Mudd." Mentioned in this report were Francis Mudd (possibly Abagb a or Frances Mudd, widow of Daniel Mudd) whose relationship was not stated, and Richard P. Mudd (Aadaa a). The total estate was $3150.03.[5]

On 7-31-1847 Richard Crutcher and Frances Mudd (both widowed) were married by George H. Hicks in Hardin Co., Ky.

On 7-22-1850 Richard Crutcher reported on the guardianship of Martha Jane Mudd. Peter Brown "former guardian" and "ward" are said to be deceased.[6]

c Henderson[7] — b c 1777
d Wash. Co., Ky. prior to 8-13-1836

Henderson Mudd was first taxed in Wash. Co., Ky. in 1819 (1818 record missing) for one white male over 21 years and one horse. The same tax was recorded in 1820 under the name of Henson Mudd (record not checked after 1820). He was in the army during the War of 1812 (Ref: K.S.H.S.) and so probably this accounts for him not being taxed prior to 1819.

In July 1836 Peter Brown was appointed administrator for the estate of Henson Mudd (also copied as Hanson Mudd).[8]

The estate of Henderson Mudd was settled on 4-3-1841 and the proceeds went to Wilford Mudd (Abcba), Daniel Mudd's (Abcbb) heirs, and Mildred Buckman's (Abcbd) children, viz. Henry and James Buckman.[9]

An appraisal record of Henderson Mudd's property dated 4-26-1841 records sales made to Daniel Mudd (Abcbb) and George Buckman (probably Abcbd #1) on (copied) 8-13-1836; total of sales $965.50. Another sale on 8-29-1939 records sales made to Wilford Mudd (Abcba), G. M. Mudd (unplaced), and James Buckman (possibly Abcbd # 2).

Mildred Mudd (Abcbd) was Joseph Buckman's second wife.

On 5-3-1802 Joseph Buckman was appointed to survey a road and, with those mentioned living within its bounds, to keep it in repair. The road began 1/2 mile from Springfield thence to "Sovern" Run to include Robert Tobin, Samuel Seay, Benjamin Hardin, Joseph Buckman, Henry L. Mudd, Roaham Parrott, and John Freeman.[12]

m [13] Wash. Co., Ky. 1-14-1805 Raphael Spinks[14]

The marriage of Martha Mudd, dau of Henry Lowe Mudd, to Raphael Spinks is not certain. The date and location, however, indicate that the Martha mentioned was a daughter of Henry Lowe Mudd (Abcb).

Raphael Spinks married secondly Sarah Tennelly. "Sarah" was referred to as his second wife in his Will dated 1827. See 1137a for additional information.

No records of children by either of Raphael Spinks' marriages were located.

See the account of James Thomas Mudd (Ababc a) for notes on the Spink family history.

f Jane m [15] by Rev. Miles in Wash. Co., Ky. 10-8-1821 Cornelius Kelly

IDENTITY OF HENRY LOWE MUDD (Abcb): That Bennett Mudd, father of Lee Mudd (Abcb) is Bennett Mudd (Abc) is shown by the will of Edward Clarkson (made 11-14-1785; probated 12-2-1785)[16] in which he (Edward Clarkson) mentions his sons Edward and Henry Clarkson, and, bequeaths to Lee Mudd as follows:

> "I give to Lee Mudd, my son-in-law, during his father Bennett's life, 100 acres of land whereon he lives, it being called by the name The Plains of Shrewsbury;" and, by the deed[17] dated 8-29-1808 in which Edward Clarkson, Basil Cameron and Lucy his wife, Walter Jarboe and Treasy his wife, Henry L. Mudd and Martha his wife, Edward C. Smith, Basil Smith, and Matthew Smith (all of Wash. Co., Ky.) conveyed to Benjamin Oden of Prince Georges Co., Md. properties known as "Widow's Trouble" and "Plains of Shrewsberry" formerly the property of Edward Clarkson and Martha his wife, consisting of 700 or 800 acres...and, all other lands the above grantors were entitled to as heirs and legal representatives of Edward Clarkson and Martha his wife. This appears to be excellent evidence that Lee Mudd is the same as Henry Lowe Mudd and that he married Martha Clarkson, dau of Edward Clarkson. There were two other Bennett Mudds at about that time, viz. (we believe) Bennett Mudd (Aaga) who was born in 1760 and Bennett Mudd (Abada) who was born in 1772.

MIGRATIONS: Since Henry L. Mudd was first taxed in Kentucky in 1799 and not 1797 (see tax record under "PROPERTY"), it is probable that he moved to Kentucky in 1798 or 1799.

It would seem probable that Henry Lowe Mudd was in Maryland in 1806 because on 5-29-1806 Henry Mudd and Minta Mudd (Abcg) were baptismal sponsors in Charles Co., Md. for John Robert Mudd (Abagb e) (Ref. 95). Possibly Henry Mudd was a sponsor by proxy.

CENSUS': In the 1790 census for Prince Georges Co., Md. Henry Lowe Mudd was listed with males under 16, 2; over 16, 1; 5 white females, and 6 slaves.

In the 1810 census of Wash. Co., Ky. Henry L. Mudd was listed with males 10 to 16, 1; 16 to 26, 1; over 45, 1; females 16 to 26, 1; and over 45, 1.

In the 1830 census of Wash. Co., Ky. (p. 136) Martha Mudd age 70 to 80 was listed with males 30 to 40, 2.

MILITARY SERVICE: Henry Lowe Mudd signed the Patriot's List in 1776 and accordingly, had to be born before 1756 and his father about 1730.

Henry Lowe Mudd signed the oath of Fidelity and Support before Thomas Clagett[18] which is as follows:

> "I do swear that I do not hold myself bound to yield any allegiance or obedience to the King of Great Britton, his heirs, or supporters,[19] and that I will be true and faithful to the State of Maryland and will do the utmost of my power to support, maintain, and defend the freedom and independence thereof and the government as now established against all open enemies and secret traitorous conspiracies and will use my utmost endeavor to disclose and make known to the Governor or some one of the Judges or Justices thereof all treasons or traitorous conspiracies, attempts, or combinations against this state or the government thereof which shall come to my knowledge. So help me God."

In the revolutionary papers Henry Lowe Mudd's name is to be found on the payroll of the Lower Militia commanded by Col. Wm. Lyles on duty at Nottingham in Prince Georges Co., Md.[20]

PROPERTY: On 8-21-1797 (also copied as 4-12-1797) Henry Lowe Mudd and his wife Martha both of Prince Georges Co., Md., deeded all their part of "Hickory Thicket" nearby land of John Thomas, which was sold by him to Bennett Mudd (Abc), to Raphael Mudd (Abce) of Charles Co., Md. for £153.[21]

On 7-29-1808 Henry L. Mudd conveyed furniture and stock to Hezekiah Mudd (See Abca) and also slaves.[22] No relationship is set forth therein.

On 8-11-1808 that Henry L. Mudd for £700 conveyed to Joseph Buckman (see Abcbd) 250 acres on Salt Lick, 110 acres of land Buckman bought from Thomas Harrison; also, negroes, stock, and furniture.[23]

The following are tax records of Henry Lowe Mudd in Wash. Co., Ky. (tax record for 1798 missing):

COURT AND COUNTY RECORDS: In March 1783 and March 1784 Henry Lowe Mudd was a juror of Prince Georges County Court at Upper Marlboro, Md.[27]

In 1786 Henry Lowe Mudd and William Smallwood Wynn were sureties in court for one Joseph Blanford.[28]

On 9-23-1788 Henry Lowe Mudd and Nicholas Blacklock were referred to in a judgment in favor of Nicholas Davis as a result of a law suit. In June 1789 there was still trouble between Nick Davis and Henry Lowe Mudd because in that month the case of Thomas Mudd (possibly Abad as there was no other Thomas Mudd known to us as of that time), Henry Lowe Mudd, and Nicholas Blacklock[29] versus Nicholas Davis was referred to. Its nature is not mentioned.[30]

In September 1793 Henry L. Mudd was appointed an overseer in the 3d Section of Mt. Calvert in Prince Georges Co., Md.[31]

On 11-22-1794 Henry Lowe Mudd made Oath in Prince Georges Co., Md. that nineteen years ago he was at Edward Lanham's home and heard Henry Lanham desire that negro "Jim" to go home to his master Joseph Clarkson; and, at the same time observed that he had given said Clarkson two of his best negroes.[32]

On 6-13-1814 Henry L. Mudd, in the place of Rodham Parrott, was appointed surveyor of the road leading from within 1/2 mile of Springfield, Ky. to Lovern.[33]

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: Henry Lowe Mudd's will dated 6-23-1823 and probated 12-28-1829 is as follows:[34]

> "To wife Martha , the estate, negroes, horses, sheep, hogs, household and kitchen furniture during her life.
> To son Wilford, one negro named George, one horse to be valued at $40.00, one feather bed, and furniture to him an his heirs after his mother's death.
> To daughter Martha Spinks, one dollar.
> To daughter Mildred Buckman,....
> To son Daniel Mudd, one negro boy named Peter.
> Other negroes to be sold and divided equally between my sons Wilford, Daniel, and Henrison."

Witnesses were John Parrott and Nicholas Smith.[35]

In August 1836 Peter Brown, who had Charles Grundy as his security, was appointed administrator of Henry L. Mudd's estate.[36] And, on 9-14-1836 the estate was appraised.[37]

On 10-4-1839 a committee of John B. Smith, James Royper, James Barlow, and Francis Sims was appointed to divide Henry L. Mudd's land and slaves.[38]

In January 1840 the court ordered a setting apart of land and slaves of the estates of Henry L. Mudd (Abcb) and Henderson Mudd (Abcb) both deceased; and, on 5-27-1840 the commissioners met on the premises (a map of the land is attached to the record). The will of Henry L. Mudd required that land be divided between sons Daniel and Henderson Mudd; and, Henderson being "long dead," sections were allotted to Wilford Mudd (Abcba), Mildred Buckman (Abcbd), and ____________Mudd the infant of Daniel Mudd (Abcbb) as heirs of D. Mudd, and to Mildred Buckman's "long dead," heirs--the only one being J_______ Buckman (possibly Joseph Buckman, Mildred's husband). Reference was also made to the infants of Daniel Mudd (Abcbb).[39]

Another settlement of Henry Lowe Mudd's estate was made on 4-3-1841 (filed 5-24-1841) but no additional genealogical information was recorded.[40]

Martha Mudd's will[41] dated 7-20-1839 (date copied by Bailey F. Davis) and probated in Wash. Co., Ky. on 8-26-1839 orders all personal property to be sold to the highest bidder upon such credit as the executor believes proper. The will in part is as follows:

> "To son Wilford, $400.00, he "being the only child alive."
> To priests at St. Rose's Church, $70.00 for saying masses and praying for me.

Executor was Wilford Mudd (Abcba) and witnesses were Martha Rigge who signed with her mark, and James Rapier.

When Willford Mudd presented the will of Martha Mudd to court, James Roper (?) and Thomas Yates were his securities. And, Lloyd Mullican, Frances Lening, Nicholas L. Robey, and John H. Parrott (or any three) were designated to appraise the slaves and personal property, if any.[42]

On 9-24-1839 Wilford Mudd sold items of Martha Mudd dec'd. to W. Mudd (possibly Abcba), James M. Mudd, possibly James Madison Mudd (See Ababaa) and others who were not Mudds.[43]

c (Probably) Sophia (or Suffier)[6] — d Charles Co., Md. c 1797
m [7]
Issue[7]

On 5-5-1801, John Smith (with securities, Henry Thomas Mudd and George Summers) was named administrator of the estate of Sophia Mudd, late of Chas. Co., Md. (Chas. Co. Court Proc. and Bonds 1799-1803 f 258-259). Administration of the account was referred to once or twice a year in the Chas. Co. Ct. Proc. through 1811, the last year checked.

On 12-9-1801, an inventory of the estate of Sophia Mudd, late of Chas. Co., Md. dec'd, was reported to the court by John Smith the administrator. The inventory had been made by Ignatius Gardiner and Henry M. Berry, and therein was reference to "one negro lad called Isaac about eighteen years of age claimed by Jereboam Beauchamp as administrator of John Mudd (Ada) dec'd." Also on this inventory the nearest relatives were referred to as being Leonard and Jane Mudd (apparently son and daughter of Clement Mudd, Adb).[8] A final accounting of the estate of Sophia Mudd late of Charles Co., Md. dec'd. was made by the administrator John Smith on 1-8-1811 and in this accounting it was recorded that money owed to Joshua Mudd (Aaaa) by the deceased (i.e. Sophia Mudd) had been paid and a receipt obtained.[9]

The controversy over the slave referred to above resulted in several court cases, viz.:

(a) Beauchamp vs. Mudd, 2 Bibb 537 (1812), wherein it was stated that John Mudd's (Ada) estate was filed in Probate Court of Charles Co., Md., 2-26-1801, and that his representatives brought a negro from Maryland to Kentucky over which the dispute centered.
(b) Beauchamp vs. Mudd, 16 Ky. L. R., 142
(c) Beauchamp vs. Mudd, 16 Ky. L. R., p. 50

In October, 1801 at the Chancery Court of Annapolis, Md., it was recorded that Jereboam Beauchamp, the administrator of John Mudd (Ada) filed against John Smith, the administrator of Suffier Mudd for relief in equity stating that negroes of the said John Mudd were taken by the sheriff and specifically delivered over by the sheriff to the said Suffier Mudd without sale; that one negro called Isaac was retained by "Sophia otherwise called Suffier Mudd" until her death; and that said Isaac was appraised as part of estate of said Sophia or Suffier Mudd, and was afterward privileged to remain in the possession of "Joshua Mudd (Aaaa) son of said Sophia or Suffier." Signed by Augustus B. Woodward for the "respondent" on 6-5-1801.

d (Probably) Ann — dec'd by 2-17-1801 m probably ...Edelen

When Leonard, Jane, and Rebecca Mudd, children of Clement Mudd (Adb), and Benedict Mudd, son-in-law of Clement Mudd (Adb) relinquished to Thomas Mudd (Adab) of Kentucky certain slaves, it was stated that they were relinquishing their right in these slaves which "Ann Edelen, late Ann Mudd" had in her possession at her death and whom Joshua Mudd took into his possession at her death. (See Liber I B#5, f. 33, Land Records, Chas. Co., Md.) It appears that this lady was an Ann Mudd who married an Edelen. If so, she was possibly one of the following:

(a) another daughter of John Mudd (Ad), otherwise the children of Clement could hardly have a claim on her estate. This is further shown by the fact that the same three persons who administered the estate of John Mudd (Ada), viz. Jereboam Beauchamp, with Leonard Bean and Meschach Howell, bondsmen, also administered the estate of Ann Edelen, of Washington Co., Ky., and on the same date, viz. 2-26-1801. (See Chas, Co. Court Proceedings and Bonds (1799-1803) f. 208-9.)
(b) the widow of Benedict Mudd (Aag)
(c) Casandra Mudd, daughter of Thomas Mudd (Aa), and possibly that Joshua Mudd acquired right to the negroes through Thomas Boarman Mudd, his father.
(d) the remarried widow of John Mudd (Ad)
(e) Casandra, wife of Thomas Mudd (Aa) (maiden name unknown)
(f) the wife of Rodias Electious Mudd, and being an Edelen (we do not know who she was), was in some way related to Joshua Mudd through his mother. A competent genealogist expressed the opinion that the expression "Ann Edelen, late Ann Mudd" meant that she was Mrs. Ann Mudd Edelen. There is the possibility that she could be an Ann Mudd, widow of a Mudd and remarried to an Edelen, and still come within the interpretation above.

The Jereboam Beauchamp involved with the Mudds in several court cases appears to have been no relative of the Mudds. Several Beauchamps are said to have left Delaware for Kentucky about 1790. Jereboam was married 4-21-1789 in Murderhill Hundred, Kent Co., Del. He was a member of the Kentucky House of Representatives (Genealogy and History, Nov. 1948, p. 37).

On the 14th day of April, 1792, Ann Mudd, on consideration of £30 paid by her "nephew Thomas Mudd," sold to said Thomas Mudd one negro slave named Poll (or Pall). The sale was recorded at the request of Thomas Mudd on 4-21-1792. Ann Mudd signed with her mark. (Land Rec., Liber K, #4, f. 420, Chas. Co., Md.) Obviously this is the same person as Ann Edelen whose estate was administered, and she is obviously a daughter of John Mudd (Ad).

In 1783, Ann Mudd (probably daughter of Ad) was taxed for 60 acres St. Catherine's in the 3rd Dist. of Chas. Co., Md. She had five slaves, two horses, and seven cattle; and there were two white inhabitants in her household. These could be herself and Sophia Mudd her sister.

In the 1790 census of Chas. Co., Md., there was an Ann Mudd living alone and having five slaves, the same number as Ann Mudd in the 1783 tax list. We believed her to be the widow of Bennett Mudd (Aag) (c.v.), but she may be the Ann Mudd, possibly the daughter of John (Ad).

PROPERTY: By the will of Thomas Mudd (A) which was dated 10-12-1696 (probated 3-11-1697), John Mudd (Ad) inherited 180 acres of land known as St. Catherine's" and 250 acres, residue of land known as "Carnarvon." With regard to the land known as "Carnarvon," which consisted of 650 acres, Thomas Mudd (A) bequeathed 400 acres to his son George Mudd (Ac) which later was assigned to Thomas Mudd (Aa) and Henry Mudd (Ab).[10]

On 8-4-1715, John Mudd (Ad) of Charles Co., Md., sold to William M. (or H.) Farthing all his title to "Carnarvon" of 650 acres saying that he (i.e. John Mudd) was partly in possession and partly in reversion.[11] No wife signed.[12] Also in 1715 Thomas Mudd (Aa) of St. Mary's County, Md., and Henry Mudd (Ab) of Charles Co., Md. sold all of their share of "Carnarvon" of 650 acres to William M. (or H.) Farthing.

On 3-12-1729 John Mudd (Ad), with his brother Thomas Mudd (Aa) and Henry Mudd (Ab) and the latters nephew Thomas Mudd (Aba), sold to Thomas Hayes, Planter, a part (i.e. 100 acres) of "Boarman's Reserve"[13] and a part of "Carnarvon" for the consideration of 6000 pounds of tobacco. This transaction in which the unnamed wives of John Mudd (Ad) and Thomas Mudd (probably Aa) waived dower, was witnessed by Thomas Hodgkin and John Kenedy.[14]

Beginning in 1753 (first available year for the debt books) until the death of John Mudd (Ad), he remitted quit rents on 180 acres of "St. Catherine's.[15] John Mudd's land was apparently adjacent to that of Ignatius Gardiner's.[16]

Philip Hoskins who married the widow of Thomas Mudd (A) claimed a third of "St. Catherine's" as his wife's dower. See deposition of John Smith (of Jordan) on 6-8-1772 who stated that about fifty years ago he was in possession of St. Catherine's when Col. Hoskins made the claim.[17]

Thomas Mudd (Aa) acquired a part of "St. Catherine's" (it has not been determined how he acquired it) and at first this led us to believe that John Mudd (Ad) had no issue. That he did have issue is proved by the following deed: On 4-20-1754[18] John Mudd of Charles Co., Md. for love and affection, transferred to "son Clement Mudd of afsd county a parcel of land in Charles County known as St. Catherine's on east side of Zachiah upon the beginning line where he now dwelleth, containing 60 acres and improvements." Witnesses to this deed were Francis Parnham and Stephen Butler.[19]

By order of Mr. Young Parran dated 9-19-1754, 103 acres of land known as "Mudds Chance" was laid out for John Mudd on 1-17-1755. This land adjoined the land of Richard Lee Esq. and began at a bounded white oak standing on a branch called the Miry Branch which was the beginning tree of a tract of land called the "Forrest" then in the possession of Samuel Right.

Survey of "Mudds Chance" for John Mudd, January 17, 1755

COURT RECORDS: On 7-3-1732 John Mudd was involved in a Chancery Court action (an injunction) with one John Smith but in the same court on 10-28-1735 the matter was ordered struck off.[20]

In March 1752 John Mudd Sr.,[21] by his petition, stated that he was seized of a tract of land called "Carnarvon" and asked to have its boundaries determined.[22] Later, in March 1753 Thomas Hogan was a witness when a commission for the above purpose was appointed.[23] This case was continued in 1756 and in 1759 when John Mudd (obviously John Mudd Jr.) (Ada) made further requests concerning same.

Other court records involving John Mudd (Ad) are as follows:

(a) In 1754? Francis Parnham vs John Mudd Sr. for £5.[24]
(b) In 1754? James Gibson vs John Mudd.[25] [26]
(c) In 1754? John Mudd Sr., Francis Bryan, and Clement Mudd (Adb) summoned to testify in case of Middleton vs William Carter.[27]
(d) John Stewart vs John Mudd concerning a debt of 3600 lbs. of tobacco and £283. John Mudd had agreed to pay in 1751 at Port Tobacco, Md.[28]
(e) Deposition of John Mudd Sr. on 3-31-1755 that he was above 60 years of age and that about 30 years before he was walking with William Oliver "now dead" to see his (John Mudd's) own tobacco ground and William Oliver showed him a tree which bounded "Crabbo" Land.[29]
(f) James Russell vs John Mudd Sr. for 4296 lbs. tobacco June 1755.[30]
(g) John Mudd Sr. and Clement Mudd (Adb) sued by Francis Parnham.[31]
(h) In June 1758 Edward Trafford and Sons filed a claim against John Mudd Sen. (whether this claim was against John Mudd (Ad) or not is not clear as John Mudd (Ad) died in 1756. Possibly it was against John Mudd's (Ad) estate).[32] In this same court Edward Trafford sued John Mudd Jr. (Ada).[32]

John Mudd (Ad) was referred to as "old John Mudd" in the Chas. Co. Court record (U 3, p. 17) when Thomas Blanford stated that "in company with "old John Mudd," he inspected a tree which appeared to have been notched and "old John Mudd" believed it was a bounden tree of Saint Catherine's. Thomas Blanford had a parcel of tobacco that he had picked up at Elizabeth Mudd's (probably wife of Ab). Later on in this document, Thomas Blandford states that he "was in company with John Mudd or his son John Mudd."

In 1760 Samuel Hanson sued Suffaner Mudd, administratrix of John Mudd (Ad) who died intestate. The debt was dated 1-22-1750 "at which time John Mudd was known as John Mudd Sr." Suffaner Mudd won this suit.[33]

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: John Mudd (Ad) witnessed the will of William Boarman which was dated 5-16-1709[34] and probated 6-17-1709.[35] William Boarman, bequeathed to his sons William, Joseph, and Thomas James and to his son-in-law Marsham Warren and others. The fact that John Mudd was a witness to this will indicates that his birth year must have been 1690 or earlier because probably he would have to be at least 18 years of age in order to be a witness.

On 12-11-1739 when the property of Thomas Mudd (Aa) was inventoried, John Mudd was referred to as "kin." Undoubtedly this John Mudd was the brother of Thomas Mudd (Aa) because the John Mudd, son of Thomas Mudd (Aa), was probably too young at that time to be referred to as "kin."

On 11-6-1756 Clement Mud (Adb) and John Mud (Ada) were sureties for Suffaner Mud, administratrix for the estate of John Mudd, dec'd., as per "return" from Charles Co., Md.[36]

An inventory of the personal estate of John Mudd, dec'd. was taken on 12-15-1756 and was appraised at only £8/7/6. John Mudd (Ada) and Clement Mudd (Adb) signed the inventory as "kinsmen." Suffaner Mudd, the administratrix, filed the inventory papers at the Prerogative Court of Charles Co., Md. on 2-8-1757.[37]

Sufaner Mudd, administratrix and relict of John Mudd late of Charles County, deceased, filed an account with the Prerogative Court on 4-2-1760 and showed an overpayment of £1/5/11.[38] It is from this record that we obtained the name of John Mudd's (Ad) wife.

1. A John Mudd (said to be of Boston, Mass.), who was a shipwright and a widower, married a widow, Mary Jenkins (also said to be of Boston, Mass.), in Newbury, Mass. on 2-15-1727 (Ref. 55, Vol. 2, p. 348). This John Mudd does not appear to be John Mudd (Ad). Mary (Jenkins) Mudd appears to have remarried on 7-13-1732 to Richard Honeywell with Mr. John Webb officiating (Ref. 57).
2. See under "Property" wherein is mentioned that the unnamed wife of John Mudd (Ad) waived dower in the sale of "Carnarvon" on 3-12-1729.
3. Most researchers were positive that her name was "Suffaner" but occasionally her name was interpreted to be "Sussana." Her surname may have been Smith (see Ada).
4. John Mudd (Ada) is said to have been born in 1740. The years of 1737, 1742 and 1751 also estimated by various investigators.
5. Also given about 1720 and about 1735 by some correspondents but in a deposition (dated 6-8-1772) defining the bounds of "Farthings Pennyworth" for Ignatius Gardiner, Clement Mudd (Adb) gave his age as being about 46 years. On the same day in a second deposition he gave his age as 45. Also in the deposition it was recorded that Clement Mudd was the son of John Mudd (see Charles Co., Md. Court Minutes, Bk. 63, U 3, p. 16).
6. In official records she was referred to as "Sophia or Suffier Mudd."
7. See account of Thomas Boarman Mudd (Aaa).

JOHN MUDD (ADA)*

b	Md. about 1740
d	Charles Co., Md. about 1801
son	of John Mudd and Suffaner ________
m	^{1} Charles (or Prince Georges) Co., Md. 11-19-1763 Henrietta Miles, dau of Philip Miles and Eleanor ________

a	Rhodias Elexius ("Rhode")	b 1758[2] (cont'd)
b	Thomas	b about 1760/1765 (cont'd)

The Henrietta Mudd who married Raphael Wheatley in Charles Co., Md. on 1-4-1807 might have been a daughter, or the widow, of John Mudd (Ada) or a daughter of Richard Mudd (Abab).

IDENTITY OF JOHN MUDD (Ada): There were only three John Mudds living at the time of the 1776/78 Constable census because John Mudd (Ad) had died in 1756 and John Mudd (Aae) had died in 1773. The three living John Mudds were: John Mudd (Ada) who was in Charles Co. (Bryantown Hundred), Md.; John Mudd (Aabb) who was in Port Tobacco Parish, Md.; and John Mudd (Aabbb) who was residing with the Norton family in St. John's and Prince Georges Parish in Md.

There were two John Mudds who signed the Patriots' List. They were John Mudd (obviously Ada) who signed at Bryantown, and "John Mudd of James" (obviously Aabb).

MIGRATIONS: John Mudd with his two sons, viz. Rhode and Thomas, formed part of one of several Catholic immigrant groups that moved into Kentucky about the year 1786.

Hon. Ben Webb reported that Thomas and Raphael R. Mudd were early settlers at Pottingers Creek, Ky. Obviously Hon. Ben Webb was referring to Thomas Mudd (Adab) and Rhodias Mudd (Adaa) because the latter two were early settlers at Pottingers Creek.

CENSUS': In the 1776/78 Constable census of Charles Co. (Bryantown Hundred), Md. John Mudd (Ada) was listed. Ref. 51, Vol. 1, p. 311.

In the 1790 census of Charles Co., Md. the only John Mudd listed was "John Mudd Jr. of James" (obviously Aabb).

Emily Teresa Rogerson (Abaab bccf) thoroughly inspected the tax records in Richmond, Va. of those countries now in Kentucky that were formed by Virginia before Kentucky was admitted to the Union. She found only one Mudd, and that one in an unusual place, viz. in the tax records of 1790 for Fayette County a John Mud was listed with two slaves, one horse, and three tithables (white).[4] This was the first instance of an early Mudd in Fayette County. The present Fayette County was formed in 1780 but formerly (up to 1798) it comprised in addition to the present Fayette County, the county of Jessamine. Emily Teresa Rogerson also examined the early Nelson County records (that were almost in threads) but found no reference to Mudds. Inasmuch as John Mudd (Aabb) was in the 1790 census of Charles Co., Md. and no other John Mudd was there, it appears probable that the John Mudd of Fayette County was John Mudd (Ada) and that the three "tithables" were himself and his two sons Rhodias and Thomas.

No Mudds were listed in the 1810, 1820, and 1830 census' of Fayette County.

PROPERTY AND TAX REPORTS: John Mudd a "batchelor" who lived "above Bryantown" paid to Trinity Parish at Hughesville (Charles Co.), Md. and to King & Queen in Charles Co., Md. a bachelor's tax of 100 lbs. of tobacco each July for the years of 1757 to 1763 inclusive, the last payment having been paid on 7-9-1763. For the years of 1761 and 1762 this John Mudd paid 300 lbs. of tobacco.[5]

The John Mudd who was recorded in the Rent Roll of 1762 was probably John Mudd (Ada) because it was in St. Catherine's Rent Roll, and, "St. Catherine's" was the property which John Mudd (Ad), father of John Mudd (Ada), had inherited.

On 8-11-1762 John Mudd deeded to his "brother" Clement Mudd for love and affection and five shillings, 60 acres of "St. Catherine's." This deed in which no wife signed was witnessed by Hanson and Jenifer.[6] The fact that no wife signed with John Mudd may indicate that he was then single.

On 6-13-1764 John Mudd of Charles Co., Md. borrowed Ł180 from Suffier Mudd (probably Adc) putting up the property known as Carnarvon where "he (John Mudd) now lives" as security. Thomas Mudd (possibly Aba) and Henry Mudd (possibly Abaa or Abb) witnessed this transaction to which John Mudd signed his name.[7] Suffier Mudd obviously sued John Mudd because in November 1779 she was continuing her case against him for the Ł180.[8] Inasmuch as John Mudd (Ad) inherited 250 acres of "Carnarvon" by Thomas Mudd (A), it would seem quite certain that the John Mudd referred to in this instrument was his (i.e. John Mudd's, Ad) son.

John Mudd (Ada) remitted quit rents on property known as "St. Catherines" (120 acres) from 1753 to 1774.[9] On 5-17-1774 John Mudd, Planter, of Charles Co., Md. sold to Clement Mudd (Adb) for the consideration of £120 sterling, all the tract of land known as "St. Catherine's" on the east side of Zachia Swamp. Witnesses to this sale were John Hawkins and Philip Briscoe.[10] It should be recalled that John Mud (Ad), father of John Mudd (Ada) and Clement Mudd (Adb), granted 60 acres of "St. Catherine's" to his son Clement Mudd (Adb) on 4-20-1754.

On 8-5-1782 "John Mudd son of John" signed the following: Witnesseth that whereas Thomas Mudd (A) did by his last will devise as follows: "I give to son John Mudd (Ad) 180 acres of land being a tract I bought of Edmund Nugent called St. Catherine's, and 250 acres of a part of a tract I bought of Joseph Pile called Carnarvon in Charles Co., said two tracts to son John (Ad) and heirs at law, and in want of said heirs male, I give it to the next male heir of the Mudds as is appointed in such case," this indenture, therefore, witnesseth that the said John Mudd (Ada), son of John Mudd (Ad), for 15000 lbs. of tobacco paid by said John Thomas Sr. sells to John Thomas Jr. the aforesaid remaining parcels of land called and known as "Carnarvon" in Charles County--all that part of said tract lying out of "Farthing Pennyworth" and not included therein, containing 120 acres.[11]

In 1783 John Mudd of the 3d dist., Chas. Co., Md., was taxed for 2 slaves, 3 horses, and 1 cow. He had no land. There were 3 white inhabitants in his household. (Possibly his wife was deceased or one son had departed.)

COURT RECORDS: On 3-12-1752 John Mudd "youngest" and George Mudd (Aaf) gave a promissory note to James Ratliff for 1200 lbs. of tobacco. This note was the basis for a court action in March 1756.[12] If the word "youngest" refers to at least three John Mudds—and we must assume that it does—then this John Mudd must be Ada because Ad and Aae were older than Ada; and, if John Mudd (Ada) were old enough to sign a note in 1752 he should then have been 21 years of ago at least in which case he would have been born by 1731. Possibly, John Mudd (Ada) was older than John Mudd (Aae) inasmuch as John Mudd (Ada) was referred to simply as "Junior" in 1754.

At the November 1754 Court, John Mudd Junior, Francis (or Frances) Bryan, and Clement Mudd (Adb) were summoned to testify for William Mudd (probably Aad) against William Carter.[13] This John Mudd Jr. undoubtedly was John Mudd (Ada) inasmuch as his brother Clement Mudd (Adb) was also involved. So, John Mudd (Ada) was known as Junior but whether or not he was referred to as "youngest" also, is not known.

In March 1760 John Fendall (apparently a merchant) sued John Mudd.[14] This John Mudd could be Ada, Aae, or Aabb.

In March 1763 John Mudd son of "John Mudd of Devils Nest" (not certain if the latter was Ad) got into difficulty with the court concerning a heifer which was said to belong to John Moreland.[15]

On 2-26-1801 in Charles Co., Md. Letters of Administration for the estate of John Mudd (Ada) dec'd. were granted to Jereboam Beauchamp of Wash. Co., Ky. and his bond with Leonard Bean and Meshack Howell, his securities, was taken in the sum of 1000 pounds current money. This record was filed in Wash. Co., Ky. (from Charles Co. Md.) on 10-19-1808.[16]

Jereboam Beauchamp, administrator of the estate of John Mudd (Ada) dec'd., complained that Henry L. Mudd (Abcb) had in his custody a negro male slave (valued at £150) named Jacob who was about 23 years of age and that said Henry L. Mudd was unjustly detaining this slave from the plaintiff (i.e. Thomas Mudd, Adab) and that the said negro was the property of the testator (i.e. John Mudd, Ada) or the plaintiff who was thereof legally possessed and seized until 9-30-1782 at which time the sheriff took the negro for debts owed and never returned said negro to the plaintiff's testator (John Mudd, Ada) or to the plaintiff (Thomas Mudd, Adab) but delivered negro to the defendant (Henry L. Mudd, Abcb). Several witnesses were summoned in March 1809 to appear in Washington Co., Ky. Circuit Court to testify in behalf of John Mudd's (Ada) administration regarding certain matters of controversy between the administrator Thomas Mudd (Adab)[17] and Henry L. Mudd (Abcb).

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: The will of William Maccomas (wife Hannah) of Baltimore Co., Md., dated 9-1-1747, refers to "my daughter Eleanor Miles." Whether or not this was the wife of Philip Miles, was not learned.

On 12-10-1780 John Mudd witnessed an inventory of the goods and chattels of Clement Mudd (Adb) dec'd.; and on 12-19-1780, when the inventory of the estate of Clement Mudd (Adb) dec'd. was made, John Mudd (Ada) and Ann Mudd signed as "kin." The latter, i.e. Ann Mudd, probably was Clement Mudd's sister.

John Mudd's (Ada) father-in-law Philip Miles died about the year 1789. On 2-10-1789 Eleanor Miles, relict and widow of Philip Miles, relinquished her right of administration to the estate of Philip Miles dec'd. Her securities were Robert Abell, Henry Miles, and Athanatius Thompson. Those designated to survey the estate were Basil Hayden, Philip Lee, Samuel Pottinger, and Samuel Willett.[18]

Henry Miles and Robert Abell, administrators of the estate of Philip Miles dec'd., granted dower to Ellanor Miles (his widow).[19]

A most valuable will (extract of) was located in the Filson Library in a book entitled "Early Kentucky Wills." It was the will of Eleanor Miles[20] which was dated 7-7-1802 and probated 1-23-1806. This Eleanor Miles devised to her daughters Audrey Vain (wife of William), Priscilla Osborne, and Sarah Montgomery; to her sons William, Barton Elexious, Joseph, and Edward Francis Elexious; to her grandsons Rhodias Elexious Mudd (Adaa) and Thomas Mudd (Adab) who were the children of her daughter Henrietta Mudd[21] and to whom (according to Item 8 of the will) "I will to my grandsons Rhodias Elexius Mudd and Thomas Mudd 5 shillings and no more because their father John Mudd received more than his wife's portion of my husband's estate when he married my daughter Henrietta." She further devised to her daughter Priscilla, her fire tongs; to her daughter Audrey, her shovel; and to her grandson Rhodias Mudd, her looking glass. She requested that her body be buried in the grave yard at Hardins Creek Settlement and she appointed as her executors son William Miles, daughter Priscilla Osborne, and son-in-law Thomas Osborne. The witnesses were John Lancaster, Mathew Cissell, and Ignatius Mattingly.

In the inventory of the estate of John Smith by Jane his wife on 2-20-1781, Jane Smith and John Mudd (probably Ada) were each listed as "creditor and kin."[22] This may indicate that the wife of John Mudd (Ad) was Suffaner Smith (Charles Co. Wills AF7, p. 649, 650)

1. This marriage of John Mudd (Ada) was found in the diary of Fr. Joseph Moseley S. J. on file at Woodstock, Md. The witnesses to the marriage were Thomas James Boarman and his wife Jean Boarman. Thomas James Boarman was the son of William Boarman II (d. 1720), son of William Boarman I (d. 1709) who was the father-in-law of Thomas Mudd (A). A sister of Thomas James Boarman, viz. Mary, married Luke Gardiner and was the mother of the Jane Gardiner who married Richard Mudd (Abab). In the settlement of the estate of Mary (Boarman) Gardiner, Thomas James Boarman was referred to as "kin." The location of this marriage is believed to be St. Thomas' Church, but this is doubtful. The archivist of the New York Province of the Society of Jesus stated that Fr. Moseley was at St. Joseph's (location unknown)
2. Also estimated to be about the year 1765. Lucian Reno Mudd (Adaba af) said that his mother told him (his grandmother having told her) that Rhode Mudd (Adaa) was older than his brother Thomas Mudd.
3. Lucian Reno Mudd (Adaba af) stated that his great-grandfather, viz. Thomas Mudd (Adab), was born in the same year in the 18th century as he, Lucian Reno Mudd, was born in the 19th century; therefore, in the year 1761.
4. The author had this entry for John Mudd (dated 3-19-1790) thoroughly inspected by Mr. Bayless Hardin of the K.S.H.S. and he agreed that the name appeared to be MUD. Mr. Hardin could find but one entry referring to John Mud although he reported that there often appeared in the record the name of MEEK which sometimes looked like MUK and could at times be taken for MUD. The name of Mud in this record was later checked by the author and the name definitely was Mud--the 'd' being formed exactly as was the final letter of the names Wood and Ward both of which were also recorded.

RHODIAS ELEXIUS ("RHODE") MUDD (ADAA) *

d c 1817
son of John Mudd and Henrietta Miles
m (possibly) (Mary) Elizabeth __________ [1]

We placed John Thomas Mudd as a son of Rhodias Elexius Mudd because he was found in the same locality as the sons of Thomas Mudd (Adab) and because he was referred to as the brother of Kitty Mudd who we believe was a daughter of Rhodias Mudd.

Obviously John Thomas Mudd was a descendant of John Mudd (Ada).[3] See the account of John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa) for further discussion regarding this.

b (possibly) James b 1780/1790[4] (cont'd)

This James Mudd could be the son of Smith Mudd (Aabf) who had a son James Martin Mudd; or, he could be the son of Walter Mudd (Aadc); or the son of the Francis Mudd (Aadd) who died about the year 1800; however, we believe that this Francis Mudd (Aadd) had only one son, viz. William (q.v.)

c (possibly) David H(enry) b Ky. 1791 (based on age 89 at death)
d Jeffersonville, Ind. 10-8-1882
m Nelson Co., Ky. 11-2-1818/9 (possibly) Marie (possibly Cantor).
Issue: (possibly)
a. Mary
b. Sarah

Mary Mudd, daughter of a David H. Mudd, was married by John Quinn in Jefferson Co., Ky. on 4-22-1841[5] to William Cowden. Curran Pope was witness for David H. Mudd the bondsman.

In the 1830 census of Clark Co., Ind. (Vol. I, 106) David H. Mudd is listed with males 5 to 10, 1; 10 to 15, 1; 30 to 40, 1; females 30 to 40, 1.

In the 1840 census of Louisville, Ky., a Henry Mudd age 40 to 50 was listed with females 15 to 20, 1; 20 to 30, 1; and 30 to 40, 1.

In the 1850 census of Louisville, Ky., a Henry Mudd, collector, age 45 (b. Ky.) was listed with Marie, 45 (b. Md.) and Sarah, 25. Apparently the daughter who was age 20 to 30 in the 1840 census was the Mary Mudd who married William Cowden.

In the 1870 census of Jefferson Co., Ind., 5th Ward (p. 499), David H. Mudd, 70, sexton (b. Ky.) was listed with Catherine, 52 (b. Ky.).

Catherine Mudd, age 78, died in Jeffersonville, Ind., 11-15-1893.

In the 1845 and 1846 Louisville, Ky. city directories a Henry Mudd was listed as a "collector" residing at 72 - 7th Street. In 1848 a David H. Mudd was a "collector" and was residing at 283 Grayson Street between 8th and 9th Streets in Louisville.

On 12-31-1821 a Henry Mudd and John Brite were parties in a trespass suit (Old Common Law Case #15814, Louisville, Ky.). The identity of this Henry Mudd was not indicated.

In 1843 Daly & Dwyer, merchants in Louisville, Ky., brought suit against William Cowden and Henry Mudd for $88.26 (Old Circuit Court Case #35625). The association here of William Cowden and Henry Mudd, and the marriage of William Cowden to a daughter of David H. Mudd seems to indicate that David H. Mudd was also referred to as Henry Mudd or that they were brothers.

On 2-8-1859 David H. Mudd of Lee Co., Iowa[6] appointed John Davis of Spencer Co., Ky., as his attorney.[7] The fact that William Hilary Mudd (Adabd b) moved to Anamosa, Iowa lends additional suspicion to the relationship of David H. Mudd to the Ada line. We checked the Lee Co., Iowa, records at Ft. Madison and at Keokuk but found no reference to Mudds.

David H. Mudd must have been a brother of John Thomas Mudd (Abaaa) because relationship was indicated in a deed[8] wherein David H. Mudd of Iowa and James E. Mudd (i.e. son of John Thomas Mudd, Adaaa) sold Lot #22 in Taylorsville, Ky. to William P. Clarke and Johnathon Davis.

A Henry Mudd was taxed in 1820 and 1821 in Jefferson Co., Ky. He was "without possessions."

d (possibly) Kitty m 9-6-1824 to Leonard Ally

POSSIBLE ISSUE: The Rebecca Mudd who was married by Joseph Ferguson in Nelson Co., Ky. on 1-6-1820 to Edward D. Marr may have been a daughter of Rhodias Mudd. Helen Mudd (b. 1795) who married David Higgins in Ky. may have been a daughter of Adaa. (see unplaced group #5). Elizabeth Mudd who married Thomas Spence in Wash. Co., Ky. was also a possible issue. Nancy Mudd who married in Wash. Co., Ky., 2-18-1813 to John Hoskins could also be a daughter of Rhodias Mudd.

MIGRATIONS: Lucian Reno Mudd (Adaba af) said that his mother told him (his grandmother having told her) that Rhode Mudd and Thomas Mudd with their father went to Kentucky soon after the Revolution.

Thomas Mudd and Raphael R. Mudd were said to be among the twenty-five families to league together and migrate to Kentucky in 1795 and to be early settlers at Pottingers Creek, Ky., near the village of Boston.[10] [11] [12] Hon. Ben Webb reported that Raphael Mudd and Thomas Mudd settled at Cartwrights Creek, Ky. but undoubtedly these two Mudds were also Rhodias and his brother Thomas (sons of John, Ada).

Rhode Mudd (it is said) left Kentucky and settled in Lincoln Co., Mo. about the year 1816. We found no proof of this other than the story that he, or his family, moved to Lincoln Co., Mo. which is somewhat corroborated in the history of St. Paul Parish in N.E. Mo.[13] According to the history of St. Paul Parish, a band of Catholics left Kentucky and Virginia in 1812 and after having spent the winter at Cohokia, Ill. they travelled north to the present St. Paul Parish area.

For a time it looked as though we had located the family of Rhodias Mudd (Adaa) in Floyd Co., Ky. This belief was based on the following:

(a) A record in Floyd Co., Ky. referred to a Lucinda Mud, daughter of Thomas Mud and Elizabeth Hall, as having been born at Beaver Creek, Ky. on 4-5-1857. The names of Lucinda Mud and Thomas Mud were found to be the correct names but the marriage license of Thomas Mead to Elizabeth Hall records the husband's name as Mead, Meed, or possibly as Mad in the three locations in the marriage license.

(b) A record in Floyd Co., Ky. referred to a Samuel Mud,[14] son of Rhods Mudd and Emerigo Elkins, as having been born at Sandy, Ky. on 10-10-1857. And, a record dated 6-6-1837 which referred to a Robert Mud who was granted 100 acres of land in Floyd Co., Ky. which was adjacent to land surveyed for a Rodes (or Rodie) Mud. In these two references the name of Mud was checked by the county clerk who read the name as Mead and on final checking of the original records at the Kentucky State Historical Society it was concluded that Samuel G. Meed and Rhods Meed were the correct names.

CENSUS': In the 1810 census of Nelson Co., Ky. an R. E. Mudd[15] was listed with males under 10, 1; 10 to 16, 1; 16 to 26, 1; over 45, 1; females under 10, 3; 10 to 16, 1; and over 45, 1. On either side of R. E. Mudd in this census there were listed the families of John B. Monarch and James Moore. It appears quite definite that the R. E. Mudd of this census was Rhodias Mudd (Adaa) because he was the only Mudd in Nelson Co., Ky. in 1810 whereas in the 1820 census of the same county there were listed Thomas Mudd who has been identified as John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa) who married Nancy Queen; and Elizabeth Mudd (possibly the mother of John Thomas Mudd, Adaaa) who was listed with females 10 to 16, 1; 16 to 26, 2; and over 45, 1. Obviously all the Mudds mentioned herein were of the same family.

A Samuel Mud listed in the 1830 census of Gallatin Co., Ky. (page 159) was found. Although there is no indication what-so-ever that he was the son of Rhodias Mudd (Adaa), the fact that Gallatin County was formed from Franklin and Shelby[16] Counties in 1798 lends a faint suspicion that this Samuel Mud might have been related to the family of Rhodias Mudd (Adaa). He, i.e. Samuel Mud, was listed with males under 5, 1; 5 to 10, 4; 10 to 15, 1; 15 to 20, 2; 30 to 40, 2; 40 to 50, 1; females under 5, 1; 5 to 10, 2; 10 to 15, 2; 15 to 20, 1; and 30 to 40, 1. A careful check on this, however, led to the conclusion this name was Samuel Meed and not Mud.

No Mudds were found in the Gallatin Co., Ky. census' for the years of 1810, 1820, 1840, 1850, or 1860.

TAX RECORDS: We found no mention of Rhodias Mudd in Maryland but we did find him as a tax payer at a very early date in the following Kentucky counties:

NELSON COUNTY: In 1795 as Rhode; in 1796 and 1797 as Rodias; in 1809 as Rhodius when he was taxed for males over 21, 1 (obviously himself) and 4 horses; in 1811[17] as Rhodias E. when he was taxed for males over 21, 1 (obviously himself) and 4 horses; in 1812 as E. Rodias in Halbert's Company; in 1813 as E. Rodias in Halbert's Company when he was taxed for males over 21, 1 (obviously himself) and 2 horses; in 1814 as Rodias E.; in 1815 as Redias in Bott's Company; in 1816 as Rodias E. in Hubbard's Company; and in 1817 as E. Rodias.

SHELBY COUNTY: In 1805[17] as Rodias when he was taxed for 1 horse; and in 1806 and 1807[17] as E. Rodias when he was taxed for 1 horse.

BULLITT COUNTY: In 1809 as Electius when he was taxed for males over 21, 1 (obviously himself).

FOOTNOTES

1. The Catholic Advocate of Louisville, Ky. dated 6-10-1848 (p. 159) referred to the death of a Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Mudd, 88 years of age, in Nelson Co., Ky. on 5-29-1848. She was referred to as one of the oldest settlers of Kentucky to which she came with her husband from Maryland in 1794, and as having left a large family of children and grand-children. Lucian Reno Mudd (Adaba af) said that his mother told him (his grandmother having told her) that Rhode Mudd (Adaa) was a widower when he came to Ky.
2. Inasmuch as Thomas Mudd (Adaaa ab) was named in honor of his grandfather John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa), Mrs. Herrman (Adaaa ae) suspected that John Thomas Mudd's name was just Thomas Mudd.
3. See 1810 and 1820 census' for Nelson Co., Ky.
4. The family bible (see file of Adaab) records 1790 as birth year.
5. This was the date of license, bond, and marriage.
6. Lee County has two county seats, viz. Ft. Madison and Keokuk. No Mudd records were found at Ft. Madison between the years 1820 to 1850 and the records at Keokuk have not been checked.
7. Deed Bk. K, p. 614, Spencer Co., Ky.
8. Deed Bk. K, p. 615, Spencer Co., Ky.
9. This was the date of the bond.
10. Pottingers Creek is now the west portion of Marion Co., Ky.
11. Ref. 65, ps. 27 and 28.
12. See account of Raphael Mudd (Abce).
13. See account of William Mudd (Aadda).
14. Also see reference to a Samuel Mud listed in this account under "Census."
15. Also copied as R. C. Mudd but R. E. Mudd is correct.
16. Rhodias Mudd (Adaa) at one time was resident in Shelby Co. (see this account under "Tax Records").
17. Listed next to Thomas Mudd (probably brother).
18. 1801 records missing.

Henry Mudd resided in Balltown, Ky. and at one time he visited Charles Berry Mudd Jr. (Adaaa fc).

Mrs. Herrman (Adaaa ae) reported that after the death of her father James Alexis Mudd (Adaaa a) in 1900, her uncle Henry Mudd (Adaaa d) came to live with them (i.e. the Herrmans) where he remained until 1905 when they sold their farm. She also said that they heard no more of Henry Mudd until 1910 at which time he returned and was taken to the Little Sisters of the Poor; that after having been there four months he died.

e Richard b (probably) Nelson Co., Ky. c 1830
m (probably) Ann M. Conner (b. Nelson Co., Ky.)
Issue
a. Mary S.[8] b. Spencer Co., Ky. 9-14-1861

In the 1868/9 Louisville, Ky., city directories Richard Mudd was listed as a carpenter residing at 312 - 5th St., between Chestnut and Broadway; as a wagon-maker for the Louisville Transit Co., West side, 5th St., between Chestnut and Broadway. The carpenter and wagon-maker probably refer to Adaaae because he was listed as a wagon-maker in the 1850 census. These two appear to be the same person. There was another Richard Mudd, plasterer, boarding at 216 W. Jefferson. This latter Richard may have been Ababab and/or his son.

In the 1873 Louisville, Ky. city directory Richard Mudd was listed as a bus-builder with the L. T. Co., 400 8th St. The Richard Mudd, plasterer, was also in the 1873 directory.

In the 1875 Louisville, Ky., city directory Richard Mudd was listed as a bus-builder with the L. T. Co., 400 N. 8th St.

A Richard Mudd was married by A. W. Waller, J. P. in Louisville, Ky. on 11-2-1867 to Frances Ellen Woodward. The witnesses to this marriage were Nancy Woodward and Annie Neeb.

On 12-4-1863 Richard Mudd and his wife Ann sold to Rosanna Kerrick and heirs Lot #3 in Taylorsville, Ky.[10]

It should be noted that a Captain Conner was the commanding officer of the company in which Thomas H. Mudd (Adabg), first cousin (once removed) of Richard Mudd (Adaaa e), served.

f Charles Berry ("Charlie") b 1831[11] (cont'd) g Hite unm

Hite Mudd was a student at St. Joseph's College in Bardstown, Ky.

See appraisal of the estate of Hite Mudd in which Henry Mudd (Adaaa d) was referred to as administrator.[12]

h Helen b 1820

i Elizabeth Frances b 4-23-1836[13]

j Martha (probably Martha Ann) b 1840

We were told Martha never married, but Mrs. Joseph J. Herrman states she (Martha) married a William Holthouser and had two children; Russ, who died c 1941, and Mrs. Josie Head, who resided (1946) at 1452 Garland Ave., Louisville, Ky.

James Alexis Mudd (Adaaa a) and Charles Berry Mudd (Adaaa f) married sisters.

The Meletus Mudd (b. 1825) whose estate was administered by Henry Mudd (probably Adaaa d)[14] was probably a son of John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa). This Meletus Mudd was a student at St. Joseph's College in Bardstown, Ky. in 1840/41 and this tends to indicate that he was the son of John Thomas Mudd because the latter's two sons, Hite Mudd and Raymond Mudd, attended St. Joseph's College at this same time. The Milton Mudd in the 1860 census of Nelson Co. is probably Meletus Mudd. Mrs. Joseph J. Herrman wrote that her father had no brother named Milton but see 1850 census below.

IDENTITY: James Edward Mudd (Adaaa aa) reported that his grandfather John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa) had no sisters or brother. He doubly underlined the "no sister or brother." We have not determined with certainty the parentage of John Thomas Mudd and we find it possible that he may have been the son of Richard Mudd (Abab) or Walter Mudd (Aadc).

According to the 1790 census, Richard Mudd (Abab) had one son, but by the same standard he appeared to have two daughters.

For the following reasons we believed it possible that John Thomas Mudd was the son of Walter Mudd (Aadc): (a) The fact that the family name of "Berry" was carried through from John Thomas Mudd's (Adaaa) family which indicates association with Walter Mudd (Aadc) and his brother Richard Mudd (Aada) because they both married into the Berry family. (b) The fact that John Thomas Mudd named one of his children James Alexis (i.e. Adaaa a) possibly in honor of Richard Mudd's (Aada) son Alexius Mudd (Aadaa). (c) The fact that the family lines of Walter Mudd (Aadc) and John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa) were quite noted for their education, e.g. Jerome Mudd, son of Walter Mudd (aadc), was educated at Georgetown, D.C. and several of John Thomas Mudd's sons were educated at St. Joseph's College in Bardstown, Ky.

The fact that "Wickham" is used as a name in this family[15] gives us a lead as to the identity of John Thomas Mudd. It is noted that Peter Wickham was a resident in Bardstown, Ky. with James Green, Joseph Queen, Harry Wathen, Ambrose and Thomas Aud, ________ Blandford, Charles Coomes, ________ Higdon, F. X. McAtee and other families who were associated with the families of Nicholas Mudd (Ababc) and John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa) who married Ann Queen. The Haydens were found there in goodly numbers. This tends to closely ally the families of Luke Mudd (Abac), whose son Francis (Abaca) married Mildred Hayden, Nicholas Mudd (Ababc), and John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa).[16]

Mrs. Joseph J. Herrman (Adaaa ae) wrote that her grandfather John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa) ran a boat to New Orleans. She could not recall whether or not her grandfather's parents had ever been in Kentucky.

The Thomas Mudd who was in the War of 1812 (from Ky.) may have been either John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa) or Thomas P. Mudd (Abacb).

A John Mudd (unplaced) joined the service in St. Louis in the War of 1812 on 3-18-1816 as a substitute for Alex Hopkins. He served two years and 55 days until 5-18-1818. It is possible or even probable that this was Adaaa. John's presence in St. Louis might be explained by the residence of his cousins (see Adaba) in Randolph Co., Ill., whom we can guess he would visit. The period of service, 2 years and 55 days, would be just about the interval between his enlistment and his marriage on 5-26-1818. See also Abaaf and Aabbaa.

CENSUS’: In the 1820 census of Nelson Co., Ky. (p. 29) Thomas Mudd was listed with males 26 to 45, 1; females under 10, 1; and 16 to 26, 1. Listed on either side of Thomas Mudd in this census were the families of Jacob V. Decker and Nathan Coleman. Also listed in this same census was an Elizabeth Mudd who was possibly the mother of John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa), and listed on either side of Elizabeth Mudd were Samuel Weller and Edward Demare. The finding of an R. E. Mudd in the 1810 Nelson Co., Ky. census leads to suspicion that he was the father of John Thomas Mudd.

In the 1830 census of Nelson Co., Ky. (p. 225?) John T. Mudd was listed with males under 5, 3; 5 to 10, 2; 30 to 40, 1; females 10 to 15, 1; 20 to 30, 1; and 60 to 70, 1. Listed on either side of John T. Mudd in this census were the families of John Blandford and Elizabeth Queen. This Elizabeth Queen whose age was listed as 50 to 60 was possibly the widow of James Queen.

In the 1840 census of Nelson Co., Ky. (p. 12) John T. Mudd was listed with males under 5, 1; 5 to 10, 2; 10 to 15, 3; 15 to 20, 2; 40 to 50, 1; females under 5, 1; 20 to 30, 1; 40 to 50, 1; and 80 to 90, 1. Listed on one side of John T. Mudd in this census was the family of James Warren and listed three pages further was Matthew Mudd (Ababc b).

In the 1850 census of Nelson Co., Ky. John T. Mudd age 56 (b. Md.) was listed with Ann, 50; Helen, 29; James, wagon-maker, 28; John, farmer, 23; Henry, farmer, 21; and Martha, 10. Also listed were Raymond Mudd, blacksmith, 26; Richard, wagon-maker, 20; and Charles, blacksmith, 18. And, also listed was Joseph Queen age 47, blacksmith with $5600 valuation, with Milletus Mudd, blacksmith, 25; and Thomas Gibson, wagon-maker, 46. All mentioned herein (with exception of John T. Mudd) were born in Kentucky.

In the 1860 census of Nelson Co., Ky. (1st Dist., p. 160) Thomas Mudd age 67 (b. Md.) with property valued at 7000 and personal property valued at $1800 was listed with Ann, 60 (b. Ky.); Milton, 35 (b. Ky.) John, 33; Henry, 30; and Martha, 20.

In the 1870 census of Nelson Co., Ky. (precinct #7) Ann Mudd age 70 (b. Ky.) with $1000 valuation was listed with Melitus, blacksmith, 45; Martha, 28; John, wagon-maker, 26; William, 24; Mary 22; Julia, 20; George, 18; and 2 negroes named Mudd, viz. Clarecy age 30 and child. The identity of William, Mary, Julia, and George is undetermined. They may be children of Richard Mudd (Adaaa e) or of some other son of John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa). On 6-3-1885 Marian Catharine Mudd was born to George Mudd and Mary Riney. She was baptized at Bardstown on 7-16-1885. Possibly this is the same George Mudd as the one in the 1870 census report. It is noteworthy that a George Mudd was a slave of John Raymond Mudd (Adaaa b).

In the 1880 census of Nelson Co., Ky., p. 171, Ann Mudd (b. Ky.) parents b. Md., 81 was listed with Melitus, son, 55, blacksmith (b. Ky.), f. b. Md., m. b. Ky.; Henry, 52, son carpenter, b. Ky. f. b. Md., m. b. Ky., and Liz Osborn, 16, (b. Ky.) parents b. Ky., relationship not stated.

TAX RECORDS: In 1820 Thomas Mudd (probably Adaaa) was a tax payer in Nelson Co., Ky. (see account of Thomas Mudd, Adab). He was taxed for himself, being over 21, and one horse.

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: Mrs. Herman (Adaaa ae) reported that her grandmother Nancy Mudd made her will in Nelson Co., Ky., in 1877 and that the only heirs mentioned therein were Henry Mudd (Adaaa d) and Martha Mudd (Adaaaj).

QUEEN FAMILY: Nancy Queen, wife of John Thomas Mudd, was the ninth child born to Elizabeth Boone (of probably Nicholas Boone and Jean or Jane Gardiner of John Gardiner) and James Queen[4] of Richard Queen, of Mary Jameson and Marsham Queen of Samuel Queen and Katherine Marsham).

James Queen was born in Prince Georges Co., Md., about the year of 1750 and he died in Nelson Co., Ky., in 1818. His will made 3-1-1818, prob 7-20-1818 is recorded in Will Book D, p. 37. Nelson Co., Ky. He migrated to Kentucky with a group of relatives in the year of 1785 and was at Pottingers Creek Settlement with Raphael R. Mudd (probably Rhodias Mudd, Adaa) and Thomas Mudd (Adab). He settled in the vicinity of Bardstown, Ky.

Several of James Queen’s children married into the Hayden family. His first son Richard Queen married Elizabeth Hayden; his fifth child William Queen married Susanna Hayden; and his daughter Catherine Queen also married a Hayden.[17] This led us to believe that the Francis Mudd of Kentucky who married Mrs. Hayden on 5-1-1797, was possibly the brother of John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa), a belief that we discarded as time went on. The above Francis Mudd was probably a son of Luke Mudd (Abac).

At one time James Alexis Mudd resided in Balltown, Ky.

On 1-8-1859 James E. There was a William Mudd in the 1870 census of Ann Mudd, mother of James Alexis Mudd. Mrs. Herrman states her father James Alexis Mudd was never a painter. A Christine Mudd was confirmed at Nazareth Chapel on 5-1-1842. This Christine Mudd may have been the daughter of John Raymond Mudd (Adaaa b).

A Mary Mudd, daughter of James Mudd and Mary Weathers, was born in Bardstown, Ky. on 5-3-1835. The fact that the Mudds inter-married with the Weathers tends to indicate close relationship between the James Mudd mentioned herein and John Raymond Mudd (Adaaa b).[12]

John Raymond Mudd was a student at St. Joseph's College in Bardstown, Ky. in 1838-39, 1840-41, and 1845-46.[13]

At one time John Raymond Mudd resided in Balltown, Ky., and, it is said, that he lived in Marion Co., Ky. for some time.

It was reported that John Raymond Mudd was tall and thin; and that when his niece Betty Bellew, daughter of Charles Berry Mudd (Adaaa f), was ill, John Raymond Mudd visited her.

In 1852 John R. Mudd sold property to Hillary Dugan.[14] In 1856 John R. Mudd and wife sold property to George W. Mudd.[15] Also, J. R. Mudd and wife sold property to E. J. Moore.[16]

Captola Eugene Riney in 1941 resided at Bremerton, Wash.

Margaret Riney married a Mattingly.

Pearl Riney married a Hayden. Two issues of this marriage were (probably) Edward Hayden who in 1941 resided at Evansville, Ind.; and Patsy Hayden who married Union Fay Fortune. The latter in 1947 resided in Saginaw, Mich.

Mildred Mudd (Adaaa fd) at one time lived on the 1700 block of 5th Street in Owensboro, Ky.

Issue:[15]
1. Benedict b. West Louisville, Ky. 10-14-1881

Benedict Hardesty in 1941 resided in Owensboro, Ky.

Samuel Emlis Bellew was nic-named "Morgan" for Gen. Morgan, a horse thief, because he (i.e. Samuel Emlis Bellew) used to ride all the horses away when his parents had visitors.

Charles Berry Mudd's trade was that of a blacksmith.

On 9-29-1858 Charles Mudd and his wife Margaret of Nelson Co., Ky. sold their interest in Lot 44 at Taylorsville, Ky. to John R. Mudd (obviously, Adaaa b) of Spencer Co., Ky.[16]

The many land records in Daviess Co., Ky., dated 1880 and later, which referred to this family were inspected but they revealed no additional genealogical information.

In the 1860 census of Nelson Co., Ky. (p. 173) Charles Mudd, blacksmith, age 28 was listed with Mary, 28; Mary (probably Adaaa fd), 5; James, 3; and Martha, 1.

FOOTNOTES

1. Charles Berry Mudd died at the home of his daughter Mattie May.
2. This marriage is recorded in Spencer and Nelson Cos., Ky.
3. Her maiden name was also spelled "Leffler," "Leflor," and "Lofter," but "Lefler" is correct. Floyd Mudd (Adaaa fbc) reported that he believed her middle name was Elizabeth instead of Ellen.
4. See Ref. 121. Mrs. Allen (Adaaa fae) reported the birth year of 1855. James Thomas Mudd was baptized at St. Rose Priory nr. Springfield, Ky. and on the baptismal record his date of birth (as copied) was 3-3-1857 and his mother's name (as copied) was Catharine O. Lefler. In regard to Catharine O. Lefler being the mother of James Thomas Mudd (Adaaa fa) this may have been an error on the record, or, perhaps Charles Berry Mudd (Adaaa f) married twice.
5. In the official records he was referred to as William Henry, son of Charles Mudd and Ellen (also copied Margaret) Lefler.
6. The author copied from the baptismal record the birth date of 3-4-1861 and the sponsor as Martha Mudd (probably Adaaa j). It was also reported that William Henry Mudd, son of Charles Mudd and Ellen Lefler, was born on 3-4-1862.
7. It is said that Charles Berry Mudd Jr. was a twin.
8. Copied from the death record that "Charles V. Mudd, son of Charles Mudd and Margaret Lofter, born 1867."
9. In the marriage record the wife of Henry Riney was recorded as (copied) E. Mudd. Possibly her middle name began with E.
10. Ref. 208 refers to a Mary E. Mudd (b. Spencer Co., Ky. 8-11-1855), daughter of Charles Mudd and Margaret Lefler. Also, a record at St. Thomas' Church near Bardstown, Ky. refers to a Mary Ellen Mudd, dau of Charles Mudd and wife Margaret Ellen, as being baptized on 12-8-1855 at the age of 4 months; godmother being Martha Ann Mudd (probably Adaaa j).
11. Baptized in Bardstown, Ky. on 5-20-1859. 5-20-1860 also given.
12. Richard May died soon after his wife.
13. Probably her name was Ann Elizabeth. A record at St. Thomas' Church near Bardstown, Ky. refers to the baptism on 6-14-x- of an Ann Elizabeth Mudd, dau of Charles Mudd and Margaret Ellen Levler, who was born on 11-7-1863; baptismal sponsor was Margaret Ellen Woods.
14. The day of death was about the 24th.
15. There was no issue by the second marriage and Benedict was the only issue by the 1st marriage.

A Kentucky state record refers to a Lois Ruth Mudd who was born in Daviess Co., Ky. and who was the daughter of Mary C. Clements. We believed that this Lois Ruth Mudd was another daughter of Charles William Mudd but the latter's mother said that her son Charles William Mudd had no such daughter.

In 1942 Paul Richard Mudd and his brother Douglas Raphael Mudd were associated with the Brown Hotel in Louisville, Ky.

One of the sons of Charles William Mudd and Mary Christine Clements was in the U.S. Army during World War 2. This son was stationed in England in December 1943.

Charles William Mudd Sr. served eleven months in the U.S. Army during World War 1. He served as a Private in Co. A, 125th Infantry.

His trade is that of a blacksmith.

Sr. M. Thomasine Mudd stated that Marie Thomasine Mudd (b. 6-28-1931) was named Lois Ruth at birth, but her father, Charles William Mudd, decided to rename her Marie Thomasine.

IDENTITY: One clue we have in connecting James Mudd to the family line we give him, is the fact that James Mudd's son William Swearingen Mudd was sent back to St. Joseph's College in Bardstown, Ky., for his education where the sons of John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa) were being educated. The probable date of birth and date of marriage agree with what it should be were James Mudd a brother of John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa) who we suspect was a son of Rhodias Elexius Mudd (Adaa).

The children of Susan Swearingen Mudd (Adaab d) stated that their mother used to say that her father (i.e. James Mudd, Adaab) was English. No other indication as to the origin of James Mudd (Adaab) was obtained.

Wm. Aubrey Mudd (Adbb aeb) stated that he heard his mother say that the James Mudd who went to Alabama was related to his great grandfather (meaning Leonard Mudd, Adbb). This may indicate only that James Mudd of Alabama was of the AD line, which appears to be true.

It should be noted that the parentage of James Mudd (Adaab) is uncertain. Shortly before the book went to press we found in the Frederick Co., Md. records a Court case entitled George Weaver vs. John Thomas. In this case Capt. Van Swearingen and Luke Mudd were referred to. This tie-up of Van Swearingen and Luke Mudd makes one suspect that James Mudd might have been a son of Luke Mudd. All other indications are that he was son of Rhodias E. Mudd.

MIGRATIONS: Florence Earle Jordan (Adaab ag) wrote in 1920 that James Mudd moved to Alabama from Jefferson Co., Ky.

In 1817 James Mudd with his wife, two sons, and two daughters migrated from Kentucky to Alabama. They moved first to Madison Co., Ala.; then to Lawrence Co. (some say Lauderdale Co.), Ala.; and finally in 1831[12] to Elyton (Jefferson Co.), Ala.[13] [14]

PERSONAL HISTORY: James Mudd was an excellent saddler. He was a small man with clear-cut features, indicating great intelligence. He was a Clay Whig, at a time when there were but few in Courtland, and the Jackson men, being in great majority, were naturally imperious. But woe be to the Jackson man who attacked the Whig saddler, for James Mudd was so witty that he was very apt to come out second best, and somewhat scarified.[15]

James Mudd's obituary was found in the Southern Advocate, Huntsville, Ala. 2-26-1847. It stated that James Mudd died in the 57th year at his residence in Elyton, Ala., 2-13-1847; that he was born in Md., and in early life removed to Ky. where he married, from thence to North Ala., and in 1829 settled in Elyton. This is the only definite statement located to the effect that James Mudd was born in Md.

CENSUS': In the 1830 census of Lawrence Co., Ala. (p. 189) James Mudd was listed with males 5 to 10, 1; 10 to 15, 2; 15 to 20, 2; 40 to 50, 1; females 5 to 10, 1; 10 to 15, 1; and 30 to 40, 1.

In the 1840 census of Jefferson Co., Ala. (p. 184) James Mudd was listed with males less than 5, 1; 15 to 20, 1; 20 to 30, 4; 50 to 60, 1; females 20 to 30, 1; and 40 to 50, 1.

PROPERTY: On 9-23-1815 a William White and his wife Sarah sold to James Mudd of Jefferson Co., Ky. a Lot #42 in Middletown (Jefferson Co.), Ky. for $40.[16]

On 9-15-1818 Minor White, a collector of taxes, sold to James Mudd and Hiram C. Bennett a Lot #64 in Middletown (Jefferson Co.), Ky.[17] Note that Frances Catharine Mudd (Adaaa bg) married J. H. Bennett.

On 7-24-1824 the county sheriff sold to Sallie Mudd wife of James Mudd, Kitty (or Catherine) Lackland wife of Alfred Lackland,[18] Louisa Frederick[19] wife of Samuel Frederick, Damoras Pinkham wife of David C. Pinkham, Elvira America Swearingen, Richard Small Swearingen, and Algernon Signey Swearingen; said persons being children heirs and distributees of Abijah Swearingen deceased, 72 acres on Fish Pond Creek in Jefferson Co., Ky.[20]

The only other Mudd found in the early Jefferson Co., Ky. land records was a William B. Mudd who was first found on 7-7-1838. Whether he was related to James Mudd or not is unknown, but probably he was William Berry Mudd (Aadae) or William Mudd (Aadba).

Apparently James Mudd and his wife resided for a short period in Huntsville (Madison Co.), because in 1822 a Stephen Neal conveyed to James Mudd a house and lot on Williams Street in Huntsville, Ala. and in 1824 James Mudd and his wife Sarah conveyed it to others. This deed appears to have been executed in Moulton (Lawrence Co.), Ala. The 1860 and 1870 census' for Madison County and the town of Huntsville, Ala. were checked but no Mudds were listed.

On 10-2-1832 James Mudd purchased U.S. Land (Sec. 14, T. 15, R. 5W) at Tuscaloosa, Ala.

James Mudd bought and sold several pieces of land in Tuscaloosa and Jefferson Counties, Ala., from 1835 to 1845. These sales contained no genealogical data. After 1847 several sales were made by William S. Mudd (his son), executor of his estate.

COURT RECORDS: On 11-5-1811 Langston Bacon brought suit against James Mudd in Louisville, Ky. on a note.[21]

On 4-12-1816 Frances Field filed a claim against James Mudd who she claimed won $48 from Abraham Field in a "game" which was declared illegal on 2-12-1798. There was no judgment.[22]

On 10-12-1818 (#12429) and on 1-26-1821 (#15100) James Mudd and Henry Churchill were parties to suits in Louisville, Ky. No genealogical information was contained therein.

On 10-17-1826 John Joyes brought suit against the Swearingen heirs.[23] No genealogical information was contained therein.

James Mudd (possibly Adaab) was the defendant in three other cases in Chancery Court in 1826, 1827, and 1829. The plaintiffs were Mary Funk, Richard Small, and Matthew M. Tower. Sally Mudd was co-defendant in two of these cases, viz. those of Mary Funk and Matthew M. Tower.

In 1833 James and Sarah Mudd were defendants in a Louisville Chancery Court action, the plaintiff being Benoni Lackland (case # 921).

TAX RECORDS: Jefferson Co., Ky.: In 1813 James Mudd, 1 horse, member of Querys Co., in Buckner's Regt. for War of 1812. In 1814 James Mudd, 2 horses. (1815 and 1816 book missing.) In 1817 James Mudd, 2 horses, 2 town lots.

James Mudd's will was made Jan. 2, 1846 and probated 2-20-1847 is recorded in Birmingham, Ala. Bk. 1844-54, p. 305. It provides no new genealogical data. The witnesses were J. Bagley, H. Morrow Jr., and M. Kelly. The records of these three witnesses were studied and it appears they had no relation to James Mudd other thanlthat of neighbors (see letter in file).

Abijah Swearingen was born nr. Hagerstown, Md. and was son of Lt. Col. Charles Swearingen and Susannah Stull (not Steele as occassionally stated). Abijah Swearingen moved to Louisville, Ky. about 1796 and died there in 1824, leaving daughters (not named) and sons Richard Small, Charles Stull, who resided in San Felipe, Texas, Algeron Sidney and Edward who lived in St. Louis. (From the Family Historical Register, compiled by a member of the family C. W. Brown, printer and publisher 1884) and Family Register of Gerret Van Swearingen and Descendants compiled by a member of the family, 2d Ed. 1894.

Lt. Col. Chas. Swearingen born about 1733 was son of "Maryland" Van Swearingen and Elizabeth Walker. In 1767, Chas. Swearingen resided on Conegocheague Manor, Frederick Co., Md. In 1790 Charles Swearingen deposed that he was 57 years old.

Van Swearingen was the son of Thomas Swearingen son of Garrett Van Swearingen immigrant from Holland. Elizabeth Walker was the daughter of Charles Walker and Rebecca Isacke daughter of Joseph Isacke. Susannah Stull was daughter of Jolin Stull and Martha ________ (Much of above was submitted by Kenyon Stevenson, Hudson, Ohio.)

Henry Churchill sold land to Abijah Swearingen and James Earickson in Jefferson Co., Ky. (Deed Bk. 5, p. 88 date not obtained). Whether James Earickson was related to Abijah Swearingen or not, we could not determine.

25. Clara William Mudd Cox (see William Joseph Mudd, Ababceda) wrote that Mrs. Hill Ferguson was related to her. Mrs. Hill Ferguson does not know of a relationship to Clara William Mudd Cox, though Clara W. M. Cox apparently lived in Birmingham in 1922.

It is also believed she died at the age of 21. We could find no grave stone for her.

William Swearingen Mudd with his parents migrated from Kentucky to Madison Co., Ala.; later to Lawrence Co., Ala.; and finally in 1831 to Elyton, Ala. He returned to Kentucky where he attended St. Joseph's College in Bardstown for the years 1836/37.

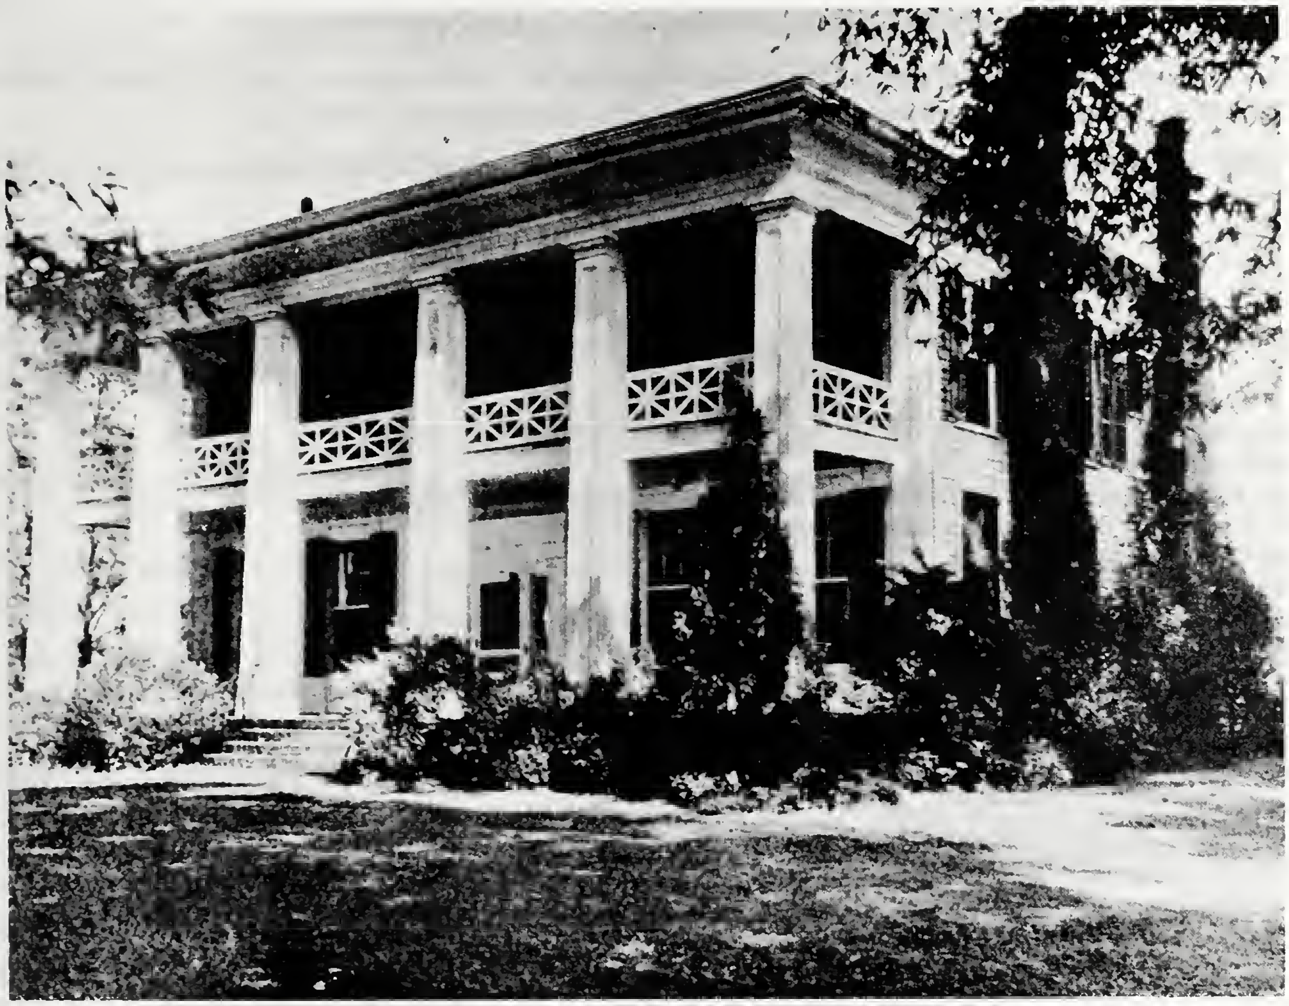
In the 1850 census of Jefferson Co., Ala., Elyton Beat (p. 226) William S. Mudd, lawyer, age 33 (b. Ky.) was listed with Florence, 26; Harriet L., 7; Sarah E., 5; Florence E., 3; Virginia T., 2; and William L., 3/12. (All but Wm. S. born Ala.)

After arriving in Elyton, Ala. in 1831 William Swearingen Mudd began reading law under Walter K. Baylor.[9] In 1836/37 W. S. Mudd of Elyton, Ala. had an A.B. degree conferred on him at St. Joseph's College in Bardstown, Ky. where his name is to be found in the premium lists for many subjects.[10] The records show that in 1840/41 Hite Mudd (Adaaa g), Raymond Mudd (Adaaa b), and Meletus Mudd (probably Hite and Raymond Mudd's brother) and in 1850 Richard Mudd (Adaaa e) were also students at St. Joseph's College.

William Swearingen Mudd was admitted to the bar in 1839 and to the Alabama Legislature for the sessions 1843 to 1848 inclusive; was appointed Solicitor in 1847 in which capacity he served for eight years; Circuit Court judge in Alabama (which comprised a large part of Southern Alabama) in 1857;[11] and until 1883 he remained on the bench but at that time ill health compelled him to resign. "It is safe to say Alabama never had a sounder lawyer or a more accurate circuit judge than Wm. S. Mudd." "He was perhaps the best poised man the writer ever knew. He was sound, safe, logical, deep, and practical. His conduct was always exemplary and his disposition amiable. If given 24 hours to investigate a case his opinion was almost infallible."[12]

Besides being a judge, William S. Mudd was also a merchant and in connection therewith carried on a private banking business.

He was a Whig, and since his constituents were Democrats, he needed an unblemished reputation. This he had. In 1851 he was canidate for Congress on the Compromise Party but lost to Sampson W. Harris.



"Arlington," the oldest residence in Birmingham, Alabama, built by Judge William Swearingen Mudd about 1842.
(From "Historic Houses of Alabama and their Traditions")

He was a Union man prior to the Civil War but when the war began, he espoused the South (Ref. 171).

In the records of the War of Rebellion (Series I, Vol. 49, Pt. 1) reference was made to Judge Mudd. From Hqtrs 1st Brig., Cavalry Corps, Mil. Dist. of Miss., Macon, Ga. May 1865 Brig. General U.S. Vols John T. Croxton, reported as follows: "Reporting to the Brevet-general commanding in person for instructions he directed me in case I found it impracticable after executing my mission at Tuscaloosa, to destroy the railroad between Selma and Demopolis. From Judge Mudd at Elyton, I learned that he (Lyon) had left Tuscaloosa on the 28th; that Lyon's Brigade was expected there; that there were no troops there except cadets and militia and none between that point and Elyton."

On 7-15-1948, the members of the Birmingham, Ala., Historical Society presented a pageant concerning the Civil War on the lawn of the home of Mr. & Mrs. Alex C. Montgomery, the then owners of "Arlington", former Mudd home.

The city of Birmingham founded in 1870 is largely laid out on what was Judge William Swearingen Mudd's holdings. He was the chief instigator and the largest stock holder of the company which promoted the founding of the city. He was one of the original stockholders in the Elyton Land Co., who built Birmingham's first hotel, the "Relay". Judge Mudd's Florence Hotel was 2 blocks distant, erected in 1884.

The oldest residence in Birmingham, Ala. was built by Judge William S. Mudd, and first occupied on 5-5-1842. This home which was known as "Arlington"[13] is described elaborately in "Historic Homes of Alabama and Their Traditions." The ground was purchased from Stephen H. Dupuy, grandson of Stephen H. Dupuy, grandson of Stephen Hall.

The Earles migrated to Virginia in 1652. Dr. Samuel Sidney Earle (b. S. C. 1799) was a descendant of John Earle, a Revolutionary soldier. In 1820 Dr. Samuel S. Earle migrated to Alabama[14] and in 1827 when his daughter Florence was but four years old, he brought her on horse-back to Jefferson County. He was one of the most prominent citizens of Jefferson Co., Ala., for fifty years.

Several land transactions of William S. Mudd were located in Jefferson Co., Ala., some as executor of James Mudd, his father. These transactions contained no genealogical data.

On 6-11-1866 William S. Mudd of Jefferson Co., Ala., purchased of S. P. Donley of Smith Co., Texas, 1280 acres of land in Cherokee Co., Texas, for $3600.[15]

He was in the Army Air Forces during World War #2 and was an Aviation Cadet in Texas in 1941. He received his primary training at Corsicana, Tex.; basic training at Randolph Field, San Antonio, Tex.; and advanced training at Craig Field, Selma, Ala.

At the time of his fatal accident he had graduated from flying school and was an instructor (a Lieutenant) of the 86th Sch. Squad. at Gunter Field, Ala. While he was instructing an English student who was at the controls, the plane crashed causing his death. Our records show that William Swearingen Mudd III was the first Mudd to be killed during World War #2.[3]

William Swearingen Mudd II graduated from the University of Alabama in 1906 and from the Law School of the University of Virginia in 1908.[4]

He was the author of "The Old Boat Rocker" which was published (about) the year 1934. This book concerned in homespun verbiage some of the rocks ahead for the troubled world and was a best seller, running into fifteen editions.

He controlled several newspapers in the South and was associated with the Alabama News, the Tuscaloosa News, the Gadsen Times, and the Rome (Ga.) News Tribune and in 1939 was president of the Alabama Associated Press members.

He was owner of the Sarasota Hotel in Sarasota, Fla. and was part owner of hotels in Birmingham and Sarasota, Fla. Formerly, he was the assistant district attorney at San Diego, Calif.

Mrs. Georgia Kimbrough (Aaaac el) informed us that a W. S. Mudd once lived nine miles south of Jacksonville, Texas, on Mudd Creek, and that he owned 100 acres "under fence" which was leased by a cattleman who used it to pasture stock. On checking the records in that county (Cherokee), it was found that W. S. Mudd was referred to as executor of the estate of T. M. and W. D. Lewis and of W. E. Bailey in 1886. This was probably W. S. Mudd Sr., and he must have been executor prior to 1886 as he died in 1884. In November 1912, W. S. Mudd and his wife Nellie N. Mudd and Joseph P. Mudd of Jefferson Co., (Ala.?) made a deed to Ruben Sessions.[5]

Zach Lee Nabers, Jr., Banker, was born May 6, 1858 at Carrollton, Pickens Co., Ala., son of Judge Zacharias Lee and Sarah Rebecca (Nabers) Nabers, of Laurens, S. C., who removed to Athens, Ga., and later to Carrollton. Zacharias Lee Nabers was the son of Jacob Nabers and Elizabeth Powers. Sarah Rebecca Nabers was the daughter of Francis Drayton Nabers and Matilda Mullens, all of Laurens, S. C. Francis Drayton Nabers was the son of Isaac Nabers who was killed by the Tories during the Revolutionary War. Zach Lee Nabers, Jr., was educated in the schools of Carrollton and Mobile. After a business course in Mobile he became an accountant, doing expert work in St. Louis, Mo., Dallas, Texas and Texarkana, Texas. In Little Rock, Ark., he was Teller of the First National Bank. He married in 1885 in Birmingham, Ala., to Alice Pinckney, daughter of Benjamin Pinckney and Caroline (Mitchell) Worthington. (Ref. 149, Vol 4, p. 1268).

Thomas Mudd was probably known as Harrison Mudd because Lucian Reno Mudd (Adaba af) said that his father's "uncle Harrison Mudd" was in the Black Hawk War and died soon after returning home. He further said that this Harrison Mudd had no family.

The name of Harrison Mudd was found in the Roster of Capt. Jacob Feaman's[11] and afterward in Capt. Conner's Company[12] of the 3d Brig. of Ill. Mounted Volunteers which company was organized at Kaskashia on 5-25-1832 and mustered in at Ft. Wilbourn on 6-21-1832 and mustered out on 8-17 1832. Harrison Mudd enrolled on 5-25-1832. The Ruma records (St. Patrick's Church) begin with six pages of Musters, 2d Regt. Ill. Art. and for some reason "Harrison Mud" alone was not "fined." Some of the sick were left at Prairie du Chien, so it is clear that the family of Thomas Mudd (Adab) came to that vicinity (Ref. 23).

It was interesting to find that one of the early members of St. Benedict's Congregation in Spencer Co., Ky., was Harrison Kerrick. It is quite possible that he was an uncle, or even grandfather, of Harrison Mudd.[13]

The relationship of Thomas H(arrison?) Mudd (Adabg) to the James Mudd (Adaba) of Randolph Co., Ill., referred to in the Circuit Court proceedings of Spencer Co., Ky., is suggested by the finding of Jacob Froman in the proceedings. This Jacob Froman may be the Capt. Jacob Flaman (or Feaman) in whose company Harrison Mudd served.

The family gave 10-x-1829 as date of marriage but the marriage license states 5-15-1830, and the wife's name, Trecy.

All of the first nine children listed above have their baptisms recorded at St. Patrick's Church, Ruma, Ill.

The following issues of Lucretia Mudd and Henry O'Hara were still living in 1875: Thomas, Sarah Ann (m. John Winstanley), Helena (m. James Faherty), Margaret (m. Michael Tewell), and Emilia (m. Theodore Adleman).

There is no record of Lucretia's death in the St. Patrick Church (Ruma, Ill.) record.

Henry O'Hara located near Ruma, Ill., in 1818 after his departure from Maryland in 1811 for Nelson Co., Ky. He was the first settler at O'Hara's Settlement (Twp. 5, Range 8) but was shortly followed by other O'Haras, Horrells, Mudds, Brewers, Simpsons, and Vinsons. It is said that "all of these were of the party of Lord Baltimore."

As early as 1818 priests came from Kaskaskia (Ill.) and said Mass in the home of Henry O'Hara. A log church was built on the land donated by Henry O'Hara in 1827 and a church and parish have existed there from then until the present time (Ref. 24).

A Henry O'Hara owned large tracts of land in what is now Missouri (but was then a part of Spain in the 1790s). He had a large family, some of whom were killed by the Indians.[20]

Two O'Hara sisters married as follows: Sarah Ann ("Sally") O'Hara married on 4-15-1828 to Felix Mudd (Adabe); Amelia O'Hara married on 6-15-1815 to James S. Mudd (Adaba). These O'Hara sisters were sisters of the Henry O'Hara who married Lucretia Mudd (Adabh).

ISSUE: James Duncan Mudd (Adabc ae) was of great assistance in the preparation of this account. He gave us the exact dates regarding his grandfather Francis William Mudd (Adabc) and other dates that were correct as attested by various official documents. The Kentucky tax records show that James (Adaba), Edward (Adabb), and Francis Mudd (Adabc), as well as Rhodias Mudd (Adaa) and Thomas Mudd (Adab), were residents in Shelby Co., Ky., in 1809; and since James Mudd (Adaba) was at that time (i.e. in 1809) a tax payer, he was about the age assigned him above. Moreover, the U.S. census for 1820 classifies Thomas Mudd (Adab) in the age group of "over 45;" James Mudd (Adaba) as having a home of his own and three other unnamed sons "under 26" still with their father Thomas Mudd (Adab).

MIGRATIONS: The family tradition is that James S. Mudd (Adaba) at the age of two years was brought by his parents into Kentucky and that Edward Mudd (Adabb) was born in Kentucky. On the other hand, James Duncan Mudd (Adabc ae) wrote that "Thomas Mudd son of John" left Maryland in 1785 and his son James S. Mudd (Adaba) was born in Maryland. Assuming that it is true that Thomas Mudd (Adab) left Maryland in 1785 and James S. Mudd (Adaba) was two years old at the time, then, James S. would have been born in 1783 and his father Thomas Mudd would have been married about the year 1781.

Lucian Reno Mudd (Adaba af) and Orlena R. Mudd (Adabe ad) writing independently of one another, stated that shortly after the American Revolution John Mudd with two sons, viz. Thomas Mudd and Rhode Mudd, migrated to Maryland from Kentucky. The name of Rhode was so puculiar that Lucian Mudd had to assure us that he was certain this was the man the family tradition had passed down. The finding of Rhodias Mudd in the official Kentucky documents so confirmed the statements of Lucian Reno Mudd and Orlena Mudd that they were of material assistance in our acceptance of the descent of this family line.

It is said that Thomas Mudd (Adab) and Raphael R. Mudd were among the twenty-five families to league together and migrate to Kentucky in 1785 and that they were early settlers at Pottingers Creek, Ky., near the village of Boston.[21] [22] [23] Further, Hon. Ben Webb found a Thomas Mudd and Raphael Mudd at Cartwrights Creek, Ky. but undoubtedly these two Mudds were also Thomas and his brother Rhodias.

It is also said that Thomas Mudd moved to Spencer Co., Ky.

Many of the Mudds settled in Twp. 5, Range 9, known as Prairie du Rocher (Ill.) where many of the population were French. The Mudd family have always been numerous and have always occupied a respectable position in that county (Ref. 23). Prairie du Rocher is the only town we have found that has a "Mudd" Street. The Prairie du Rocher, Mo. and Kaskashia, Ill. Catholic missions were closely related to the Kentucky missions. In referring to the Diocese of Bardstown, Ky., Hon. Ben J. Webb in "The Centennary of Catholicity in Ky." (Ref. 65) stated that in speaking of Rev. Fr. Flaget's trip from Baltimore, Md. to Kentucky: "The short interval of his journey passed in Louisville was in one respect providential to Dr. Flaget. There he fell in with Frs. Levadour and Richard both sent by Dr. Carroll to pastorates in the far west, the one to Kaskaskia, the other to Prairie du Rocher. This was in December 1792."[24] Rev. Flaget went to Kaskashia in April 1795 but what influence he may have had in persuading his parishioners to go to Prairie du Rocher we cannot say.

It is said that Thomas Mudd (Adab) and his family (excepting James S. Mudd, Adaba) went to Kaskaskia in 1816. (Ref. 213, p. 378, and Ref. 225 ps. 102, 103) Thomas Mudd is reported to have come to Randolph Co., Ill. in 1816 with his seven sons. (William and Francis are named as two separate sons, and Thomas H. is not named.) All of these settled on the high lands in the prairie back of Prairie du Rocher. Three sons were still living in 1859: Edward who resided in Iowa; Francis and John who were living where they settled 42 years before.

The History of Randolph County (Ill.) by John R. Williams (Ref. 22) is an illustrated folio atlas of 102 pages published in 1875. It names persons already listed in this account; indicates the location on the maps of their various properties; and carries biographical sketches of various members of the Mudd and the O'Hara families, and of other families to be mentioned later in these pages. This history lists certain Randolph County Mudds[25] as follows:[26]

NAME	P.O.	BUSINESS	BORN	CAME TO RANDOLPH
William (Adaba a)	Red Bud Sec. 30 Twp. 4S. R7 W	Farmer and Stock Raiser	Ky.	1818
William (Adabc c)	Brewerville Sec 501 Twp. 6, S. R8 W.	Farmer	Ky.	1827
John E. (Adabf e)[27]	Prairie du Rocher Lot 25 Commons	Farmer	Ky.	1846
Vincent (Adabf a)[27]	Prairie du Rocher Lot 69 Commons	Farmer	Ky.	1832
Thomas L. (Adaba f)[27]	Prairie du Rocher Lot 52 Commons	Farmer	Ky.	1832
James T. (Adabc a)[27]	Prairie du Rocher Lot 39 Commons	Farmer	Ky.	1820
Ichabod (Adaba db)	Brewerville Survey 362	Farmer	Ky.	1849

In Brewerville Twp. of Randolf Co. is "Mudd's" landing on the Mississippi River and it was at this spot where Thomas Mudd (Adab) landed when he arrived in Randolph Co. Nearby are the various commons where the immigrants settled and took possession after several years occupancy. Thomas Mudd moved inland seven miles to the location known as the O'Hara Settlement (see under Adabh).

CENSUS: In the 1810 census of Shelby Co., Ky. Thomas Mudd was listed with males under 10, 4; 10 to 16, 2; 16 to 26, 1; over 45, 1; females under 10, 1; 26 to 45, 1. There was also a Thomas Mudd listed in the 1810 census of Wash. Co., Ky. but apparently he was the son of Luke Mudd (Abac).

In the 1820 census for Williamsburgh Twp. in Randolph Co., Ill. Thomas Mudd over 45 years of age was listed with males 10 to 16, 1; 16 to 18, 1; 16 to 26, 3; females 10 to 16, 1; 16 to 26, 1; and over 45, 1.

One of the outstanding things noted in the study of the early Ruma (Ill.) Group was the evident incorrectness of dates of birth on tombstones. Of course, the census' may be wrong. The census of 1820 lists

Edward (Adabb) as being under 26 and, therefore, born after 1794. His older brother James S. (Adaba) would be born in 1793 and his father Thomas Mudd (Adab) born about the year 1770. The Thomas Mudd whom we list as being born in 1809 is the only Thomas who fits the Thomas Mudd that died on 12-31-1858 at the age of about 38 years. Notice also how much older these sons are than their wives, according to the records, e.g. James born 1783 whereas his wife was born 1795; Francis born 1795 whereas his wife was born 1800; and Felix born 1801 whereas his wife was born 1808.

TAX RECORDS: Thomas Mudd was listed as a tax payer at a very early date in the following Kentucky counties:

WASHINGTON COUNTY:

YEAR	NAME	ACRES	LOCATION	WHITE MALES OVER 21	WHITE MALES UNDER 21	SLAVES	HORSES	CATTLE
1795	Thomas	--	--	1	--	--	--	--
1796	Thomas	--	--	1	--	2	3	--
1797	Thomas	--	--	1	--	2	5	--
1799	Thomas	--	--	1	--	3	2	--
1800	Thomas	--	--	1	--	1	4	--
1802	Thomas[28]	--	--	1	--	1	7	--
1803	Thomas	100	Stewart's Creek	1	--	--	5	--
1804	Thomas	100	Harden's Creek	1	--	--	6	--

We are not positive that the one Thomas Mudd appearing in the 1795/96 tax lists of Wash. Co., Ky., was Adab. We are quite sure he was Adab for the following reasons: the only other Thomas Mudd (Abacb) did not possess slaves until the year he married, viz. 1803, at which time he probably obtained them from his wife's estate, and the only Thomas in the 1796 tax list had 2 slaves; if Thomas (Abacb) was in the 1795 tax list he should also be in the 1796 list. Since Thomas Mudd (Adab) appeared in the 1795 tax list for the first time in Ky. it is possible, that if John Mudd (Ada) of Fayette Co., 1790 tax list, was his father, John removed to some other location with his sons, and they remained there until 1794/5, unless for some reason he was omitted from the tax lists or the lists were lost.

NELSON COUNTY: In 1811 as Thomas Mudd[29] when he was taxed for males over 21, 1 (obviously himself); in 1814 as Thomas Mudd. The tax records of Nelson Co., Ky., after 1820 were not checked.

SHELBY COUNTY: In 1805, 1807, 1808, 1809, 1814, and 1821 Thomas Mudd was taxed for one horse. Inasmuch as Thomas Mudd (Adab) was listed in the Illinois census for 1820, the tax for 1821 in Shelby County may have been for 1819 or 1820 or the report was for John Thomas Mudd (Adaaa).

PROPERTY: On 10-28-1799 (recorded 3-22-1800) in Wash. Co., Ky., Thomas Mudd and Rhody Mudd, brothers, conveyed to Henry Holland a negro woman and child called Moll and Jin, for the consideration of 65 pounds current money of the state of Kentucky and a horse at the rate of 30 pounds.[30]

On 2-26-1801 a bill of sale was recorded at the request of Thomas Mudd (probably Adab) of Wash. Co., Ky., wherein was written that a "parcel of negroes" was sold by John Smith, George Summers, and George Davis of Prince Georges Co., Md., to the said Thomas Mudd; and, that Ann Edelen, late Ann Mudd (see Add) had the said parcel of negroes in her possession at the time of her death; at which time Joshua Mudd (Aaaa) took them into his possession.

On 11-1-1802 (recorded 3-7-1803) Thomas Mudd conveyed a negro boy ten years old (on August 8 last) named Jack to Henry Holland for 85 pounds.[31]

About 1802 (exact date and year not copied) Thomas Mudd and Robert Heverin or Everin (or Hoverin) filed a claim against Leonard Mattingly Jr. for £120 in Wash. Co., Ky. One record in the Packet is signed by Leonard Mattingly Sr.

On 3-27-1804 Thomas Mudd and Joanna[32] conveyed land on Stewart's Creek to Leonard Mattingly.[33]

COURT RECORDS: Thomas Mudd (Adab) complained against Joshua Beauchamp for trespassing and holding in custody one "studd" horse which had been seized and held "from the care, ownership, and possession of the plaintiff (Thomas Mudd). He sued for $150.00, tobacco and costs, and damage 100 pounds.[34] Later, Thomas Mudd sued Miles Riley for trespassing.[34]

In October 1805 and June 1806 a Thomas Mudd (probably Adab, but possibly Abacb) was a plaintiff's witness in the case of Howsley vs. John Brown.

On 10-9-1805 Thomas Mudd (Adab) and Barton Miles[35] bound themselves to George Mercer in the amount of Ł30.[36]

On 11-6-1805 a summons was issued for George Mercer to appear at the March term of the court to answer a Bill in Chancery against him by Thomas Mudd. On the back of this summons record was written: To enjoin George Mercer, his agent and attorney the Sheriff of Shelby Co., and others concerned from proceeding upon a judgment in the name of George Mercer against Thomas Mudd and Rodias Mudd for Ł22/10 and costs.

Thomas Mudd the plaintiff showed that he received from George Mercer, the defendant, three notes on Jonah &Lefos Bipon (?) in the state of Maryland and that he (i.e. Thomas Mudd) was authorized by George Mercer to settle or dispose of said notes and so engaged Jereboam Beauchamp to attend to it. At the bottom of this record Thomas Mudd released all errots (?) on the judgment in the above bill to be enjoined.

The deposition of Jereboam Beauchamp which was signed by William Paris and witnessed by John Handby and George Edlin, was taken on 4-10-1809 wherein he said that sometime in 1800 he went to Maryland with the complainant (i.e. Thomas Mudd, Adab) and stayed there until the winter of 1801; that during that time Thomas Mudd undertook to collect money on two notes from a man that lived in Charles Co., Md.; as well as he could remember, he (Jereboam Beauchamp) was in a Mr. MFerson's store in Bryantown when he heard Thomas Mudd and Sam MFurson discussing the note which the debtors would not have to pay because they were insolvent and although they claimed Mercer had cheated them they would agree to pay a part. Jereboam Beauchamp believed the part was thirty some odd dollars in tobacco.

The deposition of William Paris was taken on 4-8-1809.[37]

In 1946 Felix D. Simpson of Evansville, Ill. was the only surviving child of Eliza Ann Mudd. In that year he was 87 years of age.

A sister of James D. Simpson, viz. Margaret Ann, married William Mudd (Adaba a).

The family of James D. Simpson resided in Twp. 5, Range 8, Randolph Co., Ill. adjacent to the families of H. D. Simpson, James O'Hara, the Donahues, and the Mudds.

James M. Simpson (b. St. Mary's Co., Md. toward the close of the Revolutionary War), father of James D. Simpson, was the son of Joseph Simpson and Mary Ann Montgomery. This Joseph Simpson was one of the Maryland "Minute men" during the Revolutionary War (Ref. 22).

When the Simpson family left England and joined Lord Baltimore's colony, which began the settlement of Maryland in 1634, they received from the King of England a grant of 1300 acres of land located in what is now St. Mary's Co., Md. The Simpson family lived on this land for several successive generations.

See the (Ill.) Belleville Messenger for 3-1-1919 regarding the James D. Simpson family. (Also see Ref. 199, p. 45.)

Regarding the Simpson family also see accounts of Adaba a, Adabd g, and Adabe g.

MIGRATIONS: The family tradition is that James S. Mudd (Adaba) migrated from Maryland to Kentucky with his parents when he was but two years of age (i.e. about the year 1787).

Lucian R. Mudd (Adaba af) stated that his grandfather James S. Mudd (Adaba) migrated to Randolph Co., Ill. with a four horse wagon containing all his belongings, and, landed at Kaskashia, Ill. on Christmas day in the year of 1818. This agrees with the tax records of Shelby Co., Ky. (see taxes under "PROPERTY.")

CENSUS: In the 1820 census of (Randolph Co., Ill.?) James Mudd age 26 to 45 was listed with males under 10, 2; females under 10, 1; and his wife 16 to 26.[11]

MILITARY SERVICE: James Mudd was a member of Capt. Wallers Company in 1814 White Company of the 18th Regiment in 1816; and Tiernums Company of the 37th Regiment in 1817 (all in Shelby Co., Ky.)

PROPERTY: James S. Mudd was taxed in Shelby Co., Ky. in 1809 for one horse; in 1811, 1812, 1814, and 1817 for three horses and 177 acres of land.

On 3-11-1818 Hugh Massie and his wife Mary of Shelby Co., Ky. sold to James Mudd of the same county for $261.00 land in Shelby Co., Ky. on Salt River.[12]

On 9-22-1818 James Mudd and his wife Amelia sold to Simon Phegly (see account of Adaba i) for $800.00 land on Salt River.[13]

On 2-18-1823 the heirs and representatives (named) of Abraham Owen(s) dec'd. sold to James Mudd fifty-seven acres of land in Shelby Co., Ky. There is a reference to payment at the rate of two gallons and two pints of whiskey per acre.[14]

On 10-7-1824 James Mudd of Randolph Co., Ill. sold land in Spencer Co., Ky. to Thomas Goodwin of Spencer Co., Ky. for $500.00. In this deed a court order of Shelby Co., Ky. was referred to.[15]

On 1-29-1825 James Mudd and his wife Emily of Randolph Co., Ill. sold to Thomas Goodwin of Spencer Co., Ky. for $670.00 land in Spencer Co., Ky. on Brashears Creek.[16]

COURT AND COUNTY RECORDS: In Shelby Co., Ky. a James Mudd was referred to in three circuit court files, viz.:

(a) Bundle 77, #21, James Mudd vs. B. Carrico, 1813
(b) Bundle 196, #21, J. Mudd vs. A. Owens, 1823
(c) Bundle 207, #2, J. Mudd vs. L. Carrico, 1824

Bundle 207 lists the many heirs of one Samuel Stephens. Among the papers is a clipping from a paper of that date referring to the court action. The appearance of such names as Phegley, Carrico, and Froman (possibly the Fleaman referred to in the account of Adabg) adds corroboration that this James Mudd is James S. Mudd (Adaba).

On 6-29-1824 the county commissioner of Shelby Co., Ky. ordered land belonging to the heirs of John McGee, of Paul Froman dec'd., of Samuel Stephens dec'd., and others including Levi Carrico; deeded to James Mudd.[17] This explains the court action referred to above.

O'HARA FAMILY: Henry O'Hara, father of the Amelia O'Hara who married James S. Mudd (Adaba), was the son of Henry O'Hara (b. Ireland) who came from Ireland and settled in Frederick Co., Md. (Ref. 22).

Amelia O'Hara's family migrated from Frederick Co., Md. to (Nelson Co.?), Ky. and then in 1817 they migrated to Illinois.

Henry O'Hara left 100 acres of ground on which St. Patrick's Church in Ruma, Ill., was built. The St. Patrick's Church was the first Catholic Church in the State of Illinois of an English-speaking congregation. The sermons in Kaskashia and all the earlier churches had been in French (see W. B. Faherty, S. J., in the magazine "Mid-America").

Amelia (O'Hara) Mudd was the sister of the Sarah Ann O'Hara who married Felix ("Feke") Mudd (Adabe).

St. Patrick's Church, Ruma, Illinois, where most of the records of the descendents of Thomas Mudd (Adab) were found.
First English speaking parish in Illinois.

For further information regarding the Sloan family see file of William Mudd (Adaba a).

Much of the information recorded herein for William (Alfred?) Mudd's family was kindly given by Lucian R. Mudd (Adaba af), but the documentary evidence of its accuracy is the copy of the Ruma Church records which were made out for us with great care with the kind permission of the pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Rev. Frederic Witte, by the Sisters of the Precious Blood who with-held their names. A large proportion of the Mudds of Ruma appear in these records.

It is said that William Mudd was only two years of age when he migrated with his parents from Kentucky to Illinois. In 1837 he went to Wisconsin where he worked in the lead mines, but, in 1845/46 he returned to Illinois (Ref. 22). After 1870 he, with his family, moved to Tipton, Mo.

In the 1860 census of Randolph Co., Ill. (p. 739) William Mudd age 44, farmer, was listed with Margaret A., 33; Charles K., 15; Susan, 12; James D., 7; and William A., 2. (All born in Ill. excepting parents who were born in Ky.). Their residence was Red Bud, Ill.

In the 1870 census of Randolph Co., Ill. (p. 3) William Mudd age 54 (b. Ill.) with real estate valued at $3,000.00 was listed with Margaret, 40; Susanna, 20; Josephine, 14; William, 11; Lucian, 8; Emily, 7; and Mary, 5.

William Mudd was the owner of 500 acres of land at Ruma, Ill. (Ref. 22)

He was an associate justice of the Randolph Co. Court (Ref. 216). His grandchildren refer to him as Judge William A. Mudd.

He, it is said, used to take hogs to St. Louis, Mo. for sale and often camped all night at the site of the old court house.

In the "History of Randolph Co., Ill." (p. 57) by John R. Williams there is a picture of a William Mudd. Whether or not this picture is of William Mudd (Adaba a), it is not known.

SIMPSON FAMILY: James Montgomery Simpson, father of Margaret Ann (Simpson) Mudd was the son of Mary Ann Montgomery and Joseph Simpson of the American Revolution (Ref. 199, p. 45). The family of James M. Simpson can be found in the Wash. Co., Ky. census of 1820, page 328; in the 1840 census of Randolph Co., Ill.; and in the 1850 census of Randolph Co., Ill., page 188.

For further information regarding the Simpson family see the accounts of Eliza Ann Mudd (Adaba j). Eliza Mudd (Adabd g), and Alice Mudd (Adabe g).

Susan (Hampson) Etue (Adaba di#1) stated that Icobod Mudd married a woman with one child.

J. B. Manley informed us regarding an Amanda Mudd, dau of John Wyrick, who died in Kennett (Dunklin Co.), Mo. on 4-27-1919. The author wrote to this J. B. Manley and he replied stating that Amanda Mudd (b. Tenn.), dau of John Wyrick and Jane Wyatt, married first to __________ Johnson, secondly to __________ Womath and thirdly in 1904 to "Isaac" Mudd. Her second husband died in Tenn. and she came to Missouri in 1901. Mr. Mudd came to Missouri from Illinois, was 50 years old and had not married, and Isaac Mudd died in Dunklin Co., Mo. on 8-21-1917 at the age of 67 years 11 months and 28 days. On checking Icobod Mudd it is seen that on 8-21-1917 he would be 67 years 9 months and 10 days of age, therefore, it is very probable that the Isaac Mudd mentioned herein was Icobod Mudd (Adaba db).

Icobod Mudd, in William's History of Randolph Co., Ill. (Ref. 22), was named as a property owner.

A participant in the "Captain Midnight Program" in 1942 or 1943 given over radio station W.O.R. (N.Y.) took the name of Ichobod Mudd. The "Ichabod Mudd" adopted for this program was an assumed name and had not been taken from any individual.

Electius Mudd (Adabb b) and Mary Mudd (Adabb c) were witnesses to a church function in St. Patrick's Church at Ruma, Ill. on 5-2-1854.

Odine A. Mudd (Adabb ad) stated that his grandfather Edward Mudd (Adabb) married twice, the second time in Wisconsin to (he believed) a widow with two children. Odine Mudd also stated that he believed there were no children by the second marriage. We found the marriage of an Edward Mudd to Elizabeth Talbert in Randolph Co., Ill. (See above)

Lucian Reno Mudd (Adaba af) stated that Edward Mudd was a soldier in the War of 1812 and fought in the battle of New Orleans. In 1814 Edward Mudd (Adabb) was a member of Capt. Wallers Co. and in 1816 he was a member of Whites Co. of the 18th Regiment in Shelby Co., Ky.

Edward Mudd (apparently Adabb) was taxed in Shelby Co., Ky., in 1814, 1815, and 1816 for one horse.

He, at one time, resided in Wisconsin where he had a business. His name is to be found in the list of the first territorial census of Wisconsin in 1836 (see Wisconsin Historical Collections, vol. 13, p. 263 Ref. 59). He was an Iowa County pioneer. In this census (1836) he was the head of a family of five (not itemized).

In the 1840 census of Iowa County, Wisconsin, West, Div., Edward Mudd was head of a family of five, there being one male between 40 and 50, and one male 15 to 20.

In the 1850 census of Grant County, Wisc., East Div., #25, Edward Mudd, age 60 (b. Md.), was listed with Hannah Mudd, 53 (b. N. J.), and Thomas Long, 23, and four other Longs.

Edward Mudd did not appear in the 1860 census of Wisconsin, but in 1870 he was in Ellensboro, Grant Co. He was listed as age 76 (b. Ky.), with Hannah, age 71 (b. Pa.). They were in the same house with a large Gilbert family.

Much data regarding Edward Mudd and his family (with exception of Mary Ann Mudd) was taken from the transcript of the records of St. Patrick's Parish in Ruma, Ill.

Records of Amanda Elene, Margaret Louise, Mary Elizabeth, Isabelle, and Helen Mudd were taken from the Ruma, Ill. Catholic Church records.

James Duncan Mudd (Adabc ae) stated that of Francis William Mudd's twelve children, only two sons and four daughters left offspring.

Francis William Mudd enlisted in the army during the War of 1812 on 11-10-1814 and was discharged at New Orleans, La. on 5-10-1815. He served as a Private in Capt. Zachariah Terrill's Co., 13th Regt., Ky. Militia (also said to have served in Capt. Higdon's Co.) under Col. Davis. He fought under Jackson during the Battle of New Orleans. (Ref. 25, p. 10.)

Louisa (Gough) Mudd, widow of Francis William Mudd, received a pension amounting to $8.00 a month from 3-9-1878 to 4-x-1884.

Lucian Reno Mudd (Adaba af) also stated that Francis Mudd served in the War of 1812 and was in the Battle of New Orleans.

The 1820 census of Shelby Co., Ky. (p. 146) lists Francis Mudd age 16 to 26 with his wife age 16 to 26.

Francis William Mudd, (See Ref. 25), "moved from Shelby Co. to Spencer Co., Ky. before coming to Randolph Co., Ill. in 1822" where he died. He moved to Illinois, ten miles from Kaskaskia (Ref. 22). He claimed a farm in Sect. 29, Twshp. 5, R8 and lived there until his death (Ref. 25).

According to the pension file, the residence of the soldier Francis William Mudd from 1851 to 1855 was Randolph Co., Ill.

Francis William Mudd was given two land grants of 80 acres each under the law of 1850 for his military service in the War of 1812.

Shelby Co., Ky. records for 1816, 1817, 1822, and 1823 lists Francis Mudd as being taxed for two horses. In 1824 he was taxed for two horses and 150 acres of land in Spencer Co., Ky. In 1816 he was referred to as a member of Ferrill's Co., 37th Regt.; and, in 1817 as a member of Wares Co., 85th Regt. both in Shelby Co., Ky.

In the pension claim it is recorded that Francis William Mudd's marriage was confirmed by Bernard Howell (or Horrell) an eye witness, and the death date of soldier Francis William Mudd was confirmed by Jerome O'Hara and Henry Mudd Jr.

After his marriage James Thomas Mudd rented a farm in the southeast part of Horse Prairie. In 1849 he sold one of his horses for $50 and bought 40 acres of government land, 1/4th mile north of Ames Post-office, Monroe Co., Ill., selling this in August 1854 and purchasing 120 acres in Prairie du Rocher "common," having built a home thereon where he lived until his death.

On 2-18-1823 the heirs and representatives of Abraham Owen(s), one of whom was James D. Owen, all of Shelby Co., Ky., sold land to James Mudd (Adaba). The fact that James Thomas Mudd (Adabc a) named one of his sons James Duncan Mudd may indicated that James Duncan Mudd was named in honor of him (James D. Owen) (see James S. Mudd, Adaba). (Also see account of George H. Mudd (Adabc d), brother of James Thomas Mudd.)

James Mudd, age 42, b. Ill., of Randolph Co., Ill. signed for the Civil War Draft in 1863.

James Duncan Mudd was an alter boy in his church, a member of the choir for 14 years, and a trustee of the church for 6 years. He attended the local schools until his sixteenth year; he continued his studies at night, passed his teacher's exam, and taught for one term at the age of twenty. Thereafter, he became a farmer.

Prior to his death he resided at Prairie du Rocher, Ill.

In the 1850 census of Randolph Co., Ill., (T4S, R8 W, now Red Bud Twp.), Thomas Mudd, age 25 (b. Ill.) was listed with five brothers and sisters. This is probably the family of Joseph Mudd (Adabd), and if so it probably indicated that Joseph Mudd (Adabd) was deceased by 1850.

A fine letter from Hilary S. Mudd (Adabd db) supplied us with much of the data for this family. He wrote that Joseph Mudd's wife, i.e. his own grandmother, was Alice Elder; and, he added that the children, Edwin and Joseph, died when small. We have recorded this family from the information he provided.

In 1944 Ursula B. (Vinson) Halfrin resided in St. Louis, Mo., and John Thomas Vinson resided in Lake Grove, Oregon.

James B. Vinson and his wife, Margaret J. Mudd, died within six months of each other when their children were young. They left five children. One son died in infancy and another son died before the father, both in Ruma, Ill., so possibly there were seven children.

A granddaughter of Margaret J. Mudd and James Bernard Vinson is Mrs. Russell Deterding, who in 1944, resided in Prairie du Rocher, Ill.

All the birth dates for Felix Mudd's children (except Lucy Ann and Alice) were copied for Father L. J. Kenny by the Sisters of the Precious Blood, of Ruma, Ill., from the Ruma Catholic Church records.

A James Mudd (no parents given) was baptized in Ruma, Ill., on 8-23-1824. Possibly this James Mudd was a son of Felix Mudd (Adabe) by a previous marriage, but we have no record of Felix Mudd having married more than once.

In the 1850 census of Randolph Co., Ill. (T4S R8 W, now Red Bud Twp.), Sarah Mudd, age 46 (b. Md.), was listed with six children, all of whom were born in Illinois.

Sarah (O'Hara) Mudd was the sister of the Amelia O'Hara who married James S. Mudd (Adaba).

James Emory Mudd (Adabf bba) stated that the only daughter of John Mudd (Adabf) was named Adeline. Possibly Adeline and Sophie (Adabf g) were the same person.

Much information about John Mudd (Adabf) is to be found in "Combined History of Randolph, Monroe, and Perry Counties, Ill." (J. L. McDonough and Co., 1883, p. 378.) It states in part that John Mudd was born in Wash. Co., Ky., in Feb., 1802, and came to Randolph Co. in 1816, settling in Sect. 20, twshp. 5S, Range 8W. His wife, with whom he had lived since 1830, (they having been married longer than any other couple in Prairie du Rocher Precinct), was Mary Brewer, dau of John Brewer. He returned to Ky. to marry Mary Brewer, bringing his bride to Randolph Co., Ill. (See also Ref. 216, p. 385.)

James Emory Mudd (Adabf bba) stated that his grandfather, Harrison Mudd, had six children, viz. daughters Silvina and Mary, and sons Henry, Lemuel, Leo and Perry. It is quite probable that Henry Mudd (see Adabfba) is the same as Henry Marcellus Mudd (Adabcda).

A Celestine Mudd is said to be a son of Lucy (Owen) Mudd, but, whether or not he was the son of her first marriage to George H. Mudd (Adabc d), or her second marriage to (James T.) Harrison Mudd, is known.

Priscilla Mudd and Henry Mudd (possibly Abaaa) were baptismal sponsors for Theodore Gardiner on 9-17-1797 (Ref. 95). One copiest reported 9-17-1797, but the "Gardiner" section, R. T. Semmes Papers, reports "Henry Mudd and Priscilla Mudd, sponsors, at Upper Zachia, for Theodore Gardiner, b. 9-7-1804, baptized 11-10-1804, son of Ignatius and Ann Gardiner."

In a Zachia Church (Chas. Co., Md.) record it was recorded that Mary Mudd was the godmother for Juleta Ann Miles, dau of Edward and Martha Miles, on 2-24-1805. This Mary Mudd could be Priscilla Mudd (Adbc) or the wife of Clement Mudd (Adb).

The Jane Mudd listed in the 1800 census of Chas. Co., Md., was the wife of Alexius Mudd (Abaab) and not the daughter of Clement Mudd (Adb).

Jane Mudd's will was made in Chas. Co., Md., on 12-13-1805, and probated on 7-15-1806.[6] She bequeathed her estate as follows:

> To beloved sister Rebekah Mudd, one bed and furniture, one sorrel mare three years old, one china teapot, half dozen tea cups and saucers of china, one small square walnut table, one looking glass, and thirty dollars cash.
> To the priest of the Upper Zachiah Congregation ... and Rev. John David, ten pounds currency to be equally divided between them by my sister Rebekah Mudd--that is part of the money that is now in the hands of Bennet M. Mudd (obviously Abada).
> To my beloved mother Mary Mudd, whatever money may be due me from the above mentioned Bennet M. Mudd after the ten pounds is taken from it; also, 500 lbs. of crop tobacco which is due for rent.
> To my niece Charine Cicely Mudd (Adbaf), one cow, one woman's saddle and bridle.

e Rebecca b 1769[7]
d Baltimore, Md., 3-2/7-1850

Rebecca Mudd (possibly Adbe) was the baptismal sponsor for John Baptist Mudd (Abagb d) on 5-29-1806, in Chas. Co., Md.

Rebecca Mudd became Sister Ursula of St. Albert, a Carmelite Nun, on 12-8-1808, in her 34th year. She was a Sister for forty-two years and was remarkable for her love of poverty and obedience.

She joined her cousins, viz. Sr. Angela of St. Theresa (Abade) and Sr. Ann of Jesus (Abah #1), at the Carmelite Convent, which was situated about four miles north of Port Tobacco, Md., on the farm of Baker Brooke.[8] Later the convent was moved by Sr. Angela to Baltimore, Md., where Sr. Ursula (Rebecca Mudd) died of typhoid fever. Charles Warren Currier's "Carmel in America" is largely concerned with the history of this community, dedicated from its origin in 1790 to the Sacred Heart of Jesus.[9]

In August, 1828 Rebecca Mudd of Chas. Co., Md., sold part of two tracts of land, viz. "Gates (or Yates) Range" and "New Brandford," to Peter D. Posey for $80.[10] This land was willed by Clement Mudd (Adb) to his wife and three daughters during their single lives, and, after their deaths, to his son Roswell Mudd (Adba).

For further reference to Rebecca Mudd, see account of Mary Ann Mudd (Abade).

The argument upon which the parentage of Clement Mudd (Adb) is based is as follows: Thomas Mudd (A), in his will, bequeathed the land known as "St. Catherine's" to his son John Mudd (Ad). John Mudd need not be more than sixty years of age when the following document was deposited at the Charles Co., Md. court house:

> At the request of Clement Mudd of Charles Co., Md., the following deed was recorded in the 20th day[11] of April, 1754:[12] "To all Christian people to whom these presents shall come Greeting: Know ye that I, John Mudd of Charles County in the province of Maryland for and in comsideration of the natural love and affection that I have and do bear my beloved son Clement Mudd of the aforesaid county and province, planter, as also for diverse other good causes and considerations of five shillings current money, me here moving, give, grant, bargain, and confirm into the said Clement Mudd, his heirs and assigns, forever, all that part of or parcel of land called "St. Catherine's" lying in the county aforesaid on the east side of Zachiah upon the beginning line where he now dwelleth so as to contain 60 acres of land together with all the improvements thereunto belonging or appurtaining to have and to hold the aforesaid land and premesis and all the appurtencies to him, the said Clement Mudd against all persons claiming by, from, or under me, shall and will warrant and forever defend. In witness whereof I hereunto set my hand and affix my seal this 23rd day of April 1754." Sealed and delivered in the presence of Francis Parnham and Stephen Butler. (Signed by John Mudd.)

In the year 1778, Clement Mudd signed the Oath of Allegiance before Joshua Sanders (Ref. 51, Vol. 2).

CENSUS: There were two Mary Mudds listed in the 1790 census of Chas. Co., Md. (p. 52), both having in their household males over 16, 1; and five females. One Mary Mudd, however, was listed with ten slaves, while the other Mary Mudd was listed with eleven slaves. It is possible that these two Mary Mudds refers to Mary Mudd, the widow of Clement Mudd (Adb); and the one male over sixteen to Leonard Mudd (Adbb), inasmuch as Roswell Mudd (Adba) was listed in the same census.

Mary Mudd (apparently widow of Clement Mudd, Adb) was listed in the 1800 census of Trinity Parish, Chas. Co., Md. having in her household all females, viz. 10 to 16, 1; 16 to 26, 2; 26 to 45, 1; over 45, 1; and 7 slaves. This census listing follows that of Henry T. Mudd (Abaaa), and on the same page (viz. 521).

TAX RECORDS: Clement Mudd, bachelor, living above Bryantown, Md., was first taxed in 1756 (see Vestry Minutes, 7-27-1756, of Trinity Church in Hughesville, Md. in King and Queen Parish) and in 1758 he, a "batchelor" was listed with value of £100; and, through July 1761 he paid the required tax. Inasmuch as 1756 was the first year that Clement Mudd paid a tax, we at first assumed he was then 21 years of age, i.e. born 1735, but in a deposition dated 6-8-1772 he gave his age as being about 46 years.[13] Also, inasmuch as Clement Mudd paid law tax through July, 1761, he was probably married about 1761 or 1762.

PROPERTY: On 10-1-1861, forty-one acres of land called "Mudd's Meadow" was laid out for Clement Mudd of Chas. Co., Md. This land was within the Reserve of his Lordship's Manor of Zachia and adjoined "Boarman's Reserve"

In 1762 Clement Mudd (written Clemt) and H. Mudd (probably Henry Mudd, Abaa) were "tenants" on his Lordship's Manor of Zachiah and paid one shilling per month rent to the Crown of England for 19 1/2 acres of ground.[14]

Survey of Mudd's Meadow for Clement Mudd, October 1, 1761

In 1763 John Mudd (obviously Ada) transferred land to Clement Mudd.[15]

On 8-22-1767 (or 8-22-1769) Clement Mudd of Chas. Co., Md., for the consideration of Ł 75, purchased land known as "Wight's Forest" from Isle of Wight. The sale included the buildings and orchards located on the 100 acres which was situated on the west side of Zachiah Swamp in Chas. Co., Md. Witnesses were John Winter and Robert Horner.[16] Clement Mudd paid annual quit rents on "White (or Wrights) Forrest" and "St. Catherine's" from 1770 to 1774.

On 1-13-1772 Mary Pidgeon for love and affection and five pounds sterling deeded to Clement Mudd, her "son-in-law," a tract of land known as "New Brandord" which consisted of 93-3/4 acres. Witnesses were James Hawkins and James Craik.[17]

On 1-5-1779[18] Clement Mudd purchased parts of "Gates (or Yates) Range" at Port Tobacco Creek for the consideration of Ł 300 and two hogshead tobacco @10 pounds per ct.[19] On 8-12-1779 he sold to Rev. Bennett Neale for the consideration of Ł 500 his rights (i.e. Clement Mudd's rights) in "Gates Range" which consisted of 170 acres, more or less, beginning at a stone between Clement Mudd's land and Thomas Witherington's land.[20]

In 1872 Mary Mudd was taxed in Chas. Co., Md., for 100 A. "White Forrest" and 100 A." Addition to White Forrest."

In 1783 Mary Mudd ("Widow") was taxed in the third Dist. of Chas. Co. for the following: 93 A. of New Branford, 79 A. Gates Range, 120 A. of St. Catherine's, and 40 Acres of Mudd's Meadow. The last three were part of Calverton Manor. She had 10 slaves, three horses and 1 cow, and there were three white inhabitants. (Chas. Co. Tax Lists, Scharf Collection, Maryland Historical Society. In the Fourth Dist., a Mary Mudd was taxed in 1783 for 200 A. Whights Forrest (possibly this was the same Mary Mudd).

On 3-17-1785, Mary Mudd (probably Adbc or widow of Clement), Henry Mudd (probably Abaa) and Roswell Mudd (Adba) purchased a £5 bond from the State of Maryland.[21] Later, Roswell and Henry Mudd Jr. (Abaa) and Richard Gardiner purchased a £47 bond.[22] On two other occasions bonds were purchased in similar fashion. It is also interesting to note that Henry Mudd, Jr., Joshua Mudd (Aaaa), and Roswell Mudd (Adba) jointly purchased a £30 bond.[23]

Mary Mudd was assessed for 379 A. of land in Bryantown Hundred, Chas. Co., Md., and for 9 slaves, in 1798.

The following sale of negroes to Thomas Mudd (probably Adab) is very interesting:[24] "Know all men by these presents that we, Leonard Mudd, Jane Mudd and Rebeckah Mudd all of Charles County and State of Maryland and I, Benedict Mudd of Prince Georges County and State aforesaid for divers good causes and considerations us thereunto moving do hereby freely give and relinguish unto Thomas Mudd of Washington County and State of Kentuckey all our rights titles clames interests and demands of every kind and nater whatever that we have ither in law or eugety in and to a certain parcel of Negroes that Ann Edelen late Ann Mudd[25] had in her persession at her death and that Joshua Mudd (Aaa) took into his possession at hur death, and also all there increse hires and profits that has arose sence the death of hur the said Ann or that shall her after arise from the said Negroes in any manner whatever we have given and relinguished unto the forsaid Thomas Mudd to him his heirs and assigns forever and for no other use or intent whatever as Witness our hands and seals this 17th day of February 1801. Signed by Leonard Mudd (Adbb), Jane Mudd (Adbd), Rebecca Mudd (Adbe), Benedict Mudd (see Adbc). Signed, sealed and delivered in presence of Alex^{r} McPherson."

On 1-23-1803 a certificate was issued to Mary Mudd who had on 6-26-1787 purchased a part of the Reserve of Zachia Manor from the State of Maryland and had the tract surveyed. The tract was named "Mudd's Double Trouble," consisted of 20 acres and was situated in Chas. Co., Md. where it adjoined a tract of land known as "St. Catherine's."[26]

Mary Pidgeon sold a negro woman named Charity to George Kuth (or George Teeth) for 4000 lbs. of crop tobacco (date of sale not obtained). This sale was witnessed by Mary Mudd (possibly wife of Clement Mudd and Joshua Mudd, Aaaa).

COURT AND COUNTY RECORDS: In March, 1770 Clement Mudd and George Key stated that they were in possession of "New Brandford" and requested the Commission to perpetuate the bounds.[27]

In August 1774 the Lord Proprieter filed charges against William Hays, Jr. and Clement Mudd.[28]

Clement Mudd is referred to in the Chas. Co., Md. Court Records as follows:

1755 John Wheatley vs. Clement Mudd for £4 (Bk. 49, p. 80)

1755? John Wheatley vs. Clement Mudd for 398 lbs. Tobacco (pp. 363, 389)

John Wheatley won the case. The sheriff stated that Clement Mudd had moved (p. 430).

In (March?) 1774, Mary Mudd (probably wife of Clement Mudd, Adb) was paid for one day's service as a witness in a case involving "Joseph Hagan who owns land on Boarman's Manor."[29]

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: Clement Mudd, Henry Mudd, Jr. (Abaa), and Charles Blandford were witnesses for the will of Ignatius Gardiner (or Gardner) which was dated 1-17-1777, and probated 2-18-1777.

The will of Mary Pidgeon was made on 3-4-1775 and was probated on 8-31-1779.[30] She devised to her daughter, Mary Mudd; her grandsons Roswell and Leonard Mudd; her granddaughters Mary Price Mudd and Jane Mudd and several others, and appointed her son-in-law Clement Mudd as sole executor. Witnesses were S. B. Adams, Henry Mudd (probably Abaa or Abb), and Richard Mudd (Abab). Several other daughters and grandchildren are mentioned in her will.

On 3-21-1780 Clement Mudd gave bond when Letters Testamentary were granted him on the estate of Mary Pidgeon. Clement Mudd's sureties were Richard Mudd (Abab) and Henry Mudd (probably Abaa).[31]

On 5-23-1780 Alexander McPherson and Henry Boarman made an inventory of Mary Pidgeon's estate, and, Joanna Blandford and Mary Ann Blandford (with their marks) witnessed same. On 3-13-1781 the executors of Clement Mudd (Adb), viz. Roswell Mudd and Mary Mudd, appeared before Daniel Jenifer, Registrar of Wills, with the inventory of Mary Pidgeon's estate and made oath that they believed the inventory to be true and perfect.[32]

The will of Clement Mudd was made on 5-10-1780 and was probated on 8-1-(or 8-7)1780.[33] He devised as follows:

> To son Roswell Mudd property known as "Wights Forest"[34] of 100 acres when he becomes 21 years of age, and manor land adjoining being 130 acres part of tract "Gates (or Yates) Range" of 100 acres.
> To son (obviously son-in-law) Bennet Mudd (see Adbc) land known as "St. Catherine's."
> To son Leonard Mudd land known as "Mudd's Meadow" of 40 acres and manor land adjacent to "St. Catherine's."
> To daughter Mary Price Mudd
> To daughter Jane Mudd
> To daughter Rebecca Mudd
> To wife and two sons equal part in copper distillery
> "until such time as my youngest child will be sixteen, which will be 3-19-1788,[35] I have hereunto set my hand," etc.
> Executors: Roswell Mudd (Adba) and Mary Mudd wife of Clement Mudd.
> Witnesses: Henry Mudd (probably Abaa), Richard Boarman,[36] and Richard Mudd (Abab).

On 12-19-1780 Mary Mudd and Roswell Mudd filed an inventory of Clement Mudd's estate. The kinsmen recorded on this inventory were John Mudd (Ada) and Ann Mudd who signed with her mark; and, the creditors were Richard Gardiner and Henry Mudd Jr. (probably Abaa).[37]

In the final accounting of Clement Mudd's estate it was recorded that money had been received from John Gates and the estate of Mary Pidgeon, and, £7-0-4 1/2 had been paid to Joshua Mudd (Aaaa) for 936 lbs. of Tobacco due him. The final accounts of Clement Mudd's estate and Mary Pidgeon's estate were filed in December, 1783. Securities were Henry Mudd (probably Abaa) and Richard (Abab) of Chas. Co., Md.[38]

In the April Court of 1784 Mary Mudd ("relicit of Clem") and Henry Mudd, Sr. (probably Abb) were witnesses in the case of Mary Pennyman vs. William Hays; a controversy regarding the estate of Thomas Hays dec'd.[39] The Mary Mudd and Henry Mudd Sr. mentioned herein were again witnesses in June of the same year.[40]

The will of Mary Mudd was made in Chas. Co., Md. on 8-13-1806, and was probated on 6-9-1807.[41] She devised as follows:

> Imprimis, after my just debts are paid which are to be done out of the money arising from the crop I bequeath:
> To my beloved daughter Rebecca Mudd four negroes.
> To my daughter Rebecca Mudd a tract of land containing sixty acres more or less which I bought of the State of Maryland, during her single life and after her death or marriage to be the property of my son Leonard Mudd.
> In conformity of my late husband Clement Mudd dec'd., I give and bequeath to my daughter Rebecca Mudd land called "Newbradford" in Charles County which came by me at my marriage, during her single life and after her death or marriage to go to Ignatius Hanson Mudd (Adbaa).
> To my daughter Rebecca Mudd five cows, one yoke of oxen with my cart, nine ewes and lambs or nine ewes with lamb, one mare, one gray horse, one black horse, all my hogs, my plantation utensils, my household and kitchen furniture, after paying unto my granddaughter Cealy Cooke (Adbaf), wife of Richard Cooke, one good bed and furniture.

To my granddaughter, Mary Ann Mudd (Adbab) daughter of Roswell one mare colt.

To Rev. Robert Angier, or any other priest who serves the uper Congregation, fifteen dollars.

To my granddaughter Hariot Mudd (Adbac) of Roswell, according to the desire of daughter Jane, one young heifer.

To my granddaughter, Beatrice Mudd (Adbbc), daughter of Leonard Mudd, according to the desire of my daughter Jane, one stear yearling.

Negro Ester to either of my children which she may choose to live with.

To my son Leonard Mudd, my daughter Mary Price Mudd, my daughter Rebecca Mudd, and son Roswell Mudd's heirs each 1/4th part of all the residue of my stock not already bequeathed to them.

Executrix: Rebecca Mudd (Adbe). Witnesses: John Smith, Henry T. Mudd (Abaaa), and Leonard Beavin (see Abbb).

On 9-23-1807 the personal estate of Mary Mudd was appraised by Joseph Barker and Jeremiah Dyer, and, on 10-10-1807, Henry Thomas Mudd, administrator, certified to the inventory.[42]

In the April term, Charles Co. Court, 1809, Henry T. Mudd, administrator of the estate of Mary Mudd, was ordered to make a final settlement. In the June term, 1809, sales made 11-24-1807, were reported on. Sales had been made to Francis Mudd, John Thomas, John Gardiner, Leavin Black, Samuel Hile, James Naylor, Marquis Warren, Thos. C. Reeves, Bennett Gwinn (Charles County Ct. Proc., 1807,1809).

To sisters Mary Ann, Harriet, Catherine, and Matilda, the residue of estate.

Executors: Leonard Mudd (Adbb) and Benedict Mudd (Abada).

Witnesses: Thomas Mudd (possibly Abad), Alexius Smith, and James Mitchell.

The original will of Ignatius Hanson Mudd was not inspected. If the names of Bennett and Benedict Mudd are on the same will, it would be difficult to consider them as one person even though Benedict Mudd (Abada) who married Mary Price Mudd (Adbc), Ignatius Hanson Mudd's aunt, was known as Benedict and Bennet. Aunt Priscilla is obviously Mary Price Mudd (Adbc). The Thomas Mudd, witness, could be Thomas Nathaniel Mudd (Abad) or the latter's son Thomas Mitchell Mudd, both of whom were still living.

b Mary Ann — d Prior to 3-19-1827
m Upper Marlboro, Md., 5-24-1819, Isadore Gardiner, son of (possibly) Ignatius F. Gardiner and ... Dyer.

The records of marriage of Mary Ann Mudd (Adbab) to Isadore Gardiner were reported from St. Peter's church, Wash., D.C., by Mgsr. Eugene J. Connelly; but, it is also recorded that Mary Ann Mudd married Theodore Gardiner on 5-24-1819.[4] It is probable that Theodore Gardiner and Isadore Gardiner were the same person.

After the death of Mary Ann (Mudd) Gardiner, Isadore Gardiner married his sister-in-law Harriet Mudd (Adbac).

c Harriet ("Retty")[5] m [6] Upper Marlboro, Md., 3-19-1827, Isadore Gardiner,[7] son of (possibly) Ignatius F. Gardiner and ... Dyer.

Issue: (All issue not known)

1. Sarah Ann
2. Thomas Llewelly[6] b. probably c 1840
3. Louise
4. (Possibly) Ignatius

A Theodore Gardiner, born 9-7-1804, was baptized 11-10-1804, son of Ignatius and Ann Gardiner. This Ann Gardiner may be Ann Boarman (see account of Abadc).

In the records of St. Peter's Church in Wash., D.C., it is recorded that Harriet Mudd married Isadore Gardiner on 5-20-1827 (Ref. 52, p. 177), who was formerly married to Harriet Mudd's sister who was "now deceased." It is difficult to explain the discrepancy in dates of the Prince George Co. record and the St. Peter's Record. The date of 1-14-22 was also reported as date of marriage of Harriet Mudd to Isadore Gardiner.

An Isadore Gardiner was an early settler of Millwood, Mo.[9] The fact that Ann Cecelia Dyer (see Abaab bh2) stated that a Theodore Gardiner was an early settler in Missouri, tends to indicate that Theodore Gardiner and Isadore Gardiner were the same person.

Sarah Ann Gardiner (Adbac #1) married Benjamin F. (or T.) Whitmore (son of William) in St. Charles, Mo., on 4-16-1844. It is said that their daughter, Mary Elizabeth Whitmore, married James Dominic Fletcher (Abaga h#1) on 12-x-1868; and, that this Mary Elizabeth, was the sister of Dr. Benjamin T. Whitmore (see account of Jane Eliza Mudd, Abaga h).

Benjamin T. Whitmore, Jr., son of Benjamin F. (or T.) Whitmore and Sarah Ann Gardiner (Adbac #1), married Marie .... Their daughter was Mrs. Marie Gardiner (Whitmore) Calhoun who contributed one of the chapels to the "new" St. Louis, Mo. Cathedral, and who is a member of the D.A.R. (application #42381).[10]

Mary Joseph Mudd (Abaaa adf) wrote to Augustine Patrick Mudd (Abaga bi) that she thought that Dr. Whitmore was a nephew of Thomas Llewelly Gardiner (Adbac #2) and that a sister of this Dr. Whitmore, viz. Mary Whitmore, married James Dominic Fletcher (Abaga h#1).

Thomas Llewelly Gardiner, son of Isadore (or Theodore) Gardiner and Harriet Mudd (Adbac), married (Sarah) Frances Mudd (Abaab bi) on 9/11-19-1874 in Baltimore, Md. Thomas Llewelly Gardiner died on 6-24-1900 (for issue see account of Sarah Frances Mudd, Abaab bi).

A Louisa Gardiner (possibly Adbac 3) married William T. Whitmore in St. Charles, Mo. on 4-20-1860.

Fr. Keaney of Millwood, Mo., stated that Ignatius Gardiner son of H. Mudd and Isadore Cardiner, married in Millwood, Mo., on 4-17-1849, to Emily Edelen, dau of Maria Mudd (Aaaaj) and (John) Aloysius Edelen[11] and that their children were Isadora Gab. (b. 2-x-1854) who married William Pius Fletcher (Abaga h3) and Ignatius George (b. 12-x-1858).[12]

George Gardiner made his Will on 5-3-1865 [13] (probated in 1873) and devised to his nephew, Thomas L. Gardiner (Adbac #2), nephew George Washington Gardiner, and nephew John Ignatius Gardiner of Louisiana, and Niece Mary Jane Simms. He requested that his nephew, Thomas L. Gardiner pay his sister Louisa Whitmore (Adbac 3) $500; and, he appointed Thomas Llewellyn Gardiner his executor. This George Gardiner who made his will in 1865 (probated 1873) was a brother of Ignatius W. Gardiner, who made his will in 1861 (probated in 1863).

Mrs. Rose Gardiner (Adbba j) and Mrs. Marian Mudd (Adbba H) sisters, stated that "Jos. E. Simms (see Abaab ba), brother of Philip, late of New Orleans, married Mary Jane Dyer, dau of Mr. Dyer and his Gardiner wife. Mary Jane Simms was a granddaughter of Ignatius Gardiner." (Quoted from Ref. 35.) A Mary Jane Simms resided with (or boarded at) Dr. Samuel A. Mudd's home prior to his imprisonment.

There was copied from an official marriage record that a Matilda Mudd married William Jorden in Wash., D.C. on 4-5-1833. This was probably a miscopy.

d Mechtildis ("Matilda") b 1792
d at St. Joseph's nr. Emmitsburg, Md., 3-5-1823[14]

On 10-19-1822 Matilda Mudd (Adbae) entered the Order of Sisters of Charity of St. Emmitsburg which was located near Emmitsburg, Md. She took the name of Sister Joseph.

The last will of Matilda Mudd (Sr. Joseph Emmitsburg), which was given to Thomas Radford by Rev. Dubors and then carried to Frederick Co., Md. by said Thomas Radford, was probated on 3-17-1823.[15] Full reproduction of this will is recorded here because of its genealogical and general interest.

"House of St. Joseph's, 4th March, 1823, being in expectation of soon leaving this world, I, Matilda Mudd, do will and wish the following arrangements to be made with all the money, property, and debts owing to and owed by me. In the first place, I will and bequeath my four slaves viz. Adaline, Augustine, Hilary, and Alexius to my cousin Thomas M. Mudd (Abaaa b) in such manner that he bind himself to use them well, to teach them their religious duties to God, and to set them free--the boys at age of 25 years and the girls at the age of 16--and moreover, at their freedom to give each one a good suit of clothes and twelve dollars. In the second place, all the money coming to me from the wages or hire of my slaves, from the sale of my lands, from notes due to me or otherwise, I leave to my cousin Thomas M. Mudd to be applied in the following manner: Fifty dollars to be given for masses to be said for the repose of my soul, fifty dollars to be given to my aunt Mary Ann Elder (Abaaa), fifty dollars to be distributed by my cousin to the poor, and the rest of the money I wish given by my cousin for charitable and religious purposes; but all the aforesaid instructions are to take place after my just and lawful debts have been paid by my cousin, Thomas M. Mudd, whom I have made executor with full power of my will, given under my hand and seal this 4th day of March, 1823. Matilda Mudd." This will was witnessed by James Storm, Robert Moore, and Henry G. Waters.

The above is the only Mudd will recorded in Frederick Co., Md. It confirms the fact that Matilda's mother, viz. Susanna Mudd, was the daughter of Henry Mudd (Abaa) and Blanche Spalding because Thomas M. Mudd was apparently Thomas Massom Mudd, the son of Henry Thomas Mudd (Abaaa), who, in turn, was the son of Henry Mudd who married Blanche Spalding and, therefore, her (i.e. Matilda's) maternal first cousin. The Mary Ann Elder mentioned in Matilda Mudd's will as being her "aunt" has been identified by personal letters as Mary Ann Mudd (Abaae) (b. 1772; d. 8-6-1833) who married Richard Elder (b. 4-6-1766; d. 1813). Mary Ann Elder in order to be the aunt of Matilda Mudd, must be a sister of Roswell Mudd (Adba) or Susanna Mudd (Abaac), and it is evident that she could not be a sister of Roswell Mudd (Adba) because the will of Clement Mudd (Adb) definitely mentions only Mary Price, Jane, and Rebecca Mudd as his daughters (i.e. sisters of Roswell).

e Charine Cecily ("Cecilia") m with dispensation on 1-2/24-1806, Richard Cooke[16]

A William Francis Cooke was born on 9-4-1806 and baptized on 10-27-1806. Godfather was Rev. Angier.

Possibly Charine C. Mudd was deceased by 1820, because Richard Cooke's wife did not sign with with him when a request for division of property was made.[17]

MILITARY SERVICE: Roswell Mudd was a soldier in the American Revolution and his name is to be found in the Revolutionary records.[18]

CENSUS: In the 1790 census of Chas. Co., Md. (p. 52), Roswell Mudd had in his family (inc. himself), males under 16, 1; over 16, 1; 2 white females; and 3 slaves.

In the 1800 census of Chas. Co., Md., Susanna Mudd was listed with males 10 to 16, 1; 26 to 45, 1; females under 10, 3; 10 to 16, 2; 16 to 26, 1; 26 to 45, 1; and 7 slaves.

Roswell Mudd's family could not be located in the 1810 census.

PROPERTY: On 7-10-1787, "Mudd's Purchase" of 30 acres[19] was surveyed for Roswell Mudd. "Mudd's Purchase," land which was purchased by Roswell Mudd from the State of Maryland, lay in the Reserve of Zachia Manor in Chas. Co., Md. and adjoined properties known as "Ruden" and White's Forrest."

Survey of "Mudd's Purchase" for Roswell Mudd, on July 10, 1787

On 5-29-1793, William Blandford sold to Roswell Mudd (both of Chas. Co., Md.) land known as "Lovejoy's Comfort" situated in Chas. Co., Md. near "Wright's Forest." Witnesses to this sale were Jos. Baynes and Nick Young.[20] Roswell Mudd was assessed for 75 acres of land and 4 slaves, in Chas. Co., Md., in 1798. The land was in Port Tobacco parish, East.

COURT AND COUNTY RECORDS: In August, 1797, Roswell Mudd filed a claim against Levin Sothoron for 27,000 lbs. crop tobacco, the debt being dated 1-20-1790.[21]

A record that shows how closely the families of Henry Mudd (Abaa), Joshua Mudd (Aaaa), and Roswell Mudd (Adba) were associated, was found in the Scharf Collection at the Md. Historical Society, Box 97.

"Writing of Consent, (dated) July 26, 1790. We the subscribers signify our consent to accept the indulgence offered by the State Debtors by an Act of Assembly passed at the November Session, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Eighty-nine entitled (here the name of the Act relative to establishment of funds to secure payment of the State Debt.)

"Signed

"Henry Mudd, of Thomas
Joshua Mudd
Roswell Mudd"

The reason for the close association of these three, is obvious. Henry Mudd's daughter, Susanna, married Roswell Mudd, and Joshua Mudd was a first cousin of Roswell, Joshua being a son of Roswell's father's sister, Sophia Mudd.

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: The will of Roswell Mudd of Chas. Co., Md. was made on 8-13-1798 and probated on 9-21-1799.[22] He devised as follows:

> To my son Ignatius Hanson Mudd, all of "Addition to Jenkinses Poor Chance;" all a tract of land called "Mudd's Purchase" containing 30 acres; and also 20 acres of land called "Lovejoy's Confort."
> To my wife Susanna Mudd, my dwelling plantation being part of a tract of land called "Wight's Forest" containing 100 acres; also 22 acres part of "Lovejoy's Confort" to be possessed by her during her life and after her decease to be the property of my son Ignatius H. Mudd provided he lets his five sisters possess the part of land mentioned to him dureing their single lives.
> To my five daughters, namely, Catharine, Cecely, Mary Ann, Harriet, Catharine, and Mechtildis, negro slaves Sarah, Sam, John, and their increase when my youngest daughter arrives at age 16.
> I will and desire that Henry T. Mudd (Abaaa) sell and convey all my right and title to ... "New Bradford" containing 100 acres and the money to be laid out in land for my son Ignatius H. Mudd.
> I will and it is my desire that Henry T. Mudd (Abaaa) shall convey unto Levin Sothoron 100 acres of land called "Gates Range" which I have bargained and sold unto the said Sothoron if he pays up the principal and interest according to contract.
> I appoint Henry T. Mudd (Abaaa) and my wife Susanna Mudd my executors.
> Witnesses: John Smith, Leonard Mudd (Adbb), and John Wright (or Wight).

Roswell Mudd's personal estate was inventoried on 1-9-1800 by John Gardiner and Ig. Middleton. "Leana Mudd (possibly Leonard Mudd, Adbb) and Mary Pricey Mudd (Adbc) were mentioned as "kin," and Henry Thomas Mudd (Abaaa) was referred to as the executor.[23]

On 5-13-1801 an inventory of Roswell Mudd's personal estate was appraised by Massom Mudd (Abaaa b) and Ignatius F. Gardiner. And, on 2-20-1812 Ignatius Henderson Mudd (Adbaa) and Leonard Mudd (Adbb), administrators of Roswell Mudd's estate, made oath that the inventory was true and perfect.[24]

The first account of Roswell Mudd's estate was filed on 3-29-1821 by Ignatius H. Mudd (Adbaa) and Leonard Mudd (Adbb), administrators.[25]

In 1825 Ignatius W. Gardiner, administrator of Roswell Mudd's estate, reported on said estate. In this report it was recorded that $400 was paid to Isadore Gardiner "an heir of Roswell Mudd."[26]

MARRIAGE OF LEONARD MUDD (ADBB): For a long time we believed that Leonard Mudd married three times, but his will indicates that he married twice.

CENSUS: In the 1800 census of Port Tobacco Parish, Chas. Co., Md., p. 550, Leonard Mudd was listed with males 26 to 45, 1; females 16 to 26, 2; and 7 slaves.

PROPERTY: Leonard Mudd, for $65, purchased of Joseph Moreland and Henry Padgett (all of Chas. Co., Md.) their two undivided seventh parts of two tracts of land in Chas. Co., Md., viz. "The Addition to Darnalls Delight" and "Hayzes Secret."[15] Witnesses were Horatio Moore and Dan Smallwood.

On 4-10-1819 Leonard Mudd, for $1120, purchased of Balthazar Mudd (Aaaae) of Chas. Co., Md. all of the latter's interest in Chas. Co., Md. of 78 1/2 acres of "Hard Bargain," part of "Norwich," and part of "White Marsh."[16] Witnesses were Dan Smallwood and Henry W. Hardy.

On 10-30-1815 Leonard Mudd of Chas. Co., Md. purchased of Thomas Hays of Champaign Co., Ohio, all of the latter's interest in "Hays Secret" which was bequeathed to William Hays by his father William Hays, Sr.[17] Witnesses were Horatio Moore and Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a).

On 11-1-1815 Leonard Mudd for $200, purchased of Ann Hays widow, Eleanor Hays, David Hays, Sarah Hays, and Elizabeth Hays (all of Chas. Co., Md.) all their interest to and in "Hays Secret."[18] Witnesses were Horatio Moore and Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a).

On 11-10-1815 Leonard Mudd for $200 purchased of Richland Moreland,[19] Joseph Padgett, and John Padgett (all of Chas. A sale was recorded on 5-28-1818 where in Leonard Mudd for $160 purchased of Francis L. Mudd (Aaaac) all that part of land known as "Mudd's Slip" in Chas. Co., Md.[24]

COURT AND COUNTY RECORDS: Leonard Mudd was one of the securities for Theophilus McDaniel when the latter was appointed administrator for the estate of Roswell McDaniel (son of Johnathon) in February 1801.[25]

In September 1819 Leonard Mudd was involved as plaintiff against one Theodore Wall.[26]

Leonard Mudd is referred to several times in the 1819-1821 Chas. Co., Md. Ct. Minutes, viz: March 1819, ps. 408, 412; August 1819, ps. 20, 237, 486; March 1821, ps. 70, 136; and also see Chas. Co., Md. Ct. Record for August 1797, p. 44.

On 7-17-1816, Teresa Simms, age 10 years, was placed under the guardianship of Thomas Simms, whose securities were Leonard Mudd and Frances L. Mudd (Aaaac) (Docket Bk. Guardian Ct., Chas. Co., Md., 1782-1824, p. 154).

WILLS AND ADMINISTRATIONS: The will of Leonard Mudd was made in Chas. Co., Md. on 1-27-1822 and was probated on 9-3-1822.[27] After committing his soul unto the hands of God etc. he bequeathed as follows:

> To son William choice of two plantations (to wit) the one on which I now live, composed of "Reuden," "Jenkins Poor Chance," "Addition to Jenkins Poor Chance," and all the land touching same that I possess or the other whereon George Dyer now lives composed of St. Catherine's and all the lands touching or joining the same, he the said William to make his choice when he arrives to the age 21 years, but not to dispose of it until he arrives to the age of 25.
> To my three following daughters, Beatrice, Caroline, and Clarecy all the rest and residue of my lands to be divided amongst them after William has made his choice.
> To my dau Mary Eliza, four negroes now in the employment of my brother-in-law William Gardiner and unless William Gardiner gives credit for payment made on a note the amount paid should be charged against the value of the negroes devised.
> To the priest of this congregation, $15 for masses for me and the souls of my two departed wives.
> To heirs of David Slater £13 with interest from the date of an account against Henry Hagan on said Slater's books.
> To my sister-in-law Elizabeth McWilliams whatever balance is due her.
> To my four following children, viz. William, Beatrice, Caroline, and Clarecy all the rest of my estate.
> My sister-in-law Elizabeth McWilliams to have a home and board with my daughters if she chooses.
> If my daughter, Mary Eliza, be in distress or want of a home she should be received and provided for by my other children.
> My two aged slaves (named) to be made comfortable.
> My son William to be under the control and guidance of Benedict I. Heard of St. Mary's County.
> Executors: Benedict I. Heard of St. Mary's County and William Gardiner of Charles County. Witnesses: Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a), George Dyer, and Josias Hamilton.

A codicil was added to Leonard Mudd's will concerning a tract of land purchased of Joseph Miles to which he (i.e. Joseph Miles) appeared not to have had sufficient title. The witnesses to this codicil were Theodore Mudd (Abaaa a), George Dyer, and Josias Hamilton.

On 10-4-1822 Leonard Mudd's personal estate was inventoried and Richard B. Gardiner and John Gardiner certified thereto. Thomas B. Dyer was referred to as administrator.[28]

See 1821-22 Court Proc. for Chas. Co., Md. (p. 444) regarding an order for the sale of Leonard Mudd's estate.

In the Orphans Court Minutes of Chas. Co., Md. for 1823-24 it was ordered that the value of the estate of the father of William and Clarissa Mudd (minors) in the hands of Thomas N. Mudd (obviously Abaga) and Thomas B. Dyer, guardians, be determined and also the annual value thereof.

T. B. Dyer was also referred to as the administrator of Leonard Mudd's estate.[29] He stated[30] that Leonard Mudd lived on four tracts of land, viz. "Enders," "Sneck Point," "Jenkins Poor Chance," and an unknown tract, all of which consisted of 309 acres; that he also had 130 acres of "Hays Secret," "St. Catherine's," "Mudd's Meadow," and "Mudd's Trouble," all of which consisted of 240 acres; and, also 80 acres of land in Prince Georges Co., Md. known as "Reeds Swamp." Thomas B. Dyer was ordered to make a final accounting of the administration of Leonard Mudd's estate,[31] and Thomas N. Mudd as guardian for William Mudd (Adbba) was ordered to render an account of the value of the minor's estate.[31]

In February, 1829, Thomas B. Dyer, guardian of Clara Mudd, asked for extension to June, 1830 to render settlement of her account (Chas. Co. Ct. Record 1827-29, p. 397).

In October, 1822, Thomas B. Dyer was appointed guardian for Clarissa Mudd, age about 9 years. James Reeves and Thomas N. Mudd were his securities (Docket Book, Guardians' Court, Chas. Co., Md. 1782-1824, p. 192)

First Page of Inventory of Personal Estate of Leonard Mudd (Chas. Co., Md. Inv. and Acc. folio 110, October, 1822).

William A. Mudd (Adbba) applied for Letters of Administration on the estate of Leonard Mudd.[32] Probably Leonard Mudd's estate was not closed for many years because he found that William A. Mudd was the administrator for said estate in February, 1855.

GARDINER FAMILY: A Nancy Gardiner, wife of William Gardiner, was the godmother of an Ann Demare (b. 10-10-1793).

Ann Sanders, wife of Joshua Sanders, in her will dated 12-16-1794 (probated 1-5-1795) bequeathed to Mary Gardiner, dau of William Gardiner, and to others. It appears that this Ann Sanders was Mary Gardiner's aunt.[33]

One William Gardiner (son of ... Neale and Richard Gardiner, of Anne Craycroft and Luke Gardiner, of Richard, of Capt. Luke of Richard) had children: Ann b. 1-22-1783; Mary; Joseph, b. 4-1-1781, and possibly others (See Gardiner papers, R. J. Semmes mms. Md. Historical Society).

The will of William Gardiner dated 8-7-1833 was probated on 6-28-1836. (Chas. to Wills Bk. 16, p. 52) He bequeathed to the children of "my daughter Mary Mudd, wife of Leonard Mudd;" to daughter Dorothy, wife of Alexis Boarman; to daughter Catherine, wife of an I. P. (or J. P.) Boarman; to granddaughter Mary Eliza (Adbbd), wife of Thomas S. Gardiner and to the children of daughter Ann Jameson, dec'd.

George Washington Gardiner married the second time to Rose Ellen Mudd. He had four children by his first wife Anna Amanda Dyer (see account of Thomas Ignatius Mudd, Abadc a). One of these was Simms Gardiner whom the author's father, Dr. Thomas D. Mudd, knew very well. Simms Gardiner's brothers were George, who married Agnes Bowling; and Frank Gardiner. Anna Amanda Dyer's sister was Molly, who married a Simms. ("Molly" was Mary Jane Dyer see ps. 533, 534).

k Mary C.   b Chas. Co., Md. 1-26-1845[16]

Mrs. Genevieve M. Gardiner (see Abaaa afc) states that Mary Cornelia died at age nine months, of whooping cough.

l (Mary) Eulalia   b 6-x-1852
d Md., 4-x-1934[17]

Mary Eulalia Mudd lived in Missouri with Edwin Constantine Mudd (Adbba c), and raised his family. Later, however, she returned to Maryland and was residing there at the time of her death.

The will of Mary Eulalia Mudd was made in Chas. Co., Md. on 7-14-1922. She devised as follows:

> To sister Emma Sophia Mudd, my interest in what was the former homestead of my father, the late William Albert Mudd, being near St. Peter's Church in Charles County, 210 acres more or less; and, on death of my sister to niece Mary C. Burch (Adbba i#1) and my great niece Emma Eugenia Brent Mudd (see Adbba i) both of Baltimore City.
> To niece Genevieve Mudd Gardiner (Abaaa afc) of Charles County, my undivided interest in a tract detached from the old homestead known as "Old Fields" of 116 acres.
> To Mary Irma Howard, wife of Joseph H. Howard, and to Alma G. Edelen, wife of Edward J. Edelen, a tract of land.
> Residue to living children of late brother Edward Constantine Mudd (Adbba c), formerly of Lincoln Co., Mo., viz. B. Mudd Wommack, Thomas Mudd, William Albert Mudd, George F. Mudd, Edith Mudd Koesterer, Richard Constantine Mudd, Joseph C. Mudd, and Ellen Monette Mudd "all of which are living at present time."
> Mentions late sister Rose E. Gardiner (Adbba j).
> Witness: Walter J. Mitchell.

m Emma Sophia   b 3-18-1855 (54 also given)
d 2-x-1935

The Wash., D.C. city directories list the following:

1891 Emma Mudd	Clk	813 - "I" Street N.W.
1892 Emma S. Mudd	Clk	161 Mass. Avenue N.E.[18]

The will of Emma Sophia Mudd was made in Chas. Co., Md. on 3-20-1934 and probated on 3-14-1935.[19] She devised as follows:

> $500 for tombstones for the graves of her father and mother in St. Peter's Cemetery; the grave of Amelia Josephine Brent (Adbba i3) in St. Mary's Cemetery near Bryantown; the grave of her sister Rose E. Gardiner (Adbba j) in the Catholic churchyard at Piscataway (P.G. Co.); and her own grave and that of her sister the late Mary Eulalia Mudd (Adbba 1).
> To Rev. Fr. Collins of St. Peter's Church or the priest in charge there, at my death, $50 for masses.
> To niece Genevieve Mudd Gardiner (Abaaa afc), my undivided interest in a tract of land detached from the old homestead near St. Peter's Church, Waldorf, commonly called "Old Fields," 116 acres.
> To Rev. Fr. Woods of Nazareth, N. C., $50 for orphan boys.
> To great-niece Emma Eugenia Brent Mudd (see Adbba i), residue of estate, real, personal, and mixed.
> Executors: T. Cecil Gardiner of Chas. Co., Md. and wife Genevieve (Mudd) Gardiner (Abaaa afc).

There were four children buried near Wm. A. Mudd and Sophia, his wife. They may have been additional children of William Albert Mudd. They are as follows:

M. Thomas E. Mudd - died 1-18-1855, 82 days old.

Dorothy Ellen Mudd - died 8-5-41, (17 1/2 mo. or yr. ?)

Mary Cornelia - died 1-x-48, 10 1/2 mos.

Frances Aloysius - 3-1-54, 9 mos. old.

In the 1830 census, Chas. Co., Md. (p. 82), Wm. A. Mudd: Males 20 to 30, 2.

In the 1840 census of Chas. Co., Md., 3rd Collection Dist., p. 153, Wm. A. Mudd was listed with males under 5, 1; 20 to 30, 1; 30 to 40, 1; females under 5, 2; 5 to 10, 1; and 20 to 30, 1. The male aged 20 to 30 in this census is unknown.

In the 1850 census of Chas. Co., Md. Wm. A. Mudd was listed with himself age 39; Sophia A., 33; Frances M. (female), 15; William A., 14; Amelia, 11; Rose E., 10; George L., 9; Edwin C., 8; Vivian, 6; Thaddeus, 3; and Sylvester, 1. Possibly Vivian, age 6, was Vincent (Adbba d), but if not this child, i.e. Vivian, died prior to 1860 because no Vivian was listed in the 1860 census.

In the 1860 census of Chas. Co., Md. (Bryantown, 686th household, p. 804) William Mudd, age 51, planter with real estate of $6000 and personal property of $31,650 (also shown as having assets of $27,650), was listed with Sophia, 44; Marian (female), 25; Albert, 23; Josephine, 21; Rose, 20; George, 18; Constantine (male), 17; Vincent, 15; Thaddeus, 12; Sylvester, 10; Ulalia, 8; and Emma, 6. George and the younger children were "in school."

In the 1870 census of Chas. Co., Md. (Beantown, p. 165), Sophia A. Mudd, age 54 ("keeps house") with real estate of $10,000 and personal property of $3000 was listed with Frances M., 33; Rose E., 29; George L. (teacher), 26; Vincent (farmer), 23; Thaddeus (farmer), 21; Sylvester (farmer), 19; Mary E. ("farmer"), 16. Emma S., 16; Frederick A., 9; and 3 negro servants.

It is from the above census records that the order of birth and some of the birth years for the issue of William Albert Mudd were determined.

On 8-17-1836 William A. Mudd, Sophia A. Mudd, Thomas S. Gardiner, Mary E. Gardiner (all of Chas. Co., Md.) Hillary P. Mudd (Abaga b), and Ann C. Mudd (both of P. G. Co., Md.) sold to Henry L. Mudd (Abaab b) of Chas. Co., Md. parcels of land on Zachiah Swamp in Chas. Co., Md., known as "St. Catherine's," "Mudd's Double Trouble," and other adjoining lands for $1458.[20]

Wm. A. Mudd was the executor of the will of Mary Ann Bowling (dau of John Boone), made 12-22-1838, probated 2-12-1839 (Will Bk. 16, Chas. Co., Md., p. 24).[21]

William A. Mudd was the administrator for James M. Murray's estate, two of the distributees being Francis Murray and Mary Grymes.[22] He was also guardian for Francis Murray, son of James Murray (Court Proc. Chas. Co., Md. 1849-53 p. 97). (See also ps. 109, 112, 122 and 127, same Court Record.)

In Dec. 1850, Wm. A. Mudd was one of the securities for Wm. L. Berry and Wm. A. Turner in the Estate of Samuel Turner. (Chas. Co. Ct. Rec. 1849-53 p. 196)

Sophia A. Mudd was appointed administratrix of estate of Wm. A. Mudd in Chas. Co., Md. in December, 1868 (see Court Proc. Chas. Co., Md., Vol. 1866, 69, p. 475; and Vol. 1871-1873, p. 456.

The will of Sophia Ann Mudd of Chas. Co., Md. was made on 10-18-1877 and probated on 2-29-1878.[23] She devised to the pastor of St. Peter's Church, $20.00; to son Vincent, his "note of hand;" to daughter Mary Eulalia and Emma Sophia Mudd and youngest son Frederick Arthur Mudd all residue of property. Executor was Sylvester Mudd (probably Abaaaaf).

Wm. Aubrey Mudd stated that "Wm. Albert Mudd (Adbba) was a rabid Southerner and used to get up on a nail box at Beantown and rave against the Yankees. The listeners would have to drag him off when the Yankee soldiers would be nearby. When the Emancipation Proclamation was made, he procured a gun and walked out towards the road and dared the negroes to leave the place, but the gun was never loaded. He had two slaves named George and Martha Washington, whose children had six fingers on each hand. Mrs. William A. Mudd used to clip off the extra fingers with a scissors." It is interesting for the author to recall that Dr. Thomas D. Mudd, the author's father, had an ancient negro patient named George Washington, who lived at the crest of Good Hope Hill, D.C., in a shack overlooking the city. One of the finest views of D.C. was to be had from his shack. I imagine he was the same person. Aubrey Mudd further stated that his (Aubrey's) Uncle Henry Gardiner frequently urged Thomas D. Mudd to be a doctor, and this was a great factor in his decision to become a doctor.

William Albert Mudd's farm, according to Aubrey Mudd, was across the road (i.e. North) from Samuel Mudd's farm. The latter farm was for the most part above and to the East of the Swamp, while William Albert's farm was for the most part, if not entirely, West of the Swamp and at the foot of the hill. The farm of George Henry Gardiner was just West of that of William Albert Mudd.

In the 1850 census at Bryantown, Charles Co., Md., the family of Ignatius Gardiner 60, Elizabeth 62, Mary R., 25, Marcellus 19, was listed between William A. Mudd (Adbba) and Ann E. Bean.

Joseph Celsus Mudd was discharged on 9-24-1919 after having been hospitalized a year.

In 1943 we read that Joseph Celsus Mudd was assisting in Boy Scout work at St. Gerard's Parish in San Antonio, Tex. He was associated with the Reliable Life Insurance Company.

A Captain Richard (D. ?) Wommack of Millwood, Mo. was a Union soldier during the Civil War.

The tragic effect of diphtheria is shown in this family by the deaths of William Edwin, Mary Elizabeth, and Loretto Cecilia Mudd, all of whom died within eight days of each other in 1876.

Edwin Constantine Mudd was a soldier during the Civil War. He joined the Confederate Army on 8-15-1862 and was a member of Company I, 1st Maryland Artillery Regiment: fought in the second battle of Bull Run under General Stonewell Jackson; and, lost most of his right hand in the Battle of Manasses (also said to be the Battle of Antietam) when a shell in his hand was exploded by an unlucky hit made by the Northern Army. When he was discharged in Richmond, Va. on 12-12-1862 because of disability, he and two other men, risking capture, crossed the Potomac. Edwin Constantine Mudd and Edward McColgan Mudd (Abaga ad) were in the same battery during the Civil War.[8]

An E. D. Mudd of Chas. Co., Md. entered St. Mary's College at Emmitsburg, Md. on 1-26-1863 and left in January, 1864. This was corroborated by Thomas Henry Mudd (Adbba cb) who further stated that his father went to Missouri shortly after leaving school.

Edwin C. Mudd moved to Millwood, Mo. in 1865 (Ref. 44), and in spite of his great handicap he taught school and farmed. He was known for his intelligence and for his reserve in speech and action.

His name appears in Judge Henry Thomas Mudd's (Abaaa aa) list of Mudd's in Millwood, Mo. in 1888. William Albert Mudd (Adbba a) at one time resided with his brother, Edwin C. Mudd.

E. Conse Mudd died intestate and so on 2-1-1905, Letters of Administration were issued. His heirs were named as listed herein.[9]

Edward C. Mudd was listed in the 1870 census, Lincoln Co., Mo. (p. 112), age 27, farmer, val. $3000, with Mary, age 20, three Moores, viz. Elizabeth, 18, Basheba 16, and James F. (?) 14, and a housekeeper.

George DeSales Mudd and his wife were well known archers. George brought to his home on one occasion a bow and arrow as an adornment for his home, but he joined the St. Louis Archery Club and learned to shoot. In five years he made a score of 802, this being the first time such a score was made in a tournament. Many publications carried the story, notably, Collier's magazine.

Mrs. Mudd, tired of waiting for her husband to return home after his archery matches, also took up archery and in three years, after being coached by her husband, won the Women's Championship in a Missouri Valley Tournament (1934). Time magazine, dated 8-27-1934, records her feats in an article entitled "Toxophilites at Storrs," commenting upon Mrs. G. D. Mudd's victories at Storrs, Conn., where she defeated Mrs. Lyman Whitney and the defending champion, Madaleine Taylor.

"Unplaced" Mudds

There were found, during the study of the Mudd family in the United States, a number of families which had no connection with the Mudd descendants of Thomas Mudd (1647-1697) of Maryland or whose identities are not established. We record these families also because as American Mudds they deserve a place in this book.

The reader will observe in the following pages that the name of Mudd is spelled Madde, Mud, Mudd, Mudde, Mudie, and Mudes. These were the spellings recorded in various publications and undoubtedly some of them are not members of the Mudd family.

DUTCH MUDDS

JOHN ("JAN") MUDDE

m 1st...Detroit, Mich. 7-22-1927 Louise Matilda Wolfenden
2nd...Detroit, Mich. 7-12-1934 Elizabeth Kobe

John ("Jan") Mudde left Holland and arrived in the United States on 10-8-1923. In 1940 he was residing in Detroit, Mich.

In 1940 Louise Matilda Mudde (nee Wolfenden) was residing in Detroit, Mich.

While the above Mudde family of Netherland origin was the only one found in the U.S., a study of the Mudds of the Netherlands might be worth while to determine the ancestry of some of the Mudds of America. It was found that in 1607/8 a group of Anglicans, known as the Scrooby Separatists, who had withdrawn from the Anglican religion left England and went to the Netherlands where all Christians were allowed religious freedom. When this group reached Amsterdam they found some of their fellow country men who had left the homeland (England) previously. Some of these groups left Holland for Mass. on 7-31-1620. (History of Colonial America, Oliver Perry Chitwood 1931 ps. 110-112.)

That the English Mudds did move to Holland is shown by a finding in the English records that "Dorothy Mudd age 24, wife of Francis Mudd, resident in Rotterdam, Holland, received a license on 4-24-1632 to pass-beyond the sea to Holland." ("Genealogist," England, Vol. 33, p. 115.)

Families with names similar in spelling to Mudd and Mudde are to be found frequently in the Dutch records. We found that Helena Mudy daughter of Robert Mudy and Helena Lew was baptized in the New Church at Amsterdam 5-17-1661. (Walloon Archives, Netherlands) These Mudy's were from Scotland because we found in the Dutch Archives:

"5 January 1658 appeared Robbert Moude from Ortmee in Scotland; seaman, old 28 yrs., parents dead attested by Henry Willems and Helena Leew from Dondi (Dundee?) in Scotland widow of Joris (George) Tuijl both living near the towngates." He signed as "Robert Mudie." She signed with an X.

The name there was also spelled Muddie, Mudde, Mudje and deMude. On 9-13-1656 Jan Mudje and Elizabeth Jonston were married in the Reformed Church at Middleburg, Netherlands (Walloon Archives). Walterus deMude born in St. Anna ter Muiden, Netherlands was a "monk" in the Cisterciense Abbey at Doest, Netherlands. He lived in 1285 and was a poet of note. He died in exile at Doest.

On 8-11-1730 Catharina Muddie of Amsterdam age 25, parents deceased assisted by her sister Jacoba Muddie married Frederick Fielamn from Lubeck, Germany.

One Netherlands record shows that some of these families were in France. In 1708 Jacques la Mude born at Moncrabeau, France became a citizen of Rotterdam, Holland.

Several Mudde records were located in Netherlands in the 17th and 18th centuries and in the early and middle 1800s.

THOMAS MUDD (1559-p. 1619) and John Mudde (1555-x)

Thomas Mudd of England, born London, England about 1559-1560 and son of a London mercer, John Mudd, was a well known musical composer. He was educated at St. Paul's School, matriculating as a sizar from Caius College of Cambridge 3-15-1576/7. He held from 1578 to 1584 the Pauline Exhibition reserved from Pembroke for mercers' sons at the Suit of Dean Nowell (Gardiners Register of St. Paul's School). He received his B.A. from Peterhouse, Cambridge, in 1580 and his M.A. from St. Paul's School in 1584. He was elected fellow of Pembroke Hall and served as late as 1590.

He is also referred to as Rector of Cowling, Kent, from 1589-1592, as vicar of Coblam 1603-19. (Ref. 220.) His age on admission at Cambridge University in 1576/7 was given as 17.

He was the author of a lost comedy in which it was complained he had censured and too saucely reflected on the mayor of Cambridge. The vice-chancellor, accordingly on 2-23-1582, committed him to the Tolbooth for three days. However, he, at the vice-chancellor's command, acknowledged his fault before the mayor and asked his pardon which was freely granted. He composed church music and pieces for four volumes. (Ref. 120)

Meres, in his Palladis Tamia (1598), wrote of Thomas Mudd sometime fellow of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge, as being one of the sixteen excellent contemporary musicians.

In the catalogue of Ely manuscripts, a Thomas or John Mudd is said to have been an organist at Peterborough between 1580 and 1620 (1583-c 1629 also stated). But this organist is believed to be another Thomas Mudd who was an organist at Lincoln in 1662 and 1663 (Ref. 120, Vol. XIII, ps. 1149-50).

Many of Thomas Mudd's compositions are on record. A photostat of one of his compositions is in the file. His name on the photostat is "Mr. Mudd" and not Mudde. (See also Ref. 209)

On 7-11-1573 a John Mudde born London, 1555, son of Henry Mudd of London was also admitted at Caius College. He received his B.A. in 1576/7. (Ref. 220).

Even though there is no proof that the above Mudds were closely related to Thomas Mudd (A) who came to Va. in 1665 and thence to Maryland, it is considered advisable to refer to them as indicating directions for further study on the origin of Thomas Mudd (A). It would seem possible that Henry Mudd and John Mudd of London, fathers of the Thomas Mudde and John Mudde students at Caius College, were brothers.

SIR THOMAS MUDDE (c 1513-1583) (also reported as MADDE)

When Mrs. Frances Kennedy was in London, England in 1914, she attempted, without success, to determine the family relationships of Sir Thomas Mudde.

The following account was taken from Brother Foley's records of the English Province of the Society of Jesus, Vol. III, p. 239 (see Ref. 37, Vol. V, p. 478):

"Sir Thomas Mudde, priest, was a monk of the Abbey of St. Gervaise, three miles distant from Mydcham in Richmondshire, who hardly escaped death by favour and friendship in King Henry's days,...(he) did take away and hide the head of one of his brethren of the same house who had suffered death for that he would not yield to the aforesaid priority (of the King over the Pope).... Afterwards he did flee...unto

St. Andrew's in Scotland, where he did remain unto the end of the reign of King Edward. He, returning in Queen Mary's days, did spend his time about Knaresbro' according to his vocation and teaching gentlemen's children and others.... He was entertained by Lord Thomas Percy, the good Earl of Northumberland.... After Northumberland's insurrection, he moved about doing good, until captured by Sir Thomas Tanckard (1579). He and Sir John Dodson, priest, and their hosts were imprisoned. He was brought to York in derision in his vestments.... The Lord President and Sands, the Protestant bishop of York on July 18th, 1580, brought all the Catholic prisoners per force to hear Sands discourse against the Church. He confused some old men in their words, but Sir Thomas Mudd asking what the matter was—for he was thick of hearing—now stood nearer. The Blessed Sacrament was the subject wherein he did handle Sands, Matthew Hutton, and others so that Sands said he would crush and bruise him for that days work. Whereunto he did make answer that whatsoever he did to his body he could not hurt his soul.

The 3rd of August next following, Mr. Sands, moving to perform his former words on him, he was sent to Hull, there to be in straight custody. He was sick a month. He gave all the silver and gold he had to be distributed unto Catholics. His body was buried in the churchyard at Drypole." (Ref. 53, Vol. III, p. 301.)

Another account of this Thomas Mudd differs in some details (Bibliographical Dictionary of the English Catholics, Vol. 5, p. 141, Joseph Gillow). It is stated that Thomas Mudde was a Cistercian Monk of Jorval Abbey, Yorkshire where the Abbott Adam Sedburgh was put to death on 6-2-1537 for taking part in the pilgrimage of Grace. Then follows the details of his escape to Scotland and his return as a chaplain to Thomas Percy, Earl of Northumberland, a post he held till the Rising of the North in 1569. In 1578 he was living at Buroughbridge, Yorkshire when he was captured while saying Mass. It was in July, 1580 that he was brought before the Lord President and Archbishop Sandys, of the Anglican Church. After the trial Thomas Mudd was removed to the North Block house in the Castle of Hull with 5 other priests where he died at midnight 7 Sept. 1583. (Other References: Douay Diaries, p. 143 and Surtees History of Durham, I, CLX).

The significance of this account is that Thomas Mudd (A), the ancestor of most of the Mudds in the U.S. was a Catholic and is said by some to have come from Yorkshire and further both the Abbott and the ancestor Thomas Mudd (A) were named Thomas Mudd.

The only instance of a Mudd using an Arms in England was a Yorkshire Mudd and Thomas Mudd (A) the American Ancestor referred to a coat of arms in his will.

AMBROSE MUDD

An Ambrose Mudd was the mayor of Clifton, Dartmouth Hardnes, Co. Devon, England about the year 1663/64.

On 9-6-1681 an indenture was recorded between Ambrose Mudd and others (all of Clifton, Dartmouth Hardnes, Co. Devon) which referred to a tract of land.

Ambrose Mudd is mentioned here because other researchers may wish to determine his relationship to Peter and Thomas Mudd of early Virginia and Maryland (Ref.: Deering Family, privately printed in Boston, Mass. for Barbara Deering Danielson).

b possibly (Dr.) Thomas T.

Alexander Mudd and his wife Isabelle had ten children all of whom are said to have died in England. On the rear of one of Mrs. Alma Long's letters is written: Grandfather's brother was Dr. Thos. T. Mudd.

Much of the information on this family has been taken from "Portrait & Geographical Record of Johnson & Pettis Co., Mo. .1895."

In the 1840 census Rives Co. (now Henry Co.) Mo., Wableaw (?) Twp. p. 376, there was a Wm. Mudd having in his household males 20 to 30 (himself), 1; under 5, 1; females 20 to 30, 1; 15 to 20, 1; 10 to 15, 1; under, 5, 1. This Wm. Mudd may have been another son of Alexander. Henry Co. adjoins Johnson and Pettis Co.

The 1830 and 1850 censuses of Rives (later Henry) Co. were checked and no other Mudds were found.

Harry P. Mudd (wife Elsa) who in 1942 resided 711-Huntington Ct., Colton, California came from England to Cal. For years he lived in Shasta, Calif. and married there. He was a 1st cousin of the children of Wm. Mudd (Eng. 5 AAC) and therefore belongs in the line.

An Alexander Mudd was sued in Audrain Co., Mo. in 1905 by H. H. Sturgeon. It is possible that this Alexander Mudd was of the family of Robert Mudd because the family of James Mudd (English #5-Aab) resided in Rich Hill (Audrain Co.), Mo.

It is said that Robert Mudd (Eng. #5-Aa) and his wife Alice had a daughter named Judith but this has not been confirmed.

Robert Mudd was a lead miner in Yorkshire, England and it is said did not come to America.

It is said that Robert Mudd died when his son, James, was nine years old.

In 1948 a Mable Mudd, Bedale, England received considerable publicity as a dressmaker for a bride who was picked as a typical "Commoner" bride on the same day of Prince Philipp's marriage. Possibly she was a member of this family line.

James Mudd, a lead miner, and Hannah Snowden migrated to U.S. from England shortly after their marriage, landing after a six weeks voyage, on 5-21-1859. They came in the boat "Emeral Isle." Immediately after reaching the U.S. they proceeded to Canada arriving at Kingston where they farmed for 4-5 years. They lived in Canada for several years and James worked in the lead mines during the day and attended school at night. His father died when he was but nine years old so he had not been able to acquire an education. They crossed the U.S. line and worked in copper mines of Lake Superior later moving to Tenn. in 1865 where he worked at the Acme Mines returning to (probably) Knob Noster, Mo. where they bought a small fruit farm and raised raspberries and other fruits.

While they were living in Knob Noster, Mo., two of James' brothers, viz. William and George, came there to live. William bought land adjoining that of James but George went on to California after a short visit. William later moved to California to live near George in Germantown, Calif.

James Mudd and Sarah Drinkwater adopted a niece of James, viz. Gracie Bradley.

William Mudd migrated to America with his brother George. William engaged in silver mining in Nevada and later, until his death, engaged in farming in Canada.

At one time William Mudd resided in Artois, Calif.

Mrs. Hurlburt states that her grandfather Robert Mudd married twice. In the first family there were 4 boys and one or two girls. In the second family there were 3 boys and possibly one girl.

She states that her parents left England for Canada a few days after their wedding. She heard her parents speak of "Hampshire Hills" in England and possibly they resided there. In the same year they came to Canada, they went on to Tennessee.

For further reference to William Mudd see accounts of his brothers viz. James Mudd and George Mudd.

George Mudd migrated to America with his brother William. George resided in Western Canada where he engaged in farming at Kingston until 1865 and then went to the copper mines near Lake Superior where James and William (his brothers) had preceded him. Being dissatisfied, he and his brothers went to the eastern part of Tennessee where they expected to find iron mines in operation, but, finding the mines closed, they continued on to Chattanooga, Tenn. where they remained until 1866. George Mudd then went to Johnson Co., Mo. where James had preceded him and they operated a coal mine of their own. In 1867 George Mudd went west to California (his brother William followed) and settled on a 5000 acre wheat ranch located 4 1/2 miles east of Germantown in Colusa County.

George Mudd was one of the pioneer farmers of Colusa Plains in Colusa Co., Calif. He was a practical business man and was the first man in the great Sacramento Valley to apply steam to the plow, harrow and harvester.

He attended U. of Calif. taking a mining course after which he visited the diamond mines in South Africa. He had lost his ranch, possibly through fraud and was trying to recoup his fortunes. George Mudd lived on his ranch in Colusa now (1947) Glenn Co., Calif. for 20 yrs., then moved to San Francisco. The ranch had a large house, barns and blacksmith shop.

Alma I. Long wrote that her maternal grandfather came to Calif. around the Horn in 1849 in the Gold Rush and that her maternal grandmother came from Canada thru the Panama Canal in 1851.

George Mudd and his son Lester Robert went to South Africa. On his way back George Mudd was killed. Lester was then 16.

George Ellis Mudd and Hazel Mudd and her husband buried in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, San Mateo Co., Calif.

William Ellis Mitchell was a merchant, miner and farmer. He came from Macon, Ga.

Frankey H. Mudd wrote us that Fawn Mudd had a brother named John who also came to this country and who died before he (Frankey H.) was born. John was "unmarried."

Fawn Mudd migrated from England to Lockport, N.Y. when a young man. He is said to have settled at Niagara Falls, N.Y. Fawn Mudd told his son Frankey H. that he had a cousin or nephew that came to this country "years ago" but he never knew what became of him. This cousin or nephew is said to have gone out West.

Lillian S. Carrier states that her grandfather's father never reached the U.S.; that her grandfather had a brother named John in England that her grandfather went to England and brought back a chest full of things (china etc.) worth $700. She thought the family were residents in England.

WILLIAM EDWARD MUDD (English #10-A)

b England 1827
d Marlboro Co., S.C. prior to 1860 census. son of (unknown)
m U.S. Sarah Frances ("Sallie") Covington (b. S.C. 1815) daughter of Henry Covington

Issue (one only)

Henry Edward I[1] b S.C. 12-25-1849

The similarity of given names and common origin from England, suggests the possibility that Wm. Edward Mudd above may be from the same Mudd line as Edward Mudd (England 6-A).

Mrs. Lillie Ida Mudd Quick wrote that her great grandfather William Edward Mudd came to the U.S. in 1846 on a cattle boat with the intention of returning to his home in London but the U.S.-Mexican War prevented his return.

Mrs. Martha Ann Higgins gave a similar story, stating that her great grandfather, William Edward Mudd came to the U.S. with two other men a Mr. Adams and Mr. Peele, for the purpose of bringing a bull to N.C., but the war broke out and they couldn't return.

Mrs. Quick added that her brother Cicero Mudd once met a Mudd in Texas who was reared in the West and he said his great grandfather came from London, England in 1846 on a cattle boat with his brother, William Edward Mudd and that William Edward went to N.C. and the other brother went West. This would indicate that two brothers came on the cattle boat.

Mrs. Huggins stated that the old Mudd home was at Gibson, N.C. 16 miles from Rockingham.

1850 census Marlboro Co., S.C., William Mudd 23, farmer worth $600, b. England; Sarah 35, b. S.C., Henry E., 1; b. S.C.

1860 census Marlboro Co., S.C., Mrs. Sarah Mudd 55 b. S.C. worth $1400, Edward 12, b. S.C.

It is quite probable that Wm. Edward Mudd died shortly before 1860, because he was not residing with his family in the 1860 census. One member of the family stated however that Wm. Edward Mudd served in the Civil War. No proof of this could be found. The only Carolina Mudd found in the Civil War was a T. G. Mudd who joined the Confederate Army and was in the 7th S.C. Cavalry. He is unidentified (see unplaced Mudds #19).

It was stated that Sarah Covington was an old maid when William E. Mudd married her. This is born out by the 1860 census. The discrepancies in her age in the 1850 and 1860 census should be noted. She remarried after the death of her husband to Nat Almon.

Sarah Covington is reported to have been the 1st cousin of Matilda Covington, wife of Henry Edward Mudd (English #10-Aa) and it is said that their mothers resided in England and they (the two Covington cousins) eventually returned to England to their mothers.

Noah Mudd, a negro, in the 1870 census Richmond Co., N.C. was a slave of the Mudds. Originally he or his ancestors were slaves of the Covingtons, i.e. Sarah Covington Mudds family. Some negro Mudds were buried on the Covington place in Marlboro Co., S.C.

There were nine Covington families in the 1850 census of Marlboro Co., S.C. The only families to which it appears Sarah Frances Covington could have belonged were Thos. S. Covington, 55, and wife Sara, 53, Wm. Covington, 72, wife Nancy and Samuel Covington, 64, wife Lucy, 55. It would appear most likely that Thos. S. Covington and wife Sara were the parents of Sarah Frances because of the mother and daughter having the same name.

Ancestry: Freeman Thomas Mudd wrote us that his Mudd family originally descended from the Suffolk Yeomanry; that all his father's ancestors were blacksmiths excepting his father (meaning Freeman Thomas' grandfather) Thomas who was an expressman. Isaac, Thomas, James and George Mudd (see English #12-Aaeb), sons of Thomas, were clerks in the Huntingfield Church. They were also campanologists (bell ringers) which is considered a great art in England. These Mudds have resided in the Huntingfield Church Parish area for centuries.

Mulley Family: Freeman (b. Elmswell, England 2-5-1858; d. 3-28-1947 at the age of 89 years) and Gertrude Alberta (b. Elmswell, England 8-1-1861) were married in 1879. Susan Mudd, wife of Albert, was a full-blood Seneca Indian. After the death of Albert Mudd who was killed when his only child, viz. Maude Lee, was 18, (also reported as 7) months old Susan remarried to a Bomberry. There were several children by her second marriage.

Maude Lee Mudd was reported to be a full-blood Indian. She, in 1928, was a 14 year old Indian heiress to more than $2,000,000 in oil lands, lead mines, and cash in Oklahoma. Her fortune (in 1928) was divided into three holdings, viz. 600 acres of oil land in Osage Co., Okla. which was her father's share of Oklahoma land apportioned the Osage tribe by the Government; 200 acres of land in Ottawa Co., Okla. containing four lead and zinc mines which she inherited from an aunt, Lucy Beaver Perry; and a cash credit of nearly $1,000,000 at the Pawhuska Indian Agency which was the accrued income from her oil lands.

After Maude Lee Mudd's father was killed, her mother gave Maude into the keeping of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Crow who were poor Indian farmers living about 30 miles from Miami, Okla. The grandparents followed the Indian customs and reared the heiress as they believed a daughter should be reared. She did the chores around the small farm and assisted at the various feasts and ritualistic ceremonies of the tribe. She attended school infrequently.

Because of Maude Lee Mudd's ever-increasing wealth, her condition was called to the attention of the Government authorities and W. M. Simms, an attorney of Vinita, Okla., was appointed her legal guardian. It was necessary to employ habeas corpus proceedings to get Maude Lee from her grandparents but when this was accomplished she was placed in the custody of Mrs. Ella Shannon of Miami, Okla.

When Maude Lee Mudd was 16 years old considerable publicity was given her alleged kidnapping when she disappeared from the home of her mother, Mrs. Susan Bomberry at Miami, Okla. Three years later, on 7-23-1928, Victor Wilson and his wife Edith were released on bond having reportedly kidnapped Maude Lee Mudd, the Oklahoma Indian heiress.

The disappearance of Maude Lee Mudd led to the burying of the hatchet by the Seneca and Cayuga Indians of S. W. Mo. and N. E. Okla. Officials of the two factions which had been split for a year explained that a common interest in the girl prompted the peace. The resolutions of peace were signed by John Crow, Chief of the Cayuga Tribe, the Indian girl's grandfather, and Christopher Bomberry, uncle of the girl and head of the Senecas. (Blackwell "Tribune" 5-30-25.)

Maude Lee was her father's only heir, although she had several half brothers and sisters as the result of her mother's second marriage. Neither these children nor her mother shared in Albert Mudd's estate.

Albert Mudd was Chief and head man of the Quapaws on Quapaw Creek. He was also known as "Tall Chief" and "Old Man Beaver." (Indian Pioneer History, Vol. 9, p. 16.) One Mrs. Ethel Brotherton interviewed "Tall Chief" about the Indian customs and he stated that it was customery to give ponies to get a wife and that Alex Mudd once gave his black horse to Solomon Quapaw for the latter's daughter Bertha but Bertha did not like Alex and they were not married (Indian Pioneer History, vol. 66, ps. 98-9).

Refs: Blackwell Morning Tribune (Okla.) 6-10-1925
Daily Oklahoman, Okla. City, 2-4-1923.

b (possibly) Alex d (in "Territory Days")

The U.S. Department of Interior at Pawhuska, Okla. on 8-22-1930 wrote: "Moh an e kah, a Quapaw Indian, was the father and Me tsa no, a mixed Quapaw and Osage Indian, was the mother of Alex Mudd, a member of the Osage Tribe of Indians." It is said that the first syllable of the Indian name of Alex Mudd sounded like Mudd and that may have accounted for the choice of the name.

The Blackwell Sunday Times 11-11-1928 (p.1, Col. 1) reported that persons said to be logical heirs of Alex Mudd who died without heirs, were suing for Alex Mudd's 2 million dollar estate.

Two of Alex Mudd's family served as soldiers during World War #1. However, Alex Mudd died without heirs and it is believed he had no children.

d Lucy m 1st, Beaver
2nd, Sam Perry

One Wm. Elliott interview Lucy Cedar and a little woman named Mrs. Mudd (half Osage and half Quapaw) and they gave him tea made of fever week to cure him of fever. Wm. Elliott was told that Robert Mudd and Lucy Mudd were "descendants" of Mrs. Mudd. (Indian Pioneer History, vol. 23, ps. 364-5)

It is remotely possible that Mary Mudd (otherwise known as Me tsa no) was Mary Robuck, step-daughter of Balthazar Xavier Mudd (Aaaae). It is significant that Albert Mudd married a daughter of John Crow, because Leopold Mudd brother of Balthazar X. Mudd sold slaves to Basil C. Crow in 1835.

Apparently several other Indians in Okla. took the name Mudd. Some references to these Mudds are as follow:

11-12-1883 —Coletus Mudd, "a citizen of the Osage Nation" signed with many other Indians, a petition to the Secretary of the Interior regarding grazing privileges on some land granted to certain citizens of the U.S. (Indian Documents, Okla. History Soc. vol. 21, p. 230, and vol. 17, p. 362.)

In 1897/98 an O. Mudd was a student at Sacred Heart College, Sacred Heart Mission in the S.E. part of Pottowatomie Co. (same reference, vol. 34, p. 77).

IRISH MUDDS

In the 1860 census of Washington, D.C. (p. 719) a Catherine Mudd age 20 born in Ireland (as copied) was employed by Richard Richetts, (age 48, b. Md.) clerk, L (and ?) office. Whether she was a married woman or not we did not determine.

We also found in the death records of Washington, D.C. that William Mudd age 62 (b. 1787) b. Ireland, d. Washington, D.C. 12-x-1849.

In the 1890 directory of Baltimore, Md., we found Catherine Mudd widow of A.B. Mudd residing at 1410 Bolton Street.

In the 1850 census, 1st Ward, p. 108/9 taken 8-28, Washington, D.C., there was a Mary Mudd age 35, b. Ireland and Robert age 20, b. D.C., carpenter; Isabella 18, b. D.C.; Mary 16; Martha 12; Wm. 8. All these are unplaced. In 1853 Directory, Washington, D.C., Mary Mudd, widow, resided on Maryland Ave., between 12th and 13th Streets. Since Mary, age 35 was born in Ireland it is possible she was a daughter or second wife of William Mudd b. Ireland who died in D.C., at the age of 62 on 12-x-1849. For some time we suspected this was a possible family of Thomas James Mudd (see Ababbb). An Isabella Mudd m. Washington, D.C. 12-21-1858 Thomas Coombes and a Mary Mudd married in Washington, D.C. 5-27-1852 John H. Ray. It appears that this Isabella Mudd was of the above family and Mary E. Mudd may be the Mary age 35 above or the Mary age 16. William Mudd (see Unplaced #6) who married Sarah O'Brien may have been an older child of William Mudd of Ireland who d. 12-x-1849.

In the 1880 census of Belton, Cass Co., Mo. a Pat Mudd age 18 was boarding with Louis and Mary Hellers and he was employed at the R. R. house. He was born in Missouri and his parents were born in Ireland.

A J. P. Mudd, age 26 and born in Ireland resided in October 1852, in Nevada Co., California. (Private Census Reports.) He resided in Ireland for an unknown period.

NEGRO MUDDS

No attempt has been made to study the origin of negroes in the United States who have the name of Mudd. Suffice it to say, however, that several negro Mudd families were traced for the purpose of determining their origin, and, as might be expected, most of them were slaves of Mudds who took the name of the "Master." It would seem that this is a compliment to the Masters. In several instances the presence of negro Mudds in the early records of Maryland, Kentucky, Virginia and Louisiana caused considerable difficulty in distinguishing them from the Caucasian group. At the time this book is going to press there are some whose race is doubtful.

ALABAMA

A Jesse Mudd negro age 58 resided in Madison Co., Alabama in 1880. He was born in Georgia. (See also, NEGRO MUDDS OF NEBRASKA.)

D. C.

An Ann Mudd was found in the 1830 census residing alone in Georgetown, D.C. She was age 20 to 30. In the 1840 D.C. census an Ann Mudd was head of a household having therein males 30 to 40, 1; females 20 to 30, 1; and 50 to 60, 1. It has been suspected this Ann Mudd might have been Julianna Mudd (see Ababbc) but in view of the 1850 census for Ann Mudd it is believed she was a negro. Ann Mudd died in Georgetown, D.C., in 1851.

In the 1850 census of Georgetown, D.C., there was an Ann Mudd age 65, b. in Virginia, residing with the family of H. Lewis, 35, seaman, b. Md., and J. Lewis (wife?) 30, b. N.Y., E. Queen, F. 26, b. Va., and three small Lewis children. It is believed that this was a negro family possibly from the Loudoun Co., Va., group. In 1910 a Lewis Mudd married Irene Lewis, both negroes, in D.C.

KENTUCKY

Charles Mudd a Private and later Corporal in Company "C" of the 108th U.S.C. Infantry during the Civil War was a slave of Donatus Mudd of Kentucky (see Abagbc) as testified to by W. C. Mudd and S. A. Mudd, sons of Donatus Mudd in Civil War pension files.

Jack Mudd Jr. (negro) enrolled in the Union Army (Civil War) at Lebanon, Ky., on 5-18-1864 and died in the service at New Albany, Indiana. He was the son of Jacob and Celia Mudd, slaves of Donatus Mudd of Kentucky. In the pension file in this case, it is shown that Donatus Mudd released his slaves as soon as President Lincoln made his Emancipation Proclamation. The financial embarrassment resulting from the release of the slaves is well described by the children of Donatus Mudd. Many of these slaves had been bought at big prices and the loss of their labor and the investment represented by them has been described too often to require repetition here.

Many negro families were found in the Kentucky censuses especially Washington County, beginning in 1870. (See Ky. Census file.)

LOUISIANA

The following record was found in the St. John's Catholic Church Record at Lafayette, Louisiana:

Dudley Mudd son of Merkal Mudd and Lawrence Loria, b. 9-1-1907. Race "colored"; sponsors Paul Landry and Henriette Landry.

MARYLAND

The Tabitha Mudd who made her will in Charles County, Md., in 1793 leaving personal property to her children, Edward and Sarah Mudd may prove to have been a negro. In April 1788, Thomas Nathaniel Mudd (Abad) sold six female slaves in Prince Georges County, Md. Since one of Thomas Mudd's daughters was Tabitha, it is possible one of the slaves took the name Tabitha and this will may refer to her.

The John Mudd in the 1810 census of Charles Co., Md., having four "free persons not white" in his household might have been a negro.

If one will check the records of the Arlington Cemetery in Virginia, he will find that Noble T. Mudd is buried there. Noble Mudd was the son of Louis Mudd and Elizabeth Hart, both negro slaves in Southern Maryland. They were married at a Baptist Church in Chas. Co., Md. Noble joined the U.S. Navy during the Spanish American War and was a seaman-gunner on the U.S.S. Maine. He was killed on 2-15-1898 by the explosion and sinking of the U.S.S. Maine at Havana, Cuba. He was first buried in Caroline County, Virginia, the U.S. paying $2.00 for the digging of his grave.

Two negro Mudds were found in the 1870 census of the 1st District, Chas. Co., Md; C. A. Mudd, age 40, in the family of Cyrus Wheeler, and Mary Mudd, 66, in the home of H. and M. J. Barnes.

A George W. Mudd, unmarried, was a party to a land transaction in Montgomery County, Md., on 8-5-1921 (Land Record, Mont. Co., 308-229). He may have been the George Mudd son of John Wm. Mudd Sr. and Elizabeth Porter, negroes of Washington, D.C.

MASSACHUSETTS

The only Mudd listed as being in the Union Army (Civil War) from Massachusetts was Lemuel Mudd, negro, of Maryland who was 21 years of age in 1864. He enlisted at Cambridge, Mass., and was a Private in Company "H" of the 23d U.S. Colored Infantry. He was reported as missing in action at Petersburg, Va. His residence was listed as "Md." It is significant that a child named Lemuel Mudd died in D.C., 5-1-1872.

MISSOURI

Several negro families were found in the 1870 census of Lincoln County, Mo. In the 1880 census Cuivre Township, St. Charles County, Mo., there was a negro family of Lucinda Mudd, 46, b. Md., and Anna, 16 and Benjamin B. 13, b. Mo., so probably this was a slave family brought to St. Chas. Co., by one of the several Mudds who moved to that county.

In the 1870 census of Pike County, Mo., (Ashley Town), p. 17, Mady Mudd, age 80, b. Va., was in the house of Samuel and Martha Pursel. Possibly this Mady Mudd was a negress of Loudoun County, Va.

In the 1880 census Louisiana Township, Pike Co., Mo., a Mary Mudd, "black," born in North Carolina, father and mother born in N. C., was residing with Jake and Ellen King. She may have descended from the Henry E. Mudd slaves. (See English Mudds #10.)

NEBRASKA

Elder Mudd a negro, age 65, died in Omaha, Nebraska, 3-21-1950. He was a waiter at the Fontenelle Hotel for 25 years. His sister, Sarah Hendrix resided in St. Louis, Mo. He was reported as born in Newport, Arkansas,the son of Thad Mudd and Winney Noble.

The 1880 census of Jackson County, Ark., contained the family of Thadius Mudd, 26, b. Ala., parents b. Va., Winnie, wife, 27, b. Ala., and four children; Charles 8, Nan 6, Georgia (dau) 2, and Felicia 3 mos.

OHIO

1850 census Harrison County, Ohio (N. Twp), Rachel Mudd, 46 (black), Thompson Shipman 22, Mary Jane Mudd 16, Francis E. Mudd 14, Levi Lewis 2/12, all negro, the first two born in Rockingham Co., Va., the last three in Harrison Co., Ohio.

In the 1860 census Cadiz, Harrison Co., Ohio there was a Margaret A. Mudd (negro) age 40, b. Ohio; Wm. 5, b. Ohio; Arkansas 2, b. Ohio and Mary Rasler (?) Mudd age 95, b. Va. This family less Wm. age 5 and Mary R. age 95 was in the 1870 census same county. It is probable that this Mary R. Mudd was of the Loudoun Co., Va. group. Her extreme age indicates how early the negro was set free in that state, inasmuch as there were no white Mudds in Loudoun Co., Va. after 1815, and it may suggest that some of the early unplaced Maryland Mudds were of this race.

A Wm. L. Mudd joined the U.S. Army at Columbus, Ohio, 6-14-1898 and was mustered out at Camp Marion, S. C., 1-28-1899. He proved to be a negro born 1880 in Covington, Kentucky. His next of kin (to notify in case of emergency) was Leda Mudd age 49, Buckson Ave., Springfield, Ohio.

TENNESSEE

In the 1880 census Lynchburg County, Tennessee, certain D.C. negro Mudds were located viz., Geo. P. Mudd 40; and wife, Josephine, and Lloyd Mudd 63, wife Henrietta 39, and son Wm. 12.

VIRGINIA

A large group of negro Mudds was found early in Loudoun County, Virginia. (See Aabba and Aabbb.) In the 1810 census of that County, Ned Mudd who proved to be a free negro was found with five persons in his family. He was taxed in 1820 and 1821 as Edward Mudd and again in 1822 as Ned. A negro family of Edward Mudd was found in the 1830 census of Belmont County, Ohio. He was age 36 to 55 and the wife was 24 to 36. There were two males, 10 to 24 and one male under 10. The following free "negroes" were found in later years in Loudoun County, Va.; Benjamin in 1840, 42 and 45; Thomas in 1836, 38, 40, 45 and 46. Fendra Mudd was age 65 in the 1850 census Loudoun Co., Va., and with him were Mary 20, George 18 and Edward 7. Fendra was listed with a son Fletcher in 1846. There was John W. Mudd in 1853 and John Mudd (probably John W) in 1854. A Harrison Mudd bought property on Goose Creek in Loudoun Co., Va., on 10-2-1843 (Deed Book, 4 U, p. 414, Loudoun Co., Va.) and sold the same property to Moses P. Watson on 9-28-1846 (Deed Book, 4W, p. 384, Loudoun Co., Va.). It is assumed that Harrison Mudd was unmarried when he sold property to Moses P. Watson because no wife signed with him.

There may be relationship between Harrison Mudd or Edward Mudd of Loudoun Co., Va., and the Catherine Mudd (age 52) who filed for a Civil War pension. This Catherine Mudd was married at Leesburg, Va., (Loudoun County) in 1855. Her husband died at Monroesville, Pa., but we could not find any record of his death. She had two sons who were in the service during the Civil War, viz. Henry H. Mudd who was captured and lost in service, and George Mudd (d. Ft. Wagoner, Morris Is., S.C. 6-12-1897 without wife or issue) who enlisted at Chambersburg, Pa., in Company "I" of the Mass. Vol. Regt.

See also Nebraska record of Thadius Mudd herein above.

In later years beginning with the 1870 census sizeable groups of negro Mudds were found in Fauquier and Shenandoah Counties, Va. Whether these were of the Loudoun County stock, was not determined.

A large number of negro Mudds in Washington, D.C. (as of 1948) descended from the Loudoun Co., Va. group.

The negro Mudds referred to herein are mentioned to demonstrate the origin of the name Mudd in that race. Having been granted their freedom many of them served their country in the armed services of the Civil War and later wars. Only a few of them are mentioned in this account. Many other negro Mudds are to be found in a file entitled "Negro Mudds" in the possession of the author.

UNPLACED MUDD #1 (Kentucky groups)

In the Woodford Co., Ky. tax list for 1790 a John Mudd (or possibly John Meed) was taxed, having in his household three white males over 21, two slaves over 12, and one horse. We did not check this record to verify it by inspection of other tax years.

In the Knox Co., Ky. tax list for 1811 there was an Abram Mud (or possibly Abram Meed) who was taxed for 300 acres of land on Brownings Creek. This was the only year up to 1820 that we found such a person and we doubt that he was a Mud.

In the Wayne Co., Ky. tax list for 1817 a man whose name appeared to be Thomas Mudd, but may have been Thomas Meed, was taxed for 160 acres of land in B. Creek, one white male over 21, and three horses. Although we doubt that this man was a Mudd, the record was not thoroughly checked.

UNPLACED MUDD #2

In the 1870 census of St. Louis, Mo. (in the Raines Boarding House[1]) a J. A. Mudd age 45 (b. N.Y.) with valuation of $2000 and $4000 personal property, was listed with Jennie, 39 (b. Ohio); Ophelia, 15 (b. Ohio); Jay, 12 (b. Ohio); Richard, 9 (b. Mo.); Fannie, 6; Jennie, 4; and Julia, 2. (See Ohio Negro Records)

It is possible that the J. A. Mudd referred to above was one of the following:
- a..Son of the James Mudd who was listed in the 1820 New York State census.
- b..Brother of the William Mudd who married Sarah O'Brien in Wash., D.C. in 1844 (see Unplaced #6).
- c..John Mudd (negro) who died on 11-4-1873 at the age of 40 years. In the 1869, 1870, and 1871 St. Louis, Mo. city directories this John Mudd[2] (negro Riverman and laborer) was listed as residing between 16th and 17th Streets; on Washington Avenue[1]; and, in 1871, in the rear of 1619 Franklin Avenue.

FOOTNOTES

1. A Mrs. Sarah Rains, widow of John Rains, operated a boarding house at 800 Washington Avenue in St. Louis, Mo. A Mary E. Rains, teacher at the Old Webster School, resided at the boarding house.
2. In 1869 and 1870 his name was recorded as John Mud and in 1871 as John Mudd.

UNPLACED MUDD #3

Benjamin Kidwell (b. Wales 5-25-1754 d. Md. 12-10-1810) (son of Benjamin Kidwell, son of James) said to be a brother of a James Kidwell, married an Elizabeth Mudd, who is unknown and unplaced. They had issue Nehimiah and Francis (Ref: D.A.R. Lin. Bk. 49, p. 107, D.A.R. application #48225).

Benjamin Kidwell was a Private in the 3d Md. Regt. under Capt. Horatio Clagett (see Depreciation Pay Book #3, p. 251, at Md. Archives).

There appears to have been two Benjamin Kidwells in the American Revolution. One served 5-26-78 to 11-1-78 and one served 4-9-1777, discharged 1-4-1780. It is possible these refer to the same man.

Thomas Berry left a will in Chas. Co., Md. (Wills AF 7, f. 400). Therein he left money to be distributed to certain needy persons. Among those who received contributions were Ann Mudd and Elizabeth Kidwell. There is no reason to believe that Ann Mudd (unplaced) and Elizabeth Kidwell were related.

It was believed that Elizabeth Mudd above was the daughter of Francis Mudd and Sarah Mitchell (see Abag) but there is no proof of this. The fact that Mary Mudd daughter of Francis Mudd (Abag) married a James Kidwell and she had a sister Elizabeth made it appear that the Elizabeth who married Benjamin Kidwell was also a daughter of Francis Mudd.

UNPLACED MUDD #4

An Albert Mudde, son of Fred and Sadie Mudde, was born in St. Louis, Mo. on 1-14-1890. All are unidentified.

UNPLACED MUDD #5

Helen Mudd born in Md. moved with her parents to Ky., and married in Ky. David Higgins, b. Mercer Co., Ky. 1795 d. Marion Twsp.,Hendricks Co., Ind.1851. After marriage they moved to Jefferson Township, Putnam Co. and in March, 1831 came to Hendricks Co., Ind. (See History of Hendricks Co., Ind. 1885 Interstate Pub. Co., p. 684; and History of Hendricks Co., Ind. 1914, Bower and Co.)

This Helen Mudd may have been a daughter of Rhodias Elexius Mudd (Adaa). She survived her husband several years. Helen Mudd was probably a grand-daughter of Rhodias E. Mudd.

Three Higgins settled in Jefferson Twsp., Putnam Co., Ind. in the year 1819. They settled in Sect. 16. Very likely these three Higgins were the same ones who settled in Hendricks Co. between 1826 and 1827.

Daniel, Thomas and David Higgins were among the first settlers of Hendricks Co., Ind. They settled in Marion Twsp. Thomas and David were brothers. Possibly Daniel was also a brother. David Higgins was Justice of the Peace of Marion Twsp. in 1843. He had 8 children:

1. David (of Edgar Co., Ill.)
2. Michael b. Putnam Co., Ill. 8-5-1823, who had a son William T. b. 1848.
3. Eliza Ann who married________ Cavett and resided in 1885 in Lucas Co., Iowa.
4. John A. of Colorado. (If this is John Alexis it would indicate descent from Rhodias Elexius Mudd, Adaa, son of John Mudd.)
5. Helen who married_______ Aldrich.
6. Nancy who married Carter and resided in Hendricks Co., Ill.
7. Mary Jane
8. Daniel, d. 1851.

The places, residences above referred to were as of 1885.

In 1830 there was a John Casida in Hendricks Co., age 20 to 30. If this was Abacg4, then it is quite possible that Helen Mudd was a daughter or granddaughter of Luke Mudd, Abac.

Rufus Henry Mudd had a sister-in-law named Mrs. H. O. Kale and a niece by the name of Nadene Kale. The latter resided (1948) 1134-N. Hudson, Arlington, Va.

Rufus Henry Mudd was an electrician at Providence Hospital.

The family of S & E Tearson are to be found in 1850 census Georgetown, D.C. (p. 194).

Mrs. Ella S. Mudd resided 29 Lawton Ave., Clarendon, Va. at time of her death. She was buried from St. Charles Church (Clarendon?).

The records obtained by Fr. Kenny from a Priest in Virginia as follows: "Rufus Henry Mudd was converted by me in his last illness and I buried him. T.A.R."

The Wash., D.C. directories list as follows:

c Rosier b 10-18-1856
d 6-30-1858

It is worth noting that the only other "Rosier" in the Mudd family is in the family line of Thomas James Mudd (see Ababb ad).

d Annie Belle b Georgetown, D.C. 2-27-54
d D.C. 10-9-1871

The indications that Annie B. Mudd was a daughter of William Mudd and Sarah A. O'Brien are that Annie's address, at the time of her death, was the same as that of Sarah A. O'Brien Mudd (i.e. 73 High Street), and William Mudd had a child named Anna age 6 in the 1860 census.

It is obvious that Annie B. Mudd and Sarah A. O'Brien Mudd were both interred in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

Anne B. Mudd was confirmed at Grace P. E. Church Wash., D.C. 1-24-1869. She is referred to as a communicant there in 1871.

Mary Aquilla b 2-8-1860
d 9-27-1862

Referred to as Mary Phyllis in records of Christ Episcopal Church, Georgetown, D.C. e Cora V. b 8-23-1864

d 3-16-1882[1]

Miss Matilda B. Spalding (Aaaaf c2) stated that William Mudd who married Sarah "Bryan" was her (Matilda's) cousin and that he was the son of Joshua Mudd (Aaaa), however, we proved this was a mistake (see John William Mudd, Aaaaaa).

It is strongly suspected that William Mudd was a son of the James Mudd found in the 1820 census of New York City. (See Unplaced family #20) This James Mudd had one son under 10 in that census. This James Mudd might have been (but not probably) a descendant of the John Mudd who died 2-8-1730/31 in Boston, Mass. and his wife Mary Jenkins. It is noteworthy that this John Mudd was buried from Christ Church in Boston and was probably not a Catholic. He could also be a son of William Mudd d. Washington, D.C. 12-x-1849 age 62, who was b. Ireland. No relatives came to the funeral of Rufus Henry Mudd and the widow knew of no relatives.

In the 1860 census of Georgetown, D.C.[8] William Mudd age 48 born N.Y., a fisherman, was listed with Sarah, 36 born D.C.; Clarence, 12; Rufus, 8; Anna, 6; and S. Willy, as copied, 5 months. Although "S. Willy" was copied, the family record sent by Nadene A. Kale shows "Mary Aquilla b. 2-8-60."

In the 1870 census of Georgetown, D.C.[9] William Mudd age 63 born N.Y. was listed with Sarah, 46 born Va., housekeeper; Clement[10], 22, house carpenter; Rufus, 19, plumber and gas fitter; Annie B., 16, at home; and Cora, 6.

Sarah A. Mudd was listed as a Communicant at Grace P. E. Church, Washington, D.C. in 1864.

The death record of William Mudd dated 5-21-1883 states that he was born in New York and died at the age of 73 years; also that he had lived in D.C. for 10 years.

William Mudd and his daughter, Cora, were interred in the Presbyterian Cemetery at Volta Pl. and Q St. N.W. This cemetery in 1944 was a city play-ground. It was called the Presbyterian Cemetery because it belonged to the West St. Presbyterian Church now, (1944) at 3115 P St., N.W. The Church abandoned the cemetery and gave a contract to a firm named "Birch" to move the bodies where the families requested. There is no record of the Mudds in the cemetery which was being moved. Most of the bodies that were moved were taken to Oak Hill Cemetery, Georgetown, D.C., but there is no record of any Mudds there.

The Washington, D.C. directories list as follows:
1855 William Mudd, sailor, 9 High St., Georgetown, D.C.
1858 George Wm. Mudd, grocer, 11 High St.
1867 William Mudd, watchman, 26 E. Market Space, Gtn.
1869 William Mudd, watchman, 26 E. Market Space, Gtn.

1872 William Mudd, watchman, South nr. High, Gtn.
1873 William Mudd, watchman, South nr. High, Gtn.
1874 William Mudd, watchman, South nr. High, Gtn.
1875 William Mudd, watchman, South nr. High, Gtn.
1876 William Mudd, South, between Congress and High, Gtn.
1877 William Mudd, watchman, 73 High St.
1878 William Mudd, watchman, High nr. 1st., Gtn.
1879 William Mudd, 73 High St.
1882 William C. Mudd, 2123 South N.W.[11]
1888 William Mudd, 73 High St.

UNPLACED MUDD #7 (Louisiana Groups)

A group of Mudds of Lafayette, La. are unplaced. It is possible that this group descended from Joshua Mudd (Aaaa) unless they are negroes, see especially Aaaaa a.

William Mudd died April 7, 1849. His parents and race were not given.

In the 1850 census of St. Landry Parish, La. there was a Mrs. Mary McBridge 36, Emilie Mudd 20, William Mudd 13, Emelia Mudd 11. Probably these were negroes because in the St. Landry Church record we found "Marie Catherine" child of Emilie Mudd and Charles (Mudd?) (colored) slaves of "Mr. Mudd," (possibly this was Ferdinand Louis Mudd, Aaaab d). It would seem that William Mudd, died 4-7-1849, may have been the head of this family. They are unidentified. In this same census there was Gorte Mudd age 60 b. Va. and Sally Mudd age 50 b. La. Gorte Mudd may have been one of the Loudoun Co., Va. negroes. (See Virginia Negroes.)

Pierre Mudd son of Eraste Mudd and Rosa Valin b. 11-5-1901 Godfather Valerie Mudd, was baptized at St. Landry Church, Opelousas, La.

Marie Mudd daughter of Pierre Mudd and Marie Landeau was born 1-26-1904. Sponsors: Alcide Landeau and Heloise Gallion.

See Findlay H. Mudd (Abacb ab). It is stated that he resided in La. His descendants, if any, are unknown to us. Pierre Mudd may have been a member of his family.

UNPLACED MUDD #8 (Louisiana Group)

Descendants of a Frank Mudd of Lafayette Parish, La.

A. Frank Mudd, II, was the son of Frank Mudd I and Marie Gathe (b. 6-18-1872). The mother's name also referred to as Mrs. Marie DeLore. She was daughter of ________ DeLore and Arthemise Gathe but used the name Gathe. Frank Mudd II married in Lafayette Parish, La., 12-9/19-1903 to Edme Gathe (witnesses Saul Dominique, Leon Thibodeaux, Clairville LeBlanc) and had issue:

1. Colbert Mudd m. Lafayette Parish, La. 7-10-35 to Roberta Begneaux (witnesses Edward St. Julien, Ozora Dominque, Wilta Mudd).
2. Marie, b. Oct. 1906, d. Lafayette Parish, La. 12-1-1906
3. Wilbert Patrick, b. 12-5-1908
4. Jimmy who had a son Hillary.
5. Wilta Mudd

B. William Mudd, son of Frank Mudd I and Mrs. Marie DeLore (d. 1893). Married, 1st, Lafayette Parish, La., 2-4-1896, Helen Begnaud (witnesses Julien Lad, Frank Mudd, Armand Corbet). Married, 2nd, Christine Wesley and had issue:

1. Marie Louise, b. Lafayette Parish, La., 1-7-1900
2. Clarence, b. 11-25-1901

It is probable that the following persons of Beaumont, Texas belong to this Wm. Mudd family inasmuch as both "Clarence" and "William" are found in the records:

Clarence Wm. Mudd b. Beaumont, Tex., 11-2-1924, son of C. A. Mudd (also said to be Clarence W. Mudd) and Elizabeth St. Clair.

Clarence W. Mudd Sr., also had a daughter, Dorris.

Cheryl Jerald Mudd b. Beaumont, Tex., 10-25-1946, son of Clarence Wm. Mudd Jr., and Mary Jane Peddy (the latter two married 6-10-1944).

Clarence Wm. Mudd Jr. also married 1945 Inez Morris.

Ernest Gilbert Mudd b. Beaumont, Tex., 1-3-1922 son of William Mudd and Ozille Devener. Ernest Gilbert Mudd was a Private in Co. D., 7th Inf. at Ft. Lewis, Wash. during World War #2.

William Mudd (son of Frank) was said to be foreman at Magnolia Foundry, Beaumont, Tex., in 1920.

C. Martha, (daughter of Frank Mudd and Mrs. Marie DeLore), married Julian Gathe and has six children one of whom was Mrs. Rena Gathe Johnson of Chicago, Illinois.

Other Beaumont Marriage Records: Mabry Mudd married, 1936, Mrs. Grace Hauks. M. W. Mudd (son of William Mudd) married Lillie Mae Darden, 11-7-1936. Mabry W. Mudd married Mrs. Elva May Nicar in 1943. Mabry Wallace Mudd married Mrs. Edna Schwettman 1944.

The author has considerable information concerning the origin of the above group, but the discussion here would be involved and not sufficiently accurate. Correspondence by those concerned is invited.

Henry Hill Sr. (of Clement Hill and Ann Darnell) m. Ann Hoskins daughter of (probably) Oswald Hoskins. (However Col. Philip Hoskins and Ann Reeves also given as her parents.) (See "Across The Years in Prince George's Co., Md., Effie Gwynn Bowie (1947) p. 428.)

Henry Hill had the following issue:

1. Mary	m	1st..Chas. Carroll 2nd..Col. Ignatius Fenwick
2. Elizabeth	unm
3. Jane	m	______ Mudd
4. Theresa Ann	m	______ Boarman
5. Daughter	m	______ Brooke
6. Henry, (Capt. in Rev.)

The Mudd who married Jane Hill is unknown.

Dr. Joseph Mudd (Abaf) m. Elizabeth Hill who was probably a daughter of John Hill, brother of Henry Hill, Sr. above and Dr. Joseph Mudd bequeathed amongst others to Ann Hill dau of Capt. Henry Hill (above). Accordingly it is suspected that Jane Hill dau of Henry Sr. was the wife of a close relative of Dr. Joseph Mudd. Those who suggest themselves as possibly marrying Jane Hill are the following: Luke Mudd (Abac); Benedict M. Mudd (Abada); Thos. Mitchell Mudd (Abadb); or Benjamin Notley Mudd (Abadc). We have no clue as to which one, if any, of the above married Jane Hill.

In the 1870 census New York City, Ward 22, 14th Dist. p. 478, a name that seemed to be Mike Mudd but might have been Mike Madd was listed. He was a "cart man" age 45 and born in Baden (Germ?) with him was Elisa, age 36, b. Hesse-Dartmstat and Joseph 16, Barbara 12, Caroline 10, and Thomas 6 all b. New York. All were Mudds or Madds. In view of their German origin it it improbable they were Mudds.

UNPLACED MUDD #13

In the 1830 census Baltimore, Md., 10th Ward, p. 122 a "Widow Mud" age 50 to 60 was found. However there is a possibility she was Widow Meed. Residing with her were "Widow Fishbaugh" "Widow Mechel," Jonathon Monrow and Gotleb Myers. Inasmuch as a D. M. Munro was a witness of the will of Elizabeth Mudd (see Aabfd) daughter of Elizabeth and Smith Mudd and since an Elizabeth Mudd age 80 was residing in Baltimore in the 1850 census, we must suspect this widow Mudd might be the widow Smith Mudd (Aabf). The early directories of Baltimore to 1859 inc. were checked and no Mudds found.

A T. G. Mudd joined the Confederate Army during the Civil War as a member of the Holcomb Legion and later was in the 7th S. C. Cavalry. He was paroled at Kingston, N. C. on 12-15-1862.

He might have been a member of the Negro Mudd Group to which Noah Mudd 27, (b. S. C.,) in 1870 census Richmond Co., N. C., belonged. However, there is no indication as to his race.

One George Mudd died at Ft. Waggner, S. C. on 6-12-1897 (see Va. Negro Mudds).

Possibly he was identical with T. G. Mudd.

UNPLACED MUDD #20

"J. Mudd" was born in the state of New York in the year 1832.[1] He was a miner, and, is unidentified.[2] His birth in New York suggests recent arrival of his parents from Europe and in this connection it is worth noting that a William Mudd (widower who died in Wash., D.C. on 5-21-1883) was born in New York State in 1810.[3]

J. Mudd resided for a time in the state of New York but later, in 1852, he resided in Shasta Co., Calif.[2]

In the 1820 census reports for New York City (and county)[4] James Mud was listed with males up to 10, 1; 26 to 45, 1; females up to 10, 2; and 16 to 26, 1. The finding of James Mud age 26 to 45 in the 1820 census of New York State was somewhat of a surprise. We have no known American James Mudd of the age listed, who lived at that time. James Mud was the only Mudd listed in the 1810 and 1820 census' of New York City (and County). There were, however, listings of the Mudge and Mode families. The county clerk of New York could find no records of the Mudd family from 1820 to 1890.

The 1830 census records of Ward 5, New York City and County were searched, but no Mudds were found.

The 1840 census (p. 235) of Philadelphia, Pa.[5] lists a James Mudd age 30 to 40 as living alone on High St. Ward. We did not find this James Mudd in the 1850 census.[6] A most exhaustive search was made in Pa. for evidences of other early Mudds. The following were found (as reported):

1. John Mud(d) and Pen Ferd were married in Swedes Church, Phila. Pa., on 1-13-1778. (Ref. Pa. Arch. Vol. 8 2d. Series, p. 479.)
2. Catherine Mud(d) and Heinrich Lee were married in the Reformed Church Falkners Swamp, Montgomery Co., Pa. on 6-5-1796. (Same Ref. p. 623.)

If these were actually Mudds then there were Mudd families in Pa. during those periods about which we know nothing.

The first census, viz. that of 1860, for Nevada Co. and Shasta Co., Calif. were searched but no Mudds were listed. The counties of Nevada and Shasta were formed in 1851.

The above Mudds may be related to, or actually descended from, J. P. Mudd:[7]

(1) Harry Peacock Mudd who was married to Maude Evangeline Hamilton in Iron Mountain, Calif. by Allen L. Burleson.

Harry P. Mudd (wife Elsa) resided (1942) at 711 Huntington St., Colton, Cal. He came from England to Cal. For years he lived in Shasta Co. California and married there. He was a 1st cousin of the children of Wm. Mudd (English 5-Aac) and therefore belongs to that line. See ps. 1305 and 1306 a for information on Harry P. Mudd.

A name which might be "Mud" was found in the "State Records of North Carolina" by Clarke, being in the Company of Sol Alston. He, Joel Mud, was listed as "absent" in a long list of soldiers of Granville County Militia under Capt. Sol Alston. This was in Oct. 1771. No other Mudds were found in the Granville Co. records, nor in the early North Carolina records.

PART IV

MUDDS IN THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

MUDDS IN OTHER WARS OF THE UNITED STATES INCLUDING WORLD WAR I

NUNS IN THE MUDD FAMILY

DOCTORS IN THE MUDD FAMILY

MUDDS IN THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

The first Mudd to join the military forces of the American Colonies was George Mudd (Aac) who was enrolled in Capt. Beall's Company in the French and Indian Wars in 1757 and 1758.

A Joel Mud (unidentified) is reported as being a member of the Granville County, North Carolina Militia in 1771. (See Unplaced #24, Pt. III, Sec. 2.) These are the only Mudds whose names appear in the military lists prior to the American Revolution.

With regard to the Maryland Mudds in the Revolution it is asserted in official publications that there were eleven men of the name of Mudd who took part therein, viz: Benjamin, Bennet, Edward, Henry, Hezekiah, Jeremiah, John, Martin, Richard, Thomas and William. This may be an error. There may have been sixteen or more. The source of the mistake is easily seen. The name Mudd occurs just eleven times in the Index to the fine volume published by the Maryland Historical Society (Ref. 2, Vol. XVIII) wherein the very reliable officer of that association had collected every fragmentary roster still available of the Maryland soldiers in that war. The Index, however, carried no name, not even John Smith, more than once no matter how many different individuals were referred to. Closer observation reveals that there were about six John Smiths in the American Revolution. Thus, there is but one Bennet Mudd in the Index, but there appears to have been two or possibly three different soldiers who bore this name. A Bennet Mudd is reported to have been in the 1st Regiment, and one in the 3rd Regiment. The Pension Office in Washington was more explicit in its references to another Bennet Mudd who was in the 2nd Regiment (see Aaga and Abc). As there were possibly three Bennets, so there were also possibly two Richards, one from Charles Co. and one from Frederick Co. and later Pa. (see Abab and Aada), two Henrys (see Aaba and Abaa), two or three Williams (see Aabg, Aadb, and Aaea), two Johns (see Aabb and Ada) and two Hezekiahs (see Aabi and Abca). In addition there were five Mudds whose names do not appear in the Index above but whose service in the Revolutionary War is proved, viz: Ignatius (Aabe), Joshua (Aaaa), Henry Lowe (Abcb), Roswell (Adba), and Joseph (Abaf). Doctor Joseph Mudd (Abaf), by the way, is known to have risked his life in venturing into the enemy lines to secure exchange of an American soldier named Thomas, who was ill in one of the unsanitary prisons of those times. He is nowhere listed as a soldier; he should be considered as a naval physician of the Revolution.

It is observable that the ages of the soldiers varied widely. Thus, in Thomas Ewing's Company of 86 soldiers, there was one who was 50 years of age, two who were 41, one 40, twelve were 30 or more, while a great many were just 18, one was 17, and one 16. But the age of these soldiers was not so surprising as the height. There was one man who was 6 ft. tall but the average height was 5 ft. 5 in. William Mudd (see Aabg, Aadb, Aaea) of Prince Georges County, was but five feet four. We are told that he was 19 years of age when he enlisted in the Flying Camp on August 3rd, 1776 and that he had come equipped with 'one gun.' The height of no other Mudd is recorded. Sergeant Jeremiah Mudd (see Aabe) who lost his left arm at the Battle of the Cowpens in South Carolina on January 17, 1781, is recorded as 30 years of age, but it is not clear as to whether this was when he enlisted, when he was wounded or when discharged. No other age is given.

On July 8, 1776, the celebrated John Marshall reviewed the thirty-two men who had been enlisted by Captain Belain Posey. Several of their names are identical with those recurring in the marriage alliances of the Mudds; name number 2 is John Posey, 7 is John Mudd, 9 is Joseph Boarman, 12 is Benjamin Mudd, 15 is George Mountgomery, 17 is Francis Edelen, and 24 is Henry Boarman Jr. Twelve men were added to this company a few days later; among them Basil and James Swann Jr., St. Lawrence Posey, Ignatius Martin, and Thomas Posey. On page 137 may be seen in one group, Sgt. Martin Mudd (see Aabd), died 9-24-1778; Ignatius Martin, Private, died 8-27-1778; and Thomas Mudd (see Abad), Private, discharged 10-18-1777.

Although we find Martin Mudd 'dead' as early in the War as 1778, we find his estate being administered at the late date of 1785. We do not know the date of his death. It is consequently possible that he also lost his life in the service. Henry Mudd of the Flying Camp, whose enlistment expired December 1, 1776, was probably the same man as Corporal Henry who later appears in the ranks as Corporal Henry of the 3rd Regiment who was discharged November, 1777. (See Aaba and Abaa.)

The Journal of the 23rd Congress, 1st session, (p. 494) refers to the heirs of Martin Mudd, Jeremiah Mudd, Hezekiah Mudd and Henry Mudd. They appear again on page 239 of the Journal of the 2nd session, 23rd Congress. We concluded after a lengthy study that these were the sons of James Mudd (Aab).

During the early days of the Revolution, the colonists were required to express their allegiance to the Colonial Government by an oath. This oath is recorded elsewhere. Those who signed the Patriots' List and their designations were as follows:

Port Tobacco:	James Mudd (Aab), Jeremiah (Aac or Aabe), John of James (Aabb), James of James (Aabc), Smith (Aabf), William (probably Aad but see Aabg).
Bryantown:	Henry (Abb), Henry Thomas (Abaaa), Joshua (Aaaa), Bennett (Abc), Ignatius (Abae), John (Ada), Richard (Abab), Henry (Abaa), Benjamin (not identified), Clement (Adb).

Attention should perhaps be called to the fact that this Patriots' List is merely for Charles County, Md., and that consequently neither Thomas (Abad), Francis (Abag) who went early into Prince Georges County, Hezekiah (Abca), Dr. Joseph (Abaf) who went there later, nor Luke (Abac) who removed to Frederick County, ought to be sought here.

THOMAS MUDD RECORD: (A)

The will of Elizabeth Young, (Wills, Vol. I, of 100, Charles County, Maryland 10-7, 1695) mentions "her goddaughter" Eleanor Boarman, daughter of Wm. Boarman.

Wm. Boarman did not mention a daughter Eleanor in his will dated 5-16-1708, but he does mention daughters, Mary Boarman and Ann Brooks. Eleanor could be Mary Boarman or possibly Ann Brooks. In the account of Thomas Mudd (A), the Ann Brooks of the will of Wm. Boarman is stated to be the same as daughter Ann Brooks in the will of Thomas Mudd (A). It would seem a definite possibility that Eleanor Boarman referred to above was Ann Brooks. It was somewhat common for Ann to be an abbreviated name for Eleanor. One researcher claimed, but provided no proof, that Eleanor Boarman married a White.

IGNATIUS FRANCIS MUDD Record: (Ababb a)

Nov. 1782, Criminal Trials #13); Valentine Summer and Mark Harmon, (same ref. Case #51); Elias Grushong and John Collins (Imparlances to Nov. Court, 1782, Case #44); Samuel Shurtz, Nich Leatherman, Philip Rodenpeeler, Daniel Leatherman, David Searinger, (Swearingen?), George Haver, Marcus Harmon, (Imparlances to Nov Court, 1782, #96); Leonard McAtee, Wm. Robert L. Mudd's birthplace is reported as Fountain Green, Illinois.

His wife was born East of Greenville in Bond County, Illinois. She also taught school. Both died at Greenville and are buried in Montrose Cemetery, formerly (it is believed) known as Lansing Cemetery where some Civil War soldiers are buried.

FAMILY CREST OF BORMAN (BOARMAN?)

Family of Devons. and Somers. Eng. is reported to be as follows:

"A bull's head, erased, or, attired, Sa."

(Ref: The Genealogy Quarterly, Autumn 1950; Vol XVII, No. 1).

The Abreviations list (ps. 1375-1377), the Bibliography (ps. 1379-1388) and the index for the first edition and corrections thereof (ps. 1389-1469) have been moved to the end of the second edition, i. e., following page 1765. This has been done because the abreviation and bibliography lists refer to both editions, and will result in all indexes following each other.

INTRODUCTION TO SECOND EDITION

When The Mudd Family of the United States was published in 1951, after 22 years of preparation, there was no intention of preparing a second edition. Fortunately however all corrections and additions received were carefully recorded and after a couple of years, it was decided to prepare a second edition. Thousands of letters were sent to Mudds and Mudd descendants, whose addresses were available, requesting them to bring their records up to date. No effort was made to bring all family records up to the present time as this would be impossible. Some persons did not reply to questionnaires and many others changed their addresses and could not be reached.

The original intention was to expand the first edition by adding new data received to the original page or pages of the first edition. It was found that this could not be accomplished in one person's life-time. The changes in the index would of itself require approximately a year. Therefore it was decided to begin the second edition at the end of the 1st edition and then to index the second edition separately. Hundreds of short additions were made to the 1st edition pages where space was available. The index for these additions is placed at the end of the second volume because such additions or changes were being made up to the date of delivery to the printer. The result is that if one wishes to obtain a full account of any one person or family, one has to read the 1st edition and its addenda and the 2d edition (pages 1470 to 1754) and its addenda (pages 1755 to 1763).

One thing is certain - this will be the last edition to this family history. The two editions required 41 years of spare time and I feel sure that no one would have the time and courage to prepare another edition.

All entries in both editions have been checked and typed many times. In spite of this errors are bound to occur. As they are located, they will be recorded and if they are significant in number and importance, a list will be made and sent to all owners of the 2d edition as was done for the first edition.

Section

I Second Edition 1470.
II Annex to Second Edition 1755.
III Index for Second Edition 1766.
IV Index of Additions and Deletions to First Edition 1831.

The second edition begins below. To make full use of the following data, the corresponding page in the first edition should be inspected at the time the second edition data is read. The data on page 9a, for example, is a supplement to page 9 of the first edition.

A few additions are placed in the first edition (pages 1 to 1469) and most of these are marked as second edition additions.

Julius Harmon, Pontiac, Michigan in his booklet entitled Heraldic Evidence concerning the Anglican Historic Succession (p. 3) states "that Tobie Matthews was the grandson of the controversal "Bishop" Barlo and was son of the Archbishop of York and nephew of Episcopal husbands of Barlow's daughters. Despite his (Tobie's) father's abhorence of his conversion he received 14000 lbs. from his mother's estate. He lived at Court, was known as a Catholic priest, yet was undisturbed in an age of martyrs. He seemed to have been the first Catholic priest to accept Knighthood."

16a.

Robert Slye m. Susanna Gerard, dau. of Dr. Thomas Gerard who received a grant of St. Clement Manor in 1639. After the death of Robert Slye she married John Goode. (Ref: Chronicles of St. Mary's, St. Mary's County Historical Society, Dec. 1964).

The Elizabeth Slye, mentioned, dau. of Robert Slye was the 2d wife of Luke Gardiner, son of Elizabeth Hatton and Luke Gardiner, son of Richard Gardiner, the Maryland Immigrant (Ref: Harry W. Newman, personal letter).

18a.

The following record was located in the Barbadoes Islands:

On March 29, 1648, Peter Mudd had arranged that certain articles (sugar and tobacco) be shipped in the good ship known as "William of Barnstable." There was another order by Peter Mudd with respect to goods "betwixt" Wm. Hudson and Mr. Woory. This deed was signed on March 29, 1648. The goods are listed. Also there is an interesting item of payment to "Mr. Woory for sickness and burial expenses." These deeds do not indicate that Peter Mudd had any family.

In the 1679 census of the Barbadoes Islands Capt. Henry Mudd had 1 servant, 12 Negroes and 12 acres of land.

On 2-12-1678 Henry Mudd, of St. Peter's Parish, Barbadoes, purchased from John Gosling for the sum of 34,700 lbs. of sugar, "14 acres and chains" in the Parish of St. Peter's. Witnesses were: Wm. Dattin (Dottin) and Robert Morrell.

On 10-25-1682 Ambrose Mudd, of Devon, England appointed Richard Morgan, merchant nr. Speights Bay, Barbadoes; John Blaker (?), of same location and Robert Bissin to be his attorneys to recover etc. the lands and possessions of his "brother-in-law" (Sic) Henry Mudd, deceased, merchant of Speights Bay.

Nothing was found in the Barbadoes Records to indicate that Thomas Mudd (1647-1697) was in any way related to Ambrose or Henry Mudd though it is possible.

25a.

Harry Newman states that Julianna Gardiner was 16 years senior to Thomas Mudd, she being 6 years old in 1637. Julianna and her brother fled Maryland to escape the wrath of the Puritans in 1637. Newman could not prove the suspected Thomas Mudd-Julianna Clarke marriage.

It was stated in the 1st edition that Thomas Mudd (A) married Sarah (Boarman) Matthews, daughter of Major William Boarman and Mary Matthews. Careful study has shown that Mary Matthews was not the mother of Sarah Boarman but an earlier wife of Major William Boarman vis. Sarah - maiden name unknown, possibly Singly or Singley.

Ann Matthews, the 3rd (or 2nd?) wife of Thomas Mudd was daughter of Dr. Thomas Matthews and Jane Cockshutt (not Jane Adams as was stated in 1st edition) daughter of John Cockshutt, Gent and wife Jane. Jane Cockshutt was a maiden and much the junior of Thomas Matthews.

The other issues of Dr. Thomas Matthews and Jane Cockshutt were Ignatius, William, Victoria, Jane, and Anne. (Ref. Charles Co. Deeds F No.1, f 242 at Hall of Records, Md., dated 15 Jan. 1676). Jane Cockshutt Matthews married 2ndly John Breade (or Bread) (Ref: Charles Co., Md., Deeds H No.1, Folio 45 at Hall of Records, Md.) and 3rd Judge Thomas Hussey.

Mary, a sister of Jane Cockshutt, married Henry Adams. Harry Newman found that Henry Adams did not have a daughter Jane. The Jane Adams incorrectly referred to in the 1st edition as the mother of Ann Matthews was Henry Adams god-daughter, actually his niece (by marriage?) Jane Matthews daughter of Thomas Matthews and Jane Cockshutt.

Harry W. Newman is convinced that Thomas Clarke, who married Julianna Mudd, was the son of Robert Clarke, Surveyor General of Maryland and the latter's first wife Winifred Seyborne, widow of Governor Thomas Greene.

Harry Newman concluded that Julianna was the eldest daughter if not the eldest child of Thomas Mudd, for she was listed first when the children were enumerated.

When Julianna Mudd Clarke named her first son Luke it was the first time it appears in the Mudd and Clarke families in the United States.

26a.

Thomas Clarke, who married Julianna Mudd, was 10 years of age when his father, Robert Clarke made his Will, 6-14-1664. Thomas was the 3rd son.

One of the witnesses of the Will of Thomas Clarke (husband of Julianna Mudd)(made 1711) was Francis Clarke, son of Robert, son of Robert; another was John Clarke who is also placed as a nephew, son of the testator's brother, Robert. While Thomas Clarke had a son John also, it is not likely that the son would witness his father's Will.

One of the signers of the inventory of Thomas Clarke (died 1711) who married Julianna Mudd, was Francis Clarke, son of John Clarke, who in turn was son of Robert Clarke, the "surveyor" and therefore nephew of the testator.

In 1712 the personal estate of Thomas Clarke, of St. Mary's County, was appraised by Francis Clarke and John Clarke. The former was probably the nephew but the latter could have been son, or nephew, but probably the latter. (Harry W. Newman).

Robert Clarke (father of Thomas Clarke, who married Julianna Mudd Ae) made his Will in Charles County, Maryland, 7-14-1664 and named son John (who d. Charles County, Maryland 1686, leaving sons John, Robert, Benjamin, Francis and daughter Ann); Robert, age 12; Thomas, age 10 (who married Julianna Mudd) and daughter Mary.

Dwight C. Seward, Great Bend, Kansas, a descendant of Julianna Mudd, provided us with his ancestry. He is descended from Mary Clarke (AE7) who m. c. 1719, William Compton (b. Charles County, Maryland 1697) whose son William Clarke Compton (b. Charles County, Maryland 1723, d. Culpepper County, Virginia 8-8-1808) (m. Elizabeth Elgin). Their son, John Compton (b. Charles County, Maryland 5-22-1766, d. Front Royal, Virginia 11-6-1840, m. Dorcas Clark, daughter of Elias Clark. Their son William Compton m. Mary Hackley. The remainder of the line is in the Thomas Mudd (A) folder.

In the 6th paragraph (from top) Winifred Seaborne Green was Robert Clarke's 1st wife and not 2d wife. Miss Jane Cockshott Caissine (or Causine) was Robert Clarke's 2d wife (Ref. Harry W. Newman: see also the Maryland Semmes and allied families, Harry W. Newman, p. 142).

The John Broad mentioned should more probably be John Bread.

John Clarke (AE3) made his Will Jan. 20, 1728. Therein he devised (partly) Bk. WB 19, p. 316 as follows:

"To my sister, Mary Compton, one barrel of Indian Corn."

Proof that the husband of this Mary Compton was Wm. Compton is to be found in the law suit of Luke Clarke vs Matthew Guibert (or Guybert) (Book #27, Testamentary Proceedings, Annapolis, Maryland 1724-27, p. 100). The "Petition of Wm. Compton who inter-married with Mary Clarke, daughter of Thomas Clarke, is presented against Matthew Guibert who inter-married with Julianna Clarke, the widow and executrix of Thomas Clarke." The suit mentions that Thomas Clarke-----left the remainder of his estate to be divided equally between his widow and four children vis: Luke, William, Benjamin and Mary. (Probably these were the living children at that time - 1724-27).

27a. Willian Aubrey Mudd p.1297) stated (without proof) that "Capt. George Brent married 1st Mary Green (d. 3-26-1686) dau. of Capt. Wm. Green, a British planter of Bermuda and the niece of the then Governor of Bermuda, Sir. William Layton; 2nd, 3-22-1687, Mary Sewell Chandler, who had previously married Col. William Chandler. She was the eldest or 2nd (??) daughter of Hon. Henry Sewell, of Mattapony Manor in the Patuxent River, St. Mary's County and his wife Jane Lowe, who in 1667 married Chas. Calvert, 3rd Baron of Baltimore. Capt. George Brent was the oldest son of Col. George Brent and his wife Marianne (Peyton??) (dau. of Sir Dunnington or Dottington of Isle of Eli). He had many sisters and brothers who did not come to America.

Col. George Brent was the half-brother of Gyles and Fulke Brent and also Margaret and Mary Brent who came to Maryland in 1683.

'The above George Brent reports to have been son of Richard Brent and Eleanor Reed, dau. of Edward Reed." It is stated that George Brent, of Woodstock, Va., married a daughter of Captain William Green. Harry W. Newman found nothing to prove her christian name nor any proof that she was a daughter of William Green. She was not, in his opinion, a daughter of Thomas Green of Maryland. George Brent, the father of Nicholas Brent, was referred to as "Esquire" and "of Woodstock."

Nicholas Brent's date of death also reported to have been 12-12-1711. (see Chronicles of St. Mary's County, Maryland, Nov. 1960 for excellent account of the Brent family.

Mary Neale (wife of Oswald) d. 12-x-1716 and Martha Brent (d. 4-x-1718).

Mentioned in the Will of Nicholas Brent were half sisters of Nicholas Brent, being daughters of Capt. George Brent Jr., and his 2d wife Mrs. Mary (Sewell) Chandler.

28a.

It appears from a careful study of Calvert records in the file that the Leonard Brooke who married Ann Mudd was not the son of Baker Brooke and Ann Calvert because the Leonard Brooke, son of Baker Brooke and Ann Calvert, married Ann Boarman and died in 1718. I have been uanble to learn the identity of the Leonard Brooke who married Ann Mudd.

It is stated that Major William Boarman's Will refers to Ann Brooke as daughter. This is correct. Major William Boarman's daughter Ann married Leonard Brooke who died in 1718. Thus the argument that Major William Boarman referred to his grand-daughter as "daughter" is wrong. He had a daughter Ann Brooke (wife of Leonard d. 1718) and grand-daughter Ann Mudd Brooke, wife of Leonard, who died 1735/36.

With further reference to Sr. Mary Xavier, and her sister, the following was found in the Genealogy of the Boone family by Rev. E. D. Boone, S.J. (1938) (Ref. #139, p. 70):

"Sr. Mary Rose (Mary Boone) was the first in our Monastery to bear the title of "the Sacred Heart of Jesus" and that as early as 1751. Another American Novice, Xaveria, of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, daughter of Mr. Leonard Brook of Prince Georges County, Maryland was professed a month after with same title."

(Taken from the records of the Monastery of Our Blessed Lady of Mt. Carmel, formerly at Lierre in 1646, now at Mount Carmel, Durham, England).

Fr. John Fenwick, son of Ignatius Fenwick and Mary Cole is reported to have been a nephew of Sr. Mary Teresa Brooke, daughter of Leonard Brooke and Ann Mudd. If this is true, then possibly Mary Cole Fenwick, the mother of Fr. Fenwick was Mary Brooke (Ai 8).

Through old records of 1638 and 1640 it has been learned that the Newtown (Catholic) Mission was established and mention is made in the records of Fr. Thomas Copley, S.J., gathering his flock "at the head of the bay" in the home of Luke Gardiner. Fr. Copley continued to serve the Newtown Mission during the years 1639 to 1644. Newtown was the 1st settlement opened after the establishment of St. Mary's City. (From a History of St. Francis Roman Catholic Church

Fr. Aloysius Mudd (see p. 844) was assigned at St. Francis Xavier Church, Newtown from 1834-38 and was referred to as the Superior.

It is certain that Thomas Matthews who married Sarah Boarman was the son of Dr. Thomas Matthews who made his Will Jan. 9, 1675, probated March 11, 1675, and the latter's wife, Hester, maiden name unknown. (Ref. 234, p. 237).

As to the identity of Thomas Mudd the progenitor of most of the American Mudds, Harry W. Newman, of Washington, D. C., sent the following to Mrs. Margaret (Mudd) Fletcher (see p. 901):

"I wondered if this could fit in with your Thomas Mudd, of Maryland: Thomas Mudd and James Noke sailed from Bristol, England for Virginia. Later both a Thomas Mudd and James Noke are found in Antigua, West Indies. In 1667 Lt. Col. Bastian Bayer held land bought of Thomas Mudd, deceased.

On May 2, 1668 Capt. Harvey Keynell entered claim to a plantation at Crabb Valley, formerly belonging to Thomas Mudd, deceased and presented his petition to William Lord Willoughby on 5-11-1668. The claim was not allowed "not being timely made."

In 1666 the French invaded Antigua and subdued the English but the English took it back in 1667.

Question - Thomas Mudd being deceased by 1667, was he killed in the Invasion? Thomas Mudd, the progenitor of the Mudd family in Maryland was in Maryland by 1677, believed to be the earliest date. Did Thomas Mudd escape from Antigua at the Invasion and conquest of the French in 1677 and find his way to Maryland and actually not die as the French records so state?"

Some of the above information was located and also sent by Crolian Edelen.

Several years of careful investigation in England failed to reveal any indication as to the identity of the original Thomas Mudd (1647-1697 of Maryland).

The following was sent by Dr. Grace L. Tracey, Hampstead, Md.:

"The grandson of Garrett Van Swearingen lived in Monocacy Hundred, Md., in 1733. He settled at Conococheague near what is now Hagerstown. I had never associated Van Swearingen with the Catholics, nor do I believe that he was associated with them after he removed into western Maryland. His son, Van Jr., and his grandson, Joseph, were both active in the Revolutionary War. They lived near present-day Middletown, Frederick Co., Md. In fact, after the War, Joseph owned and operated a mill at the mouth of little Catoctin Creek immediately northwest of Middletown. The forerunner of this mill was started prior to 1733 by a Thomas Whitaker. Ruth Van Swearingen, dau. of Van Sr., married Thomas Cresap Jr., and her sister, Drusilla, married Daniel Cresap. It was in the home of Samuel Swearingen (whom I believe to be the son of Van Sr.) in Fredericktown (meaning Frederick, Md.?) where the ball was held the night after the defeat of the Stamp Act which had been led by Thomas Cresap Sr."

An inspection of the original land grant of Carnavon shows it to have been in St. Marie's Co. (Sic) and to have been granted to John Pille (spelled Pile in one place in the grant) on Jan. 11, 1670. The grant consisted of 650 a. "within our said province, part of a warrant for 700 acres of land." It was on the East side of the Zachaio (Sic) Swamp. It is quite possible that this would be in the present Charles Co., Md. (Md. Land Patent Liber 14, f 313-314) (copy in file).

"Boremans Reserve 1000 acres more or less" was surveyed by John Lewger, deputy surveyor in 1668 for Capt. Wm. Boreman. The survey states that "the warrant was received..... bearing date of tenth of December last." It was located on the East side of Zacharias (Sic) (also spelled Zachayis) and ran North along the swamp 600 perches (2.083 miles) (Ref. Land Records, Liber 11 443-444 - copy in file). Land Patent, Liber 12, f 399 dated 7-8-1669, refers to 1600 acres of land warranted to Capt. Wm. Boarman formerly. In this latter record no location of the land is referred to but apparently the 1000 acres referred to above was a part of this 1600 a. tract.

Boarman's Mannor (Sic) was established for Capt. William Boarman on 5-10-1676 with a Court Baron and all things pertaining thereunto by law and customs of England. It lay along the Zachiah Swamp and consisted of the following:

36a. (Contd)

(1) St. Georges Rest, 400 acres, lying along the East side of a branch of Zachiah called the North branch adjoining the land of Wm. Calvert.

(2) Halls place, 400 acres, on the South side of Zachiah Swamp.

(3) Bowling Fields, 300 acres. Surveyed for James Bowling and assigned by him to William Boarman.

(4) Indian Fields, 300 acres. Surveyed for Wm. Boarman, on 6-22-1666 in the woods on the East side of the Zachiah Swamp.

(5) Boarmans Reserve, 1000 acres, lying in the woods on the East side of Zachiah Swamp.

(6) Daleys Rest, 500 a. patented to Bryan O. Daley (or Bryan P. Daley) 5-10-1668, now deceased, and assigned to Wm. Boarman.

The above 6 tracts having been previously resurveyed for Wm. Boarman and warranted to him in one tract.

(7) 300 acres assigned to Wm. Boarman by Richard Edelen, the assignee of Kenelin? MacLoughlin, Adm. of James Lindsey, it being a part of a tract of 400 a. assigned to James Lindsey 1-2-1666.

(8) "283 a. more the remainder of a warrant of resurvey granted him 11-22-1669, the 8 tracts being resurveyed and designated "Boarmans Mannor."

Ref. Md. Land Patent, L. 19 f 271-273 - copy in file.

It is said that Wm. Boarman's Manor extended a number of miles on both sides of the Zachiah Swamp and included the present Village of Bryantown. It was in Benedict hundred. It descended to Wm. Boarman, a grandson, who resurveyed it for 4000 acres in 1725.

In the Boarman file there are several reports on the Boarman family of England. In 1531, the name was spelled Bowerman, and the Arms shown on page 39 is to be found in the English records as of that date. In 1623/4 the name was spelled Bowreman. There is an excellent chart showing the Boarman (Boreman etc.) family, it being a true copy of the pedigree in the visitation of Somerset Co., England, made in 1623, being College of Arms MS 2: C22, folio 318 B. There is nothing to prove the parentage of William Boarman the Maryland emigrant, father-in-law of Thomas Mudd (A).

Additional information on Wm. Boarman: His coming to Md. in 1645 coincides with the Civil Wars in England when the Royalist Catholics and Anglicans were the subjects of persecution by the Puritans. From the Lord Proprietary he received a number of land patents, the total acreage being more than 17000 A. among these was Boarman's Manor of 3333 A. The Village of Bryantown was a part of his manorial domain. A grant "Brothers Gift" of 3000 a. in St. Mary's Co. from Lord Baltimore indicates a relationship with the Calverts. When Charles Calvert, the 3rd Lord Baltimore, came to Md. in 1661 he was a guest in the Manor house of Wm. Boarman. It could be that he or his first wife Sarah was related to the Calverts.

A record in Prince Georges Co., Md., may pertain to William Boarman. On 11-12-1692 William Boarman Sr., demanded payment of 500 lbs. of tobacco for sale of a cow against Joseph Letchworth; contd on Jan. 16, 1696/97. On the latter date Joseph Letchworth could not be located. Ref.: Smith, Joseph H. and Crowe, Philip A., Maryland (Colony) Court Records (Prince Georges Co.)

Thomas Matthews, a physician, received a grant of 100 acres of land in Henrico? Co., Va., on 5-11-1639 on Falling Creek for the transportation of 22 persons including five Negro slaves. Among those transported were Thomas Matthews, Georg Green, Roger Matthews, Georg Grace, Richard Cooper. (Ref. Patents Book No. 1, Pt 2, f 646, Va. State Library, Richmond). Harry W. Newman felt that the bringing of slaves indicated that Thomas Matthews came from the West Indies rather than from England. That the above Thomas Matthews might be father-in-law of Thomas Mudd is indicated by the fact that Thomas Matthews (father-in-law above) was referred to as "Doctor" in Md. and was listed as a physician in 1639, and was referred to in Md. as Thomas Matthews of Va. The Thomas Matthews referred to on p. 42 who came from Bristol on 7-9-1675 was not Dr. Thos. Matthews (who d. between 1-9-1675 and 3-11-1675) and certainly not Dr. Thos. Matthews' son Thomas Jr., who was referred to in Dr. Thomas Matthews Will of 1-9-1675. Mr. Newman feels that the Dr. Thomas Matthews who came to Va. in 1639 was possibly not the father-in-law of Thomas Mudd. The Thomas Matthews who was the father-in-law of Thomas Mudd came to Md. in 1638 according to Harry Newman.

42a. (Contd)

Thomas Matthews who married Sarah Boarman was referred to as Dr. Thomas Matthews of "Portobacco."

As far as has been determined Thomas Matthews of Md., and Samuel Matthews, Governor of Va., at that time were probably not related. The former was a staunch Catholic, the latter was an Anglican. (Ref. Harry W. Newman).

A cupative Will of a Thomas Matthews dated 1676 is filed in St. Mary's Co., Md., (Will 5, folio 163). The entire estate is left to an unnamed wife and unnamed children. It was witnessed by Robert Green and William Boarman. (See Matthews file). It seems probable that this St. Mary's Co., Thomas Matthews was the son of Dr. Thomas Matthews because Thomas Mudd married his widow prior to 1678 and therefore Thomas Jr. was deceased by 1678.

Thomas Matthews Sr.'s first wife was Hester..... maiden name unknown according to Harry W. Newman. Thomas Matthews Sr., and wife Hester..... had 2 children:

1. Thomas, who m. Sarah Boarman.
2. Mary, who m. Wm. Boarman.

By his 2d wife Jane Cockshutt he had 3 children:

1. Ignatius, who m. Mary Doyne
2. Victoria, who m. Wm. Thompson.
3. Jane, who m. Capt. Joshua Doyne

The above Ignatius Matthews (d. 1698) had 2 children:

1. Thomas, who m. Mary Stone.
2. Jane.

The descendants of Thomas Matthews (son of Ignatius above) are contained in a letter from Mrs. Orton Kirschman of Piedmont, Calif. (dated 11/30/1956) in the Matthews file.

Thomas Matthews Sr.'s widow Jane Cockshutt m. John Bread (see Md. Hist. Soc. Mag. 6/1960, p. 130).

The first of registrations of livestock in Charles Co. Md. records on June 4, 1650 that Miss Jane "Cockshoote" entereth her marke of hogs and cattle viz: croft one (Sic) the right eyre and too slits in the crope and over Keeld one the left eare. (History of Charles Co. Md. Margaret Brown Klapthor and Paul Dennis Brown, 1958, p. 155). This would indicate though not prove that Jane was 21 in 1658, and might indicate that she was not the mother of Ann Matthews who m. Thomas Mudd in 1685.

On Nov. 11, 1674 Thomas Matthews one of the Justices of Chas. Co. Md. and Henry Adams received title to 1 acre of land called Moores Lodge (now believed to be 3 mi. North of Port Tobacco) for the Right Honorable the Lord Proprietor to be used as a Court House. Thomas Matthews is referred to as one of the prominent Catholic settlers of the So. Maryland Colony.

In Oct. 1649 (or 1648) Fr. Copley the pastor at St. Thomas Manor (church) transferred the title of the Manor to Thomas Matthews. This transfer was made because of the uncertain political affairs of both the Province of Md. and the Mother Country (Ref. 230, ps. 17, 33). In 1662 Thomas Matthews returned the Manor to the then pastor Fr. Henry Warren, S.J.

The early roots of St. Mary's Church in Bryantown may be traced to a chapel on the farm of Major Wm. Boarman called Boormans Rest of which there is a record as early as 1696. This mission was one of those established by the Jesuit Fathers at St. Thomas and was known as Zekiah Chapel (Ref. 230, p. 35).

13. Martha Hoskins, b. c 1707,[4,13,14] m. Thomas Stone of Charles Co. Md. before 26 May 1729.

It is believed that Philip Hoskins was some close relation to Sir Bennett Hoskins, Bart (1609-1679) of Morehampton and Harewood, Herefordshire, England.[16] Philip Hoskins was first mentioned 2 Sept. 1671, when Bennett Hoskins of England gave him a power of attorney to secure Bennett's patent for the 2000 acre "Manor of Friendship". At that date he is referred to as of or near Wicomico River (present St. Mary's or Charles Co.)[22] The second reference is when, by deed dated 7 September 1671 he, a planter of Charles Co. and James Hayes, a planter, purchased the 200 acre Owen's Purchase in Port Tobacco Hundred from John Owen.

He was a Charles Co. militia officer in Major Wheeler's Militia 1689-1703 and was referred to as

He directed in his Will that he be buried in Port Tobacco Church.[4] On 12-10-1717 he was appointed residual legatee by Will of Osmond Waple, Gent of Charles County, for the use of his children by wife Ann. By her father's Will dated 1683, Eliza Wahob, 1st wife of Philip Hoskins, inherited a 200 acre plantation in Nanjemy Hundred, Charles Co., Md., and bequests were made to her daughters Benedicta and Jane Hoskins. The following Tarvin data was received from Mrs. E. A. Pulliam, Windom, Texas:

"George Tarvin sold 2 lots lying in Charles Town, now Port Tobacco, Md., and wife Elenor is mentioned. (Bk. 45-Z2-1744-1752 Charles Co., Md., Records p. 167) - Note: I do not know if the above Eleanor was Eleanor Mudd (RDM). Richard Tarvin, b. 1690, m. Elizabeth Dent, dau. of William Dent and they had several children one of whom was George Tarvin (1722-1803) who m. Nancy Ann Stanton."

More information concerning George Tarvin in above paragraph is contained in the Tarvin folder.

54a.

Add to Lowe family data: John Lowe is said to have been b. in England in 1600. He emigrated to Md. and was Major of the Colonial Troops of St. Mary's Co. He married Rebecca (surname not certain, but possibly Wright). His issue were:

1. John 2d, of Prince Georges Co. who died 1774, who married Mary Hawkins.
2. Elizabeth (who probably married Henry Mudd, Ab).
3. Eleanor.
4. Rebecca.

The issue of John 2nd above were:

1. Henry, b. 1710.
2. John 3rd, b. 1724, who m. Mary.....
   The issue of John 3rd (above) were: 1. Nicholas, b. 1748 who married Sarah..... 2. John 4th, b. 4-16-1753. 3. Eleanor, m. Dawson. 4. Rebecca, m..... Beane. 5. Elizabeth m. Dawson. (Ref. 1, Vol. II, p. 466).

See also National Genealogical Society Quarterly, March 1963, Lowe of Denby, County Derby, England and Maryland, Crowther, G. Rodney III, esp. p. 42.

Add the following to F. N. 1: It is impossible to give the exact date of marriage of Thomas Mudd (AA) to Rebecca (Wright) Lowe but since John Lowe (or Low) died in 1701, it is probable that his widow was married to Thomas Mudd about 1702. Since 5 children were born by 4-5-1709, it is likely that the marriage was 1702 or probably not later than 1703. The language of Inv. and Accts. 29 ff 177-182 clearly indicates that Rebecca Low (e) Mudd was living on 7/25/1706 but was definitely deceased by 4-25-1709. (see Ref. 62 as to the date of Rebecca's death).

Mr. Isaac F. Roebuck, Graham, Texas, son of J. S. Roebuck, son of Wm. Coleman Roebuck, b. 1845 formerly of Tuscon, Ariz., believed he was a descendant of Elizabeth Roebuck who m. Bathazar Xavier Mudd, through DeKalb Roebuck one of Elizabeth's sons. DeKalb Roebuck m. Lydia Dickerson, whose picture I. F. Roebuck has. She was I. F. Roebuck's great grandmother. In one census DeKalb Roebuck was named Baron DeKalb Roebuck. I. F. Roebuck therefore feels that Elizabeth Roebuck was a DeKalb and possibly the daughter or grand daughter of Baron John DeKalb (or Baron Johann DeKalb) who was second in command at the Battle of Camden and killed there. The wife of Baron John DeKalb was Anne Elizabeth..... Another Roebuck descendant was Meriman Roebuck (died 6-15-1957). His widow res. (1957) Nacogdoches, Texas. Possibly he was a grandson of Ezekiel Roebuck. It appears that a William Roebuck was the husband of Elizabeth Roebuck who married Balthazar X. Mudd. A Texas land record states that "Mrs. Elizabeth Roebuck natural guardian for heirs of William Roebuck, Jasper Co., Texas proves they arrived in Sd. Co., in 1834 and she states she was a widow at the date of Declaration of Independence and entitled to 1 league and 1 labor of land dated 8-13-1838." It appears that Wm. Roebuck came to Texas with his family and died about the same year. James Roebuck, possibly he was James Maynard Roebuck, Jasper Co., Texas came to that county in 1834 was single and under 17 yrs. of age; he volunteered for military service, recd. honorable discharge and recd. 1/3 of a league of land. An Ala. census (Conecuh Co. 1820) report shows that Wm. Roebuck and wife had 1 small male and one small female child in 1820. One of the sons of Baron DeKalb Roebuck was the father of Wm. Coleman Roebuck (see above) who had a son Thomas Wild Cook Roebuck who married Judah Sylvania Walker. I. F. Roebuck was the son of the latter couple. Mrs. Isaac F. Roebuck has been attempting to identify the maiden name of Elizabeth Roebuck who m. Balthazar Mudd. She suspected it was either DeKalb or Maynard.

The folder of Henry Thomas Mudd (ABAAA) contains papers on the estate of Virginia C. (Edelen) Kirkpatrick. It is stated that the Virginia C. Edelen was full sister of Laura Jane (see p. 988) who was reported to be daughter of John Aloysius Edelen and Ellen Kirby and half-sister of Lou Mudd Beck who is shown to be Mary Louise Edelen (see p. 417a.), dau. of Mary Ann Mudd and John Aloysius Edelen. Therefore John Aloysius Edelen had at least 2 wives: viz: Mary Ann Mudd and Ellen Kirby. We cannot be sure who was the 1st wife and who was the 2d but since Laura Jane Edelen was born in 1835, (see p. 988) it would appear that Ellen Kirby was the 2d wife of John Aloysius Edelen.

Cecely Ellender Ferrell was also referred to as Cecilia Eleanor Ferrell. She was b. 2/25/1817, dau. of Joseph Ferrell and wife Elizabeth. This baptismal record was from Mattowoman Parish, Md.

Mary Neale, the dau. of Dr. Charles Neale (and Mary Smith) dau. of Major Smith of Calvert Co., but at time of marriage the widow of Clement Brooke Jr., who died in London, married Benjamin Smith, son of John Smith of St. Mary's Co., Md., and had issue: Charles, Mary, Jane, Anne, m. Joshua Mudd, John Baptist, Lewis Gonzaga, Josias, b. c 1767.

Dr. Charles Neale was son of Elizabeth Digges (second wife) and Anthony Neale, the 2nd son of James Neale and Ann Gill (see "Neale" file for more complete study of the family by Harry W. Newman) (Ref. Neale Family, Dr. Christopher Johnson, md., Hist. Soc. Vol. 7, 1912, p. 215).

In a graveyard on the John Overall farm 10 miles from St. Charles, Mo., the following grave stones were found (1957):

John W. Mudd, b. 9-22-1817, d. April 15-1857. Note that this date of birth does not agree with the record at Holy Trinity Church, Georgetown, D.C.

Mary E. Mudd, d. 5-6-1850, age 7 years, dau. of J. W. and S. A. Mudd. Since there was a Mary Mudd (daughter of John William Mudd and Sarah Ann Murray) who married Wm. Miller and both Marys seem to have been born in 1843 it would seem that they were twins - one Mary E. and one Mary C.

James Mudd, son of J. W. and S. A. Mudd died 5-5-1850, age 5. Again it would seem that James Mudd and Wm. Alfred Mudd were twins. These 1850 deaths were due to cholera.

In 1857 cattle were grazing around the Mudd stones in this St. Charles Co., Mo. cemetery. Appeal had been made to the State and Federal authorities without success.

The Sarah Jane Mudd, age 6 in the 1860 census of St. Charles Co., Mo., was absent from 1870 census. The Catholic Church records of St. Charles Co., Mo., refer to the death of Sarah Jane Mudd, age 18, on 5-17-1870, "a convert." Apparently this is the same Sarah Jane and she probably died before the 1870 census was taken. On checking it was found that the census was taken between June 2 and August 6, 1870. She was probably another daughter of John William Mudd.

A note in the file refers to John Hoskins Boarman as having died in 1801 (also given as 1804 on p. 105).

Juliana Boarman, wife and widow of Michael Mudd died at the home of her daughter Louisa Jane McNantz in Washington, D. C. and is buried in the McNantz lot in Mt. Olivet Cemetery (D. C.).

1819/1820 is given as year of birth of Sarah Ann Mudd, however the 1850 census gives her age as 29, and therefore born in 1821. She was unmarried at time of 1850 census and therefore was married to Benjamin Clements after that date.

Michael Mudd was buried in the old church yard on Mattawoman Swamp before the church was moved to the new location.

1850 census, Middletown District, Charles Co., Md.: Julian Mudd, age 55, female, no real estate, b. Md. and with her, Sary A. 29, b. Md. With them were the following: Cornelius Robey, 74, Ann P. Willet 17, Richard Willett, 20, Rufus Padgett 20.

105a.

Leonard Neale^{5}, d. 1817 was son of William Neale^{4} (and possibly Anne Brooke, dau. of Leonard Brooke and Anne Boarman) of Mary Brent and Roswell Neale^{3}, of Elizabeth Roswell and Anthony Neale^{2}, of Anne Gill and James Neale. (see the Maryland Semmes and Kindred Families by Harry W. Newman ps. 309, 310 294, 288). James Neale and Ann Gill had a son Anthony (b. in Europe while the father was residing temporarily in the Iberian Peninsular), died 1722/23 who married Elizabeth dau. of Wm. Roswell and Mrs. Emma Johnson.

Anthony Neale had 5 sons:

1. Roswell, m. Mary Brent, dau. of Col. George Brent.
2. Anthony.
3. Thomas.
4. Raphael, who married Mary Brooke, dau. of Col. Baker Brooke and Ann Calvert.
5. James, d.s.p. 1719.

Sarah Theresa Neale, b. April 1752 was dau. of Wm.^{3}, d. 1766; James^{2}, d. 1729, James^{1} (Ref. 234, p. 299). Thus Archbishop Neale and Sarah Theresa Neale had the same ancestor viz: James Neale^{1} who m. Anne Gill.

The above information on Archbishop Leonard Neale was recorded here because it was the feeling of the Michael Mudd family that Sarah Theresa Neale was related to him.

Notes of persons mentioned under the "Boarman Family"

1. Mary Ann Hoskins, d. 1792/93), mother of John Hoskins Boarman.
2. Richard Bennett Boarman who m. Mary Ann Hoskins had a brother Richard (b. Dec. 1743) who also married a Mary Ann (Ref. 234, p. 196, 197).
3. John Baptist Boarman, father of Richard Bennett Boarman, above, was b. 1688/89.
4. Mary Jarboe was dau. of Lt. Col. John Jarboe and Mary Tettershall.
5. Elizabeth Edelen was dau. of Richard Edelen and Sarah Hagan (Ref. 234, p. 196).
6. Mary Ann Hoskins^{5}, the mother of John Hoskins Boarman^{6}, was dau. of Bennett Hoskins (d. c 1834) (son of Col. Philip Hoskins I, d. 1717/18) and Eleanor Neale^{4}, dau. of Mary Brooke (d. 1763)(dau. of Col. Baker Brooke and Ann Calvert, dau. in turn of Leonard Calvert, Governor of Maryland 1634-47 son of George Calvert, 1st Lord of Baltimore) and Raphael Neale^{3} (1683-1743) son of Elizabeth Roswell (1st wife) of Anthony Neale^{2}, son of Capt. James Neale^{1} and Ann Gill. (Ref. 234, ps. 301, 294).

It will thus be seen that Sarah Theresa Neale was a descendant of James Neale^{2}, son of James^{1} and John Hoskins Boarman was a descendant of Anthony Neale^{2}, son of James^{1}, therefore distant cousins. (Note it appears from this that Sarah Theresa Neale was of the 4th generation and John Hoskins Boarman^{6} (of Mary Ann Hoskins^{5}, Eleanor Neale^{4}, Raphael Neale^{3}, Anthony Neale^{2}, James Neale^{1}) was of the 6th generation. Therefore if true Sarah Theresa Neale was 2nd cousin twice removed to her husband John Hoskins Boarman.

One Thomas Mudd (unidentified) took the oath of allegience at Leonardtown, Md., (St. Mary's Co) 2 March 1778. (See National Genealogical Society Quarterly, Sept. 1953, p. 71). It was found in the return of Richard Barnes. It is difficult to understand how any Thomas Mudd could have been included in a St. Mary's list as no such Mudd is believed to have resided in St. Mary's Co., in 1778 (See also ABAD).

The marriage of Ann Telting Mudd to John F. Williams was 1-9-1792 instead of 1782.

Mary Gibbs (wife of John Mudd, AABB) was dau. of Ann.....and James Gibbs who was son of James Gibbs, Sr., who came to America in 1674 and Mary Lewin, daughter of Philip Lewin.

A James Williams probably m. Mary Simpson, dau. of Thomas Simpson^2, son of Thomas Simpson^1 (see Ref. 234, ps. 168-170). (See p. 173 for heirs of James Williams, one of whom was John Williams)

On Jan. 5, 1804 Charles Williams m. Hardin Co., Ky., Elizabeth Emery, dau. of Adam Emery. Adam Emery was security.

On June 8, 1812 a license was taken out for the marriage of John Smith and Betsy Williams. The security was John Williams. Possibly this is the John Williams who m. Ann Telting Mudd (both Hardin Co., Ky., records).

One of the sisters of James Gibbs Jr., was Elizabeth Gibbs who m. William Webster (1693-1777), who had a son James Webster.

140a.

In the marriage record of Nancy Mudd her father is listed as Walter Mudd and her husband James Gilmore son of James Gilmore Sr. Probably Walter Mudd married prior to 1790 as Elizabeth his daughter was 60 years old in 1850 census.

Mary Gilmore dau. of Smith Gilmore (possibly husband of Priscilla Mudd) m. 5-15-1848 Vinson D. Williams.

One researcher (Frances S. Fast, Bradenburg, Ky.) reports that it was Mildred Mudd instead of Nelly who m. Alexander Gilmore. Milly could be correct because the 1850 Hardin County census has Milly Gilmore living with Rebecca Williams. Possibly Nelly (or Milly?) Mudd Gilmore died between 1838 and 1845.

On 3-25-1845 Alexander Gilmore married Hardin Co., Ky., 3-25-1845 Martha M. Rouse.

In the 1850 census Henry Gilmore, age 21 and Milly Gilmore, age 12 were living with Rebecca Williams, age 71 and other Williams. Henry and Milly might have been children of Nelly (Milly?) Mudd and Alexander Gilmore. The identity of Rebecca Williams, age 71 is unknown.

1850 census, Hardin Co., Ky., John Eanes, 45; Mary, 46 (Mary Mudd); John W., 8; Ellen Mudd, 58.

The marriage bond of the proposed marriage of Isaac Emery and Elizabeth Mudd is dated 12-26-1807. The bondsmen were: Isaac Emery and John Williams and Walter Mudd gave his consent. The fact that a John Williams was a surety for the marriage tends to indicate that Ann Mudd, who m. John F. Williams (see p. 137) was a sister of Walter Mudd (AABBA). Just why the father of Elizabeth was not a surety is not known.

Mrs. Harriet Rich, Redwood City, Calif., had a great-grandfather named Walter Mudd Gilmore, b. in Illinois. This could be a son, or descendant, of Nancy Mudd who m. James Gilmore or of Nelly Mudd who m. Alexander Gilmore.

Jane Gilmore m. (date of bond 4-29-1812) John Powers. The surety was Alexander Gilmore, (Hardin Co., Ky.).

Book I, p. 200). The file of Walter Mudd (AABBA) contains much information on the Emery (Embree and Emry alternate spellings) Ewin, Milton, Enlow and related families, copied from Hardin Co., records).

142a.

Add under Court Records: Walter Mudd was executor to the Will of David Gilmore in 1823. In the Will of Walter Mudd, one daughter Elizabeth Emery was omitted, when the Will Extract was received. After the words "Kitchen furniture with the exception of one feather bed" add the words "to daughter Elizabeth Emery." The witnesses to his Will were Washington Smith and David Selby. Washington Smith m. Hardin Co., Ky., 1-11-1807 Hannah McWilliams. (Note - the husband of Ann Telting Mudd was referred to as Williams and also McWilliams and Hannah McWilliams may have been of this same family and therefore the reason for witnessing Walter Mudd's Will).

Where Tracy Dowdle is referred to in this account, Harry Wright Newman copied Doudle and he copied Grigg instead of Gregg.

The Thomas Grigg(?) witness to John Mudd's Will was known as "Capt." Thos. Grigg.

Alexius, Joseph and Nicholas Sansbury were the three witnesses to the Will of Henry Boone Sr., in 1793 (Ref. 139, p. 138) in Prince George's Co., Md. This Henry Boone does not mention a son Henry in his Will and it would appear that he was not the father of Henry Boone who m. Mary Mudd.

Interesting references to the family of Henry Boone are found in Ref. 139, p. 63. It is stated that Rachel was the only child of Henry Boone and his 1st wife who was a dau. of Dr. Robert Pottinger. The 4 children and descendants of Stephen (or Steven) Wills Worland and Sarah Eleanor Blacklock are listed in the Worland Family History above cited (see also p. 201 MFH) viz. Charles Silas (1840-97), Mary Ann (Polly) (1843-79), James Harrison (1847-1895), Francis Marion (1850-1937).

A third child (one of the 11) of Charles Brooks Worland vis. Benedict Worland who m. Eliza (or Elizabeth or Elizia) Blacklock is referred to as (Charles) Benedict Worland (b. Ky. 1-23-1806, d. Son James Luckett Simms, executor, with authority to make a deed to Joseph Gregory Simms for the farm "I sold him", Wits, John H. Polin and James F. Roby.

The Sarah Simms in the following Will might have been the 1st wife of the John Simms above.

Mary Luckett in her Will dated Wash., Co., Ky., 4-20-1802, Prob. 5-2-1803, refers to her beloved children, Elizabeth Cheatam, Benjamin Luckett, Thomas Luckett, Priscilla Roby, Sarah Simms, Ann Melton (see below), Linder Roby, Hezekiah Luckett, and Henry Luckett, Executor, Hezekiah Luckett for whom she devised money to pay his way to Md. Witnesses, Henry Miles and Bernard Mills, Security, John Simms and Ignatius Hagan.

Ann Luckett, m. Nelson Co., Ky., Thomas Melton 6-2-1798, Security, Hezekiah Luckett.

James L. Simms married Ann M. Cahill, April 19, 1839, Security Lawrence L. Berry. It is stated that James L. Simms married 2ndly Ann, dau. of Jeremiah Berry IV and Mary Ann Wathen. If this is true then Ann had married 1st to Cahill.

173a.

Rev. Fr. Victor F. O'Daniel, O.P., reported that Ann Savilla Mudd (he refers to her as Sevilla Mudd) died 8-5-1847, age 50. This would change her birth date if correct.

173a. (Contd).

Fr. Edward F. Jenkins, O.S.A., Vallanova U., Pa., sent the following information:

> "Rev. Fr. Paul Mary Judson, of the Order of St. Augustine, b. Norfolk, Va., 8-17-1897, d. at St. Marys Hall, Villanova 12-9-1967. He had brothers, Walter and Dr. John Holbart Judson (M.D.), Arlington, Va., who has a son Dr. John Paul Judson (M.D.), New Haven, Conn. The archivist informed Fr. Jenkins that Fr. Judson was son of Leo Judson and Grace Cunningham who lived in Norfolk, Va. Fr. Paul Judson used to relate that he was descended from the Mudd family and was probably the son of Leo Judson, son of Elizabeth Matilda Gill. (Ref. Catholic Standard & Times, Philadelphia, Pa., 12-15-1967).

Elizabeth Matilda Gill m. Sheldon Judson and they had one child viz. Leo Judson who m. Washington, D.C. 1891 Grace Cunningham and had issue:

1. Leo V., b. 1892, d. Norfolk, Va. c 1928.
2. Walter J., b. ibid 1895 (Res (1968) Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.
3. Paul M, Priest (see above).
4. Ralph, d. inf.
5. Frank, d. inf.
6. Sheldon, d. inf.
7. May, b. ibid 1909, d. Washington, D.C. 1925.
8. John H. (M.D.), b. Princess Anne Co., Va., 7-18-1910. Res: (1968) Arlington, Va.

In the educational field Sr. Catharine (Julia Ann Mudd) excelled in primary education and she taught till the time of her death. (Ref. Sr. Althaire Lancaster, St. Catharine, Ky.).

179a.

William Wight is referred to as having married 2dly Elizabeth Blandford, a cousin of Rebecca, the 1st wife.

Rebecca Blanford (or Blandford) was dau. of Thomas Blandford. His widow was Ann.....

Mrs. Delia Mudd, (see p. 1040) (obviously wife of Alexius Mudd) d. of Cholera at Springfield, Ky., July 1833 (from "National Intelligencer", Washington, D.C. 8-14-1833).

In the same issue of above paper, Smiley Mudd is reported to have d. of Cholera in July 1833 and it is possible that he was a son of Alexius Mudd and Ann Elizabeth Delia Wight.

The Alice Hawthorne, who m. Walter Alexius Mudd, should not be confused with Septimus Winter, a poet and music composer, who used the name, Alice Hawthorne. The latter wrote "Listen to the Mocking Bird" and other songs.

180a.

Georgianna Jarboe was b. in Washington Co., Ky. One record in file gives 2-27-1848 as date of her birth.

In the 1850 census, Washington Co., Ky., (p.236) we found the following family, all born in Ky.:

William C. Jarboe, 32 Real Estate $400, b. Ky.
Rose A., 31.
Sarah J. Berry 16.
Margaret Jarboe, 14. (Also reported as 10).
Thomas Mudd 16.
Paul Mudd 25.

This Rose A. Jarboe was probably not Rose Ellen Mudd who m. William Jarboe.

The identity of Thomas and Paul Mudd is unknown but it has been stated that Richard Pius Mudd had a brother named Paul and it is probable that Thomas was Thomas Leo Mudd (AADAA B). If the Rose A. Jarboe above was Rosella Mudd (AADAA f) then it would be difficult to explain why the 2 oldest children were not listed in the census report. It is quite apparent that Margaret Jarboe, age 14,was not her daughter.

A John Rogers is reported to have had a son or grandson named Charles Rogers who operated a book store in Louisville (1956). This John Rogers might have been the father of Charles Carroll Rogers. This John Rogers had 2 daughters who m. grandsons of Clotilda Bean. (See letter of Mrs. Chas. L. Smith in the file).

Mrs. Olive Lewis Kolb states that Ann Hagan was probably the 2d wife of William Jarboe who m. 1st Rose Ellen Mudd (AADAA f). She also reports that Margaret Alice Jarboe (b.9-20-1849 instead of 10-20-1849) d. 2-10-1930, buried in Wellsville Catholic Cemetery, m. as his 2d wife in Ky. (probably Washington County), 2-9-1880 James Robert Shocklee^3, of James Madison^2, of William^1. His first wife (m. 1-27-1861) was Mary A. Worland (d. 4-5-1879), dau. of Stephen Willis Worland.

(The descendants are listed in Ref. 237).

180a. (Contd)

One of the children of Margaret Alice Jarboe and James Robert Shocklee vis: Mary Alice, m. Theodore Bowles, brother of Silas Leo Bowles (see p. 198).

Olive Kolb believed that Margaret Alice Jarboe was b. in Louisiana, Mo.

Mrs. Olive (Lewis) Kolb brought out the point that Rose Elizabeth Shocklee was not born until 1885 so she could not have known her grandmother, Rose Ellen Mudd, who d. in 1861.

A William Jarboe was m. by J. E. Morris at Bardstown, Ky., 8-31-1819 to Ann Hagan. Possibly this was the father of William Jarboe who m. Rose Ellen Mudd.

A researcher reported Theodore Buckman as the husband of (Mary) Jane Mudd instead of Theopolus Buckman as the family gave us.

Carina Mudd also given instead of Corine L. Mudd and Thomas O'Brien also given as her husband instead of J. F. O'Bryan.

181a.

Eleanor Berry, wife of Samuel Clements, was dau. of Jeremiah Berry III and Mary Miles. Eleanor was a sister to Mary Berry, wife of Richard Mudd (Aada) and Margaret Berry, wife of Walter Mudd (AADC).

183a.

The Sarah Clagett mentioned in 1st edition as wife of Jeremiah Berry II was in fact wife of Jeremiah Berry (1779-1812), son of Zachariah (1749-1843), son of Jeremiah Berry (d. 1769), and Mary Clagett (d. 1792). (Ref. Brice M. Claget).

184a.

The mother of Elizabeth Jane Montgomery was probably Bibiana (or Binea) Wight. (see p. 186a).

185a.

Kate Mudd, "age 30", b. Ky., parents born Ky., was residing in the home of D. H. and B. J. Abrams when the 1880 census was taken at Montgomery City, Mo. Since Kate Mudd married Oct. 31, 1880 it is probable that this was the same Kate Mudd. However, she was referred to as 37 years old in 1880.

Montgomery Lee Bell was the son of Joseph Bell and Rose.....

The baptismal record (as copied)of St. Alphonsus Church Millwood, Ky., shows that Mary Jane Mudd was b. March 26 (yr. not certain). (There is a question mark after the date). The date of baptism was 7-13-1856 (so probably the year of birth was 1856). She died Varna, Ill. 1-11-1949.

Issue of Mary Jane (Mollie) Mudd and Joseph Harrison Bell:

The dau. of Richard P. Mudd, listed in 1st edition as Marie Emma, b. 3-26-1864 was obviously Mary Elizabeth. In the 1870 census she is referred to as Elizabeth and in 1880 as Mariah E. (Miss?). Mary Elizabeth Straube, Bowling Green, Mo., wrote us that her mother, Mary Elizabeth Mudd, was a dau. of Richard P. Mudd of New Hartford, Mo. This Mary Elizabeth Mudd d. at Louisiana, Mo., 1901 (Ref. Mrs. Mary Jane Mudd Bell). Mary Elizabeth (Lizzie) Mudd was married as Mary R. Mudd at Immaculate Conception Church, Montgomery City, Mo., to John W. Willis on 9-20-1882. The daughters of Mary Jane Mudd stated that Mary Elizabeth Mudd m. John

5. Anna (see p. 716a)

One of the daughters of Richard P. Mudd is reported to have married a James Edelen. There is no further information.

The records of the late Mrs. Caroline Shoemaker, College Park, Md., a descendant of William Elder (1707-1775) of Frederick Co., Md., show that Benedict E. Montgomery (b. 10-15-1792) was a son of Charles Montgomery (b. 7-25-1750, d. 4-26-1809) and Mary Ann Elder (dau. of Charles Elder^{2}, William^{1}). This Benedict E. Montgomery m. 9-21 (or 2) 1817 Bibiana (Binia) Wight, b. 3-14-1793, d. 1881) and Eliza Jane (who m. Richard Pius Mudd) was their first child, born 10-12-1818. There were 13 children of Benedict E. Montgomery and Binia Wight (she refers to her as Wright) listed in her notes (see Elder file). Bibiana Wight was a sister of Ann Elizabeth Delia Wight who m. Alexius Mudd (p. 186).

The references to the Louisville, Ky., city directories for Richard Mudd (1868 to 1886) should be disregarded as Richard Pius Mudd moved to Mo., in 1856/57 (see p. 1153). Mary Jane (Mudd) Bell was apparently correct when she stated that the Louisville, Ky., city Directory references given did not refer to her father.

Malissa Catherine Harrelson (according to a record in the file) was born 7-14-1848 and d. 10-24-1919.

222a.

Brice M. Clagett, Washington, D. C., found that Jeremiah Berry III, father-in-law of Walter Mudd was son of Rev. Jeremiah Berry II and wife unknown, Son of Jeremiah Berry (d. 1769) and Mary Clagett.

One record in the file refers to Dr. Jerome Mudd as being born 9-16-1799 and as being a twin of his sister, Mary. This record gives date of Dr. Jerome Mudd's marriage as 8-29-1837, which is obviously incorrect. ((See Ohio folder in files).

Margaret Berry, wife of Walter Mudd was sister to Eleanor Berry who m. Samuel Clements (see ps. 179-181) and Mary Berry who m. Richard Mudd (AADA) (see p. 170).

The Matilda Mudd, who m. 4-5-1833 in Washington, D. C., William Jordon was considered to be a dau. of Walter Mudd. (Note that Walter Mudd had in his household 2 females under 10 and one 10 to 16 in the 1810 census). These three were probably daughters. It is believed that an error occurred in recording the marriage of William Jordon to Catherine Mudd (ADBAB) as of 4-5-1832 (see p. 1277). The correct date should be 4-5-1833. William Jordon could not be found in the 1840 census of D. C.

The Nancy Mudd who m. 10-17-1815 Henry Thomas in Washington, D. C., was also thought to be a dau. of Walter Mudd (see ps. 145, 151 & 352). This was a mere guess based on her age and the number of daughters in the family of Walter Mudd.

Matilda and Nancy Mudd, above, could have been daughters of Bennett Mudd (AAGA, p. 353). However the notes made by (Mary) Eleanor (Piatt) Kearney would indicate that Walter Mudd had 3 daughters only - Anna Maria, Mary Ellen and Rebecca.

Joseph Kearney (see p. 266a) found a notation written by his mother containing the family record of Walter Mudd. After his name the name Margaret can be seen but it had been erased. There can be little doubt that this refers to Walter Mudd (AADC). She stated that Walter Mudd had 3 daughters: Anna Maria, Ellen and Rebecca. The record states that:

1. Anna Maria m..... Taylor and had 2 issues - Walter b. about 1831 (based on 1850 census) and Belle.
2. Mary Ellen, who m. Alfred Taylor and had a son Seth Nichols (possibly Taylor).
3. Rebecca, who m..... Taylor. It is very probable that Rebecca Mudd did not marry a Taylor as the other two daughters did.

222a. (Contd).

Comments concerning the Kearney note:

1. Anne Marie is obviously the dau. who m. in Washington, D. C. 5-22-1829, Samuel H. Taylor. The son, Walter, may be the Walter Taylor, age 19 residing with Dr. Jerome Mudd in 1860 (See 1860 census p. 221).
2. Ellen is probably Mary Ellen who m. in D. C. 7-7-1828 Alfred Taylor. If she married a Nichols then it was an additional marriage. The record could be interpreted to mean that the husband of Ellen (Mary Ellen) was unknown and that she had a dau. who m. a ..... Nichols and had a son Seth.
3. The record clearly indicates that Walter Mudd had a dau. Rebecca and again she is given a Taylor as a husband and a Walter Taylor as a son. It should be noted that a Rebecca Mudd m. in Washington, D. C. 11-27-1817 George Mill. She has been unidentified. She could be the Rebecca Mudd dau. of Walter Mudd.
4. Since the record lists 3 daughters only for Walter Mudd, it is unlikely, on this basis, that Matilda Mudd who m. William Jordon and Nancy Mudd who m. Henry Thomas were also children of Walter Mudd. (See p. 355a).

Following are the directory listings for Samuel H. Taylor in D. C.:

1850 - Samuel Taylor, East Side 8th St., between I & K. North, bricklayer. (Note: There was also a Samuel Taylor, Negro in same directory).
1853 - Samuel H. Taylor, messenger, treasury department, North Side os L. St. between 8 & 9.
1855 - Samuel H. Taylor, 533 L. St. (Also a Samuel Taylor at 572 S. St.).
1858 - Samuel Taylor, carpenter, 8th West, near F. St., South.

The 1850 and 1860 censuses of Cincinnati, Ohio for Jerome Mudd indicates that his wife (Caroline de Valcour) was born in Md.

A record prepared by Mrs. Norman L. Kearney states that the mother of Caroline de Valcourt was Margaret Hermange Gold (middle name is conjecture only), b. 1770 to 1775, d. Cincinnati, Ohio c 1850 instead of Margaret Prevost. Margaret signed the St. Peter's Register as Gold and not Gould. Margaret (Gold) de Valcourt (Her father was Oliver Gold and her mother was Martha) was buried at the Piatt Castle Cemetery, West Liberty, Ohio. The file contains a good account of the Gold family. Joseph Kearney found that the Gold family owned just about all of South Charles Street area, Baltimore, Md.

The parents of Francis Alexander de Valcourt were Sieur Jean Baptiste Bernard de Valcourt and his wife.....Prevost (or Provost) (1st name not known). (See file for further details.). The issues of Francis de Valcourt (de Valcour) and Margaret H. Gold were:

Francis Kleinpeter (son of Josiah Leo Kleinpeter and his 3rd wife Eleanora Helena Elder), had a son "Sibby" Kleinpeter who in turn had a son Leon Richard who married Mary Lillian Gibbens.

The file contains a splendid letter dated 6-20-1851 from Dutch Highlands, La., which describes the emigration of George Kleinpeter (father of Josiah Leo) from Hagerstown, Md., to La., in 1774. The interesting trip and the group that accompanied them as well as their activities after arriving in La., are all described in detail. (See Elder file).

George and Gertrude Kleinpeter and family were among the first settlers of "Dutch Highlands", in La. They left Hagerstown, Md., in 1774. They journeyed to Pittsburg and on 7-1-1774 left by barge for La., arriving in Bayou Manshac, on 8-12-1774. They first planted indigo but soon changed to cotton. In 1830 they planted sugar. John Kleinpeter, son of George (above), erected one of the 2 sugar houses in 1830--one of the first efforts to make sugar in La. George and Gertrude Kleinpeter had the following children.

Catherine

The death notice of Josiah Leo Kleinpeter was carried in the Morning Star, Oct. 19, 1917, Baton Rouge, La. He was held in unusually high esteem by everyone. He was a graduate of Xavier University, Cincinnati, Ohio. The file contains a daquerotype of Josiah L. Kleinpeter.

Margaret E. Mudd and Robert O'Connell did not have a dau. named Laura as shown in the 1st edition. (Laura was a dau. of Walter O'Connell). Their only dau. was Martha, nic-named "Mattie" after whom Martha O'Connell Adams (she resd. 1951 in New Orleans, La.) was named.

226a.

Louis Carroll Baldwin, m. Mary Louise Blakely and had 2 sons:

Louis Carroll Jr.
John Lendrum

The following additional information concerning the family of Theodora Mary Mudd and Major Benjamin McCullough Piatt was supplied by Joseph Kearney:

The husband of Theodora Mary Mudd was Benjamin McCullough Piatt (and not Benjamin Sedam Piatt), son of Abram Sedam Piatt and wife Mary Pope McCoy who was buried in Boone Co., Ky. Joseph Kearney has the original of the Army Commission of Benjamin M. Piatt. The children of Theodora Mary and Benjamin McCullough Piatt (b. 4-22-1833) (all b. in Covington, Ky.) were:

1. Caroline de Valcourt, d. 6-19-1866.

Mary Eleanor Piatt, 9th child of Theodora Mary Mudd Piatt left many records upon which the following is based:

Theodora Mary Mudd, b. 9-23-1840 was baptized at St. Martin's Church, St. Martinville, La., 10-19-1840. Sponsors: Theodore de Valcourt and Marie Felonise Guidry de Valcourt, Dame de Valcourt (these could be husband and wife). She was born in a large rambling southern home known as "The Shadows of the Teche." Joseph Kearney has a picture of it (copy in file). It was used in the early 1920s as the setting for a movie by the famous D. W. Griffith. The movie was known as the "White Rose."

Joseph Kearney made a study of this and is convinced, based on statements of his mother, that Theodora Mary Mudd was born at "The Shadows on the Teche" (see file for details). When Mrs. Theodora Mudd Piatt died in Denver, Mary Eleanor Kearney, her dau., and Joe, the latter's son, brought her body back to Covington, Ky., for burial.

William McCoy Piatt married Rose Rundell Walker, lived in El Paso, Texas during most of his married life. He died El Paso, Texas 7-25-1923. His children were: Rose, William, Robert, E. Donn, Theodore (was married and living at Redondo Beach, Calif., in 1939), Margaret, Virginia, Louis, Albert, Joseph McCullough, b. in El Paso, resd., 1966, Wichita, Kans.). Of these, 5 were soldiers in World War I.

Maria Virginia Piatt had a sad and lonely life. The man she was to marry in Cincinnati on a Tuesday died on the preceding Saturday and she never married. She was deeply religious. She went up into the deep reaches of the then primitive State of Washington to teach in an Indian Mission some 40 miles from a railroad. She suffered cold and total privation. She died in the home of Norman Loyola Kearney at Hempstead, N. Y., in 1929. She was buried in Ky. During World War I she was Secretary to a Robert Grant, of Hoover's Food Administration in Denver. When Grant became Supt. of the Denver Mint, she continued as his secretary. When he went to D. C. as the Director of 3 mints she refused to follow him there. She was a pure lady in the fullest sense of the word and gifted with a flair for poetry. She was taking care of her sister, Mrs. Kearney, when she had a stroke and died the next day.

In February 1968 the Newman Club at La. Tech U., Ruston, La., was dedicated to E. Donn Piatt, son of Wm. McCoy Piatt.

Edward Donn Piatt and wife lived in South Bend, Indiana. He died there. He was in the lumber business. He died June 1926.

Francis Xavier (known as Frank) Piatt lived most of his life in Cincinnati, Ohio and for a time in Rochester, N. Y. He had a daughter, Florence, by his 1st marriage. She was b. 1912. At one time he published the magazine - "Town and Country." He wrote much poetry.

Mary Eleanor Piatt Kearney had considerable literary talent and wrote articles for Life, Judge and Harpers Bazaar magazines. She assisted Fr. Krantz of Regis College, Denver in translating a massive multi-volume French work on Theology - "Our Way To The Father" into English. She contracted TB shortly after 1910 and wasted away to 65 lbs. She was buried in Covington, Ky. After her death Norman Kearney remarried Dorothy Peters of St. Louis, Mo. The latter resd. (1955) in Kirkwood, Mo.

In the 1st edition it was stated that Martha V. Piatt married.....Lockwood. This is only partly correct. The Martha Lockwood who married Schuyler Lockwood was Martha Eugenia de Valcourt Piatt (b. Ft. Thomas, Ky. 8-17-1884,) Res. (1968) Covington, Ky., (dau. of Charles de Valcourt Piatt (1846-1932) and Katherine Nolan) and grand-daughter of Jacob Wykoff Piatt (1801-1857) and his 3rd wife Martha Eugenia De Valcourt.

Benjamin McCullough (not Sedam) Piatt who m. Theodora Mary Mudd was the son of Abram Sedam Piatt (b. 1801) who in turn was son of Jacob Piatt and Hannah Cook McCullough. (The Piatt file of the author contains an excellent background record of Jacob Piatt, prepared by Joseph Kearney).

The complicated relationships of Mrs. Schuyler Lockwood to the descendants of Theodora Mary Mudd are evident especially because Mrs. Lockwood's grandmother was Martha Eugenia de Valcourt, younger sister of Caroline de Valcourt, wife of Dr. Jerome Francis Mudd. Mrs. Lockwood's father was the last head of family to use the ancestral home, "Federal Hall" in Boone Co., Ky. It was in ruins in 1967. Nearby it was another home used by members of the Piatt family viz: "Mountain Home." Jacob Piatt (younger brother of Major Benjamin McCullough Piatt, who m. Theodora Mary Mudd) and his wife Inez Abbott were the last Piatts to occupy "Mountain Home." It is near Old Lawrenceburg Ferry Road and Second Creek. The Piatt homes ("Castles") in Ohio, Mac-A-Cheek and Mac-A-Chee are near West Liberty, Ohio and both of them are owned by William M. Piatt and brother John J. Piatt and have been restored by them. The author visited "Mountain Home" and the "Piatt Castles" in May 1968.

Joseph N. Kearney found that Dr. Jerome Francis Mudd is buried in St. Joseph's new Cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio. He found receipts for payment of a cemetery lot at that cemetery signed by Martha A. Mudd. He believes that this Martha A. Mudd was Dr. Jerome Francis Mudd's dau. and therefore that she did not die at age 8 as suspected (see p. 225).

Mr. Frank Cordes, of St. Joseph's Cemetery Assn., in Cincinnati wrote Joseph N. Kearney as follows:

The following grave markers are on the B. Piatt lot (giving location) Jerome Mudd, b. 11-23-1799, d. 6-2-1864; Caroline Mudd, b. 5-4-1801, d. 6-29-1864; Martha de Valcourt Piatt, 1814-1903; Eugenia Wykoff Piatt, 1849-1879.

Marie Adele Mudd, the 6th daughter of Jerome F. Mudd, b. 9-26-1842 was baptized at St. Martin's Church, La. Sponsors: Louis DeBlanc and Marie Adenline DeBlanc. She died of Cholera in Cincinnati, Ohio. Her gravestone is at Castle Piatt Cemetery, Mac-A-Cheek, West Liberty, Ohio.

Dr. Andre Schlemmer of Paris, France, grandson of Dr. Theophile de Valcourt and great-grandson of Alexander de Valcourt, wrote Joseph N. Kearney that the De Valcourt family took refuge in America (he thought at Charleston) during the French Revolution at the time of the Terror-1793 he thought. He sent a fine chart of the family which is in the file. The file contains considerable information on the De Valcourt family not published here.

Joseph N. Kearney, writing to a relative, Dr. Andre Schlemmer, of Essone, France referred to his grandparents, Theodora Mary Mudd and Benjamin McCullough Piatt, and his own parents as follows:

"My grandmother, Theodora Mary Mudd, whom I remember, was very petite - not five feet tall but with the courage of a giant. Theodora's husband went off to our terrible Civil War - was frequently cited for courage at Gettysburg and other battles and received a facial wound. As a result, after the war, his face shrivelled on one side in a gradual way, and apparently it finally affected his mind. He killed himself in Cincinnati, Ohio 4-17-1885 and tiny Theodora faced a hostile world with a brood of seven children living out of a total of ten. He was cited for gallentry at Chancellorsville. At this point, the priests and nuns of the area around Cincinnati rallied to her aid and saw to it that those children received good educations. My mother, Mary Eleanor Piatt, attended the Ursaline Convent at Brown County, Ohio - loved it - and they (the nuns) loved her. And here it was that she acquired her love of and proficiency in the French language.

When I was born she became an invalid, so we were not long together. She used to tell me that she had me speaking French before I had even learned English. All my toys bore French names - my prayers said in French also. But she could not handle normal living in her weakened state, so boarding school and no French contact followed for me. Your own skill with our language causes me to envy you.

While I gave the Nuns great trouble in school, my mother devoted herself to her books - always reading - always learning - until her days of suffering and sickness ended in 1930. Meanwhile, my Irish father never let her forget that she was his Queen. He became the stalwart of her family - when her mother Theodora died in Denver, it was my father who took her back to the hills of Kentucky where her husband and children lay buried. When my Aunt Virginia (Mary Virginia Piatt) died in New York, it was my father who took her to Kentucky. What pleasures he could bring to her, he always did without fail. And if this meant sacrifices of great magnitude in the material things of life, then he sacrified without murmur or flinching.

At the moment in time when the airplane suddenly came of age - just after Lindberg landed in Paris, my father was offered the general managership of the Boeing Airplane Company in Seattle - and a wide open door to fortune. This is the Company that built the wartime Flying Fortress, the Atlantic Clipper, and the modern 707 and upcoming "jumbo" jet, the 749 (490 passengers). He declined this offer, for it would have required him to move to a very damp climate most unsuitable for my tubercular mother. He never once mentioned this act of his to me, but I knew it went on - not once, but many times. So went the chances of the grandson of Irish people who came here in the midst of the famine - the opportunities for a fortune all about him, yet out of reach because of his love for my mother and her welfare."

Hannah Cooke McCullough was named after her mother. She was dau. of Benjamin McCullough and Hannah Cook (or Cooke), dau. of Elizabeth Hilliard (dau. of John) and Arthur Cook, son of Mary Sumcock, (dau. of Elizabeth and John) and John Cook, son of Arthur Cook and Margaret Yoakley, dau. of Michael Yoakley and Joanna Cowell. Arthur Cook first came to the Colony of Rhode Island. He was the first Chief Justice of The Colony of Pennsylvania. (A massive family chart prepared by Joseph Kearney showing the descendants of Jacob Piatt and Hannah McCullough is in the file.)

1840 Census - St. Martin Parish, La.: p. 310 Dr. G. Mudd (Sic) 1 male 30 to 40; 1 female 50 to 60; 1 female 30 to 40; 2 females 5 to 10; 2 females under 5. The female 50 to 60 was possibly the mother of Dr. Jerome Mudd's wife inasmuch as Margaret Berry Mudd, mother of Dr. Jerome Mudd, apparently died in Baltimore, Md., in 1834. (see p. 224).

1850 (Nov. 2d) Census - Cincinnati, Ohio, Ward 9, p. 1021, family #1968: Jerome Mudd 52, Physician and Apoth'y., b. Md.; Caroline Mudd 50, b. Md.; Margaret O'Connell 20, b. Md., (1st dau.); Anthony O'Connell 28, b. Ireland; Caroline Klienpeter 19, b. Md., (2d dau.); Josiah Klienpeter 22, Student, b. La.; Martha Mudd 13, b. Ohio (3d dau.); Ellen Mudd, 11, b. Ohio (4th dau.), (she was "Eleanor Claire"), Theodora Mudd, 9, b. La., (5th dau.); Conrad Jacobs, 20, Drug Clerk, b. Ohio; Catherine Friel, 23, b. Ireland.

Since the 1850 census indicated that Ellen Mudd was born in Ohio, the statement in the 1st edition that she was born in New Iberia, La., is probably incorrect. Possibly she was born in Ohio but baptized in La.

The Rev. Dr. Carroll mentioned was probably John Carroll^4 (the 1st Archbishop of Baltimore) (of Daniel Carroll^3, b. 1735 and Eleanor Brooke Darnall of Henry Darnall and Raphael Brooke, son of Daniel Carroll^2, of Charles Carroll^1, the Md., Immigrant and Mary Darnall, dau. of Col. Henry Darnall and Eleanor Hatton. (Ref. Wm. Aubrey Mudd, p. 1299a).

The Notley Young mentioned had a daughter Eleanor who m. Robert Brent (son of Robert Brent and Anne Carroll), who was 1st Mayor of Washington, D. C. (Ref. Wm. Aubrey Mudd).

229a.

It was in 1772 that King Louis XV (who reigned 1715-1774) ennobled Jean Baptiste Bernard de Valcourt who was a solicitor in the Chamber of Accounts of the King. (Ref. Joseph N. Kearney).

The 1850 census of Iberia, La., contains the family of John de Valcourt, age 41, with wife, Sarah and 5 children in his home. (See p. 225a).

The 1850 census of Martinville, La., has Theodore de Valcourt, age 22, with wife Zoee (?) age 22 and 2 infant children, and Felonise, 40, possibly widow of Theodore Sr., with possibly 2 children, Constance 17, and Celestine, 9. (See p. 225a).

231a.

Mary Susan Elliott, daughter of Eleanor (Leake) Mudd and James Elliott, was b. 6-30-1819, d. 1-7-1880. Her husband's full correct name was Lewis Spotswood Anderson. (See p. 234a). She is referred to in her marriage as dau. of Eleanor Leake Mudd and James Elliott.

The Will of James Elliott Jr. (son of James Elliott and Eleanor Leake Mudd) refers to nephews Stephen, Albert, Thomas and Robert Anderson.

232a.

Grace Newton (see FN #1) married a Walter Simpson. (Ref. Mrs. John A. Schofield, Ltr. 2-26-1957. See Craycroft file).

233a.

Date of birth of William Clarvo Mudd, also stated to be 12-19-1831.

Mrs. Zora Stumbaugh states that James Robert Mudd was a soldier in the Civil War and lost a leg. He died shortly after the Civil War.

James Hendricks Anderson, b. 4-25-1841, d. Center Twp., Ralls Co., Mo., 7-13-1886 was son of Mary Susan Elliott, b. in Ky., 6-30-1819, d. Jan. 7, 1880 (dau. of Eleanor (Leake) Mudd and James Elliott (1773-1855) and Lewis Spotswood Anderson (b. Ky., 12-x-1813, d. Ralls Co., Mo., 10-19-1906). (Marriage 1-29-1839). Lewis Spotswood Anderson was son of John Hendricks Anderson (1790-1838) who m. Barren Co., Ky., 10-28-1810, Ann Lewis Spotswood (1792-1847), a descendant of Augustine Washington and Betty Washington Lewis. Ann Lewis Spotswood was daughter of Alexander Elliott Spotswood (1769-c-1842), who m. 1st c 1789 Elizabeth Washington Lewis (1772-1823).

See Elliott file for letter of Prentiss Price who gives the ancestry of Alexander Elliott Spotswood and Elizabeth Washington Lewis. Prentiss Price is certain that Mary Susan Elliott (6-30-1819-1-7-1880) was another issue of Eleanor Leake Mudd and James Elliott. (See p. 231 for information regarding their issues). He feels there were other children. The 1854 Will of James Elliott names his children - dau. Mary Anderson; dau. Eliza Hager; sons Robert and James as well as deceased sons, Robert and James, as well as deceased sons John and Stephen E., and daughter Eleanor Leake. Prentiss Price feels all these children were issues of Eleanor Leake Mudd and James Elliott.

Melvina Mattingly was dau. of Washington Mattingly and his wife Mahala Mattingly, a granddaughter of Leonard Mattingly. (See "Russell" file for further information about the Russells).

The Will of James M. Russell shows that he had another son Joseph S. Russell.

Mrs. Mildred Surgis, Jackson, Miss., found (from her Aunt Belle) that a Pius Elder married a sister of the Russell girl (Elizabeth) who was the wife of Richard Mattingly. If this is true, then Nancy Mudd and James Russell had a daughter not shown in the book. James Russell is reported by Mildred Surgis to have been oldest son of Charles Russell and Jane Mattingly. She states further that Ignatius Russell was the next child (after James) of Charles Russell and wife.

Martin H. Boarman wrote me (3-2-1958) that James Monarch (b. 1-27-1790, d. 11-23-1854), m. Ruth Russell, b. 1-22-1792, d. 2-20-1871, probably dau. of Charles Russell and Jane Mattingly. Boarman believes this Ruth Russell is the one referred to on p. 252, MFH) as a dau. of Charles Russell and Jane Mattingly. (See Russell file).

Martin Hollie Boarman found that James Russell "oldest son" of Charles Russell and Jane Mattingly was James M. Russell, b. 12-12-1795, d. 5-14-1881. He refers to Jane Russell (Aaeaf 4) as Mary Jane Russell. He lists some of the children of Mary Jane Russell and Ben J. Flannagan. For ancestry of Martin Hollis Boarman, above, see the Boarman file. (his letter dated 3-2-1958).

Joseph Lavialle Russell (see above) who d. Sept. 13, 1955 was great-grandson of Charles Russell who helped Rev. William Byrne erect the first building on the campus of St. Mary's College, St. Mary, Ky. He (Joseph L.) m. Catherine Alice Elder, dau. of Wm. Elder and Martha McAtee, was survived by three daughters: Mrs. Aloys Landes, Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. A. J. Lesousky (Martha Lavinia), St. Mary, Ky., and Miss Catherine Russell, Louisville, Ky., and two sons, Joseph and Louis Russell, both of Louisville, Ky. (See Elder mms. in files of R. D. James M. Russell made his Will on 5/13/1881 (probated 6-6-1881). Therein he refers to Rev. Pol Firmont, Pastor of St. Charles Church; to his nephew Rev. David Russell; his "four children" namely: dau. Mary Jane Flannagan; son, Wm.; dau. Rosa's children; son Thomas; son Joseph S., Executor E. M. Roney, Marion Co., Ky., Will Bk. 1, p.311. According to the researcher, the James M. Russell's Will refers to his four children, then he proceeds to mention 5 children.

The middle name of James M. Russell might have been Mattingly since his mother was a Mattingly.

The gravestones of Mary Mudd and William Mudd are only 3 ft. apart in St. Charles Cemetery, St. Mary, Ky.

Mrs. H. E. Dalton, Carrollton, Mo., felt that Randolph (or Rudolph) Hoskins was the father of John Hoskins who m. Nancy Mudd on February 19, 1813, however, she has no absolute proof. She found that the affidavit of Richard Mudd helps establish the pension right of Randolph Hoskins. Mrs. Dalton concluded that Ann Mudd (above) might be the dau. of Richard Mudd (AADA) but this is impossible as the Ann Mudd who was a dau. of Richard Mudd (AADA) was born in 1803 so couldn't have married in 1813. Mrs. Dalton felt that Ann Mudd was Nancy Ann Mudd.

Mrs. William H. Simon (see p. 276) refers to her grandfather, Joseph Mudd (Aaeaa d) as Joseph S. Mudd.

257a.

The official record of death of the son of (James) Albert Mudd and Sarah Wheatley states:"Albert Mudd d. Jefferson Co., Ky., 7-28-1926."

Francis Michael Mudd (b. 1-6-1894 instead of 1-3-1894) is the correct name of the 4th son of Francis Lawler Mudd.

The following extensive information was kindly sent by Mrs. Francis Michael Mudd (Mary Elizabeth Klein) in March 1966:

One record in the file refers to the wife of Joseph Kendrick Mudd as Lottie Carrico. This may be an error, if not it would indicate that she was a widow when she married Joseph K. Mudd.

William Wilford Green is also referred to as Wilfred Green but Wilford is believed to be correct.

Mrs. Mary E. Simon's (See p. 276) records indicated that the children of Wilford Green were: Frank D.; Wm. John; Sr. Angela; Henrietta; Mary Ellen; Mary Isabelle (Mrs. Simon's grandmother); Harriette Marybelle; Augusta; and Laura. It is stated on p. 617 that Wilford Green had a daughter, Eliza A. Possibly she was a dau. by a first marriage of Wilford Green to Julia..... Mrs. Simon stated that Sister Angela Green, her grand aunt, established Cedar Grove Academy, later known as St. Benedict Academy in Portland (a portion of Louisville, Ky.) in 1942 and was the first Superioress. Sr. Angela Green (according to Mrs. Simon) was very talented and possessed executive and artistic abilities. There is a large painting of Sr. Angela at the above school.

Sr. M. Antonella, of The Mother House, Srs. of Loretto at the Foot of The Cross, Loretto, Ky., wrote that at their school there was a souvenir of Wilford Green viz: a splendidly made inner-drawer desk on the bottom of which was written - "Wilford Green made this drawer. Pray for him, if you please." The Sister feels that some of the carved mantels in the school were made by him.

Mrs. Simon states that her grandmother, Isabelle Greene (Green) Mudd was beautiful, gracious and a good woman.

In a letter written by Sr. Angela on 8-7-1856 from Cedar Grove she refers to her sister, Harriet, and to Mary (who may not have been her sister as she addresses her sister Mary Ellen as Ellen), her brother Francis, brother John "who is with a son of J. Elder the one who married Miss McAtee."

Sister Angela was b. 3-24-1811 (based on a poem she dated 3-24-1853 on "her 52nd birthday"). The Ellen Green referred to above may be Eleonora Green who was baptized Feb. 1828, her sponsor being Maria Green (apparently Sr. M. Angela).

Maria Green (age 17) (and therefore born 1811) received her habit on 5-15-1828 and was given the name Sister Mary Angela. In 1842 she helped found Cedar Grove Academy in Louisville. She d. 9-22-1882. It appears that Maria Green was the dau. of Wilford Green by a first marriage to Julia.....(See p. 617 of Mudd Family of the United States).

On p. 619 it should be noted that I. T. Mudd (This is probably J.T. Mudd, p. 617) was a witness to the marriage of Joseph Mudd and Isabelle Greene. This suggests that these two Mudds married into the same Green family, especially as they each had sons named Francis Xavier Mudd.

In the Green family file is a copy of a letter from Mrs. Annabel Dougherty Harl, of Seine, France. Therein she states that her "grandfather Wilfred Green was raised in Md., and came to Ky., with his mother, traveling in a flat boat. Wilfred Green and wife, Isabella Carson, had 13 children. Two of the daughters became Sisters of Loretto vis.: Sr. Augusta who died young at Calvary and Sr. Angela who died of old age..... One of the daughters was Ellen who married Patrich Dougherty."

Mary Catherine Mudd and Hollis Ann Mudd were unm. in April 1957.

In the Grayson Co., Ky., Catholic Church records there is the marriage recorded of Mary Mudd to Will Higdon, Jan.13,1867. It is possible that this was Eleanor M. Mudd (Aaebc g).

The Higdons were closely related to this branch of the Mudd family.

Eleanor M., b. 1841 would have been the correct age and it is noted she married John H. Pronty at her age of 47. If she did marry Will Higdon, he was probably deceased by 1870, because in that year she was in the census as Elenor M. Mudd.

The issue of Alexander McPherson Jr., were: Walter, Chloe, Anna, Samuel. (Ref. Kincheloe, McPherson and related families. Lewin D. McPherson, 1951 private publication).

353a.

The close association of the Dents with this family suggests that the wife of Bennett Mudd was Anne Swann instead of Swain. There was an Anne Chapman Swann, b. 5-21-1767, dau. of Thomas Swann, who m. Anna Dent on 1-11-1757/58. (See Charles Co., Gentry by Harry W. Newman, p. 65).

It is significant that a John Mudd was appointed guardian for Eliza Sewall and Catherine Sewall because Lucinda Simms, dau. of Francis Simms and Eleanor Mudd (see p. 351), m. Charles Sewall and Eliza could have been one of the children. This would suggest that John Mudd was related. (Uncle?). (See p. 367a for discussion of the John Mudds buried in Richmond, Va.

When Mark Simms, father of Francis Simms, who m. Eleanor Mudd, died intestate in Charles Co., Md., letters of administration were issued to his wife, Catherine on March 13, 1821 with Benedict Simpson and John Mudd as bondsmen. It is significant that the first wife of Mark Simms viz. Susanna Burtles was a sister to the wife of Johnathon Mudd (AAE, p. 247).

Jim Handcock was James Thomas Handcock, son of Matthew Handcock and Mary Priscilla Cooksey.

354a.

Matilda Mudd, who m. Washington, D. C. 4-5-1833 William Jordon might have been a dau. of Bennett Mudd.

The following references were found to William Jordon in D. C. directories:

1850 - None.
1853 - J. W. Jordon, Carpenter, South Side, E. St., North between 9th & 10th.
1855 - J. W. Jordon, Carpenter.
1858 - William Jordon, 178 - 4 1/2 St., Machinist.
1858 - William Jordon, O St., North, near North Capitol, Butcher.

William Jordon - 10th St., between E. & F., Restaurant.
1862 - William Jordon - 178 - 4 1/2 St., Machinist.
William Jordon - O St., N., near N. Capitol.

A search of 1850 census, Ward 3, Washington, D. C., revealed no Jordon identified as J. W. or Wm. (See Annex for 1840 census).

In Ward 4, William Jordon, age 25, Carpenter, b. Va., was living in a home with Ann Little, b. D. C.; Lewis Linsheimer, 23, b. Germany; William Whrick (?), 22, Bricklayer, b. Md.; Mary Wilson, 20, b. Va.; Virginia Little, 15, b. D. C.; John Dorsey Saddler, 19, b. D. C.; George Sayres, 20, Cigar Maker, b. D. C.

This William Jordon, age 25, could hardly have been son of William Jordon and Matilda Mudd, who were married in 1833.

Careful investigation showed that there are no existing Wills for a William Jordon in the District of Columbia for the period investigated.

George Blundin (also spelled Bloudin) is also spelled in one record in the file as Blendin. Change the d. of marriage of Harriet Mudd and George Blundin from 11-27-1818 to 11-27-1828.

363a.
George Washington Mudd was married at the First Methodist Church (also known as the Lovely Lane or Light Street Church) by Rev. Robert M. Lipscomb 6-23-1833 to Margaret Cooke (Record at Md. Historical Society).

364a.
A restudy of the 1850 census of the George Mudd family suggests that the George Mudd, age 49, was George Washington Mudd I (see p. 360), because "George Mudd, age 49" is listed last and not as the head of the family.

The following is the correct copy of the 1850 census report:

1850 census of Baltimore County, Md., (Vol. 2, p. 308, 1st dist.): Margaret Mud, age 37, was listed with Elizabeth 17, John 13, Mary 11, Eliza 9, Virginia 4, George W., 2 months, all Muds, Mary Vandergraft 23 and George Mud 49. From this census it would appear that George Washington Mudd II was not living with his family and that George Mud, age 49, was George Washington Mudd I. The age of 49 may have been incorrect.

Incidentally the family is listed as Mud and not Mudd.

365a.
Mrs. Fred Stoyer (Gail A. Sprucebank) Res. (1967) West Reading, Pa., is a dau. of Roy A. Sprucebank.

367a.

Mrs. Agnes Altrup (a member of the Handcock family) believed that Sarah Handcock, in the home of (Z? Mudd), was the widow of Abraham Handcock (see p. 353). She studied the 1800 to 1850 Charles County Census and other reports in arriving at this conclusion. The official Charles County, Maryland record of marriage of Diadma Mudd reads as follows: (as copied)

Leorenso Bastine, 22 married D. Mudd, age 18, license dtd 1-4-1871, marriage 1-15-1871, Minister W. I. Childs.

Louis Alexander Mudd d. 8-29-1966. The notice of death in the Washington Post (8-30) refers to sons, Edward and Leonard, and daughters, Bessie Mudd, Elsie Totten, Viola Stairs and Annie Evans.

The following records were located at Trinity Church, Washington, D. C. (in 1968). The following persons were baptized on 1-10-1910:
Lula Mudd, b. King George County, Va., 9-15-1882.
Elsie May Mudd, b. 11-4-1907.
Louis Edward Mudd, b. 6-10-1906.
Lucy Viola Mudd, b. 9-2-1908.
Laura Annie Mudd, b. 10-4-1909.

The father referred to as Louis Ashton Mudd, b. King George County, Va. 5-26-1880, was baptized 2-27-1910.

The fact that Louis Mudd had Ashton as his middle name is a further suggestion that there was a family relationship to the Ashton family. (see p. 377). It should be noted that 5-26-1880 is the same date of birth given for Horace Ashton Mudd (see ps. 376 and 380). The address of the family was 317 Mechanic Place, S. E.

380a.
The official birth record of Robertson Moncure Mudd (as copied) shows the date of 11-21-1919. See account of evangelistic activities of Mary Kimmer Mudd in Sunday News, New York, N. Y., 9-5-55. 388a.

Mrs. Isbell copied the marriage record of Emma Bastin, age 21, to Zekekiah Mudd, age 25, dated (license) 1-30-1883; married at Durham Church, Charles Co., Md. The age 21 of Emma Bastin would be incorrect if she were a widow with 5 children (see bottom of p. 388). Note that the information received (1st edition) indicated that she was born in 1852 and therefore 31 years old at time of marriage.

391a.

The names adjacent to Daniel Mudd in the 1850 census were: Oswell Bowie and 3 negro families.

Margaret Irene Dean Mudd d. Baileys Crossroads, Va., 3-17-1966.

Mildred Elizabeth Mudd Poole, age 49, of Herndon, Va., d. nr. Lexington, Va., 9-15-1967 (killed in auto accident). Also killed in the accident was Elizabeth Ann Rinker, 25, who appeared to be her dau., and Thomas Franklin Rinker, 27, probably Elizabeth's husband and Thomas Franklin Rinker Jr., 5, and Carol Elane Rinker, 2. The Rinkers were from Sterling, Va. James Poole, the husband of Mildred Elizabeth Mudd, is a cousin of William Emery Rogerson (p. 553).

Delia Cecelia Cady, widow of Daniel Hoskins Mudd, died, Washington, D. C., August 19, 1954. The death notice refers to all her children and stepchildren except Mrs. Michael John Kocialek, and to her sisters, Mrs. H. L. Phillips and Mrs. W. B. Bergevin. One grandchild (dau. of Edyth Cady Mudd Kociaclek?), Mrs. Wm. E. Lenhart is referred to. The Georgetown U. (Washington, D. C.) Alumni Bulletin (Nov. 1957) refers to Dr. Michael Kocialek as having died recently.

A careful reinspection of the 1800 census, Charles County, Md., reveals the fact that Edward and Sarah Mudd were not Mudd but Meed or Meede. Since this is the case they could not be the family of Edward Mudd listed as "remotely possible AAGB". However, the Will of Tabitha Mudd appears to be the Will of a Mudd and not Meed though in view of the 1800 census findings it seems probable that Tabitha was a Meed also.

The entire lower 1/3 of p. 396 and all of page 397 should be disregarded as being "Mudd." The Will of Tabitha Mudd, who had children, Edward and Sarah, was carefully noted and the Will is in the name of Tabitha Mud and the children, Edward and Sarah Mud. However it is suspected that the County Clerk copied the Will as Mud having interpreted the name of Meed as Mud. The finding of Tabitha Meed in the 1790 census of Charles County, Md., further suggests that Tabitha was a Meed and not a Mudd.

It is believed that Rebecca Wright may have been Rebecca Wight. (Ref. papers of Wathen Medley, Owensboro, Ky.).

The Colonial Families of America (3, 494) states that the children of Elizabeth Mudd and Ignatius Simpson were:

John.
William.
Ignatius.
Mary, m. Verden.
Henrietta, m. Thompson.
Monica.
Elizabeth.

(See also correspondence with Mrs. Gladys E. Wassner, a descendant of Simpson family). This list does not include two referred to by Harry W. Newman vis: Henry and Charles.

Henry W. Newman, in his book, "The Maryland Semmes and Kindred Families" (p.175) lists the 9 children of Ignatius Simpson and Elizabeth Mudd as follows:

1. Henry, b. at St. Thomas, St. Mary Co., Md., possibly went to Washington Co., Ky., after the Revolutionary War.
2. John Lowe, b. Newport Hundred, Charles Co., Md., in 1778. Head of a family of 4 females in 1790.
3. Charles, b. at St. Thomas, m. Sarah Burtles, dau of William Burtles (d. testate, Charles Co., Md., 1789), and sister of Ann Burtles (See Johnathon Mudd, Aae).
4. Henrietta.
5. Monica.
6. Elizabeth, d. unm. 1783.
7. William.
8. Ignatius, m. Thomasa Mollohan.
9. Mary, m. Richard Varden (or Vanden). Verden is stated in "The Colonial Families of America."

Ignatius Simpson[3], b. c 1708, (who m. Elizabeth Mudd, Abd) was son of Thomas Simpson and Mary Matthews (and not Elizabeth..... as in 1st edition), dau. of Thomas Matthews II and Sarah Boarman, according to Harry W. Newman in "The Maryland Semmes and Kindred Families"(p.175). The date of his Will also reported as 2-4-1768.

Elizabeth Mudd Simpson, d. 9-17-1794 and is buried at St. Mary Catholic Church, Bryantown (see p. 176, Newman).

Thomas Simpson[2] (father of Ignatius[3], who m. Elizabeth Mudd) had the following children: (Ref. The Colonial Families of America, Vol. III, p. 494)
Thomas, b. 1695.
William, b. 1700.
Ignatius, b. 1708, who m. Elizabeth Mudd.
Mary, who m. James Williams, and James.

Mr. Newman contends that Thomas Simpson[1], father of Thomas[2], above, was in the Province of Maryland by 1658, and was owner of "St. Thomas" in Charles Co. He makes no mention of the Thomas Simpson who received 450 a. of "Simpson" in 1652.

Mr. Newman's book has a very interesting chapter on the Simpson family (p.168 et sequa).

The following may suggest that Mary Mudd (Abe) m. John Beavin. The Will of John Beavin was presented for Adm. by Mary Beavin 4-6-1772 with William Rodney and Rowland Beavins as her securities. (Ref.: Test. Proc. Worcester Co., Md., 44-566). On October 14, 1774 Mary Beavins, Adm. of John Beavins, "alias Bibbins", late of Worcester Co., is referred to (Bal. Bk. 7, f19).

The estate of a John Beavins (alias Bibbins) late of Worcester Co., Md., was distributed as follows: To widow 1/3d; to Wm. Bibbins, to John Bibbins, to Rowland Bibbins and the residue to Ezakiah, Betty Say (or Lay) and Zacharh being the rest of his children. Mrs. Mary Beavins was Adm. on 10-14-1774. The sureties were Wm. Bradney (?) and Rowland Beavins. Whether or not she was Mary Mudd (Abe) is not known. (Ref.: Balance Book L7 of 19).

Mrs. Elsie Isbell, whose main interest is in the Beavins family, studied this estate of John Beavins. She felt that this John was too late to be the husband of Mary Mudd but that John's father, another John Beavins, might have been the husband of Mary Mudd. This John made his Will 1-19-1749 and it was prob. 12-19-1749. He named his children, Thomas, Roling (Rowland?), Caleb, John, Elizabeth. (Liber 27, f 218, Worcester Co., Md.). There is not proof that either of these John Beavins married Mary Mudd (Abe).

Mrs. Anna Beavans Cohill was the dau. of Daniel Gale Beavans (who d. 1938), son of Mary Jane Gale and Leonidas Ambrose Beavans, b. 7-31-1823, son of Ellen Clark and Henry Bevans, d. 11-25-1849, son of Ignatius Calvert Beavins and wife Mary (possibly Mudd but no proof).

Ignatius Calvert Bevans is reported to be buried at Little Orleans, Md.

The above Henry Bevans is reported to have had a brother Thomas whose seven children are listed in the file.

The Charles Bevans of Harford and Charles Counties, Md., was b. 1756, d. 1829 (Ref. Mrs. Elsie Isbell). An earlier Charles Bevans made his Will, in P.G. Co., Md., 1-20-1698, prob. 6-21-1699. He mentioned his wife Mary, sons Richard and Charles, daughters, Sarah, Margaret, Elizabeth and Katherine. He refers to brother Richard Marsham and Kinsman William Barton. There is nothing to prove that the above Charles Beavin, son of Charles who d. 1698/99 is the same as Charles Beavin who made his Will 10-31-1785.

Mrs. Isbell found that the reference to the Will of Ben Beavin, witnessed by Henry Mudd, was Charles Co., Md., Liber A110, f18, 19, instead of "Charles Co., Wills, Book 10, p1." She found that John Gardiner and Wm. Cook also were witnesses in addition to Henry Mudd. In this Will Benjamin Beavin named only his wife Martha.

Henry Hudson Wathen I was possibly son of Susanna ("Anna") Hudson (b. 1665, d. c 1705) and John Wathen (b. Charles Co., Md., 1662, d. Charles Co., Md., 1705), son of Mary Mullett (b. c 1630, d. 1690) and John Wathen (b. Bristol, England 1625, m. 1650, d. Charles Co., Md. 1699), son of Sir Charles Wathen (Ref. Papers of Wathen Medley, Owensboro, Ky.).

Henry Hudson Wathen IV was born 5-11-1766, son of Henry Hudson Wathen III and Ann ..... A brother of Henry Hudson IV was Francis, b. 11-3-1764. These two children were baptized at St. Andrews Episcopal Church, St. Marys Co., Md. (See Chronicles of St. Marys, Jan. 1959).

Mary Spalding 2nd wife of Henry Hudson Wathen IV was Mary Zerelda Spalding (b. 2-1-1773, d. 1-24-1847). She was the daughter of Benedict Joseph Spalding, who m. Alethia Abell.

Alethia Abell, sister of Robert Abell, was b. 4-22-1753 (c 1749 also given, see Ref. 235, Vol. I, p. 19), d. Washington Co., Ky., 1815. (Ref. Wathen Medley - see above).

The children of Benedict Spalding and Alethia (also referred to as Alethaire) Abell were: (Ref. 235)

1. Ann, m. Clement Hamilton.
2. Mary Zerelda, m. Henry Hudson Wathen IV.
3. Eleanor, m. Basil Riney.
4. Richard, m. 1st Henrietta Hamilton, 2d Henrietta Thompson, 3d Mrs. Mary (Charlton) Adams.
5. Thomas, m. 1st Susanna Abell; 2d Ann Shircliffe.
6. Elizabeth, m. 1st John B. Wathen, 2d Edw. Spalding.
7. Benedict, m. 1st Mary Hamilton, 2d Eliza Elder, 3rd Elizabeth McElroy. No issue.
8. Joseph, m. 1st Eliza Moore, 2d Ann Abell, 3d Teresa Moore.
9. Catherine, m. Richard Forrest.
10. Ignatius Aloysius, m. 1st Jane Gray Pottinger, 2d Mrs. Ann (Hutson) Allen.
11. Alethaire, m. Francis Simms.
12. William Francis, m. 1st Eliz Thompson, 2d Behethland Wathen, 3rd Mrs. Polly (Clements) Hite.

The statement in the 1st edition (p. 399), that Benedict Spalding and Alethia Abell had a son who became a Bishop was incorrect. The Bishop, descendant of Benedict Spalding and Alethaire Abell, was Martin John Spalding, Bishop of Louisville, later Archbishop of Baltimore, who was son of Richard Marcus Spalding and the latter's 1st wife Henrietta Hamilton.

Also I have no proof that Sue Spalding who m. Jack Hagan, brother-in-law of George Wilkes Mudd (Aebf) was a dau. of Benedict Spalding and Alethia Abell as was originally suspected. In fact there is good reason to believe she was not their daughter.

Tim O'Rourke, Kansas City, Mo., believes (Oct. 1967) that Ann Wathen, d. c age 82, dau. of Sarah Mudd and Henry Hudson Wathen, m. Joseph Miles, son of Philip Miles, possibly son of John Barton Miles and Elizabeth Gardiner. A Richard Wathen (could be son of Sarah Mudd) but no proof) m. St. Marys Co., Md., 9-28-1773 Eleanor Mattingly.

Bennett W. Wathen (son of Sarah Mudd) was a State Senator in Maryland.

400a.

Since Henrietter Mudd was referred to in her father's Will as Henereta Mudd she was probably unmarried as of the date of the Will in 1736 and therefore her date of her marriage should read "after 1736." She was "Henirito Clemans" in her mother's Will of May 1761.

400a. (Contd)

It is far from certain that Monica Mudd married .....Salsbury. Fr. Kenny gave a lot of thought to this question and states in a note in the file that "Monica or Eleanor (Ellender)" married Salsbury. Elizabeth Ann Salsbury, in the Will of Elizabeth Mudd, widow of Henry Mudd, might have been a married daughter of Mary who married Beavans (Bibbin in Elizabeth Mudd's Will.) Apparently Elizabeth Ann Salsbury was under the care of Mary "Bibbin" at the time Elizabeth Mudd, Henry's widow, made her Will.

The Will of Henry Mudd, dated 6-22-1736, as it appears on p. 402, was copied from published sources and from reports of researchers. A copy of the Will was obtained and it refers to his family as follows and in the following order:

To my beloved wife, Elizabeth; to my four "ungest" children, Henry Mudd, Monica Mudd, Bennett Mudd and Ellender Mudd; to my "sun" Henry Mudd; to my "datter" Elizabeth Simpson; to my "sun" Thomas Mudd; to my "datter" Mary Bening; to my "datter" Sarah Mudd; to my "datter" Henereter Mudd; to my wife and my four "ungest" children, all my flock of sheep etc. Witnesses: Charles Farrall, Ignatius Simpson and Ignatius Hagun. Signed by Hen. Mudd, Probated 9-15-1736.

It would appear that Henry Mudd (AB) either conveyed his landed property to his family prior to death, or was taking advantage of the law of primogeniture, permitting all his lands to go to his oldest son who appears to have been Thomas Mudd. It would seem too that his children were in 2 sets - the 4 younger viz. Henry, Monica, Bennett and Ellender and the 5 older Elizabeth, Thomas, Mary, Sarah and Henereter. This arrangement vaguely suggests that Henry Mudd was married twice and that his wife Elizabeth was the mother of the 4 younger children (but not of his 5 older children). However, Elizabeth Mudd, the widow, refers to all of them as her children.

The original Will was 4 1/2 sides. The Will, supplied by the Hall of Records, is obviously a Clerk's copy.

It is pretty well established that Mary Mudd married a Beavin (Bevin) or Bibben as written in the Will of Elizabeth Mudd, the widow, and the word "Bening" as Mary's husband is probably a miscopy or misspelling.

405a.

The "Uncle" Gardiner referred to by Ignatius Mudd in the latter's Will was Ignatius Gardiner, brother of Ignatius Mudd's mother. Ignatius Gardiner remembered Ignatius Mudd, his nephew, in his Will of 1777. (Ref. Harry W. Newman). It was the same Ignatius Gardiner who witnessed the Will of Thomas Mudd (Aba) and the same Ignatius Gardiner and brother, Richard, who went bond for Henry Mudd (Abaa) Administrator for Thomas Mudd (Aba) (See p. 407).

An Ignatius Mudd is referred to as being an early settler on Hardin's Creek, in Ky, in company with Luke Mudd (See ps. 135 and 139). If he were in Ky., it would have to be prior to 1784/85, the year of his death.

For further information concerning the Neale family, see ps. 69 and 105a.

406a.

Information concerning the wife of Thomas Mudd (Aba): Harry W. Newman believed that the wife of Thomas Mudd was Anne Gardiner.

Luke Gardiner, father of Anne, above, was b. 1680 at St. Marys Co., Md., and d. 1720 in Md. Anne Craycroft, d. Charles Co., Md., 1765. The marriage of Luke Gardiner and Anne Craycroft was after 8-9-1704.

Mr. Harry Newman made a careful study of this for Mrs. Mary Thornbrough, Lakin, Kansas (see p. 1093). He showed among other items that Luke Gardiner, b. in 1680 (Ref. Prov. Court Records, 1711), d. March 5, 1718/19, m. 1st Ann Pile, dau. of Joseph Pile (P. G. Co., Md. Deeds Liber C. f 84), after 9-6-1701 but before 10-11-1701 when he received 1/5th of the personal estate of Joseph Pile, late of St. Marys Co., Md. Mr. Newman found several deeds of Luke Gardiner and Ann, his wife, but it is impossible to prove which Ann signed with him as both wives were Ann.

Mr. Newman found that Ann Pile survived only about 3 years after her marriage to Luke Gardiner after which he married Ann Craycroft (b. 1689), dau. of Ignatius Craycroft (who d. in 1704). After the death of Luke Gardiner, his widow, Ann Craycroft Gardiner married Richard Edelen.

The children of Luke Gardiner as shown by the Will of Ann Craycroft Gardiner are as shown on p. 407 with the added information (as shown by Newman) that Mary Gardiner married 1st a Smith and 2d a Chunn. It was Luke Gardiner (son of Elizabeth Hatton and Luke Gardiner, of Richard, the immigrant) who married 1st, Monica Turner and 2ndly, Elizabeth Slye, dau. of Robert Slye. (Ref. Harry W. Newman)

Luke Gardiner, father of Anne Gardiner, wife of Thoma s Mudd was son of Richard Gardiner, b. 16xx at St. Marys Co., Md., d. St. Marys Co., Md., 1687 and his wife, Elizabeth Weire, b. 16xx at Richmond Co., Va. died ? - married in Va.

The above Richard Gardiner was son of Luke Gardiner, Lord of the Manor, born 1622 in Great Britain, died St. Marys Co., Md. 1674, and his wife, Elizabeth Hatton, b. Great Britain 16xx, d. P. G. Co., Md., 17xx. They were married in St. Marys Co., Md.

The last above Luke Gardiner was son of Richard Garnett (Gardiner) Lord, born St. Marys Co., Md., in 1644 and his wife, Elizabeth. The latter were married in Great Britain. (All above from Harry W. Newman).

Under the heading "Gardiner Family" in 1st edition there was a major error which was corrected. It was stated that Luke Gardiner m. 1st Elizabeth Sly. It is probable that a Luke Gardiner did marry Elizabeth Slye, but this was a much earlier Luke Gardiner (Ref. Chancery suit, England C9 453/133). The Luke Gardiner who married Elizabeth Slye (dau. of Robert Slye) lived in the late 17th century (marriage after March 13, 1670, date of Robert Slye's Will, when Elizabeth Slye was unmarried).

Concerning the wife of Henry Mudd (Abaa) Hughes Spalding states that Basil Spalding, d. of b. unknown but probably in the 1720s, who m. Catherine Edelen about 1748 was the grandson of Thomas Spalding, the Maryland pioneer, who came to Maryland in 1658. He states that this Basil Spalding had 7 sons and 5 daughters and that no one of them was Blanche and that none of them could have married about 1754 because Basil did not marry till 1748. If this is true, and it appears that it is, the words in the 5th line - "dau. of (possibly) Basil Spalding and Catherine Edelen" in the 1st edition should have been deleted.

The parentage of the wife of Henry Mudd is not known. The tradition is that Henry Mudd's wife was Blanche or Alice Spalding.

Mary Mudd (Abaad) m. Alexius Simms (of Catherine Culver and Joseph Simms[4]) (See Ref. 234, p. 23). The first edition (M. F. H.) stated that Mary Mudd, m. Thomas Simms. This information had been given to Rev. Fr. Kenny.

Issues of Mary Mudd (living in April 1823) and Alexius Simms, who d. 2-22-1823, were:

1. Cecily, m. John Spalding.
2. Catherine, m. Captain William Easbey.
3. Alexius, m. Euridice Franzoni (Newman, p. 36).
4. Joseph.
5. Aloysius, m. Huffman.
6. Henry, m. (at Catholic Church, Frederick Co., Md.,) 1824, Margaret Brengle, dau. of Nicholas Brengle.
7. Edward (his issue listed on p. 37 of Newman, above).
8. Thomas Simms.

Further information on Alexius Simms: On April 24, 1821 Alexis Simms sold a Negro boy to John Kunkle (Liber. J. S. 13, f 134, Frederick Co., Md.). On 5-22-1821 Alexis Simms purchased a part of "Finishing Touch" and a part of "Cullden", 80 a. and 25 a. respectively for $2500 from Vachel Pumphrey (Liber J. S. 14, f 498 Frederick Co., Md.). Alexis Simms mortgaged this land to Pumphrey and later (exact date not copied) Mary Simms relict (widow) of Alexius Simms, Henry Joseph, Alexius and Aloysius Simms of Frederick Co., and John Spalding and Cecily, his wife Wm. Easby and Catherine, his wife, and Edward Simms of D. C., returned this land to Pumphrey for release of the mortgage. "Cullden" and "Finishing Touch" were located N. E. of Frederick, midway between Mt. Pleasant and New London, Md.

Richard Elder, of Frederick Co., Md., made his Will on January 25, 1814. After the usual preliminaries he bequeathed as follows:

To wife, Mary Ann, a slave named Charlotte, cows, hogs, furniture, grain and $1625 in cash to enable her to buy a house for herself and children; to sons Henry and John (referred to in family records as John Francis) and daughters Emely (sic) and Catherine (referred to as Mary Catherine in family records), the residue of his estate, to be applied to their schooling. That the lott (sic) of mountain land sold to Joseph Leatherman called "High and Lofty Prospect" in Frederick Co., and also a tract in Bedford Co., Pa., sold to Doctr David Wishard be sold as previously arranged just the same as if he were living. Signed Richard Elder. Executor - friend William B. Head. Witnesses: Samuel Ogle, Joseph Livers, Jesse Elder.

A copy of the above was supplied by Mrs. Caroline V. Shoemaker, College Park, Md.

409a. (Contd)

The following notes were written on the copy of the Richard Elder Will:

"Henry Elder was Uncle Harry. He moved to Toledo, Ohio. John Elder, "My grandfather" lived and died in Frederick Co., Md." (See Wills, Liber R. B. No. 1 f 499, Frederick Co., Md.).

The first edition stated that Richard Elder died 4-x-1813 which is obviously a mistake. It is clear that this Richard Elder, who died 1813, is the same one whose Will is dated 1814, therefore there must be some problem with respect to dates. Mrs. Shoemaker's records show that he died 4-16-1813 so it would be reasonable to believe he was buried on 4-18-1813 which was Easter Sunday but the 1814 date on the Will is still unexplained - possibly a copying error. A copy of the Will was obtained and the date of the Will is 1-25-1814 and the Probate was on 4-25-1814. Martin Elder, Decatur, Ga. found that 4=16=1814 was the date of death of Richard Elder.

411a.

Referring to the 1775/78 Constable Census of Maryland rather than stating that there were 3 Henry Mudds in that census, it is more correct to state that there were 2 Henry Mudds believed to be ABB and ABAA and Thomas Henry Mudd believed to be Henry Thomas Mudd (ABAA).

413a.

The Cecily Spalding in the Will of Henry Mudd was probably the daughter of Mary Mudd and Alexius Simms. (See p. 409).

The Will of Charles Elder, Sr., (Frederick Co., Md., Wills G.M. and R.B. #1 f 33) made 5-8-1804 and probated 6-26-1804 refers to his son Bennet, deceased, who had worked for him for several years and therefore he left certain property to Bennet's children named as follows: Charles, Harry, Elexius, Benedict and Elizabeth (150 L to be divided amongst them). He then mentions only two of his own children vis: Maryan Montgomery and James Elder. Charles Elder Sr. does not mention a son, William, in his Will.

Data on the Spalding family:

The following information is recorded here for Basil Spalding because in the first edition it was stated that Blanche Spalding, the wife of Henry Mudd (ABAA), was the daughter of Basil Spalding and Catharine Edelen.

Hughes Spalding, of Atlanta, Ga., stated "that Basil Spalding was son of John Spalding and was the only son (of John) to remain in Charles Co., Md. Basil was prominent and wealthy and a large land owner of Charles Co.

The above John was oldest son of Thomas Spalding. Thomas Spalding, the immigrant, was brought into Md., by John Shercliffe his cousin."

Hughes Spalding's line is: Thomas^{1}; William^{2}; Benedict I, ^{3}; Benedict II, ^{4}; Ignatius AloysiusI^{5}; Ignatius Aloysius II, ^{6}; Jack^{7}; Hughes^{8}.

Arnold Elder m. Clotilda Green, dau. of Francis Green (See Ref. 122). For more information see the Elder file.

414a.

Add the following to FN 8: Ref. 83, Vol. I, p. 75 states that Richard Elder was "Buried at Mt. St. Marys, Emmitsburg, Md., on 4-9-1813, Easter Sunday." Note: Easter Sunday was on April 18 in 1813.

Mrs. Shoemaker's notes stated that he died 4-16-1813.

Martin Elder's notes indicate that he d. 4-16-1814. See discussion of this on p. 409a.

416a.

One record in file (no authority given) refers to (Elizabeth) Dorothy Mudd was known as Dorothy Olim Mudd. She was baptized in Mo., by Rev. Fr. Quickenborne on 6-12-1832.

J. Frank Dobie, writing in 1958 in a San Antonio paper, on Live Oak Co., Texas refers to a John Clare, a cattle owner in that county. The year appears to be 1895. Whether he was John F. Clare (p. 416) or a descendant is unknown but he may have been John I. Clare (see below).

Henry Thomas Clare, b. St. Charles Co., Mo., 10-8-1826, d. 1900; probably m. in Lavaca Co., Texas, 1849, Mary Ellen (Maggie) Layton (b. Perry Co., Mo., 12-23-1827, d. 1906, dau. of Walter Layton and Ellen .....

The town of Clareville, Texas is named after the Clare family. The Clares came from Clare Co., Ireland and settled in Maryland before the Revolution.

Henry T. Clare came to Texas, at 9 years of age, with his parents settling in Jackson Co., in 1835. In 1846 Henry T. Clare joined The Rangers, commanded by Capt. Sutton. They joined the U.S. Army under General Taylor and in 1848 invaded Mexico. Henry T. Clare married in Lavaca Co., Texas in 1849, and moved to Bee Co., settling on Aransas Creek in 1856 and in 1887 to Beeville.

John Ignatius Clare (b. 1849, d. 1923) and Angelina Ryan (1851-1891) had the following issue:

1. Imanuel, b. 7-20-1882.
2. Myrtle, b. 7-1-1892, m. 1st - unknown; m. 2d ..... Shipley.

417a.

William Wallace Kirkpatrick (b. 6-11-1837) made his Will on 12-4-1889 (copy in file). He mentions his wife Ursula, whom he made his executrix, and his 3 children Angela, Mary and Frances. Testamentary letters were granted to Ursula Kirkpatrick on January 16, 1890.

The following was received from Mrs. Edna M. Olson, St. Charles, Mo., in April 1967:

A petition was filed on July 29, 1899 to foreclose a mortgage in Circuit Court (St. Charles, Mo. ?). It alleges that on Sept. 30, 1868 Francis H. Kirkpatrick (see p. 416) executed to one Lovice A. Mittelberger (spelling not certain) his note whereby he promised to pay to order of said Mittelberger the sum of $650 and for the purpose of securing sd note gave a deed of trust on a lot of ground on Madison St., and that on June 15, 1888 the Administrator of Francis H. Kirkpatrick's estate paid $29.49 on said note and that afterward Virginia C. Kirkpatrick (probably widow of Francis H. Kirkpatrick) assigned the note and deed of trust to Frances V. Mudd (She appears to be Frances Virginia Mudd, p. 989, dau. of John Robert Mudd and Laura Jane Edelen.) It was alleged that Matilda J. Mudd (She was Matilda Jane Kirkpatrick, p. 416, m. James Felix Mudd p. 482) was entitled to 1/4th interest in said lot and that Virginia C. Kirkpatrick (possibly a dau. of Aloysius Edelen and Ellen Kirby, see p. 920) owned the remaining 3/4ths. There is a notation that Mrs. Kirkpatrick was 84 years old in November 1916 and died 2-7-1917.

In May 1917 during the administration of the estate of Virginia Kirkpatrick (apparently Virginia C. Edelen wife of Francis Henry Kirkpatrick) a Miss Catharine Worthington, apparently her niece, (see p. 63) put in a bill for washing, cooking, housekeeping etc. since about 2-7-1890 stating that Virginia Kirkpatrick was an invalid for 13 years and that she (Miss Worthington) waited on her and nursed her. The bill was for $3347.00, less $165 paid by Virginia Kirkpatrick. Mrs. Kirkpatrick was 84 years and 3 months old when she died and resided on the North Side of Madison Street, between 3d and 4th Streets and the record states she had no issue. The record states that Virginia Kirkpatrick kept boarders. (Probate Court Record).

Attached to these papers was an outline indicating that Virginia C. (Edelen) Kirkpatrick had a full sister Laura (Edelen) Mudd (see p. 988); a half brother James Edelen. This is James Leppie Edelen, see ps. 62, 63, 712, 990, who m. Catherine A. Mudd and had the following children:

Annie, m......McKnight, Alton, Ill.
Katharine, m. .....Stonebraker, Detroit, Mich.
Florence, m.....Bullitt, of Norfolk, Va.
James, of Lincoln Co., Mo.

Alonzo Edelen, half brother of Virginia C. Edelen had following issue:

1. Aloysius, living near Monroe, La.
2. J. L. Edelen, "Orchard Farm, Mo."
3. Genevieve Vick, Little Rock, Ark.
4. Madora Moran, Lincoln Co., Mo.
5. (Unknown) Edelen.
6. Alice? (Stanky?) of St. Louis, Mo.
7. Horace, resd. in "Osarks, Mo."

A half sister of Virginia C. Edelen was Lou Mudd Beck (Reading far from certain). (see ps. 62, 63) Mary Louise Edelen m. 1st Wm. Uptegrove and 2dly John Lewis Mudd (see ps. 982 and 985), and 3d Zimon E. Beck (see p. 985). This Lou Mudd Beck is stated (in the report) to have a daughter Maria Beck (see p. 982) (spelling uncertain) and a daughter Jennie Mudd Edelen (see p. 983).

This alignment is not clear but for any future study the papers are in the file of Henry Thomas Mudd (Abaaa).

The outline also refers to Caroline Worthington's family as follows: (see ps. 62, 63) Katie of St. Charles, Mo.; Theodore, of Alton, Ill.; Bart (?), Lincoln Co. (?), Mo.; Mrs. Annie Jackson, of Texas.

The Ellen Mudd, age 5, and "Frank" Mudd, age 4, in the 1870 census, St. Charles Co., Mo., were probably Ella Lee Mudd and Frances Virginia Mudd, daughters of John Robert Mudd (p. 988). Note that John Robert Mudd's wife died 4-5-1869 and it is probable that these 2 children went to live with Francis H. Kirkpatrick whose wife, Virginia C. Edelen was the aunt of the children.

The 1800 Charles Co., Md., census report of Henry T. Mudd was of Trinity Parish, p. 37, which was the page following his father's census report.

419a.

Add under "Spalding Family," Ann Spalding was the dau. of Thomas Spalding (1706-1769) and Katherine Cooper. This Ann Spalding married Basil Mahoney prior to Jan. 2, 1768, because on this date she was referred to as "Ann Mahoney, daughter" in the Will of Thomas Spalding. She was an heir of her mother in 1775. Ann's daughter, "Alusia" is referred to as daughter of Ann Mahoney in Thomas Spalding's Will.

Basil Mahoney lived first in St. Marys Co., where during the Revolutionary War he was listed as an able-bodied man of Captain Roach's Upper Battalion. At that time he was under 50 years of age. On April 22, 1782 Basil Mahoney purchased from Samuel Hanson, of Charles Co., Md., for 30,750 lbs. of Tobacco, the plantation known as Hopewell, consisting of 200 acres. After this Basil Mahoney settled in Charles Co., Md.

Thomas Spalding (1706-1769) known as "Tommy", was the oldest son of William Spalding (d. 1741) and Ann Jenkins (not Ann Joseph as shown in the 1st edition), dau. of Thomas Jenkins (b. 1640-42) and not William Joseph as shown in the 1st edition) and Anne his wife.

The above William Spalding (d. 1741) was son of Thomas Spalding, who was resident in Md., by Dec. 2, 1661 and Katherine, his wife.

The above Katherine Cooper, was the dau. and solf heiress of Thomas Cooper, who died testate in St. Marys Co., Md. 1723. He married 1st Mary, widow of William Bright and 2ndly Teresa.....

The before mentioned Thomas Cooper was the son of Thomas Cooper and Katherine..... widow of Hugh Benson of St. Marys Co.

The information on the Spaldings, Coopers and Jenkins and Mahoneys was taken from reports by Harry Wright Newman, of D. C.

The name of Richard B. Gardiner was not found among the lists of those who subscribed to the Oath of Allegience. It is possible that he was an English citizen (Loyalist) or his name was inadvertently omitted from the list. (See Chronicles of St. Marys, (Monthly Bulletin of St. Marys County, (Md.) Historical Society June 1962 for additional information on Mahoney and Spalding families).

One record il file gives 9-10-1818 as d. of b. of Robert Merrick Mudd.

James Marcellus Mudd died 3-10-1881.
James Theodore Mudd died 10-10-1886.

Ellen Mudd, dau. of James Marcellus Mudd was Ellen Lee Mudd, b. 7-25-1863.

The wife of James Marcellus Mudd was Emma Louise Whiteside, Whiteside, Mo., buried Valhalla Cemetery, St. Louis, Mo. She was dau. of Lydia Vardeman Moss and Jacob Whiteside (b. Shelby Co., Ky., 12-5-1802, came to Mo., in 1828, d. 7-6-1873), son of Eleanor Ellis and Isaac Whiteside, of Davis Whiteside and Eliza Johnson (See Whiteside book by Cannon in St. Charles Co., Historical Society, Mo.).

Dr. James Marcellus Mudd is reported to have operated a hotel at Clarksville, Mo., about 1880. (Ref: Albert Henry Mudd)

422a.
One record in the file gives the date of death of Mary Rose Mudd as 4-19-1875.

Asia Booth Clarke, sister of John Wilkes Booth, in her book - "The Unlocked Door" states (on p. 140) "Doctor Mudd who assisted Wilkes Booth in his lameness, was cousin to Ann Mudd, Abbess at one time at the Carmeline Convent where I received much of my education." Apparently she is referring here to Ann Theresa Mudd who became Sr. M. Joseph.

Census of Bryantown District, Charles Co., Md., as of 10-22-1850, Theodore Mudd, 65, valuation $5000; Dorothy, 56; George, M.D., 24; Ann, 20; Sylvester, 19; Robert, 16 (also copied "10" but obviously 16 is correct), all Mudds. He was next on the list after George A. Dyer, 28, who had a William Smith in his home.

Mrs. Charles Isbell (Elsie Ewers), McLean, Va., found that Hickory Thicket was located North of the road leading East from Malcolm, and East of the present railroad in this area. She sent a map showing Hickory Thicket and this is in the Beaven folder. She made a study of the records at Annapolis and Upper Marlboro and found that in Liber A. (P. G. Co.) it seems that every property was described as "lying in Calvert Co., now Prince Georges." She referred to article by Henry J. Berkeley, in Md. Hist. Mgz., Sept. 1934, p. 240, wherein it states:"Calvert County Manors and Hundreds. Erected 1654. It included the whole of Old Charles Co., as erected in 1650..... The limits of Calvert Co., so remained until the assembly constituted the new County of Prince Georges in May 1695, an edict which went into effect the following year."

There is considerable information on Huckleberry Swamp in the Theodore Mudd file.

425a.
Theodore Mudd, W. N. Bean, and Thos O. Bean witnessed the Will of Elizabeth Montgomery, widow of James (son of James of Peter). Her Will was probated August 19, 1845 (Ref: Elsie Montgomery Brown).

The middle name of Lucy Smith, who m. Jeremiah Dyer, has been interpreted to be Odrie, Audry and even Audree.

The name of Dr. Jesse Jameson, 1st husband of Sarah Dyer, was not found among the list of those who subscribed to the Oath of Allegience. It is possible that he was an English citizen (Loyalist) or his name was inadvertently omitted from the list.

Sarah Dyer's second marriage to Marsham Bowling is said to have shocked the Dyers and Gardiners because Marsham Bowling was the overseer of her farm.

425a. (Contd)

Jeremiah Dyer died in 1823 according to the records of St. Mary's Church, Bryantown, Md.

Mary Jane Dyer (daughter of Theodore Dyer and Esther Gardiner), m. Joseph E. Simms, son of Thomas Simms and Elizabeth Edelen (See Ref. 234, p. 24).

Amanda ("Mandy") (Ann Amanda), b. 1-7-1819, m. 2-25-1840 George Washington Gardiner.

According to the Dyer records of Harry W. Newman, John Alexander Dyer married Sarah Marshall.

Ann Parmelia (Amelia) Dyer was b. 2-20-1782, d. 12-3-1850. Her husband was definitely James Gardiner[6] (of Richard,[5] of John[4], of Elizabeth Weir and Richard[3], of Elizabeth Hatton and Capt. Luke[2], of Richard Gardiner[1], who died 12-20-1670.

James Gardiner was b. May 1779 and d. 12-3-1883. He and wife had the following issue:(Ref. Mrs. Edw. B. Edelen)

George H. (1808-1830).

Estella Gardiner married Dr. William Ignatius Boarman and the latters second daughter, Mary Ellen Gwynn Boarman married Benjamin Marcellus Edelen Sr., who was the second child of Mary Therese Gardiner, the third child of Thomas Elzear Gardiner. Thus can be seen tne complicated relationships of these Gardiners, Boarmans and Edelens. (Ref. Mrs. Edw. B. Edelen nee Vivian Loraine Bounds).

Mrs. Isbell received from the records of St. Marys Church, Bryantown the following records:

Augustin Burch died Aug. 6, 1834, age 56 (therefore born 1778).

The full Will of Henrietta Dyer was inspected and she devised as follows:

To son, Edward Dyer, to dau. Elizabeth Clarkson, to son Thomas Dyer, to her six sons Francis Clements, Henry E., George, Giles G., (also reported as Gilesby), Jeremiah and Walter, to dau., Teresa Dyer, to her three daughters, Mary Henrietta, Martha Ann, and Teresa Dyer, personal property only was devised. Harry W. Newman found that Thomas Dyer (of Comfort Barnes and Patrick Dyer) m. about 1738 Henrietta Clements, b. about 1721, a dau. of Francis Clements and Elizabeth his wife. Mr. Newman could not find a marriage of Thomas Dyer to Sarah Edelen nor has the author been able to prove such a marriage.

George Dominic Mudd (p. 461) stated that "all of my father's people went to Gallant Green (Md.) School." (See also Susanah Seraphine Mudd, ps. 871-873). He did not know when this school was built, but knew it was built before his time (he was b. 1899). It was at first a one room school and not too long before he entered school there another room was added. He stated that his father, Jeremiah Theodore Mudd and he thought, his dad's 3 half-brothers Sidney, Emmanuel, Oscar Jeremiah and Robert Lee, as well as his sister Mary Joseph, all attended there.

George Dominic Mudd further stated that he had a faint recollection of his father telling him that there was a 'white' school on the Malcolm road about half way between the home of Dr. Samuel Alexander Mudd and Malcoln. "An old colored man, Dick Stewart, lived in what was that school which was directly North of our place and joined it." He states also that he thought that his mother, Mary Merton Mudd (see p. 874) taught school at St. Peters (Public School) for a year or two.

This Dick Stewart frequently helped Samuel Alexander Mudd II at hog killing time. (Ref. Emily Rogerson).

Note: Three schools in the vicinity of the home of Dr. Samuel Alexander Mudd are mentioned above viz.: St. Peters Public School, Gallent Green and Malcolm Schools. The St. Peters Public School was located near to the present St. Peters Church. Some persons state that this school building was moved East (nearer to the Dr. Sam Mudd home) and was commonly known as the Gallant Road School.

The following entries are to be found in "Zachary Taylor, Soldier in the White House" by Holman Hamilton:

A number of other documents point to Taylor's campaign resourcefulness. One went to his oddly named biographer, J. H. Clay Mudd. (p. 119). On occasion The President over-ruled the entire cabinet in effecting patronage decisions. He often turned down Ewing's favorites picking Ignatius Mudd for example and Orlando Brown for responsible posts though the Ohioan opposed them. (p. 204).

In a statement of John A. Sutter Jr., regarding his early California experiences (see Sacramento Book Collectors Club, 1943, Sacramento, Calif.), he refers to John Henry Clay Mudd as an attorney in one of his law suits. (p. 126). John Sutter referred to him mistakenly as Mr. Mudd Clay. John Henry Clay Mudd is referred to as a lawyer in San Francisco and active in Whig politics. John A. Sutter Jr., was son of John A. Sutter of Sutter's Fort fame. He had a grant of 48,000 acres of land from the Mexican Government.

Dr. Samuel A. Mudd (p. 529) in a letter to his wife from Ft. Jefferson, Fla., prison on 7-14-1867 refers to Lt. Thompson who had served with a Capt. Dove and who had called on Dr. Mudd. Lt. Lt. Col. Allan R. Edward, Berryville, Va., wrote (Jan. 1960) stating that he thought his ancestor Matilda Mudd was another daughter of Stanislaus Mudd. She was born 1821, 22 or 23, was 39 years old in 1860 census. She married Richard Ham, b. in South Carolina and in the 1860 census had Alfred, b. Ky., William, b. Ky.; Edward, b. Ky.; Eliza, b. Ill.; Elizabeth, b. Ill.; Stanney, b. Ill.; and Delfina, b. Ill. Having Eliza, Stanney (short for Stanislaus) and Delfina in that family and being in the same census (Pike Co., Ill.) as Eliza Mudd, widow of Stanislaus Mudd and Henry T. Mudd, son of Stanislaus Mudd makes it appear that Matilda Mudd was a daughter. Eliza Ham, dau. of Melvina and Richard Ham, m......Wike and had, Lizzie May, b. Pike Co., Ill.; d. 1948, age 77, who m...Edward, who were parents of Allan R. Edward. Lizzie May also said that her mother was the daughter of Richard Ham and Matilda Mudd.

Stanislaus Mudd is buried at South Cemetery, Pittsfield, Ill. The date of death on tombstone was copied 7-19-1833. He is said to have died of Cholera. His wife is also buried there and the stone record is b. 7-9-1797, d. 2-25-1866. Also buried there is the dau. Susan Marie, reported to have been b. 8-12-1821, d. 8-3-1847. Also Sarah Ann Mudd Scanlan, b. 2-22-1827, b. 2-22-1827, d. 5-3-1851.

It is possible that there were 2 Elizabeth Delfine Mudds, one born 9-30-1831 and one b. 3-17-1833. (See Footnote 7, p. 488 and 488a.)

Mrs. John J. Byrne, a daughter of Dr. Harry Alexis Hodgen resd. 1963, Grand Rapids, Michigan.

With respect to Footnote #7, Rev. Fr. Augustin Wand, Archivist at St. Marys College, St. Marys, Kansas, reported (1962) that "Elizabeth Delphana Mudd" was baptized at Lousiana, Mo., 12-28-1832. Eliza January, the mother, was referred to as a non-Catholic and the baptism was marked "Emergency." It is possible therefore that a first Elizabeth Delphana Mudd died and the 2nd was born 3-17-1833. (See p. 485a).

Mrs. F. R. Williams, Burley, Idaho (1951) has an account book in which the name of Henry T. Mudd (wherein, she says, it is stated he was born in 1818), appears as a witness to sales e.g. "Received of M. E. Mattan $39.12 1/2 which is payment in full for 7 1/2 a. of corn in the field on the place where I now live, 11-9-1835, signed Jeremiah Freeman (by his mark) witnessed by Henry Thomas Mudd. Jeremiah Freeman was her great-great-grandfather. The old ledger belonged to her grandfather, Joel Thornton who at the time he prepared it, lived in Pike Co., Ill. The dates therein are 1832 to 1840. One of the names entered is Mrs. E. M. Mudd apparently the widow of Stanislaus Mudd (p. 485).

Add under "Personal History": Henry T. Mudd served as County Clerk of Pike Co., Ill., from 1843 to 1847. (Ref. History of Pike County, Ill., 1880, Chas. C. Chapman & Co., Chicago, Chapter 22, p. 1871.)

The Pike Co., Ill., Democrat of May 6, 1903 contains the obituary of Henry Thomas Mudd. It states that he died at "midnight April 30 at the Grand Avenue Hotel, St. Louis, Mo." His father moved to Pike Co., Mo., shortly after he (Henry T.) was born. After his father died, his mother and her six children moved to Pike Co., Ill., settling 6 miles East of Pittsfield. In 1838 he was a clerk in the store of Jacob Hodgen. At the time the State University at Columbia, Mo., was built he conducted and managed a stock of goods there. In 1843 he was elected County Clerk and in 1850 was one of a firm conducting a large business at Florence. He and his brothers, John J., and Alexis organized a company which went West in the California Gold Rush. In 1856 he and his brothers established a large commission house in St. Louis. They went into heavy debt but recovered later. He was elected City Auditor in St. Louis in 1859 and in 1872 was elected to the State Assembly. He was elected to the State Constitutional Convention in 1875 and served with distinction. On 5-13-1865 he was elected President of the State Agricultural Board. (Ref.: History of Mo., David D. March, Lewis Pub. Co. 1963). In later life he organized the Ozark Land Company and was president at his death.

The same paper contains the Will of Henry Thomas Mudd in the May 13, 1903 edition.

His wife, Emily Borie Mudd was (1965) Professor of Family Study in Psychiatry, School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania. She was the only woman who had a full professorship in the Medical Faculty of that school at that time. Among her publications are: "The Practice of Marriage Counseling" and, in association with others, "Marriage Counseling, a Case Book."

The above biographical sketches and those in the first edition are entirely inadequate to characterize Dr. Stuart Mud d and his wife, Dr. Emily Borie (Hartshorne) Mudd. We consider them two of America's most distinguished scientists and citizens.

Harvey Seeley Mudd died suddenly April 12, 1955.

Mrs. Harvey S. Mudd was b. Jersey City, N. J. 2-21-1891 and died August 25, 1958.

The Harvey Mudd College, established in 1955, was named after Harvey Seeley Mudd, an internationally known mining engineer who, as a member of the Board of Fellows of Claremont College for 29 years and Chairman for many of those years, was outstanding among the devoted citizens whose energy and vision made possible the associated colleges at Claremont. An editorial in the Los Angeles Times of April 14, 1955 best describes his service to humanity.

"The career of Harvey Seeley Mudd was based on the cornerstone of service. It was a career to which he devoted himself and his considerable talents throughout the major part of his lifetime and because of his unsparing dedication to worthy causes his passing is deeply mourned, not only by his family and friends but by the community as a whole.

He was one of our most distinguished citizens; the honors that were bestowed on him in the forms of awards, testimonials and appointments all attest to this. As a leader in the business field the demands on his time were numerous and exacting, yet he never failed to find time to work diligently in behalf of cultural, philanthropic and other civic projects, often at the expense of his personal interests.

Eminently successful in his chosen profession as a mining engineer, he was correspondingly successful in the many fields of civic endeavor that attracted his interest. His interests were broad in scope. Where others might have restricted their civic betterment efforts to one or two causes, Harvey S. Mudd gave himself indefatigably to the support and leadership of many.

No worthy project was denied his assistance. His life was lived on the basis of performing good works for the greatest number and the greatest number represented the whole community.

The loss that his family and friends feel is not theirs alone; it is shared by all of us."

Dr. Seeley Greenleaf Mudd, research associate in Medical Chemistry, contributed a Central Library to California Tech., in honor of Robert A. Millikan, famed physicist and Nobel Laureate. He was a member of numerous medical and related associations. The death of Dr. Seeley G. Mudd was a great loss to education and medicine and to his family and friends. An editorial in the Los Angeles Times of 3-14-1968 describes him well. It states:

> "The death of Dr. Seeley G. Mudd ended a distinguished career dedicated to the causes of medical research and education.
> In addition to his outstanding contributions in cardiology and cancer research, Dr. Mudd's philanthropy resulted in construction of numerous laboratories, libraries and other academic buildings throughout the country.

> Caltech, USC, Pomora and the Claremont Graduate School and University Center make up only a partial list of the recipients of Dr. Mudd's generous support of higher education. He also had served as a trustee of Caltech, Stanford, USC and Pomona College as well as the Carnegie Institution.
> After serving as a professor of radiation therapy at Caltech, Dr. Mudd was named as dean of the USC School of Medicine in 1941. He later retired to become professor of experimental medicine at USC. While at Caltech, he pioneered in the study of million-volt treatment of inoperable cancer, among other projects.

Henry Alex Clarke lived on B. St., S.W. between 9th and 10th in D. C., but died at 1117 K Street, N.W. He was in the coal business. He is said to have consulted with President Andrew Johnson in an attempt to free Dr. Samuel A. Mudd from prison. Dr. Mudd gave him a gold headed cane which was in the family in 1947 when I (RDM) visited them.

Alexander Sidney (Alex) Clarke Jr., (1886-1949), son of Alexander Sidney Clarke (1858-1934), m. 10-13-1915 Ruth M. Doyle had 3 children:

Jane E. Clarke, another dau. of Sarah Ann Mudd and J. Alban Clarke, was Jane Elizabeth and she married William Sollers and not Sellers.

Another daughter of Sarah Ann Mudd and J. Alban Clarke was Sarah Ann.

The first wife of a Giles Simms (possibly G. C. Simms) was a Miss Sollers (or Solace) who was reared by Alex Sidney Clarke.

Henry A. Clarke, apparently the son, was paid funds out of the J. Alban Clarke Estate.

518a.

According to the information obtained by Crolian Edelen, the Edelens descended from William Fitz-Adelin, 17th in descent from Charlemagne, Emperor of Holy Roman Empire, a de Burgh (de Bourges) of the House of Boulogne Ponthieu, direct descendants of Saint Angilbert, Count of Ponthieu who married the dau. of Lady Bertha, dau.of Charlemagne, Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire in 800 A. D. He found that the Edelens related to the Mudds descend in the same male line, and same family as Godfrey de Bouillon, King of Jerusalem .

For more complete account of this Edelen Ancestry (See Ref. 232, March 1966), "French Origin of the Edelens by C. W. Edelen.

The file contains a lengthy discussion of the Edelen Coat of Arms prepared by Crolian Edelen.

Crolian Edelen found that when Rev. Samuel Edelen produced a seal ring, handed down to him as proof of his right to bear arms, "The Coat of Arms" was then recorded in 1680. This was the first time the Arms were recorded, though the Edelens had used Coat of Arms for centuries. (See file for details).

Crolian Edelen had research done in the Archives of Portugal. There is a fine report on this research in the file referring to the Evelin (Portugese spelling for Edelin) family of France, the Holy Land, Cyprus, and Portugal including the Coat of Arms of the Portugese Evelin (Edelin) family.

Rev. Philip Edelen (1598-1656), who m. Catherine Offley, was Rector of St. Michael Bassishaw Church, London. He was a Royalist and staunch Anglican who was persecuted and plundered by the Puritans of Oliver Cromwell.

Richard Edelen (c 1635-1694/5), his son, was appointed Deputy Surveyor General of Maryland under Baker Brooke, the Surveyor General by Charles 3d Lord Baltimore. He married in London, Oct. 1663/1664 Elizabeth Banton, a Roman Catholic and left for Maryland in the same year. In 1665 he returned to England with his wife, probably for the birth of their first son. By May 6, 1669 he had returned from England and having been denounced in Council as a known Papist at the time of the Protestant Revolution in 1668, he was reduced to Deputy Surveyor of St. Marys and Charles Counties, a post he held till his death. He used armoreal bearings on his coach which was preserved at the ancestral home of Col. James Noble Edelen (1790-1869) till destroyed by fire in 1923.

Richard Edelen (1671-1760) son of Richard Edelen (1639-1694/5) (above) and Elizabeth Banton is reported to have married 3 times but it is believed that most if not all of his children were by his first wife reported to be Sarah Hagoe, (but also reported to be Sarah Hagan)whom he married prior to 1713. He was an architect and builder. He designed many of the fine homes of the period in Charles County. He possessed many pieces of land but his main plantation was "Askington" of 630 a., in Charles County. One acre containing the family burial ground and chapel was bequeathed to Rev. George Hunter of the Society of Jesus. (Ref. W. Crolian Edelen).

The Clitherows changed their name to Clitheroe in Lancastershire, England, that being the ancient seat of the family. Another branch (that from which the Mudds apparently descended) was in Kent at an early date but may have been resident in Lancashire at the same time. (See Clitherow folder for much more information on that family).

An attempt has been made to entitle the descendants in the United States of Rev. Philip Edelen (1598-1657) and/or his wife, Catherine Offley to membership in First Families of Virginia. (F. F. V)

An uncle of the above Catherine Offley, vis. Robert Offley, son of Hugh Offley, represented the Offley family in the Virginia and other companies. Thomas Offley (also son of Hugh Offley) (1564-1630) an ancestor of Jane Edelen (wife of Alexius Mudd) was the brother of Robert Offley, above, but I could not find that he was associated with the Virginia Colony.

The Offleys from which the Mudds descend through the Edelens (taken from records of County Hertfordshire, England) were descended from a family who were the Lords or Bishops Offley in Hertfordshire during the reign of King John (c 1215) and it was from this estate that they derived the name Offley, meaning "Offa's Lee" i.e. the field or Meadow of King Offa. He, a monarch of the Saxons, endowed a monastery in that section of Hertfordshire.

It is believed (without proof0 that the Offleys were descended before that from one of the leaders of the 12 noble tribes of Saxon, for one of the leaders bore the same arms as the Offleys today. (See Alexius Mudd, ABAAB, folder).

There is a photostat of the Offleys Arms in the file. (See Offley folder).

For further information about the Edelen family and ancestry see (Ref. 232, April 1962 and June 1962).

Where Mr. Craddock is referred to (in 1st edition) as the father of the First Governor of Massachusetts, this Governor's name was Matthew Craddock.

The Sylvester Samuel Mudd home (See p.471) was about .5 mi. North of the Henry Lowe Mudd home and apparently George Ignatius Gardiner (1879-) and family lived in this home though his widow, Mrs. Ridie E. Gardiner stated that he bought the home from a Naylor.

The best information indicates that all of the children of Henry Lowe Mudd Sr. were born at his home which was approximately 1 mile East of where the Dr. Samuel A. Mudd home now is.

Mrs. Mildred Cecelia Blandford Bohar (See p. 876) stated that the parents of Dr. Joseph Henry Blandford were Stanislaus Blandford and Mary Smith Hall.

The following issues of Anne Cecelia Mudd and Dr. Joseph Henry Blandford were living in 1953:

1. Maria Louise (Loulie), d. 11-22-61, m. to Eugene S. Burroughs, Sr. Resd. Charlotte Hall, Md.

3. Joseph Henry Blandford, Resd. Clinton, Md. (d. LaPlata, Md. 4-4-1955).
4. Thomas Henry Blandford, unm. Res. AuGres, Michigan. He later resd. with D. Shaw Blandford, Warren, Michigan, the latter reported decd. in 1967.
5. Alma Cordelia Blandford, Charlette Hall, Md.

Mrs. William A. (Frances) Call, Seattle, Wash., was a descendant of Anne Cecelia Mudd and Dr. Joseph H. Blandford. She was reared by Mrs. Loulie Burroughs (above) as her mother died when Frances was a few weeks old.

According to Sr. M. Rosamunda (See p. 531) (see her letter of 10-16-1951), Dr. Joseph H. Blandford (above) had a brother named Sprigg who married an aunt of a Dr. J. K. Kirby (Resd. 1951, New York, N. Y).

Donald Shaw Blandford, Centerline, Michigan supplied the following information concerning the family of Henry Stanislaus Blandford, who m. Marguerite Vivian Welch and had issue: (as of about 1951)

1. Joseph Harold, of Twin Falls, Idaho who had 2 daughters, Grace and Ida.
2. John (Stanislaus?) of Montana, married and had 2 children.
3. Robert Sprigg, of Pittsburg, Pa., married and had 2 children.
4. Reeves Henry, of Upper Marlboro, Md., married and had 2 children.
5. Donald Shaw, unm. (reported decd. by Dec. 1967).
6. Margaret Cecelia, m. Richard E. Hanna.

(See Blandford folder).

The children of Marie Louise Blandford and Eugene S. Burroughs were:

John A., Washington, D. C.
Joseph B., Washington, D. C.
James Dwight, Tampa, Fla.
Eugene S., Hughesville, Md.

Mrs. Wm. A. Call has a sister, Mrs. Donald C. (Cecelia) Swenson, Arcadia, Calif. They had a son who attended Harvard U.

A grand-daughter of Joseph Henry Blandford (Sr. ?) was Mrs. W. J. Cowherd, Petersburg, W. Va. (see p. 876).

Miss Anna Cecelia (Sally) Dyer stated that her parents died as follows:

Mother: Mary Clare Mudd Dyer, d. 2-16-1882.
Father: Jeremiah Dyer, d. "Palm Sunday" 4-2-1882.

She stated that immediately after her mother's death her uncle, Henry Lowe Mudd enrolled Mary Clare at St. Catherine's Normal School (also known as St. Catherine's Academy), Baltimore, Md.,

Eddie Dyer moved to Houston, Texas during high school days and later entered Rice Institute, winning letters in football, baseball and track. He was an All-Southwestern Half-back. He also set a conference record in the "broad jump." He was a pitcher for the St. Louis (National) baseball team. In his first game against the Chicago "Cubs" in 1923, Eddie shut out the Cubs 3-0. A bad arm injury cut his big league baseball career short and in 1928 he became Manager of the St. Louis Cardinals Topeka, Kansas farm team. He was later Manager of the 1946 World Champion Cardinals. After his retirement he devoted his time to his insurance business and was very active in civic and business affairs in Houston and elsewhere. He was director of several corporations, director of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the first Little Baseball League (in Houston), sponsor of the Babe Ruth League for Teenagers, director of several clubs. He was constantly in demand as a speaker for various luncheons, dinners, father-son groups etc. A more complete list of his activities is in the file. Special honor was given him by the Houston Club at a testimonial dinner on November 7, 1946.

Sarah Frances Mudd (1840-1910) was born on Oak Hill Farm but not at Bryantown. Oak Hill Farm was the home site of her father, Henry Lowe Mudd (see p. 520a). One record on file (without proof) states that Sarah Frances Mudd was born in 1841 and married 1873 rather than 1874. Her husband used the nic-name of "Lou" Gardiner. He was from Missouri. This family attended St. Mary's Church at Bryantown, Md., one Sunday and St. Peter's, near Waldorf, Md., the next Sunday.

Joseph Henry Gardiner d. 2-15-1960.

Thomas Llewellyn "Lou" Gardiner, husband of Sarah Francis Mudd, was the nephew of George Gardiner (known as Squire George Gardiner) who lived 1/4 mile from Dr. Samuel A. Mudd. This George Gardiner died 1868 (see p. 1277).

George Gardiner (apparently Squire Gardiner) made his Will on 5-3-1865 and it was probated 9-30-1873. Therein he bequesthed to his nephew, Thomas L. Gardiner, "now living with me", all of his real estate viz.: The farm on which he resided consisting of several parts of tracts of land together with 100 A. land near Mt. Pleasant, provided that he pay to nephew George Washington Gardiner $1000 in one year; to his nephew John Ignatius Gardiner of Louisiana all the moneys he owed him; to his niece Mary Jane Simms $300; all of the rest of his estate to go to Thomas L. Gardiner provided that he pay his sister Louise Whitmore. He appointed Thomas L. Gardiner his executor. Witnesses: Henry Gardiner, Sylvester Mudd and James F. Wheatley, Charles County, Md., Wills Liber J. S. 17 f. 521 (see p. 1277).

This Will, plus the information on p. 1277 indicates that George Gardiner (who d. 1865) was the brother of Isadore (probably Theodore) Gardiner who married Harriet Mudd (p. 1277).

Thomas L. Gardiner was one of the witnesses in the trial of conspirators in the Lincoln Assassination.

Mary Louise (Mary Lou) Gardiner is reported to have taught school at Bryantown, Md. Emily (Mudd) Rogerson (see p. 553) stated that Mary Louise Gardiner taught school at the St. Peter's Public School, both the old and the new St. Peter's Public Schools (See her letter 2-19-67).

The best information we have is that Thomas Llewellyn (Lou) Gardiner and his wife Sarah Frances Mudd lived at the Henry Lowe Mudd I home after marriage and all their children were born there and not at Bryantown. Note that the last child was born in 1879 and the home burned down about 1881.

521a. (Contd)

The children of George Ignatius Gardiner and Maria Teresa (Ridie) Espey are as follows:

1. Francis and 2. George I., Jr., b. 4-1-1909. Each had 4 children by 1953.
3. Joseph Llewellen, b. 11-22-1913, d. 8-9-1969; m. Helena Seifert; 4 children.
4. (William Louis) Paul, b. 2-28-1918. By 1952 he had been in the Military Service for 12 years. He was seriously injured (a left knee injury) on "Mothers Day" 1952 in Korea.

George Ignatius Gardiner, Jr., (above) (b. 4-1-1909), m. Evangeline Lyon and had 4 children by February 1956.

1. Isabell Marie, b. Jan. 1934, m. in 1954. Issue: One dau. in 195x.
2. George I., III, b. 1943.
3. Webb Lyon, b. 1948.
4. Marianne, b. 1953.

The farm on which George Ignatius Gardiner lived was once owned by Sylvester Mudd (see p. 471) who apparently sold it to..... Naylor from whom George I. Gardiner bought it and he in turn sold it to ..... Moreland, the 1967 owner.

Elizabeth R. L. Mudd d. Charles Co., Md., 4-1-1853. (Record, St. Mary's Church, Bryantown, Md.

After the Henry Lowe Mudd home was burned down in 1881, a new home, the one where Mary Lou Mudd and Joe Gardiner (See Abaab bi 1 & 3) lived was built. The home of Henry Lowe Mudd was only about .8 miles South of the home of his son, Samuel A. Mudd, instead of 5 miles as shown in the 1st edition. The valley between the homes of Henry Lowe Mudd Sr., and that of his son's, Dr. Samuel A. Mudd, was a dividing line. All those residing South thereof were considered parishoners of St. Mary's Church at Bryantown. This dividing line was probably the so called "Devils Nest" referred to in the early Mudd Wills.

There is an excellent account of the life of John Gately Downey in the file of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd (Downey, John G.) (author's file). No proof could be found that Dr. Mudd adopted him. He was born in Roscommon County, Ireland 6-24-1827 (1826 also given) and died in Los Angeles, Calif., 3-1-1894. He was son of Bridget Gately and Dennis Downey, son of John Downey. One reference states he was son of John Downey and grandson of Sampson Downey. (Ref. "Lamb Biographical Dictionary of U.S.", p. 508). He had 2 sisters viz: Eleanor, who m. 1st Walter H. Harvey, 2nd Edward Johnston Martin; and Annie who m. Peter Donahue.

Governor Downey is also reported to have had a brother Francis G. Downey, co-founder of Downey, California.

John G. Downey, m. 1st Mary Quirado (He had no issue by either wife) who died in a train disaster, 1-20-1883. He m. 2d Rosa V. Kelly. He is reported to have come to U.S. in 1842.

Sr. M. Rosamunda (p. 531) stated that "St. Vincent Hospital (location not stated but probably in California) was built by John Downey.

Benjamin A. Lancaster, who sold land to Henry Lowe Mudd, was known as Jr., and his wife was Clara and not Sarah.

523a.

See p. 79 for reference to a Henry L. Mudd being paid by William A. Robey for building a house on 9-15-1849. It is unprobable this was Henry Lowe Mudd (ABAAB B) (See Henry E. Mudd p. 71).

Thomas Courtney Reeves, father of Dr. James Reeves was b. 1764, d. 11-28-1865.

In a letter from Dr. Samuel A. Mudd to his wife from Ft. Jefferson prison, Fla., dated 1-24-1869 he mentioned the death of his mother. His wife had written him on Jan. 1st concerning her death.

Thomas Courtney Reeves, of Charles Co., Md., d. 11-28-1825 (age 69), (National Genealogical Quarterly, Sept. 1952, p. 104).

Dr. James C. Reeves d. in Charles County, Md., 8-28-1828. (Ref. 6 Sept. 1828 Edition National Intelligencer).

Following is more complete information regarding the Will of Elizabeth Reeves dated 3-14-1837 (Charles County, Md., L. 18, p. 197). (Note: There is some doubt that she was the wife of Thomas Courtney Reeves as she mentions no son or grandchildren).

To Nieces: Mary Boarman, dau. of Dr. George Boarman, Susanna Boarman, dau. of Dr. George Boarman and Dorothy Gardiner (apparently wife of Joseph) whose children were: Francis D, Thomas S and Rose Ann Gardiner. (Note Is this the Thomas Sylvester Gardiner, p. 1282).

Nephews: Thomas C. Boarman, whose dau. is Sophia Paign (sic) Charles Boarman, father of Elizabeth. A.I.P. Boarman, father of Elizabeth (see p. 1285), Dr. Richard Edelen, father of James.

Following mentioned but no relationship: Elizabeth Gardiner, widow of Aloysius (see p. 1288a), "Friend", Sarah Jenkins, Maria D. Hughes, dau. of Major John Hughes, Sophia Gardiner, wife of George H. (see p. 1297), Elizabeth Ann Hughes, dau. of Major John.

The 1850 census of Charles County, Md., Bryantown District has the family of Dorothy Gardiner, 65, Francis D. 39, William A. 27.

Listed next to Aloysius Gardiner, age 40. Wm. A., above, appears to be Wm. Alex Gardiner, son of Joseph and Dorothy Gardiner, b. 1-1-1823, baptized 3-24-1823, sponsors Thomas and Elizabeth Reeves.

On 10-17-1842 James Miles Murray purchased land from George W. Gardiner and Ann Amanda his wife, (see ps. 425, 1288) and Joseph E. Simms (or Semmes) and Mary Jane his wife. for $300, 45 a. of the Jordan Tract which was conveyed to Ann Amanda and Mary Jane by deed of gift dated 8-23-1828, by Lucy A. Dyer (see p. 425), Charles Co., Md., Land Records 1842, p. 115 .

The above Mary Jane Simms was in the home of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd in the 1860 census. She was age 39.

Henry Thompson Mudd and wife lived at Mechanicsville, Md. It is reported that he was killed in an auto accident.

In 1862, a George W. Smith, of Bryantown, Charles Co., Md., stated that James A. Mudd, who lived one mile from Bryantown was one of the principal leaders in the Secession Party; that he had been conveying men and boxes, supposed to contain ammunitions of war, from Baltimore and several counties in the State to Popes Creek - further, that Mudd paid the expenses. (Author's note: This latter statement seems unlikely as James A. Mudd had very meager funds). "The wagon that carried passengers, arms and ammunition from Bryantown to Popes Creek belonged to the Cavalry Co. at Bryantown and was in possession of James A. Mudd." (Official records of the War of Rebellion, p. 868, Vol. # ?).

James Clarence Jameson, resd. 1954 in Baltimore, Md. He refers to Mrs. Ernest Marcellus Jameson (p. 874) as his aunt. His father, Joseph Clarence Jameson and Ernest M. Jameson were brothers. He originally came from Bryantown and still had the old home adjacent to the Ernest M. Jameson place. The parents of Joseph Clarence Jameson were William M. (Marcellus?) Jameson and Margaret Queen (see p. 874). Margaret Queen was dau. of Dr. William Queen and Henrietta Boarman.

Dr. William Queen, who married Henrietta Boarman had a son Dr. William Queen, baptized 4-2-1838, who married Mary Gwynn. (It is not clear which Dr. William Queen was father of Margaret).

Other issues of William M. Jameson and Margaret Queen were: Annie J. (m. Carrico), Mary J. (m. .....de Roode), Joseph Queen, and William V.

Mary Agnes Jameson who married Harry Carpenter, had one daughter Margaret who m. ..... Ridgeway and resd. Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Charles Isbell, McLean, Va., sent the following information:

"I have tentatively identified James Anthony Mudd as the one whose property is described as adjacent to Oswell Gibbon's Mill Farm, which was also adjacent to that of Louisa Edelen. This farm was sold to Alfred W. Gardiner by Oswell Gibbon's son John on 9-28-1858, and by Alfred W. Gardiner on 12-1-1858 to Elizabeth L. Downing. Elizabeth L. Downing was Elizabeth Louise Canter my grandfather's sister who m. 1st James Edward Beavin and 2d George W. Downing. In the 1870 census my great-grandmother was listed next door to George Downing so this probably explains the family rumor that they lived next to the Mudds '.... The Gibbon's Mill Farm was across the road from Hickory Thickett."

The parents of Sophia Gardiner (mother of Francis Xavier Gardiner) were Richard Benedict Gardiner and Clarisse Jameson, dau. of Dr. Jesse Jameson and Sarah Dyer (see p. 425).

The father of George Henry Gardiner was reported to be Ignatius W. Gardiner. George Henry Gardiner d. 2-6-1892, age 77, is buried in the Old St. Peter's Cemetery on Beantown Road, Charles Co., Md. His wife, Sophia is also buried there, her date of death being recorded as 2-19-1901.

Some informants reported 7-4-1870 as date of birth of Stella Marie Mudd but 7-4-1871 is correct.

Stella Marie Mudd, Sr. M. Rosamunda, d. Ogden, Utah 12-13-1952. Notice of her death was carried in many papers and publications throughout the United States.

Some informants gave 10-5-1875 as date of birth of Rose de Lima Mudd but 10-8 is believed to be correct.

The farm on which Albert G. Gardiner and wife, Rose de Lima Mudd lived was purchased on 1-3-1898 by Albert G. Gardiner from Thomas L. (Llewelyn) Gardiner and wife Sarah Frances Mudd (see p. 521).

The names of the properties were "Cunnanines Addition to Jenkins Poor Chance" and "Mudds Double Trouble," consisting of 336 a. and a piece of land in Mt. Pleasant Woods, detached from the above and known as Bridge Water and consisting of 61 acres. Albert G. Mudd at the time of purchase was a tenant on this farm. This is probably the same property willed to Thomas Llewelyn Gardiner by his uncle Squire George Gardiner in 1868. It was on this farm of Squire George Gardiner where John Wilkes Booth bought the one-eyed horse used by Lewis Powell (alias Lewis Payne) on the night of April 14, 1865 in the attempt to assassinate Secretary of the Interior Seward.

Some informants gave 1-27-1878 as d. of birth of (Mary) Eleanor Mudd, also referred to as Mary (Elinor) Mudd but 1-10-1878 is believed to be correct.

(Mary) Eleanor (Nettie) Mudd was the author of a piece of music, "Hope" copyrighted 1919. (Copy in file).

Edna Boone Mahoney stated that (Mary) Eleanor ("Nettie") taught her when she attended Gallant Green School, commonly referred to as St. Peters Public School.

Sr. Rosamunda stated that the twins of Nettie Mudd Monroe died of Pneumonia.

Daniel Eldridge Monroe was married first to Louise Church and had several children according to Sophia Althea (Patsy) Gardiner (p. 530) as follows:

1. Carolyn, who is believed to have married Benjamin Tongue of the firm of Tongue, Brooks & Co. Baltimore, Md.

2. Mary.
3. John, who lived for some time in D. C. and d. Baltimore, Md., 10-22-1954.

Frances Dyer, future wife of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd was a student at Visitation Convent in Frederick about 1850 to 1854. A Mr. J. Dyer (Jeremiah Dyer?) is referred to as having paid her tuition. One of the bills for her schooling, between 1850 and 1851, is still on file. A painting by her, while at the Academy, is in the author's home.

The late Albert H. Mudd, Danville, Mo., stated in a letter to the author that Dr. Samuel A. Mudd chewed tobacco and medically treated every one whether he had money or not.

The home of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd is located on Gallant Green Road which runs East and West between Beantown and Malcolm, Maryland. It lies approximately 3/4 mile Northwest of that portion of the Zekiah Swamp referred to in old Charles County records as the "Devils Nest" through which runs the Old Mill Stream and is 2 1/2 miles West of Malcolm. St. Peters Church is also on Gallant Green Road, about 1 1/2 miles East of Beantown. Since Waldorf is the Post Office for both of these, they are referred to as being "Nr. Waldorf" (near Waldorf), in recording the vital records of the descendants of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd (ps. 529-553).

Mary Simms, age 39, in the home of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd, in the 1860 Census, was Mary Jane Dyer (see ps. 425 and 1277), dau. of Theodore Dyer and Esther Gardiner. She is reported to have had a brother George Ignatius and sisters, Elizabeth Ellen (see p. 428) and Amanda Dyer who m. George Washington Gardiner, nephew of Squire Gardiner.

Mary Jane Dyer, above, m. Joseph E. Simms (b. 1808, d. 7-19-1855), buried in St. Mary's Church Cemetery, Bryantown, Md.), son of Thomas Simms (d. 9-29-1829) and Elizabeth Edelen.

The relationships here are remarkable. Her aunt (her father's sister) was Anna Cecelia Dyer, wife of Dr. James Reeves, whose dau. Sarah Ann m. Henry Lowe Mudd (p. 420) and her uncle was Thomas Benjamin Dyer (who m. Elizabeth Reeder) whose dau. Sarah Frances married Dr. Samuel A. Mudd and whose son, Jeremiah, m. Dr. Samuel A. Mudd's sister, Mary Clare Mudd. Thus the wife of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd was Mary Jane Dyer's 1st cousin, once removed, as was Jeremiah Dyer, the husband of Mary Clare Mudd, Dr. Samuel A. Mudd's sister. Sarah Ann Reeves, Dr. Samuel A. Mudd's mother was Mary Jane Dyer's 1st cousin and Dr. Samuel A. Mudd's grandmother,

533a. (Contd)

Anna Cecelia Dyer, was Mary Jane Dyer Simms' aunt. Thus one can explain the reason for her living in the home of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd.

The Mudd-Plummer marriage of 1863 in D.C. proved to be that of Negroes. (Benjamin Mudd to Amelia Plummer 12-16-1863).

Further information on Dyer and Middleton families:

William Jordan Middleton was the son of Attawa Jameson (2nd wife) and Alexander Middleton, son of Smith Middleton and a Miss Corry (Cory?), dau. of Dr. Corry of Ireland (see Ref. 232, June 1962).

A sister of William Jordan Middleton, vis. Johanna (b. 2-14-1830) m. 1st 1847 Francis Posey, 2dly 1854 Benedict (or Benjamin) Edelen (son of Robert P. Edelen and cousin of Charity Edelen, dau. of Philip Edelen and Mary Howard). One of their children was Mary Naomi Edelen whose dau. is Mrs. Emory (Theodore F.) Valentine of Washington, D.C. Charity Edelen, b. 2-26-1783, m. 12-x-1805 Robert Pannewell Edelen.

Philip Edelen m. Mary Howard 10-23-1762.

Alexander Middleton, and his first wife, are reported to have a dau. Ellen who m. but husband unknown (See letter of Mary Edith Mudd, p. 879).

The children (and their marriage etc.) of Mary Ellen Dyer, who m. William Jordan Middleton on 11-18-1848, are contained in the Dyer file (of the author) as reported by Mrs. Valentine. (also copy in Middleton file).

Tommy Middleton, one of the sons of Leck Middleton and Tommy's grand-daughter, Barbara Kay, were drowned July 4, 1963.

Ernest Middleton resdg. 1967 on the Beantown-Bryantown Road stated that William Jordan Middleton and Mary Ellen Dyer went to the E. St. Louis, Ill., area in 2 covered wagons and William Algernon, their oldest child, was born there. John Wilkes Booth passed the William Jordan Middleton home at his exit from the Zekiah Swamp on April 15, 1865. Some of the brick work of this home still remains. (Ref. Ernest Middleton).

Following is a summary of an article in the Daily Picayune, New Orleans, La., Nov. 11, 1891 (p. 3, Col. 2) concerning Thomas O. Dyer, who was a brother of Sarah Frances Dyer, wife of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd.

"Mr. Thomas O. (Oswald) Dyer, a prominent merchant of this city, died at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning at the residence of Mr. Winchester Bowling on the corner of Constance and Philip Street. A native of Maryland, he was born of a distinguished family in 1835. His education was derived from the institutions in his native state and was completed before the student completed his 18th year. He came to New Orleans in 1852, finding employment with the firm of Peet, Simms & Company, wholesale dealers in dry goods. His promotion was rapid. The beginning of the Civil War found Mr. Dyer still connected with this firm. He enlisted in the Confederate Army in the Washington Artillery, joining the battalion in Virginia in September 1863, at Orange Courthouse.

Mr. Dyer was a member of Captain Richardson's battery, the Second Company. Among his comrades were noted ex-Congressman H. Dudley Coleman, Joseph H. DeGrange, etc. He was present at every battle in which his battery participated and surrendered with it at Appomattox Courthouse in April 1865.

Returning to the city he connected himself once more with the Peet, Simms and Company. During the past 25 years he has, with one exception, followed the fortunes of this house. The single exception was when he established the firm of Gwyn and Dyer, Cotton Dealers. He maintained this connection for only a brief period. Up to a few days of his death, he was employed by Joseph Bowling and Company, who purchased the business of Peet, Simms and Company. He was married and had one child.

The funeral will take place from No. 116 Philip Street at 10 o'clock this morning. Reverend Father Hill, of St. Alphonsus, officiating. The body will be laid to rest in the family tomb in Washington Cemetery."

Sr. Rosamunda in a June 26, 1952 letter stated; referring to the biography of Tom Dyer.

"This is a true biography of Uncle Tom Dyer. I met Uncle Tom once and this was when he visited the haunts of his childhood. It was the Spring before I left for the Convent and I liked him very much."

535a.

Mrs. (LaMoyne) Margaret Bearden, Rochester, N.Y., who has made a thorough and exhausting study of the Lincoln Assassination contends that John F. Parker was not guarding the President on the night of the assassination but the guard was Charles Forbes. She also brings out that John Matthews memorized the letter John Wilkes Booth gave him before destroying it. This she states can be proved by later events of the life of John Matthews. Also she contends that the cutting of the telegraph wires out of Washington on the night of the assassination was a mere accident and not premeditated by Secretary Stanton.

With regards to the trials of John Surratt, she brings out that his first trial ended in a hung jury and that he was arraigned twice later for the same charge and in addition was arrested for selling tobacco without a license. "The $18,000 bail put up for him, she stated, "still stood in 1916 when John Surratt died of pleural pneumonia."

Dr. Samuel A. Mudd was honored by the U. S. Congress and President Dwight Eisenhower by the authorization of a plaque in his honor.

This plaque is now at Fort Jefferson, Florida on Garden Key of the Dry Tortugas Islands. The wording of the plaque is as follows:

"In Memory of
Dr. SAMUEL A. MUDD
Imprisoned Fort Jefferson, Florida
July 24, 1865

. . . upon occasion of the prevalence of the yellow fever . . . Samuel A. Mudd devoted himself to the care and cure of the sick, and interposed his courage and skill to protect the garrison . . . from peril and alarm, and thus . . . saved many valuable lives and earned the admiration and gratitude of all who observed or experienced his generous and faithful service to humanity.

PRESIDENT ANDREW JOHNSON"

Pardon dated February 8, 1869

DR. MUDD WAS RELEASED, AND LEFT FORT JEFFERSON, March 11, 1869

The plaque was authorized by an act of Congress which was introduced in the House of Representatives by the Honorable Alvin Bentley, of Owosso, Michigan and the Honorable Dante Fascel, of Miami, Florida, and was sponsored in the Senate by the Honorable Philip Hart, of Michigan. It was signed by President Dwight Eisenhower on September 12, 1959. It was dedicated at Key West, Florida 2-11-1961.

535a. (Contd)

The home of Henry Mudd Sr., is that of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd's father which David Herold visited to try to rent a carriage for John Wilkes Booth on April 15, 1865.

The "old St. Peters School" and the "new St. Peters School" were not parochial schools but were public schools. They no longer exist.

Dr. Samuel A. Mudd attended St. Peter's Church on Easter Sunday, April 16th, and asked Dr. George Mudd (see Bryantown) to tell the soldiers that two strangers had come to his home in the early morning of April 15.

Henry L. Mudd II, whose residence is shown SW of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd, was Dr. Mudd's brother.

It is far from certain that Booth took the exact route shown. It is very possible that when he entered Beantown-Mattawoman Road he turned East and went through the farm now owned by Isaac Don Levine and then South to the home of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd.

The "Old Cemetery" shown is the probable location of burial of Edmund Spangler, one of the eight tried as Lincoln Conspirators, who came to Dr. Mudd's home upon his release from prison and died February 7, 1875. His grave is not marked.

Patrick Joseph Hartigan is said to have come to the United States with (Henry?) Cranford Sr., who founded the Cranford Paving Co., (D.C.) with Patrick Hartigan's financial assistance.

The family of Patrick Joseph Hartigan was found in the 1880 Census of Washington, D.C. residing at 503 M Street, N.E. as follows:

Hartigan, Patrick 38, b. Ireland; Mary 35, and following children b. N.Y.: John 15; Mary 13, Richard 11; Margaret 9, and children b. D.C.: Dennis 7; Francis 5, and William 1. This census suggests that Patrick Joseph Hartigan came to D.C. about 1870.

The records of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Washington, D.C., shows that Mary Elizabeth Hartigan was employed there, July 25, 1891 to August 5, 1891 only.

Hartigan data copied from tombstones in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Washington, D.C.:

William V. 1886-1935; Mary E. Mudd (wife of Thomas D. Mudd) 1870-1916 (note 1916 is incorrect; should be 1917).

The above were children of Patrick J. Hartigan (1837-1920) and wife Mary A. Hartigan (nee Cavanaugh) (1842-1918).

Emily Teresa (Mudd) Rogerson stated that the following persons taught at St. Peter's Public School: Mary Louise Gardiner (see p. 521); Carrie Ryan; Lucille Augusta Mudd (Emily's sister); Joe Chapman and finally herself. Emily Teresa Mudd the last teacher.

George Dominic Mudd (p. 461) and Mrs. Samuel A. Mudd II (p. 551) stated that Thomas Dyer Mudd taught school at Accokeek. This is contrary to the statement (in 1st edition) that Dr. Thomas D. Mudd taught at the school near Malcolm. It is the author's belief that the latter is correct.

The Christie home in Anacostia, D.C., was built by Dr. Arthur Christie, an Englishman who inherited a large sum of money from relatives in England. He purchased the 50 acres on which he built the rambling home between what was then Harrison Street and the Eastern Branch of the Potomac River. He called it "Fairlawn." It was patterned after an English estate with the pretentious residence (which Dr. Thomas D. Mudd later owned), a lodge and superbly landscaped grounds. (Records of Columbia Historical Society, Vol. 23 (1919) p. 175).

The tree labyrinth and the animal pits on the Christie grounds were built by James Goddard who came from England to take care of the Estate. He lived in a "Gate House" at the N.W. Corner of the Estate. He had a son, James H. Goddard, b. 1872 to 1874 in the "Gate House" and subsequently rented a small "farm" on the grounds at the S.W. Corner at Minn Avenue and Good Hope Road.

The above was related to Dr. R. D. Mudd by Miss Goddard, dau. of James H. Goodard in June 1963.

Joseph Milburn (or Milbourn) Simms who m. Elizabeth Mudd (was son of Catherine Culver and Joseph Simms[4], of Mrs. Verlinda Sanders and Electius Simms[3], of Anthony Simms[2], of Marmaduke Simms[1]. He was a brother of the Alexius Simms who m. Mary Mudd, p. 409, and it would seem probable that Elizabeth Mudd and Mary Mudd would be closely related but all efforts to identify Elizabeth Mudd, above, have been fruitless (See the Maryland Simms and Kindred Families, Harry Wright Newman, p. 13).

Miss Olive Lewis (later Mrs. Kolb) copied the following from a Bible:

"Joseph Milburn Simms (b. Montgomery Co., Md., 12-17-1782)." (Harry W. Newman reported 12-17-1792), m. at Georgetown, D.C., 2-22- or 12-1812. The Simms Bible shows 2-22-1812. Tabitha Littens (or Litters) Richards. He was a son of Joseph Milburn Simms who m. Elizabeth Mudd. This couple were living in Decatur, Ind., in 1834 and had 15 children, 5 of whom married Worlands and another a Laws, related to the Worlands (See Simms folder for record of this large family).

Harry W. Newman, in his book "The Maryland Simms and Kindred Families" states that Joseph Milburn Simms and Elizabeth Mudd had 3 children: Francis X., who m. 7-11-1814 Verlinda Hagan; Joseph m. Tabitha and removed to Scott Co., Ky., and Ann who m. in 1818 a Joseph Simms. (See also "One Man's Family" by Olive Lewis Kolb, Wilfred Worland and Rev. T. V. Worland).

Maria A. Simms (dau. of Joseph Milbourn Simms and Tabitha Litton Richards) was b. in Ky., 9-5-1816 and d. Shelby Co., Ind., 2-1-1872. She m. Robert A. Worland at Shelby Co., Ind., 10-9-1837 and had 12 children. (Kolb mms.)

Harry W. Newman gives the ancestry of a Peter Green who may have been the one who m. Allalu Mudd. This Peter Green who possibly was the one who m. Allalu Mudd was the son of Thomas Green and Telca Shirtcliff.

The reference for the 1775-8 Census of Richard Mudd is Ref. 51, Vol. I, p. 311.

There is no mention of Thomas Smith, who was possibly (or probably) William Thomas Smith having married a Mary Mudd in addition to Julia Ann Jarboe, though it is possible.

609a.
The "return" of marriages made by Rev. M. Fournier was obtained and he indicates that he married Nicholas Mudd and "Ellender Birch" on September 8, 1800.

Mrs. Ruth Burdette reported the marriage of Nicholas Mudd and Mrs. Ann Sims to be 8-18-1819. She obtained this from the Nelson County marriages on file in Louisville.

Mrs. Mary Stancliff, of Houston, Texas, who made a fine study of Nelson County marriages also found that Nicholas Mudd and Ann Spaulding Simms were married 8-18-1819. The only evidence we had as to the date 5/22/1811, date was reported by Mrs. W. E. Bach who stated she copied it from the index of Nelson County, Ky., Wills.

Mrs. Alice L. (McNeil) Mudd (see p. 692) in a fine report on the Nicholas Mudd family stated that there were only 2 children of the 3rd m. of Nicholas Mudd vis: Elizabeth Ann and Stephen Theodore.

609a. (Contd)

It seems safe to conclude that she was correct. This would mean that Eleanor Ferguson was the mother of Joseph David Mudd instead of Ann S. Simms.

Mrs. Charles Isbell, McLean, Va., feels that the Teresa Bevin (Beavin) mentioned in land sales to Austin Mudd was probably the dau. of Clement Beavin, son of Basil W. Beavin who made his Will in Charles County, Md., 6-2-1839. (See Beavin file for additional information on this family).

610a.

The witnesses to marriage bond of Nicholas Mudd and Eleanor Burch were Ignatius Spink and Samuel Burch. Ignatius Spink m. Elizabeth Clarkson, Prince Georges Co., Md., 12-17-1794.

The following deed indicates that Ann Burch, mother of Eleanor Burch (1st wife of Nicholas Mudd (ABABC) was Ann Spink (or Spinks), dau. of Francis Spinks: Deed Book C, p. 234, 8-19-1806, Power of Attorney from Sarah Spinks of Bullitt Co., Ky. , Francis Spinks, Raphael Spinks, Elizabeth Spinks, Margaret Spinks, and Sarah Spinks of Washington Co., Ky., and Ann Burch of Bullitt Co., heirs of Francis Spinks, decd., to Wm. Spinks to sell land in Prince Georges Co., Md., near City of Washington, 104 a. called "Hurleys Fancy White Marshes" property of Francis Spinks, decd, we being his heirs - dated 8-19-1806 (see p. 1137).

The census of 1775-78 for St. Johns and Prince Georges Parishes, Prince Georges Co., Md., lists Francis Spinks 39, Sarah Spinks 34, white males between 16 and 50, 1 white male under 16, 3, white females under 16, 2.

Edward Burch, m. Prince Georges Co., Md., 10-15-1779, Ann Spink so Edward Burch was probably the father of Nicholas Mudd's first wife.

Jay Leroy Mudd stated that Ann (Spaulding) Simms had two children by her previous marriage vis: James A. and Mary Simms. Mary Simms probably m. a Brown. (see p. 682a).

Jay Leroy Mudd's notes indicate that Ann Spalding Simms Mudd d. the day Stephen Theodore Mudd was born vis. 2-14-1823 and Nicholas Mudd d. 3 weeks later. He also stated that Eleanor Burch Mudd d. in 1803. This seems more probable than 1805 as stated in the 1st edition since Nicholas Mudd m. secondly in October 1803.

Mary H. Stancliff in her fine book "Marriage Bonds of Nelson County, Ky., 1785-1832, Houston, Texas c 1962" gives the name of Orin Albert instead of Owen Albert as the husband of "Julia" Mudd. The mother of Orin Albert is listed as Asenith Flanders in the marriage bond.

The following interesting document (photocopy) was sent to Mrs. Billie Marie laske (see p. 680a). ..... I, James L. Chesher, son of Susan A. Chesher, formerly Mudd, who was the sister of Austin Mudd do sell ..... to Joseph Mudd of Nelson Co., Ky., my undivided one half of one seventh of the slaves Margaret and her two children Mary and John of which slaves Austin Mudd died the owner... given under my hand this 23 Sept. 1861. Signed James Chesher (middle initial could be L or J but more prob. L.)

Jay Leroy Mudd's notes indicate that Joseph David Mudd was a son of Nicholas Mudd and his second wife Eleanor Ferguson.

In listing the children of Nicholas Mudd, Jay Leroy Mudd referred to a Susanna but does not refer to Mary so possibly Susanna was Mary Susanna. However, she is referred to as Susan A in the interesting document above. His notes also referred to Elizabeth Mudd who m. Thomas Clark as Elizabeth Ann Mudd.

In the 1st edition it was stated that Raphael Spink (s) m. 2dly Sarah Burch, sister of Eleanor Burch, 1st wife of Nicholas Mudd. However, see p. 1137a wherein it is stated that Raphael Spink (s) married 2dly Sarah Tennelly. Raphael Spink (s)'s 2d wife died about 1849 and he died 1-23-1860 of erysipelas. He provided in his 1837 Will that if he died before his wife all his property would go to her but if he survived her then 1/3d would go to the "church" (accepted by the Court as St. Rose's Church) and the balance to his (not hers as was stated in 1st edition) brothers and sisters children. It appears that Ann Spink, mother of Eleanor Burch who married Nicholas Mudd was a sister of Raphael Spink (above) because James Thomas Mudd and Matilda Mudd received a portion of the estate of Raphael Spink.

In the letters of James Thomas Mudd (ABABC A) he refers to Raphael Spink as his uncle. It appears that he should have referred to him as great uncle.

According to John P. Landers, Ann Spink mother of Eleanor Burch (1st wife of Nicholas Mudd) had the following brothers and sisters: William (not certain), Raphael, Sarah, Francis X., m. Susannah Cooper; Margaret, Elizabeth.

The well known and loved Sr. M. Victory (Stella Lewis) of San Antonio, Texas was the dau. of Lafayette Lewis and Mary Ann Burch.

The ancestry of Oliver Burch (1646-1729) is not proved. Several researchers have concluded that his father was Thomas (b. in 1620) as above.

See Burch folder, especially letters of Alexander M. Walker and John P. Landers. J. Ninian Beall, of Washington, D. C., collected data on the Burch family. See also "Kith & Kin of Sarah Ann Raymond" by Alexander M. Walker, National Genealogical Quarterly, December 1964. The Spink ancestry is in the author's Spink file.

Mrs. Oscar W. Wagner, Fern Creek, Ky., sent the following information on the issues of Francis Spink (1737-1793) and Sarah Howard (b. 1742):

9. Sarah (1785-1850) became Sr. Angela Spink.

Much of the above was taken from Birch, Burch Family in Great Britain and America by Mariln Burch Smallwood, Vol. II, 1959).

617a.

Francis Xavier Spink (father of Sarah Angela Spink) was a brother of Ann (Spink) Burch. (See p. 615).

The Samuels Station referred to at top of page is today (1955) known as Samuels and is in Nelson Co., 10 miles from Bardstown.

Dr. Joseph Aloysius Mudd (see p. 890) in writing to Joseph Augustine Mudd (p. 617) referred to an Elizabeth A. Mudd, b. 11-26-1812. This might be Elizabeth A. (Green) Mudd, 1st wife of James Thomas Mudd. However, there is no proof of this. She may be Elizabeth Mudd (dau. of Nicholas Mudd (p. 910) or some other Elizabeth Mudd.

619a.

Pamelia Anna Brown had a brother, Father Ray Brown, a Jesuit priest, and a sister Rose (Mrs. Ben H. Lancaster, of Chicago, Ill.).

Elizabeth R. Sanders, b. 8-12-1839, was the dau. of John Chandler Sanders Sr., and Elizabeth Shipp (not Sanders as recorded in 1st edition).

In the 1860 census of Taylor County, Ky., town of Campbellsville (July 7) there was the following family: J. D. Sanders 24; Elizabeth 21; Ann B. 2; George W. 9/12; all b. Ky. (This George W. d. 8-10-1860. He was b. 10-8-59). Ref: Bible of John Chandler Sanders Sr., and County Records of Taylor County, Ky., report of Walter R. Sanders, of Litchfield, Ill). The relation (if any) of the above John D. Sanders to Elizabeth R. Sanders is not known.

Willie Erastus Sanders (p. 630) stated that Elizabeth R. Sanders, the wife of William Harrison Mudd, was his grandmother, therefore the mother of Alexander Sanders, his father. He stated that William Harrison Mudd was her 2d husband. Since her father was a Sanders (see above) she must have first married a Sanders and J. D. Sanders (above) in 1860 census could have been her husband.

On October 30, 1955 Mrs. (Julia) Alma Dawson Mudd was awarded the Coveted Papal Medal - - "Pro Ecclesea et Pontifici"-- (For Church and Pontiff) at St. Aloysius Church in Shepherdsville, Ky., because of her generosity to the St. Aloysius Church. The Most Reverend Charles G. Maloney, Auxillary Bishop of Louisville conferred the honor on her. (See Nov. 6, 1955 local paper - clipping in file). She was 94 years of age in 1966. In a 6 page hand written letter of July 5, 1966 she stated that she does her "own washing and ironing and reads and keeps up with all the Political and Army News - that she is a Democrat from the hair of my head to the soles of my feet." Mrs. Kate C. Mudd (widow of Thomas Livell Mudd p. 66a) stated that Tiny Mudd (obviously Valentine Mudd) was reared in an orphanage ("St. Thomas") in Maryland, came to Kentucky many years ago and he knew little about his family.

The child of Valentine Mudd born at Hardin Creek 1-27-1860 was found to be F. M. Mudd. Possibly this was Felix Francis and 1-27-60 might have been the baptizmal date.

The July 7, 1967 edition of Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky., had a story on Mrs. Lucy Mudd (Lucinda Alice Hinton) who d. on 11-9-1901 and "left 200 children and grandchildren." After the death of her husband, Valentine Mudd, she conducted her own farm, even to feeding the stock and other outside work. Within 2 weeks of her death she walked to Fredericktown 3 miles away carrying butter and eggs to the market.

One of the Newton Catholic Nuns, who was grandchild of Matilda Parilee Mudd, is named Sr. Josepha.

With reference to foot-note 4, the date of death of Lucinda (copied Luconda) Mudd was copied 9-9-1901 instead of 11-9-1901. The latter is probably correct. She was the wife of Valentine Mudd (ABABC D).

644a.
The following individual may have been the widow of Charles Valentine Mudd: Lydia Mudd (white) m. ?......unknown, b. Indiana in 1868, d. St. Louis, Mo., 8-6-1896, Res: 2320 Walnut Street. She was interred in St. Peter's Cemetery, however, it appears that she was finally interred in Bellfountaine Cemetery.

Joe Wilcoxon d. May 1966.

James Martin Shepard was b. 1838, d. 1-13-1905. He had 2 brothers, Henry and Richard, (probably Richard Pius). Their father died young and the mother kept Richard, the youngest, but let the other two out to strangers to be reared. When grown, the latter two came to Indiana from Kentucky, then went to Missouri and later back to Kentucky and with Richard came back to Indiana; their mother with them. Henry went to Iowa and never returned (see below). He had some children. Richard (above) stayed in Indiana until about 1871 (1883 also stated) and sold out and went to Iowa and later to Portland, Oregon dying there.

Richard's son, Thomas Shepard came back to Indiana, m. Miss .....Runkle.

Thomas was killed in a "hold-up" 1-20-1935. He had one dau. Mrs. John C. Gibson, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

In a letter in the file from Mrs. Rae M. Shepard, wife of Richard Shepard, she refers to Richard Pius Shepard (b. 2-13-1842, d. Portland, Oregon 1926) as her father-in-law and states that his mother was Mary Bevens (b. nr. Mt. Washington, Nelson County, Ky., 1817) so I conclude that Mary Bevens was the mother of James Martin, Richard and Henry Shepard. This Mary Bevens had 2 sisters, Theresa and Julia (see p. 647).

A Henry Shepard, m. Macey..... ? and had 4 children:

1. William (He may be William Maxwell Clement (p. 627).
2. Dillon (his son, Richard?, m. Rae..... see above) (Her Res. 1967 Malvern, Iowa.
3. Mary.
4. Lang (or Lany?).

The file contains the records of the Richard Pius Shepard family. He was the brother of John Martin Shepard. Mrs. Rae Shepard gives James Shepard, b. Nelson Co., Ky., d. Johnson Co., Ind., as the father of Richard Pius Shepard, b. 2-13-1842, who d. in Portland, Oregon 1926. Richard Pius Shepard was born on the same farm on which his mother, Mary Bevins (or Bivens was born).

It was said that the Shepard and Bivens (Beavans) families went from Maryland to Kentucky together. They floated down the Ohio River in flat boats to Louisville in the 1790s. They went 30 miles South and founded Shepherdsville. A Robert M. Howell (in 1955) stated that there was a Mud Run and Mud Garrison at Shepherdsville and that the latter was the beginning of Shepherdsville.

George Lewis Shepard (spelled Shephard in the clipping) d. in the Johnson County Hospital, Indiana 8-8-1956. The notice of his death in Shelbyville, Indiana News 8-9-1956 states that he married Margaret Donahue (d. May 1932) in Oct. 1917. They had no issue. He left a brother Clarence and a sister Theodocia ("Tovia") Shephard. The latter d. November 1, 1956.

Theresa Anne Shepard d. unm. 2-6-1955.

A Lucy E. Mudd (wife of "W. Mudd") is buried in Catholic Cemetery, Crabtree at 9th, Owensboro, Ky. The marker states she was b. 9-7-1822 and d. 9-2-1882. She could have been the 2d wife of William Mudd, Sr. James Edward (Mudd) (p. 964) tried to identify her without success.

648a.

Mrs. Elsie Isbell noted the discrepancy between the births of Francis B. Mudd, b. 3-15-1857 and Elenor Mudd, b. 7-4-1858, the death of Wm. Mudd's 1st wife supposedly on 9-6-1854 (See FN 4, p. 649) and the 2d marriage of William Mudd to Lucinda Shaw on 5-14-1859. This could not be resolved without considerable research. Obviously one or more of the records is incorrect. It is far from certain that the Julia Mudd who died 9-6-1854 was the 1st wife of William Mudd.

H. L. Ash was reported deceased by March 1965.

Mrs. Asa B. Davis was reported deceased by March 1965.

649a.

September 23, 1909 is the date of b. of Arthur Lee Mudd instead of 3-23-1909.

The St. Rose Priory record refers to William Alexander Mudd (as copied), b. 9-11-1908, son of Alexander Mudd and Marie Yates. Godmother Lulu Yates, proxy for Emily Yates.

The birth record of Anna Elizabeth Mudd, dau. of Walter Alexander Mudd gives Dorothy Hagan as name of the mother instead of Clara Rose Hagan (obviously a mistake or miscopy). In one State record the name is Hogan instead of Hagan.

The baptismal record at St. Rose Priory, Springfield, Ky., of Nancy Elizabeth Mudd, (dau. of "Elrick" Mudd and Nellie Yates) indicates that her b. d. was 3-1-1906 instead of 3-8-1906. Godmother was Margaret Yates.

Walter Bryan Mudd had a son not listed in 1st edition viz: Francis P. Mudd, Lexington, Ky.

(Walter) Bryan Mudd operated (1967) a store in Fredericktown (P. O. Springfield), Ky. His father, Felix Francis Mudd, used to conduct a store across the road. This was 2 miles from Croakes Station where Felix Mudd would go for his supplies in his wagon. Felix Mudd lived across the Beech Fork, 1 mile away in Nelson County. Nearby is Manton where Joseph Augustus Mudd Sr. (p. 666) lived. Manton was 9 miles from Bardstown and the same distance from Springfield. (Ref. Joseph Augustus Mudd Jr. (p. 666).

See Note on p. 609a wherein it is stated that Joseph David Mudd I was probably son of Nicholas Mudd and Eleanor Ferguson instead of Ann Spaulding Simms.

Ruth P. Burdette found the following deed in Nelson County, Ky., which is confusing as to the parentage of Nancy Brown, wife of Joseph David Mudd. Deed Book 20, p. 427, July 28, 1835 Joseph Mudd and Nancy Mudd to Nathan Shockeny, their part of the land of Elijah Shockeny decd. father of said Nancy Mudd. This would tend to show that Nancy Brown, wife of Joseph David Mudd, was Nancy Shockeny and that her father Elijah having died she took the name Brown when Mrs. Sarah Shockeny remarried Joseph Brown 11-7-1815.

Mrs. Anna B. Mudd (p. 680) sent the following data from the family bible for the family of Joseph David Mudd in addition to what is in the 1st edition.

Joseph Brown and Sarah Brown were married in 1815.
Henry Francis Mudd, b. 3-2-1848.
Joseph Mudd, b. 4-21-1842.
Austin Mudd, b. 7-25-1834, d. 1-12-1901. (The 1834 date of birth for Austin Mudd may be wrong since he was baptized 4-14-1839)
Mary Mudd, b. 1-13-1836. (1831 also copied) (1837 also given)
William Mudd, b. 6-1-1838. (The Church Record is b. 5-27-37, baptized 8-15-37)
Joseph Brown, b. 6-22-1785, d. 6-14-1828 (see file).
Sarah Brown, b. 8-10-1780 (also copied 1789), d. 6-17-1824.(1825 also given).
Ann Brown, b. 1-10-1816.
Harriet R. Brown, b. 3-28-1818.
French E. Brown, b. 3-8-1820.
Sarah C. Brown, b. 2-4-1822.

677a.

Mrs. Annie B. Mudd copied from the family bible the following record: Eliza Jane Mudd, b. 3-20-1846.

The name of 3d husband of Julia Frances Mudd also said to be ..... Bunton (see record in file)

678a.

In the file there is a photocopy of a tax receipt of Joseph Mudd for $6.61 dtd 1854 (no County or State referred to), and a receipt for a note of $175 dated 1-30-1860 on W. R. Livers and I. W Samuels (initials not certain). These probably refer to Joseph David Mudd (ABABC E) as the 2 other Joseph Mudds in that area vis. his son Joseph David II and Joseph R. (p. 655) were each born in 1841. There was a Military Pass dated 3-8-1862 found with the above tax and note papers. This Joseph Mudd was probably either Joseph David I or his son. It does not indicate that he was in the Service (see p. 655).

The notes of Jay Leroy Mudd indicate that Austin G. Mudd m. Susan Duncan in Kentucky. It is possible, therefore, that Sarah M. was his 2nd wife.

April 21, 1842 also given as d. of b. of Joseph David Mudd II. He died at or near Burdett, Mo.

Mrs. Ernest O. Mudd stated that Joseph David Mudd II married twice and that he had 2 daughters, by his 1st wife, both of whom died. She didn't know his 1st wife's name. The marriage to Nancy Jane Deacon was in Kentucky.

The parents of Nancy Jane Deacon (as copied from record of her death) were Angred Deacon and Martha Schorkney instead of Andred Deacon and Eliza Shockame as in 1st edition.

Nancy Jane Deacon was reported b. Bullitt Co., Ky., 2-26-1850 and d. 1-22-1937. 1-10-1870 also given as date of m. of Joseph David Mudd and Nancy Jane Deacon.

When Mary Mudd m. Mordecai Lincoln she was referred to (as copied from the bond) as dau. of Luke Mudd. The Surety was Francis Mudd.

In 1811 Mordecai Lincoln moved from Washington Co., Ky., to Grayson County, Ky.

The family tradition is that Mordecai Lincoln (who m. Mary Mudd) was caught in a blinding snow storm near the end of December 1830. One story is that he died of pneumonia due to this. Another is that being lost in the snow, he died of exposure and was not found till Spring. One report is that he was on a visit to his son, James B. Lincoln, when lost in the snow. His sons cut down a tree and carved out a coffin burying him in an unmarked grave on his farm on Sect. 29 (or 20?). This was before establishment of a Catholic Cemetery and cemetery in Hancock County.

At an old cemetery at Fountain Green, Ill., near where once stood St. Mary's Church, the following records were found on the stones by Rolla E. Mudd:

Abraham Lincoln, d. 1-22-1852, age 54 years, 3 mos., 22 days. (Therefore born about Oct. 1, 1797) (see p. 1044a).
Elizabeth, wife of Abraham Lincoln, d. 9-17-1851 (age 51) (see p. 1044).
J. B. Lincoln (obviously) James Bradford Lincoln, d. 11-18-1837, age 38 yrs., 5 mos., 9 days (born about 6-9-1799).
Robert Lincoln, d. 9-4-1868.
Martha E. Lincoln,(dau. of J. B. and F. Lincoln) died 9-6-1836, age 5 yrs, 17 days.
Amanda J. Lincoln, dau. of J. B. and F. Lincoln, d. 11-1-1840, age 3 yrs., 3 mos., 18 days.
Charles P. (Prentiss) Lincoln, son of J. B. and F. Lincoln, d. 3-31-1861, age 23 yrs., 8 mos., 18 days.
Frances, wife of J. B. Lincoln, d. 11-4-1884, age 85 yrs., 10 mos., 3 days. This is Frances Day Lincoln, wife of James Bradford (or Bloomfield) Lincoln.
Martha, wife of George W. Neighbors (she was Martha Lincoln) d. 3-11-1861, age 54 yrs., 8 mos., 6 days.

In the same Cemetery, referred to as St. Simon The Apostle, are tombstones of Murray, Roberts, Fitzgerald, Flynn, Wells, Wybrant, Campbell, Hainline, Gittings, Hunt, Branham, Kelly, Harde, Cambron, McDonough, Yager and Laughlin.

The burial record of Mary Mudd was not reported as having been found. Mrs. Ruby Dobbins stated she thought she had this burial record and would send it if found.

A Mary L. Whitney copied all the gravestones (including Lincoln) at LaHarpe, Ill. Robert Lincoln, (son of Abraham Lincoln and Elizabeth L. Mudd) died at the Tyler House (Carthage, Mo. ?) in 1855.

The children of Mordecai Lincoln are reported to have attended school in Leitchfield, Ky.

The Catholic Cemetery at Fountain Green is a part of a 40 acre site acquired by the Catholic Church in the 1830s. The section was known as the Military Tract for Veterans of 1812. 30 acres of this was sold in 1866 and on 7-25-1877, 10 acres was conveyed to Bishop John L. Spalding (of Peoria, Ill.). In recent years 9 acres of this was sold to Martin W. Burrows, (one statement says Otis Burrow) leaving one acre for the cemetery. In 1832 a piece of ground in the above 40 acres was set aside for a cemetery but after the building of the Catholic Chapel (begun 1832, finished 1834) a new burial place was selected and fourteen persons buried in the first site were transferred to the new (and present) cemetery. Thomas Lincoln, son of James Bradford (or Bloomfield) Lincoln and a Henry Riley, helped build the church known as St. Simon's Church. Some time later (about or after 1857) the Catholic parish was moved to Tennessee, Ill., and the chapel building at Fountain Green moved to Carthage, Ill. Some of those buried at Fountain Green were moved to Tennessee, Ill.

The Immaculate Conception Church at Carthage, Ill. (Rev. Chris Schramm, pastor in 1964) owned the Catholic Cemetery at Fountain Green. The stones are old and knocked over and the wording is becoming obliterated. When seen by the author (Dr. Mudd) in 1964, sheep were grazing in the cemetery. The one acre plot is described as being the S. E. fourth of the N. E. section 34. Twsp. 6 (Fountain Green Twsp). The Fountain Green parish records were lost in a fire several years ago. The foundations of the old Catholic Church can be seen in the cemetery. Mrs. Mershon wrote us that money was left to recondition the cemetery but nothing was ever done about it.

Abraham Lincoln (ABACd 2) is reported to have been born at the Beach Fork Community, Washington County, Ky.

On July 24, 1819 Mordecai Lincoln, of Grayson County, Ky., sold to Abraham Lincoln (probably his son) of the same County for $50.00, 220 acres of land in the Claylick Fork of Bear Creek in Grayson County. The original of this indenture was given to the Illinois Historical Society. A copy is in the folder of Luke Mudd (ABAC) (Lincoln Data).

The land owned by Abraham Lincoln (son of Mordecai) near Fountain Green, Ill., was bought by Valda Blythe in the 1930s or 1940s. Mrs. Brewer, the widow of Aaron Brewer, brother of Phoebe Ann Brewer, the wife of Hezekiah Lincoln (son of Abraham Lincoln above) had a life interest in the property. This Mrs. Brewer died in the 1930s (see the Quill, LaHarpe, Ill., about 1940). Phoebe A. Brewer Lincoln was a milliner. She came to LaHarpe, Ill., from Burlington, Ia., she died age 92.

Mordecai Lincoln, son of Abraham and Uncle of the President was referred to as "a man of mark and influence, a prosperous farmer and a representative in the Kentucky Legislature." Prior to moving to Hancock County, Illinois he resided for about 2 years in Howard County, Illinois. (Ref: Ancestry of Abraham Lincoln, Lea and Hutchinson. This reference gives 1785 as date of death of Abraham Lincoln, Sr., but 1784 is the most likely year. (See Abraham Lincoln, A History, Nicolay & Hay).

The Springfield "Sun" of May 4, 1967 has a map of Springfield, Ky., area showing the location of the Mordecai Lincoln home located South of the Beech Fork and South (about 3 miles?) of the Thomas Lincoln home sites. (See file of Lincoln, Abraham, Homes of).

Mordecai Lincoln was at one time Sheriff and County Clerk of Washington County, Ky., and member of the legislature. The following records of land transactions were located for Mordecai Lincoln; Deed 12/24/1802, Lincoln County, Ky., Bk. 3, P.30. Deed 6-8-1808, Washington County, Ky., Bk. ?, p.462. Deed 4-7-1797, Washington County, Ky., Bk.?, p.473 or 423.

At one time (date not certain) Mordecai Lincoln owned 940 to 1950 acres of land in Madison County, 1130 to 1154 in Hardin County; 275 acres in Washington County. Probably some of these are duplications.

In 1796 Mordecai Lincoln entered on the tax list his father's property in Kentucky as follows: 100 acres on Beach Fork; 400 acres on Floyd Fork, (This was sold to Benjamin Bridges in 1822, (See 1st edition); 1134 acres on Green River; 1000 acres on Kentucky River; 800 acres on Green River; another 1000 acres on Kentucky river, a total of 4434 acres. It is believed that another 1000 acres should have been listed.

James Bradford Lincoln (his middle name also said to be Bloomfield or Brumfield) and family moved to Sangamon County, Illinois in 1828 and later to Fountain Green, Illinois. He pre-empted to a farm in Hancock County, Illinois, 2 1/2 miles East and South of Fountain Green about 1830 (estimated). He died at an early age leaving a widow and following issue: (said to have had six or seven children)

1. Thomas. (There is a picture in the file of Thomas and Emily Lincoln. Emily is said to have d. in 1902 and buried in Tennessee, Ill. In the 1850 census Thomas L. (or J.) Lincoln, age 28, was in the home of Frances Lincoln.
2. James
3. Charles
4. Mary Rowena (also said to be Mary Ann)

He had one child named Martha Helen, b. 8-19-1831 at Crooked Creek, Hancock County, Illinois, baptized by Fr. Van Quickenborne on 10-4-1832, the sponsors being Hugh McDonald and Mary (McDonald?).

Frances Day Lincoln, age 71, and b. Kentucky was living with James Lincoln, age 36, probably her son and family at the time the 1870 census was taken. The location was Fountain Green, Illinois.

William Henry Lovely "age 9 months" was baptized at St. Simon Mission, Fountain Green, Ill., on 12-18-1852. The mother is referred to as Mary Ann Lincoln. Sponsors were: Felix Cameron and Mrs. Polly O'Neille.

Miss Berenice Lovely occupied (in 1964) the James B. Lincoln farm house. Miss Lovely stated that James Bradford (or Bloomfield) Lincoln bought the land on which she lived (in 1964) in 1830. James B. Lincoln, she stated, was a Sheriff of Hancock County. She has numerous old photos of the James B. Lincoln descendants. The front of this home was reportedly built by Thomas Riley (Jefferson?) Lincoln after his father's death. It is in Hancock Township. (I visited the home in September 1964 and took some pictures of the home and of Miss Lovely and her sister, Mrs. Taylor). Miss Lovely stated that she thought she had letters written by George Washington Neighbors but later (8-1-1965) stated that she could not find any such letters.

James Riley Lincoln and Margaret Gibbons (Gibbens?) had a son Stephen b. 11-21-1858 baptz. 5-15-1859, sponsors: James Hardy and Mathilda Hardy.

James Lincoln (possibly James R. mentioned above) m. Margaret Gilbion (or Gibbons) on 12-26-1857, witnesses: L. McDonnell (possibly McDonald) and Amelia Lincoln (possibly Parmelia A. Lincoln, dau. of Abraham Lincoln and Elizabeth Lucretia Mudd) (above 2 records are at St. Peter and Paul Church, Nauvoo, Illinois).

Mrs. Walter E. (Ruby M.) Dobbins, Lincoln, Nebraska stated that Martha Lincoln (d. 3-11-1861) and George Washington Neighbors (d. before October 1850 in Elizabethtown, Ky.), had a daughter Ellen C. (d. 12-7-1861). (No record of death of Ellen C. (Neighbors) Tabb could be found possibly due to burning of Fountain Green Catholic Parish records), who m. George Y. Tabb. (d. 3-26-1862), age 27 yrs., 10 mos., 15 days), and the latter had a daughter Martha Mary, b. Elizabethtown, Ky., 3-26-1852, who m. William Francis Neville, of LaHarpe, Illinois and a 2d daughter, Alice Virginia, b. c 1854, m. Ben Johnson (see p. 1064).

William F. Neville, age 2, was in the home of his parents, James Neville, age 37, and Alice Neville, age 28, in the 1850 census of Hancock County, Illinois.

William F. Neville had a daughter Ruby Martha (Mrs. Walter E. Dobbins above). This statement does not agree with the statement (par. 3, p. 695, 1st edition, that Martha Lincoln and George Washington Neighbors had no issue. This was an unfortunate mistake. (Ref.: Lincoln Lore, #322, 6-10-1935 and other sources.) It is evident from the information in the file that Martha Lincoln and George Washington Neighbors had a daughter Ellen C., the ancestor of Mrs. Ruby Dobbins.

Tombstone at Fountain Green Cemetery - Willie J. Neville d. 6-23-1890, age 12 yrs., 8 mos., 17 days.

George Washington Neighbors, b. c 1806, d. 1835, was son of Abraham Neighbors (1775-1845) and wife Elizabeth Birtle (1779-1849). Both of the latter are buried at St. Ignatius Church Cemetery near Cecilia, Ky. This cemetery was on the Jerome Peerce farm in 1968. George Washington Neighbors is believed to have had the following brothers and sisters: William, b. c 1807, m. Malinda Cash; Nathan, b. 1810, m. Eliza M. Goldsberry; Ellen, b. 1812, d. 1871, m. William Price Carroll; Abraham, b. 1821, m. Susan Carrico; Sarah C., unm.; James B., b. 1818, d. 1866, m. 1842 Lucinda Buckles; Nancy, m. John Williams; Elizabeth, b. 1799, d. 1843, m. Thomas Yates.

Abraham Neighbors (1775-1845) was possibly son of Abraham Neighbors and Eleanor Boyd from Laurens, N. C. Additional information on the Neighbors family is contained in the Neighbors folder.

Above Neighbors information received from Mrs. Ruby Dobbins, Lincoln, Nebr., who in turn received it from Whit Neal, Charlotte, N. C., is in the file. Mrs. Dobbins stated that there never was a final settlement of the estate of Ellen C. Tabb. She has an inventory of the estate.

Mrs. Dobbins has spoons of her grandmother's with G. W. N. (George Washington Neighbors on them). Her mother often spoke of their descent from Mordecai Lincoln.

Eden Neighbors (9th line from top in 1st edition) should read "Ellen" Neighbors (b. 1804, dau. of Martha Mudd and Mordecai Lincoln).

695a. (Contd)

A picture of Ellen C. Neighbors, dau. of Martha Lincoln and George W. Neighbors, was given to the Illinois Historical Society in July 1963.

In the 1860 census, Hancock County, Illinois, Hezekiah Lincoln, 29, b. Kentucky; Ellen Tabb, 26; Martha Neighbors, 54, and Martha Tabb 8, all b. Kentucky. Martha Tabb was mother of Mrs. Ruby Dobbins.

Pictures of Hezekiah Lincoln (see p.1044) and wife, Phoebe Ann Brewer are in the file, also mementoes of his funeral.

Hezekiah Lincoln and Parmelia A. Lincoln lived across the street from the Catholic Church at LaHarpe, Illinois. The Catholic Church is now (1963) reported to be a home. A picture of the Church is in the file.

Phoebe A. Lincoln was residing with the mother of Mrs. Walter (Ruby) Dobbins when she (Phoebe) died. See Tabb folder for excellent data on the ancestry of the George Y. Tabb who m. Ellen C. Neighbors.

Ellen C. (Neighbors) Tabb (widow of George Y. Tabb) of LaHarpe Township, Hancock County, Illinois made her Will 12-7-1861, prob. 4-8-1862. She left all her property, real and personal, to Hezekiah Lincoln for his natural life for the use of her two children Mary Martha Tabb and Alice Virginia Tabb. Hezekiah Lincoln sold the property of Ellen C. Tabb on 2-3-1866 (recorded 2-22-1870). (A copy of the Will is in the folder of Luke Mudd (ABAC).

The pictures of Mary Martha Tabb and her husband, William Francis Neville, were donated to the Illinois Historical Society (1963).

Ellen C. (Neighbors) Tabb
(1834-1861)

About 1866/1867 or so Martha and Alice Tabb began living with Hezekiah Lincoln and Phoebe, his wife. This was about the time they began attending Ft. Madison School. While in Kentucky they may have lived with Dr. Sam Tabb, cousin to Martha and Alice Tabb (Mrs. Ruby Dobbins).

Phoebe Ann (Brewer) Lincoln, widow of Hezekiah (see p. 1044) used to state that there was a record in the desk listing the expenditures made by Hezekiah, her husband, for the education of Martha and Alice Tabb, daughters of Ellen C. Neighbors and George Y. Tabb. This is mentioned only to suggest a relationship of these girls to Hezekiah Lincoln. She is reported to have made a Will in 1914 and named only kin of Hezekiah Lincoln, her late husband. No provision was made for her own heirs. About 50 people were listed in the estate notice. The main item in the estate was the Hezekiah Lincoln farm which sold for $5200. Mrs. Ruby Dobbins, as an heir, received about $400. A photo of Phoebe Ann (Brewer) Lincoln is in the file.

In the obituary of Martha Tabb Neville (mother of Mrs. Dobbins) it is stated that Martha and Alice Virginia Tabb returned to Kentucky about 1851-56 when their mother, Ellen Tabb, died in December 1861 they were sent to a private school at Ft. Madison. The Diocese of Davenport reports that they have no record of a school at Ft. Madison and the school might have been St. Mary's Academy (Sisters of St. Benedict) Nauvoo, Ill., using Ft. Madison as Post Office. It is possible they attended school in Keokuk, Iowa also.

In the 1850 census Alice Tabb, age 6, sister of Martha Tabb, was residing in the home of James Yager, age 52. The files also contain census reports for the Tabb family from the Hardin County, Ky., for 1850.

Alice Virginia Tabb who married B. F. Johnson (see p. 1064 Mudd Family History) died at home of Hezekiah Lincoln 8-14-1876. In the obituary record he is "B. F. Johnson", so the listing of him as J. Benjamin Johnson (ps. 1063/64) is probably a mistake. A picture of B. F. Johnson and wife, Alice Virginia Tabb, was donated to the Illinois Historical Society.

Mrs. Dobbins stated (July 1968) that the following were the only living descendants of Martha Lincoln and George W. Neighbors viz.: herself, Sam Dawes, Jeff Allen Dawes and Beth Allen Dawes.

John Niceler (probably Niceley) spelled Kniseley in the 1st edition, son of George Niceler and Mary (Rowena) Lincoln was born 10-28-1830 "at the head of the Rapids", Hancock County, Illinois and baptized 10-1-1832 by Father Van Quickenborne. Sponsors were: John ..... and Mary Morphet.

In a letter written by Abraham Lincoln 4-21-1848 (later the President) he states "the oldest son (of Thomas Lincoln) Uncle Mordecai near 20 years ago moved to Hancock County, Illinois where he died a short time afterwards" (Ref. Life and Writings of Abraham Lincoln, Stern, Randon House, Brooklyn, N. Y. 1939).

Abraham Lincoln, later the President, in a personal letter dated April 1, 1854 stated: "I only saw Uncle Mordecai (Lincoln) and Uncle Josiah but once in my life. Uncle Mordecai died in 1831 or 32 in Hancock County, Illinois and where his children also reside."

After the death of Abraham Lincoln (father of Mordecai who m. Mary Mudd) who was killed by the Indians in the early summer of 1784, his widow sold 400 acres of land in Jefferson County, Kentucky on 5-7-1785, where Abe., Sr., was killed and moved near Beechland in Washington County, Kentucky.

In the 1st edition it was stated that: "It appears that Henrietta Mudd married two Thomas Alveys because Henrietta Alvey married a Thomas Alvey in Perry County, Indiana on 3-13-1823." After years of checking the records it appears that this was not correct. In the 1850 census Henrietta Alvey, age 63, was living with the family of Luke Alvey, age 31, who was obviously her son. In this same census Thomas Alvey, age 50, had in his home Henrietta Alvey, age 40, and obviously his wife, with Henry J., 18, and Jane 18 (possibly husband and wife), Luke 11, Charlotte 9, Ellen 5, and Richard 2. This Henrietta was possibly the daughter of Henrietta Mudd and Thomas Alvey, though her age does not agree with the 1815 marriage of Henrietta Mudd.

The identity of Thomas Alvey (age 50 in 1850 census) is unknown. He could be a son of Thomas Alvey who m. Henrietta Mudd by a previous marriage but it is only a guess. This second Thomas Alvey (age 50 in 1850) was also found in the 1860 census. Ellen Alvey was then Mahaly E., age 14, and Sylvester M., age 10, and Casandra, age 6, were added. The wife, Henrietta, was missing and presumed deceased.

In the 1870 census Thomas Alvey, listed as age 66, had a new wife, Cinthia, age 42, and several more children.

In the 1870 census, Derby, Indiana there was the family of a William Alvey, age 56, also unidentified.

Geneva Health reported that Luke Alvey (ABACE #1) was m. at Leopold, Ind. ? by August Bessonies (Roman Catholic Priest) 9-9-1848 (44 also given) to Sarah Mitchell, dau. of William Mitchell and Mary Bruner. (This 1848 appears incorrect since their first dau. was born 3-16-1841 - RDM).

Sarah Mitchell Alvey, b. 10-28-1820, d. 9-4-1899 was buried in Derby Cemetery, Perry County, Indiana near William and Mary Mitchell.

Luke Alvey, above, d. in the mid 1890s and is buried in St. John's Cemetery in Perry County, Indiana near his mother, Henrietta Mudd Alvey. (Ref. Geneva Health).

Mrs. Glenn Henning found that there was probably no church at Leopold, Indiana in 1844-48 but Catholic Services were held at the Belva home.

Information on the parentage, brothers and sisters of Sarah Mitchell who m. Luke Alvey can be found in the file of Luke Mudd (ABAC) (Dawes correspondence).

William Mitchell, b. Md., 2-20-1799, d. Derby, Ind., 12-22-1856, m. Breckenridge County, Ky., 9-14 (or 10)-1802 Mary Bruner, (dau. of George Leonard Bruner and Elizabeth Claycomb) (see Bruner mms. in Bruner folder), b. Pa., 4-11-1780, d. 11-21-1854. This couple is believed to have lived in Virginia for a time and settled at Mouth of Bear Grass Creek, Louisville, Ky.; moved to Indiana in 1818; founded the 3d town in Perry County in 1835; operated a distillery. Mary Bruner is reported to have come to Kentucky with her family in 1786 (Bruner mms.).

Sarah, who m. Luke Alvey, was their 6th child.

John Cassidy (possibly ABACG 4) surveyed the township for William Mitchell.

1850 census, Perry Co., Ind., William Mitchell 38, Rebecca 31 with Solomon 13, John 10, Mary E., 7, Parthena 2, David 3, Joseph 1. This William Mitchell was possibly a son of William Mitchell b. in 1799.

Regarding the issues of William Mitchell and Mary Bruner: 9 children (see file), the 5th child Leonard, b. 3-5-1817, d. 5-20-1882, m. 10-13-1844 Mary Ellen Webb, b. 7-18-1828, d. 10-30-1865, dau. of Fielding Lewis (or Louis) Webb, (of Jeremiah Webb and Judith Byba), and Elizabeth Champion Gilliland, of Adam Gilliland and Sarah Davies. Leonard Mitchell was the 1st Postmaster of Cooter, Mo. He taught school there for 17 years and was Town Mayor.

A dau. of Leonard Mitchell and Mary Ellen Webb viz. Mary Elizabeth, m. 4-6-1864 Luke Edward Cassidy, a grandson of Elizabeth Mudd (ABACG) and John Cassidy. (It is thus seen how this Mitchell family ties into the families of the 2 daughters of Luke Mudd (ABAC) viz. Henrietta Mudd Alvey and Elizabeth Mudd Cassidy. The youngest child of William Mitchell and Mary Bruner viz. Sarah, b. 10-28-1820, d. 9-4-1889, m. Luke Alvey, son of Henrietta Mudd (ABACE) and Thomas Alvey.

Leonard E. Fyie Sr., Tyler, Texas, grandson of Luke Alvey (ABACE #1) and Sarah Mitchell states that Sarah Mitchell and Luke Alvey, son of Henrietta Mudd and Thomas Alvey, had 10 children rather than 12 as stated in the 1st edition viz:

1. Mary Jane, b. 3-16-1841 - contd below.

Sr. M. Antonella (referred to on p. 697) was Virginia Lee Hardy in civilian life. (see also p. 403).

698a.

One record in file gives 11-18-1801 as date of m. of Martha Mudd and Clement Buckman. (possibly date of license).

699a.

Columbia Magazine, issue of February 1957 contains an excellent article entitled "Lincoln's Catholic Kinship" by Doran Hurley. (copy in file). This article refers to the relationship of some of the Cassidys (see p. 697) and Buckmans (see p. 698) referring to President Abraham Lincoln and especially to certain members of the family of Mary Mudd and Mordecai Lincoln.

With reference to the migration of Luke Mudd to Ky., the following is from the Genealogy of the Boone family by Rev. E. D. Boone. (Ref. ps. 139,135).

"Among the early settlers on Hardin's Creek, 10 miles E. of Pottingers Creek, were John Boone (brother of Walter), Edward and Richard Beaven, Luke and Ignatius Mudd, John S. Miles and others, all from Maryland." The Ignatius Mudd was probably ABAE (see p. 405).

Luke Mudd's home place on "Good Luck" (purchased from Richard Lilly) was located on the road between the present day villages of Lantz and Foxville, about 3 miles South of the Pa., line. It is one of the prettiest mountain areas in Maryland. In 1957, this land was government-owned and was included in the Catoctin Recreation Park Area. This area was not settled until the 1750s. (Ref. Dr. Grace L. Tracey, Hampstead, Md.). Dr. Tracey feels that Luke Mudd could not have moved to Frederick Co., Maryland as suggested (p. 701) at the same time as William Elder because the latter came in 1739 and Luke Mudd was "of Charles County, Maryland" came in 1765. The earliest reference to him as being in Frederick Co., Maryland was on 1-17-1769 (see p. 699).

On Dec. 20, 1776 Richard Lemmon had 503 acres of land surveyed for himself which he called Lemmon Vineyard. On the Certificate of Survey there is a note that this was a resurvey on a tract of land laid out for Luke Mudd but never patented. The land lay on the E. side of South Mountain (the dividing line between Frederick and Washington Counties) about 1 mile South of the present Camp Ritchie and about 2 miles West of present Sabillasville and on the present road from Thurmont to Camp Ritchie, not the main State Road 81 but the Mountain Ft. Ritchie Road. It is logical to assume that he lived on this land before he moved to that in the present Foxville area.

Additional Court records referring to Luke Mudd from Frederick County, Maryland:

In 1773 Luke Mudd was the "overseer of the road from the East side of the mountain to Casper Smiths to Cross Mt. Misery and to the West side of the mountain" (present day Sabillasville area). This is 6 to 7 mi. west of Mt. St. Marys College.

Trial Docket, Aug. 1787, #117 Luke Mudd vs Henry Taylor, Stk off. plf. Trial Docket #145, Peter Troutman vs Clement Fowler. Referred to Peter Shaver (or Shover) and Luke Mudd (copy given to L. Mudd) Judicial Writs - 1787 #14.

#6 - State of Md. vs Francis Elder, L10 for F. Elders
app to ans; Luke Mudd L10 (prost? - word illegible)

It appears that Francis Elder had neglected his duty as an overseer. Luke Mudd was also referred to in the case of Margaret McKisson vs. Thomas Davis and the case of John Thompson vs. Peter Ready.

10-17-1792, Luke Mudd with Thomas Mudd signed an order to pay money to Charles Hayden (see Lincoln Kinsman # 12).

Additional court records referring to Luke Mudd from Frederick County, Md., 1786 August term (Imparlance) case of Luke Mudd vs. Henry Taylor.

Judicial Writ. Peter Shover and Luke Mudd were appointed by the court as trustees in the case of Conrad Matthews vs. Timothy Shorkey.
1786 November term --

"Recognizances" # 3 - State of Maryland vis Francis Elder and Luke Mudd. Francis Elder was called to answer for neglect of duty as overseer of the public roads. Marcus Harmon was summoned in this case.

Trial Docket #8. - Luke Mudd was mentioned as "Baps" (Interpretation unknown), in the case of John Thompson vs. Peter Ready.

703a. (Contd)

Again in 1787 Luke Mudd was a complainant in Frederick County against Henry Taylor. The case was "contd" (Trials #222). In the same year Johanthan Hays was the plaintiff against Luke Mudd and John Collins with respect to a note for L12 S11 p.11, original writ #413).

The meaning of some of the abbreviations in these cases is not clear. Where Luke Mudd is referred to as having been (in 1783) Constable for Upper Ketoctin (this should be changed to read Constable for Upper Kitoctin (or Catoctin), (present spelling) Hundreds. He held this same position in 1784 also (Ref. - Dr. Grace L. Tracey, Hampstead, Md.).

Inventories 1749-1793, Frederick County, Md., were checked and no reference to Mudd found. Also Guardian Book 1788-1815 was checked and no Mudd reference found.

See note p. 1148, Ref: Robert Abell and his possible identity.

706a.

Mildred, the wife of Francis Mudd (ABACA) was probably Mildred Hilton one of several daughters of William Hilton and his wife, Mildred. This is shown first by the Will of Henry Hilton dated Washington County, Ky., 12-29-1801, probated 5-2-1803, (Book A, p.245) which refers to his father, William Hilton and Mildred the latter's wife. Apparently William Hilton had no property of his own and was living on land owned by his son, Henry Hilton, whose nic-name was "Hatt."

A Deed of January 13, 1810 made by the heirs of Henry Hilton for a lot (probably) in Springfield, Ky.), indicates that the heirs were: Henrietta, wife of Stanislaw Haydon; Susannah, wife of John Thomas; Mildred, wife of Francis Mudd, and Monica, wife of James Hagar.

It is apparent therefore that Mildred Hilton first married a Hagar, secondly William Haydon (or Hayden) and thirdly, Francis Mudd. Mildred Hager m. (probably in Washington County, Ky.) 1-25-1790 William Hayden.

The above information was supplied by Mrs. Louise Eddleman of Springfield, Ky. There is a considerable amount of information on the Maryland Haydens in the files.

Mrs. Mary C. Monrotus (p. 896) stated that William Robert Mattingly and his twin sister (Nancy) Letitial Mattingly were half-brother and sister of Stephen James Mattingly, indicating that the father, Philip Mattingly had married twice.

Nancy Letitia Mattingly (d. 4-27-1922), m. 5-10-1858 Millwood, Md., Charles Benedict Elder, b. 4-13-1839, d. 1-25-1915, (son of Basil Robert Elder) and had 11 children, (names, birth dates, and dates of death in the file;) one is Nicholas Eugene, b. 9-16-1871, d. 9-27-1941, whose son Charles E. Elder, Afton, Mo., sent the above information.

Thomas Janes might not have been a Virginian. In the "History of North East Missouri" published in 1913 he is referred to as having been from Maryland.

One record in file gives 1821 as d. of b. of Thomas William Mudd. This is obviously incorrect based on date of m. of parents.

711a.

One record in Lincoln County, Mo., refers to the marriage of S. A. Mudd and Miss Lizzie Monk, 8-31-1871, by A. Y. Brown, JP. I suspect this was Sydney Albertus Mudd and the bride Liza E. Mudd who used the name of Lizzie Monk. This was a non-church wedding and it appears that this couple had a remarriage in the Catholic Church in 1880.

4. Sarah Elizabeth, b. 2-11-1850, m. St. Louis, Mo., 1872, George Fleming Dyer.

The records at St. Alphonsus Church, Millwood, Mo., show that George Fleming Dyer, son of George Dyer and Emily Dyer was b. 1-22-1852 and baptized 1-26-1852 by Fr. Daniel Lyne, the sponsors being Rev. Patrick Fleming and Clara Mudd (unidentified). The records of this same church show that Sarah Elizabeth Mattingly (who should be listed as Issue #5) dau. of Stephen Mattingly and Sarah Mudd was b. 2-11-1850, she d. October 1940. Sponsors: Robert Mudd and Elizabeth Mattingly.

Robert Mattingly, son of Sarah Elizabeth Mudd and Stephen James Mattingly was probably John R. Mattingly, b. 1-13-1862, d. 7-2-1885.

The original Moran immigrant is said to have been Patrick Moran who came to Maryland from Ireland in late 1600 or early 1700s.

The Francis Moran home at Camargo, Okla., had a Tamarack hedge around the yard, a cedar fence at the garden and gypsum and concrete long house with four inch concrete between studs.

William H. Verser (from Paris, France) was a furniture and cabinet maker. He came to Virginia in 1835 and was a Confederate Soldier in General Lee's Army. He made part of the furniture that was at the Ranch home at Camargo, Okla. He and Frank Moran, a carpenter, made the local "school-church" house out of cedar logs set together with the same type of gypsum plaster used in the Moran house. The Moran Cemetery was on land donated by John Verser, brother of Annie Serrena Verser, adjacent to the Church-School house. Annie Verser's sister, Katy Allen, ran the local store and Post Office, one-half mile West where the Turkey Creek entered the So. Canadian River near Old Stone Post Office. The Frank Moran home was a Ranch and a farm combination. There were 800 to 1000 head of Herford cattle. Also hogs were raised and there was farming.

Since it was suspected at one time that Ann S. Spalding (dau. of Thomas Spalding and Susannah Abell) had possibly married Dr. Henry Luke Mudd, it appears possible that the girl referred to was Ann Lucretia and probably not Ann S. and the above marriage to George Washington Worland seems to clear up this question (Worland Family History, mms. of Olive Lewis Kolb) Ref. 237, p. 108. This reference gives the children and other descendants of Anna Lucretia Spalding and George Washington Worland.

Olive Kolb stated that Ann L. Spalding was a widow when she married George W. Worland and she had seen her grave at St. Rose Cemetery. This would preclude her being the 1st wife of Dr. Luke Mudd.

1820 Census, Grayson County, Kentucky: Elizabeth Mudd (obviously widow of Henry Mudd (ABACC), 3 males under 10, 1 female 26 to 45, and one female under 10. This item was missed in checking this census originally.

In April 1835 Abraham Lincoln, the future President, acted as Attorney for a William Fielding Frame, age 20, a day laborer on the Steamboat "Hero" which plied the Illinois River. He was an Irishman who had killed a fellow laborer William Neathhammer on 2-17-1838 at Frederick, Ill. He was found guilty and was hung. No family records available (see Lincoln Lore, Sept. 1959). Since Abraham Lincoln's uncle, Henry Mudd married Betty Frame, it is quite possible that Lincoln was drawn into this case because of an indirect family relationship (See folder of Luke Mudd - Lincoln Records).

A "Family Tree" on file indicates without proof that Robert Richard Coomes was son of Richard R. Coomes Jr. (and Julia Ann Dericson), son of Richard Coomes Sr., and Mary Livers, son of Francis Coomes and Charity Woods, early emigrants to Kentucky. This family tree (author unknown) shows that a tremendous number of the descendants of this couple became Catholic Sisters and Priests. (See Marion Co., Kentucky folder).

Cornelius Greenfield Wildman might have been son of James Wildman and Dorothy Greenfield who were married in St. Marys Co., Md., November 30, 1808.

A Dorothy Wildman was Administratrix of the estate of a James Wildman, 12-9-1817 (St. Marys County, Md., Liber I. F. #2). Note that Cornelius G. Wildman named his first son James Greenfield Wildman, b. 4-11-1846.

Cornelius Duggan (see below) stated that he had learned that the Wildmans were Swiss and they had a family estate on the Rhine.

Mrs. Jensen stated that the old Wildman home, which she now owns, was originally owned by her grandmother's step-grandfather, Sylvester Boone. He planned to leave her 810 a. but he had to sell about 1/2, probably to pay bills. The author visited this home in November 1964, and took pictures. It was sealed up, though the furnishings could be seen.

Cornelius Wildman named Henry Peter Queen, his son-in-law, as guardian of his children and executor of his estate. He had lost much in the Civil War. Henry Peter Queen and wife, Mary Elizabeth Wildman, moved to Boonsboro and there the family of children were raised.

The children of Cornelius G. Wildman, b. 6-7-1811, d. 3-28-1865 and Ann Elizabeth Ellen Mudd, b. 2-12-1817, d. 12-2-1854 (instead of 12/1 as in 1st edition) were:

   The file contains several letters written by Mother Ursula to her sister (apparently Mary Elizabeth Wildman). They were written from St. Cecilia Academy, Nashville, Tenn., in 1897, 1907, 1908, and 1910.

   In the June 10 letter (year not stated) she states that her term of office would be up on June 21st. There follows a letter written to Mrs. Queen advising her of the death of Sr. Ursula on June 17th.

6. Oscar Cornelius, m. Helen Hunt (she was deceased by July 1966), lived in a house on Boone property, 1/2 mile from old home. 3 children.

Mrs. Helmar O. Jensen sent the ancestry of Henry Peter Queen as follows: He was son of Maria Purcell and Charles Jerningham Queen (d. 1837) who was a 2d Lt. in 86 Inf. of Md., and Va., troops under Col. Henry Carbery and took part in the Battle of Bladensburg which was fought in part on the front lawn of the Queen homestead. The English burned the house and all the English and other papers pertaining to the family.

Charles J. Queen (above) was son of Edwardina Jerningham (dau. of Sir Henry Jerningham, M. D., of Cannon Hill, Surrey England) and Joseph Queen (b. 1753, d. 1802, m. Dec. 2, 1787) son of Mary and Richard Queen (d. 1744) son of Mary Jameson and Marshall Queen, d. 1771, son of Samuel Queen, d. 1711 (who came to America in 1685 and his estate was known as Haddock Hills, allotted to him by Cecil Calvert in 1657), and Katherine Marsham (d. 1713), dau. of Richard Marsham (who migrated to Md. in 1658) and Katherine Brent (b. 1658) dau. of Kitomagund, dau. of the Chief of Piscataways and Giles Brent, son of Sir Richard Brent of Larkspur, England and Elizabeth Reed. This ancestry of Henry Peter Queen was not checked.

Mary E. Jensen wrote (in 1966) that her grandmother, Mary Elizabeth Wildman, worshipped her father, Cornelius Greenfield Wildman and her step-grandfather, Sylvester Boone. The old home at Waldorf, "Boonesboro", belonged to the Boone family. Here Mary Ellen Mudd married Cornelius G. Wildman. They went to Alexandria, Va., where C. G. Wildman owned a dry goods store on the Main Street. Mary Elizabeth Wildman had a rheumatic heart all her life and was small and thin. She had attended school at Emmitsburg, Maryland and spent her vacations with Grandpappy Boone who gave his favorite grand-daughter 1/2 of his property - about 399 acres of land. This land was surrounded by that of the Gardiners.

Mary Elizabeth Wildman was engaged to marry Charles Queen for about 5 years. Charles' brother, Henry Peter, was an Indian Scout out West. He returned to the East in 1864 because his mother was dying in D. C. They lived on land they received when they (the Queens) migrated to Maryland in early 1600s and is now at Queens Chapel Rd., in D. C.

Henry Peter Queen and Mary Elizabeth Wildman decided suddenly to marry. The newly weds resided with C. G. Wildman for about a year and when Sylvester Boone gave Boonesboro to Mary Elizabeth they moved there.

Richard Queen, of Prince Georges Co., Md., d. 1794, built and gave to John Carroll Arch, of Baltimore, the Museum Church known as Queens Chapel from which Queens Chapel Road takes its name.

In a letter from Mrs. Mary E. Jensen she stated: "Henry Peter Queen, my grandfather, was a holy terror. My father left home and went to live with the Frys at Middle Island, as soon as my father finished college. Henry Peter Queen was well over 6 ft. tall, had red hair and sideburns and carried a hickory cane. He wrote every last thing down and I have his diaries and some of his letters written to Charles from San Francisco. He was a "49er" and made his headquarters in San Francisco. He panned gold along the Frazer River. He was an Indian Scout for the U.S. Army against the Puite Indians. He was snowed in for months in Frazer. I tried to locate Frazer River in California but found one in the Yukon and wondered if that was the one. Then last summer we were wandering around the Rockies and I came across the town of Frazer and began to ask questions. Frazer is the coldest town in the Rockies (and he spoke of cold and snow).

There is also a Frazer River in Colorado where gold is panned but he returned to San Francisco to write to his brother, Charles. H. P. was also a secessionist and when the Civil War broke out, he wrote quite a letter to Charles. Vigilantes were organized in San Francisco to round up the Southerners. At this time H. P. was making some kind of deals with the French fleet that was in San Francisco Harbor, so his name headed the lynching list. He got a mule and took off for Mexico, still waving the rebel flag. Two years later Charles contacted him that their mother was dying. He came home and was arrested by Union Soldiers in front of his house. He hated farming but somehow he married Mary E. Wildman and ended on a farm. He had great respect for Napoleon and had about 3 biographies. He also read Dickens, quoted Shakespeare, recited poetry, took an active interest in world politics and named all his children after members of Courts of Europe."

Most of the Wildman-Queen notes recorded previously were taken from a Family Bible in possession of Mrs. Mary E. Jensen, Wantagh, N. Y. The following extracts were taken from letters loaned by Mrs. Jensen:

1. Dated St. Thomas November 3, 1837. "To dear Niece" who is identified as Ann Elizabeth Ellen Mudd, from A. Mudd who is obviously Fr. Aloysius Mudd. Fr. Mudd was planning to come to Ann's wedding which was held on 11-11-1837 and to stay at Ann's uncle's home, Francis Sylvester Gardiner (obviously brother of Ann's mother). Fr. Mudd gives her advice concerning marriage.

2. No date: Written to Mary, daughter of Ann Elizabeth Ellen Mudd, by the mother, Ann E. E. Wildman. Mary was apparently at school, probably Visitation Academy, Frederick, Md. She spoke of the death of Dr. Boarman. She sent her love to Sr. Atiann, possibly one of Mary's teachers.

3. Written to: "My own darling Pa by Mary" (Probably Mary Elizabeth Wildman). Her father was to send her a box of clothes to be used for a celebration that took place at the "Vale" (probably Visitation Academy, Frederick, Md.) She had to be dressed by Sr. Raphael in borrowed clothing. She wrote that it would soon be time to leave "My dear Valley Home." She refers to the clothes as being detained in Frederick, so possibly this "Valley Home" refers to some other school, possibly St. Josephs at Emitsburg. Apparently she was crowned as "Queen of the May." No mention whatsoever is made of her mother. She refers to Cousin Emile and her aunt as apparently taking care of the home and other children. Sr. Raphael added a postscript.

4. Dated 9-1-1854 written by Cornelius Wildman to "Dear Mary" after she left for boarding school. He had visited Mary at school and told of his trip home. He related the story of the quite sudden death of "Frankie" (Mary's brother, Francis Aloysius Wildman). The baby was taken to "Reeves Church" for burial. Ellen Wildman added a postscript. Possibly she was the aunt who was taking care of the home. (Note: that the last child was born almost 2 months later, 10-28-1854, and there is no mention of the mother.) Reeves Church was probably St. Peters Church near Waldorf, Md.

The Thomas B. Gwynn, nentioned, m. Mary Grace Middleton, dau. of Mary Ellen Dyer (sister of wife of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd) and William Jordon Middleton.

11-13-1827 was the correct date of m. of Elizabeth Gardiner Mudd and Sylvester Boone (see National Intelligencer 11-17-1827). The marriage was in Prince Georges Co., Maryland.

Edward Jenkins, who m. Mary Cole, was the son of Thomas Jenkins, the Maryland immigrant and Ann his wife but it is not certain that these Jenkins were descendants of Edward Jason Jenkins who was an Ensign in the English Navy and whose son came to America and the statement to this effect in the first edition was deleted. The Jenkins Ancestry, as stated in the 2d paragraph, is not certain. Further study would be required to substantiate the lineage as reported.

2-25-1840 also given as date of marriage of Thomas Ignatius Mudd and Mary C. Taylor.

Mary Ellen (Mudd) Draper
(1840-1862)

A Henrietta Mudd m. Charles Co., Md., Jan. 4, 1807, Raphael Wheatley. It is possible in view of Dr. Joseph Mudd mentioning Raphael Wheatley and Jane Chantle Wheatley in his Will that Henrietta was an adopted dau. of Dr. Joseph Mudd. If she was, then she was deceased by 1816 when Dr. Joseph Mudd made his Will as he does not mention her. If he did have such an adopted daughter, it is difficult to understand why only one female was listed in the census of 1800 for Dr. Joseph Mudd. However, it is possible that Dr. Mudd's 2nd wife was deceased and the female, age 26 to 45, was in fact Henrietta Mudd.

Henry Hill was son of Clement Hill Jr., and Ann Darnall. Henry Hill m. Ann Hoskins (Haskins also given; Queen also given), and the date of his Will was 3-28-1794, Prob. 4-26-1796 (Ref. Across The Years in Prince Georges Co., Effie Gwynn Bowie, ps. 428, 429). Ann Hoskins was reported to be the daughter of Col. Philip Hoskins and Ann Reeves (same reference).

Isaac G. Magruder m. Margaret E. Hill, Oct. 23, 1837. (I do not know if these 2 marriages April 3, 1802, Isaac Magruder m. Ann Hill. were of the same Isaac but see p. 857a)

Joseph Mudd (prob. ABAF) took the Oath of Allegiance in St. Marys Co., Maryland before Henry Tubman according to his certification dated March 2, 1778 (National Genealogical Society Quarterly, Dec. 1953, p. 122). (See also Chronicles of St. Marys Co., Md., July 1956, p. 45).

One record in file (not original) states that Joseph Mudd, M. D., was a student at "U. of Paris".

Louise Mudd Cox (see p. 553) has (1961) old original deed referring to Dr. Joseph Mudd's ownership of "Molleys Delight" and "Gant's Enlargement enlarged".

857a.

The Jane Chantle Wheatley mentioned was possibly a daughter of Raphael Wheatley and Henrietta Mudd (see p. 855a).

Ann Magruder, the 2nd wife of Isaac Magruder, was the dau. of John Hill, son of Ann Darnall (1680-3-26-1749) and Clement Hill (1670-1743).

A brother of the above John Hill was Captain Henry Hill. (see Will of Dr. Joseph Mudd).

In Colonial Families of America, Vol. II, p. 313, it is stated that Elizabeth Hill, dau. of John Hill and Mary Darnall; "died unm." This appears to be a mistake since Dr. Joseph Mudd m. Elizabeth Hill and Dr. Joseph Mudd's sister-in-law was Ann Magruder who proves to be a sister of Elizabeth Hill who was the daughter of John Hill and Mary Darnall.

On p. 311, Colonial Families of America (Vol. II) it is stated that Jane Hill (a sister of Capt. Henry Hill) married .....Mudd. (See p. 1358 for a discussion of this).

Where George J. Dyer is referred to, he is probably George I. (Ignatius) Dyer, father of Sophia Ann Dyer. (See p. 860a.

860a.

George Dyer, father of Sophia Ann Dyer, was George Ignatius Dyer, son of Esther Gardiner and Theodore Dyer, son of Lucy Audrey Smith and Jeremiah Dyer, son of Henrietta Clements and Thomas Dyer, son of Comfort Barnes and Patrick Dyer (Dyar) (Ref. Harry Wright Newman reports).

Elizabeth Amelia ("Emily") Dyer, was born at Beantown, Charles County, Md., 2-16-1816 and married George Ignatius Dyer 11-3-1840, moving to Mo. in 1841 by Stage Coach to Wheeling and then steamer to Ky., then by Stage to Mo., settling on Lead Creek and died 5-24-1907. Fr. Keaney, of Millwood, Mo., thought her maiden name was Simms but her obituary and other records definitely prove that she was E. A. Dyer.

The above information supplements that contained in Footnote 3, p. 862.

Dr. Stonewell Jackson Williams, practiced medicine in Millwood, Mo., and d. and was buried there. His daughter, Mary Lillian, m. Silas Melvin Bowles (see p. 198a).

861a.

Mary Viola Mudd is referred to in one record in the file as Mary Violet Mudd.

Mrs. Elza Elizabeth (Mudd) Murphy, d. St. Louis, Mo., 3-27 or 28-1958.

Joseph Patrick Murphy died 10-24-1956.

A FR or FN (probably Francis) Mudd was taxed as a bachelor by Trinity P. E. Church (near Hughesville?), Md., in 1759. Since this was the only year in which he was taxed, it is suggested that he was a bachelor at that time. Since he was in Prince Georges Co., Md., in the 1776 census, it is possible that he was not taxed the next year because he moved to Prince Georges County.

During his college years at Franciscan College, Quincy, Ill., Dayton Henry Mudd worked to pay his tuition. Later he was employed by his guardian in his general store at Silex, Mo., earning $10 a month. Later he went to Essex, Mo., near Sikeston, gaining additional knowledge in the mercantile business, working from 7:00 A.M. till late at night.

While on a purchasing trip to St. Louis, Dayton Mudd heard of James Cash Penney, who was opening a partnership in the West and looking for ambitious young men to join him. The Penney Company evolved from the original Golden Rule stores.

Beginning in 1906, Dayton Mudd earned promotions and opened his first store in Bingham Canyon, Utah. The J. C. Penney Company was incorporated in 1913 at Salt Lake City, Utah and Dayton Mudd became Vice President and a Director, having these positions for the remainder of his career. William Shercliff, the progenitor of the Shercliff family, who m. Melinda Mudd is possibly descended from John Shercliff who settled in St. Marys Co., Md., in 1646.

Lewis Shercliff, son of Melinda Mudd and William Shercliff, settled near his brother Francis in Fairfield Co., Ohio about 1830. The children were:

1. Rosanna, b. 1832, m. about 1857, Samuel Spurrier (b. Harrison Co., Ohio 1831), son of Warner Suprrier, b. 1807, Frederick Co., Md., and Mary Hopps?, b. 1812.

Mae Spurrier, (dau. of Samuel Suprrier), m. John Cowan, of Solon, Iowa in 1889 and their only dau. was Mrs. Herman H. Smith, of Detroit, Michigan.

Austin L. Shercliff was deceased by 1953.

Mrs. Elsie Isbell checked the records at Maryland Historical Society and found that it was Rebecca Ann Cooke, dau. of William Cooke and Leta who was born 7-7-1807 and not Robert Cooke.

1023a.

Mrs. Richard Cole, Alpha, Ill., wrote (Feb. 1962) that Leonard Hagan, b. about 1790 in Maryland, m. before 1814, Elizabeth Cooke, dau. of William Cooke and Elizabeth Mudd, of Charles Co. They had issue, baptized St. Vincent Church, Union Co., Ky., between 1814 and 1836.

Leonard Hagan bought land in Union Co., Ky., in 1823 and d. in that Co., in 1837.

Mrs. Elsie Isbell made a careful study of the Cooke family with respect to the Mudd marriages and she feels (with good proof) that the William Cooke who apparently m. 1st Elizabeth Mudd and 2d Violetta Mudd was a son of William Cooke who made his Will 4-26-1819, prob. 7-6-1819 (Chas. Co., Md., L. 14, f 76) (see p. 1029).

In the 1800 census of Trinity Parish, Charles Co., Md., Walter Mudd was listed between Elijah Canter, son of William (Jr. ?) and Paulseas (?) Richards, who m. Lorena Beavin, dau. of Benjamin Beavin, who made his Will in 1820 and left Huckleberry Swamp and Hickory Thicket to his son, Charles (see p. 399).

Henry Mudd (possibly ABB but could be ABAA), with John Gardiner and William Cooke witnessed the Will of Benjamin Beavin dated 10-8-1788, prob. 12-8-1788. This Benjamin Beavin mentioned only his wife Martha. Mrs. Elsie Isbell, McLean, Va., felt that this Benjamin Beavin was related to the Francis Beavin who m. Sarah, dau. of William Cooke.

Sarah (Cook) Beavin, dau. of William Cook (Cooke) was the wife of Francis Beavin. Elizabeth (Cook) Hagan was the wife of Leonard Hagan.

Mrs. Charles W. Isbell reported that William Cooke (d. 1819) also had a daughter, Ann H.

The Blandford file contains a splendid account of the ancestry of Mary Blandford, wife of Bennett Mudd, prepared by Harry W. Newman, Washington, D.C. He reports that Charles Blandford, father of Mary (above) died testate in 1782 and Rebecca, his wife, died after 1754.

The parents of Charles Blandford were Thomas, who died testate in Prince Georges County, Md., in 1749 and his wife, Sarah Beavan (or Bevan), dau. of Charles and Mary Beavin. This Thomas Blandford was the grandfather of Mary Blandford and not great-great-grandfather as was stated in the 1st edition and corrected in the 2d edition. Thomas Blandford, father of Thomas, above, emigrated to Maryland prior to 1673 and died testate in Prince Georges Co., Md., in 1698. He m. Mrs. Tabitha Mill, widow of William Mill, who died testate in Prince Georges Co., Md., in 1700.

Thomas Blandford (or Blanford) (father of Charles, whose daughter married Bennett Mudd) made his Will 6-14-1749, (Prince Georges Co., Md., Liber 27, f 13). In addition to those referred to in the book as being mentioned in the Will, the following should be added: "Grandson Philip Edelen; daughter, Mary Edelen; daughter Sarah Clarkson.

With respect to Charles Mudd (ABCD) possibly being named for his grandfather, Charles Blandford, it is also possible that Charles Blandford was named for his (C. B.'s) grandfather Charles Beavin as Charles Blandford was son of Thomas Blandford, son of Charles Beavin's daughter Sarah.

In the 1800 census Bennett Mudd (ABC) was listed next to Benjamin Beavin.

Dr. Robert Mudd was referred to as a noted physician of Washington Co., Ky., and as having been a student of St. Thomas Aquinas College, Kentucky (see Springfield, Ky., Sun 4-25-1957).

If this were the census report of Loretta Mudd Craycroft (ABCAI) then the statement in the 1st edition that she was deceased by 1847 is incorrect.

Thomas Craycroft (1781-1851), m. 1st Mary Ann Edelen and had issue:

1. Lucinda Ann, who m. 9-8-1828, Thomas J. Simpson (son of Joseph) and had issue: Julia, Robert, Martha L., and Alexius Simpson (see 1850 census Washington Co., Ky.)

3. Thomas Jr. (note this indicates an error in the 1st edition where it was shown that Thomas Jr., was son of Loretta Mudd (Deleted in 2d edition), b. 7-21-1813, d. 5-3-1874, m. 12-30-1839, Delia Johnson.
   Issue:

The "Craycroft" file contains a more complete account of the descendants of Thomas Craycroft and Mary Ann Edelen.

Priscilla Lincoln Smith is reported to have been buried at Springfield, Ky.

Robert Lincoln (ABCAJ 2) is reported to have been in the merchandising business in Webster, Hancock Co., Mo., in 1863. In 1860 he was defeated for Sheriff of Hancock Co., by M. S. Carey. (Dobbins papers).

In the 1860 census Hancock Co., Ill., 7 -6-1860, Robert Lincoln, 38, was in the same home with Mary I. (or J.) Lincoln, 35, and Parmelia, 31, and next entries were: Nicholas Lincoln, 24, and Ellen Lincoln, 18. These were the sons and daughters of Abraham Lincoln and Elizabeth Lucretia Mudd.

There is a clipping in the Hezekiah Mudd (ABCA) folder indicating that President Lincoln issued a military commission to Robert Lincoln, the son of his first cousin, Abraham Lincoln. This commission certificate was given to the Illinois Historical Society by the LaHarpe American Legion.

Mary Jane Lincoln died in Jacksonville, Ill., and not in LaHarpe, Ill., on 8-30-1888, and not 8-29-1888 (See "LaHarper", LaHarpe, Ill., 8-30-1888).

Upon the death of Permelia Lincoln, a petition was filed in connection therewith and her next of kin were listed as John O. L. Anderson, Clement Charles McGill, Mary E. McGill and Robert Joseph McGill, children of Priscilla Florida, a daughter of Priscilla Smith, who was a sister of Permelia Lincoln. (Hancock Co., Ill., Court Record). After the payment of all claims, the heirs received a total of $124.73. (Ref. Mrs. Dobbins). Mrs. Dobbins states that Permelia A. Lincoln spent a great deal of time in her (Mrs. Dobbins) home.

Hezekiah Lincoln was a lawyer and merchant. He referred to Martha Tabb and Alice Virginia Tabb as cousins, lending credence to the belief that Ellen C. Neighbors, who m. George Y. Tabb (see 695a) was a daughter of Martha Lincoln (of Mordecai) and George Washington Neighbors. In the 1870 census, LaHarpe, Hancock Co., Ill., Hezekiah Lincoln, 39, and wife, Phoebe A., age 35, had Martha Tabb, 18, and Alice Tabb, 16, both b. Kentucky in their household. Mrs. Ruby Dobbins, Lincoln, Nebraska stated she had letters of the Tabb children (children of George Y. Tabb).

The home of Hezekiah Lincoln was across the street from the Catholic Church and that of Parmelia A. Lincoln, his sister, was on a corner of the same street in LaHarpe, Ill.

August 10, 1829 also given as d. of b. of Hezekiah Lincoln (see his obituary in LaHarpe, Ill., 9-28-1888). He was b. Grayson Co., Ky. He died at his residence in LaHarpe, Ill. Date of death in the clipping is 9-26-1888. (See The "Harper", 9-28-1888).

A photo of Ellen Lincoln, who m. John Sullivan is in the folder of Hezekiah Mudd (ABCA).

Ellen Lincoln Sullivan is reported to have been buried "in the West" (Possibly Fort Worth, Texas?) (See "LaHarper", LaHarpe, Ill., 9-28-1888). She appears to have had no issue as far as is known.

(d. 4-8-1923)

Abraham Lincoln (son of Mordecai) is reported to have been a soldier in the Black Hawk War and was a Pvt. in Alexander White's Company of Mounted Rangers, May 26th to June 15, 1832. He was one of the earliest Justices of Peace of Hancock Co., as was his brother, James. He served on the grand jury and was judge of elections in the Crooked Creek precinct. On one occasion Abraham Lincoln and several others, including Raymond Horace Mudd were tried for inciting a riot (see p. 1067) and an attack on one Jabez. The trial was held at Quincy in Nov. 1835 but the results of the trial are not on record. Benjamin E. Mudd (see p. 1063) was one of those who testified (see file for complete report of trial) (see Hancock County Journal, Carthage, Ill., 2-11-1954). Abraham Lincoln and his brothers James and Mordecai, Jr., owned land in Fountain Green Township, Hancock Co., Ill.

At the old cemetery at Fountain Green, Ill., the following records were found:

Abraham Lincoln, d. Jan. 22, 1852 (The M. F. H. says March x 1852).

Elizabeth Lincoln, wife of Abraham Lincoln, d. 9-17-1851, age 51 years, 8 months, 17 days.

Robert Lincoln (obviously son of above) d. 9-4-1868, age 45 years, 6 months.

On the same lot as Elizabeth Lincoln was George Y. Tabb, d. 3-26-1862, age 27 years, 10 months, 15 days.

At the LaHarpe, Ill., cemetery the following were found:

Hezekiah Lincoln, son of Elizabeth Lucretia and Abraham Lincoln, d. 9-25-1888, (9/26 also copied), age 59 years, 1 month, 16 days. Phoebe, wife of Hezekiah Lincoln d. 4-8-1923.

Nicholas, 3rd son and 6th child of Abraham Lincoln, of Fountain Green, d. 3-7-1888, age 53 years, 9 months, 11 days.

Permelia A. Lincoln, d. 12-12-1895 (note the last of the children of Abraham Lincoln and Elizabeth Lucretia Mudd).

Mary J. Lincoln, 2nd. dau., and 3rd child of Abraham Lincoln, d. 8-29-1888.

The Will of Abraham Lincoln, (received from Mrs. Ruby Dobbins), of Fountain Green, Ill., provided as follows:

To daughters Mary Jane Lincoln, Permelia Lincoln and Ellen Lincoln, the use of the farm upon which he resided.....(described) - in the State of Illinois, as long as they remain unmarried (explaining that this will continue till 2 are deceased or married).

To aforesaid daughters, each,2 cows and calves and the furniture in the house. To son, Hezekiah and Nicholas Lincoln, one horse, saddle and bridle.....and to each one a yoke of oxen.

To son Robert any sums of money he may have already given him. He appoints his son Robert and Stephen H. Tyler, Jr., as executors. Dated 10-11-1851, probated at Carthage, Ill., 4-5-1852. (Full copy in folder of Hezekiah Mudd (ABCA).

After the death of Mrs. Aaron Brewer, who had a life interest in the farm owned by Abraham Lincoln (ABACD 2), the land was sold at auction about 1940 and was bought by Valda Blythe. The Abraham Lincoln farm was reported to be owned in 1963 by Mrs. Elmer Mershon.

The file contains an indenture dated Jan. 5, 1850 between Daniel Green, of Marietta, Ohio and Abraham Lincoln (ABACD 2) of Harwick Co., Ill., whereby a tract of land in Harwick Co., Ill., was sold to Abraham Lincoln for $75. It contained 46.96 acres. The original document was given to the Illinois Historical Society in 1963 by Dr. R. D. Mudd, it having been given to him by Mrs. Ruby Dobbins, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Barbara Agnes Mudd, m. St. Louis, Mo., Jan. ? 1960? , Harry L. Ritchey Jr.

The full name of the wife of John Elzare Mudd was Delilah Jane Graham (d. 7-28-1953). She and husband were m. in 1905, location unknown. She was dau. of Patrick M. Graham and Vina Huff.

In the 1st edition John Elzare Mudd was given a 2d marriage to Stella King. His son, Elzara John Mudd (also referred to as Elzare John Mudd) m. 1st Stella King in or nr. Eolia, Mo., and had a son Elzare John, Jr., b. Pike Co., Mo., 9-2-1929. Elzara John Mudd (b. 8-27-1907), m. 2dly Gertrude ..... He had a son, Roy Leon, who was m. and resd.,1953, in St. Louis, Mo. Horton Leon Mudd married and in 1953 resd., in Silex, Mo. No other information received.

Another issue of (John) Elzare Mudd (ABCAE ABC) is Samuel Nicholas Mudd, of Silex, Mo., b. St. Louis, Mo., 2-28-1911, m. Troy, Mo.,11-5-1938, Bertha Rose Eddy, dau. of John William Eddy and Sarah Ellen Galloway.

John Elzare Mudd (b. 1874) had one dau. Margaret Jane (or Margaret Edna) who m. 1947 Ray Ferguson. Res. St. Louis, Mo. No issue (1953).

1121a.

One record in the file gives 9-25-1846 as the date of birth of Nicholas Mudd, son of John Mudd (ABCAE B).

In the 1st edition it was stated that Susanna Mary Mudd, 2d wife of John Mudd (ABCAE B) died "possibly 1-15-1910", however, Gertrude (Mudd) Hawkins (p. 989) stated that her mother, Harriet Booker Mudd (see p. 1122) always said that her mother, Susanna Mary Mudd died when she (Harriet B.) was 13 years old, viz. about 1867.

John Mudd and wife, Susanna, are buried at Indian Creek, Mo.

Aloysius Mudd was probably Aloysius B. Mudd. He died, unm., 8-18-1951.

Harriet Booker Mudd told her daughter, Cecelia Gertrude (Mudd) Hawkins that Alton, (full name Alton Lee Mudd) b. 3-27-1863 and Sererus (also known as Servier) Mudd were born before Aloysius Mudd and that Aloysius was the baby of the family. Alton Mudd died of typhoid fever. Mrs. Hawkins feels that James R. Mudd (p. 1121) might be the same as Sererus (or Sevieron or Severus). He may have d. in 1873.

Effie Marie, b. 8-4-1879, daughter of Mary Louise Mudd was Effie Marie Mudd, dau. of Mary Louise and her 2d husband, Thaddeus Chrysostum Mudd. Effie Marie died in infancy. (Reference: Cecelia Gertrude (Mudd) Hawkins).

Mrs. Hawkins believes that 1-23-1849 was the correct d/b of Ann Maria Mudd as she was born in the same month and on the same day of the month as Thaddeus Leslie Mudd (p. 988).

In the 1st edition it was stated that "Mildred Kertley Henry probably married Dan Lyons." This was an error and has been corrected. Mildred never married. Elza Irene Henry, her sister, married Dan Lyons (see below) and had issue: Henry, unm.; Lawrence; Joseph and Madonna who m. Martin Schneidler.

Elza Irene Henry (b. Millwood, Mo.) d. 7-26-1955, m. 10-12 (or 17)-1906, Daniel Clarence Lyons (who d. 3-28-1945).

Issue: 1. Henry Daniel, b. 12-28-1911, unm. 2. Lawrence Philip, b. 6-9-1916, m. Mabel Blanche Cohea. Issue: a. Alice Louise, b. 1-23-1953. b. Betty Irene, b. 8-7-1955.
3. Joseph Edmund, b. 11-16-1919, m. Genevieve Brozek.

b. Norma Lee, m. William N. Royster and have 5 children.
c. Larna Marie, m. John R. Pieretti. No issue (Jan. 1969).

1122a. (Contd)

Ora Rosalie (or Rosalee) Henry and Robert Lawrence Flynn had the following issues:

1. Robert Nicholas, b. Cheyenne, Wyo., 8-17-1915, m. Millwood, Mo., 12-30-1936, Vaneta Von Woods. Issue: Raymond Dale Flynn, b. Silex, Mo., 10-29-1937, unm.
2. Isabell, b. Olney, Mo., 4-5-1918, m. 12-30-1936, Virgil Hustedde.
   Issue:
   a. Robert Eugene, b. 11-23-1937, m. 1st Warrenton, Mo., Judy Young, m. 2d Joan .....
      Issue: (of Robert Eugene Hustedde)
      I. Robert Monte Hustedde.
      II. Shirley Ann Hustedde, m. Thomas Byers.

7-8-1884 was given as the correct date of birth of Mildred Kertley Henry.

The full date of marriage of Harriet Booker Mudd and John Robert Mudd was 12-12-1876.

Mrs. (Cecelia) Gertrude Hawkins contends that the correct name of Harriet Booker (who was Gertrude's mother) was Harriet Bucher Mudd. She has a letter from her father to substantiate this. Booker or Bucher was a family name. She feels that the middle name definitely was not Buckman. The family thought that the priest maybe interpreted it to be Buckman. (See FN 15, p. 1123). She was named after the most beautiful girl in Ky., according to her father.

Mrs. Hawkins found a faded piece of brown paper on which all the children of John and Susanna Mary Mudd were listed except Aloysius. She felt that the notes were made before Aloysius, the youngest child, was born. There are some differences in birth dates on this piece of paper as compared with those recorded in this book, and according to the ages listed in census. This record was made by John Mudd or his wife Susanna Mary Mudd. A copy is in the file.

The faded record of births referred to on p. 1122a gives 9-5-1846 as d/b of Nicholas Dominick Mudd and since he was baptized on 9-28-1846 above date is probably correct. Millwood, Mo., was given (in 1st edition) as his place of birth. This seems unlikely since he was baptized in Ky., and his father apparently left Ky., for Mo., in 1849 (see p. 1123).

Mrs. Cecelia Gertrude Hawkins feels that neither birth date given for Albert Sterling Mudd is correct because he was born prior to her sister, Mary Lillian Mudd (p. 989) who was b. in 1880. The official record of his death was obtained and it shows 9-26-1879 as d/b in Lincoln Co., Mo. He was a farmer.

One record in file gives 12-30-1897 as d/b of Alphonsus Legouri (spelled Ligori) Mudd.

One record in file refers to John Delbert Mudd as John Albert Mudd. He is also referred to as Adelbert Mudd and 1-26-1898 also given as his d/b (which would be the same as Homer Basil Mudd and therefore probably incorrect). He died unm. at Sanford, Florida.

1125a.

Rosie Marie Mudd (also referred to as Rosa May Mudd), Res., 1969, Sanford, Florida.

Lola Lucy Mudd referred in baptismal record as Lucy D. Mudd was b. 3-9-1906 and was baptized St. Alphonsus Church, Millwood, Mo., 4-26-1906 instead of 3-9-1906. (Ref. Worland Family History ..... Olive Lewis Kolb).

One record in the file gives the middle name of Josephine Worland to be Regina instead of Coaena.

Homer Basil Mudd d. 9-5-1968. In the obituary notice his children were referred to as Julia Friedman; Jean Combs (this is Olive Regina); Martha Scott; Theresa Knipp; Al; George; Glenn (Homer Glennon); Eddie and James.

June 21, 1946 also given as d. of m. of Alphonsus L. Mudd and Bessie N. Schmidt.

Alphonsus Legouri Mudd (1924 believed to be correct year of birth) and wife Bessie Nadine Schmidt had a son Phillip Allen Mudd, b. Denver, Colo., 12-4-1949.

George Raymond Mudd (1926 believed to be correct year of birth) had following additional children:

Paul Thomas, b. St. Louis, Mo., 11-24-1950. George Raymond, II, b. ibid 8-18-1956.

(Ref. Olive L. Kolb)

The birth date of Glenda Lee Mudd is also reported to be 9-22-1948.

1126a.

John Nichlas Mudd (reported as John Nicholas Mudd) d. Montgomery, Mo., 8-24-1932. (Ref. Worland History; Kolb, Olive).

Edward O'Donald Mudd (also reported as Edward O'Donnell Mudd) (same ref.) m. San Carlos, Calif., 5-18-1963, Sarah LaRosa, dau. of Mario LaRosa and Mary Vivona. The wife, Sarah LaRosa, had 3 children by a former marriage. (Ref. Olive L. Kolb).

James Matthew Mudd, m. San Diego, Calif., 6-27-1964, Rosali Modica, dau. of August Modica and Mary O'Ercole.
Issue: Kevin (or Keven?) Matthew, b. Redwood City, Calif., 7-11-1966.

Olive Regina Mudd, m. St. Louis, Mo., 9-27-1949, James Norman Combs (b. Florissant, Mo., 3-14-1928), son of James Norman Combs and Mary Elizabeth Capstick. (Ref: Olive Kolb).
Issue:
1. James Norman, II, b. St. Louis, Mo., 12-27-1953. 2. John Nolan, b. ibid 3-29-1956.

1936 was also given as year of birth of Martha Adelle Mudd. She m. St. Louis, Mo., 5-20-1961, Robert J. Scott.
Issue: Robert Bryan, b. St. Louis, Mo., 11-13-1964.

Anna (or Ann) Theresa Mudd, m. St. Louis, Mo., 4-18-1964, Cecil Edward Knipp.
Issue: Angela Marie, b. St. Louis, Mo. 2-27-1966.

Richard Wheatley, son of Mary J. Mudd and Stephen B. Wheatley, was Stephen Richard Wheatley. He never married.

Leo Wheatley resd. (1967) in Louisville, Ky., and died 2-2-1968.

1131a.

Margaret McCarty (probably not McCarthy) was dau. of Patrick James McCarty and Eliza Ellen Shocklee (of Willis^2, William^1) (See Ref. 237).

1135a.

Mrs. Elsie Isbell found that Martha Clarkson, wife of Henry Lowe Mudd, was dau. of Edward Clarkson and Martha Blandford, dau. of Thomas Blandford and Sarah Beavin, dau. of Charles Beavin (his Will 1697). She gives as references Thomas Blandford's Will (copy in file) and 1776 census of Prince Georges Co., Md. (St. John's and P. G. Parishes).

1136a.

Martha Buckman m., Washington Co., Ky., 4-23-1833, Edward L. Clarkson, son of Edward Knotley Clarkson and Lucy Edelen and had issue:

1. Robert Palmer, went to Texas. 2. James. 3. George.

Martha died 1838 and Edward L. Clarkson remarried to Cynthia Ann Turner and had 3 children. Edward L. Clarkson made his Will 4-6-1843, prob. 8-28-1843 (Washington Co., Ky.).

Joseph Buckman made his Will on 9-14-1839 (Prob. 10-28-1839). Therein he refers to sons, John, Francis, Henry (Harry), James and daughter Betsy. He refers to Martha's son and Susan's children; to Elizabeth Buckman, wife of son George Buckman and referred to Betsy as being in the religious life. Witnesses: John B. Smith and John H. Parott (Bk. G. p. 108, Washington Co., Ky.) This Will indicates that the issue listed as #5 of Mildred Mudd and Joseph Buckman should be 2 daughters, Susan and Martha instead of one issue as stated in the 1st edition. (Ref. Olive Lewis Kolb).

One researcher copied the name of the husband of Martha Mudd as Raphael Sphinx instead of Ralph Spink.

Mrs. Oscar W. Wagner, of Fern Creek, Ky., states that Raphael Spinks (or Spink) married 2dly in Nelson Co., Ky., 11-2-1827, Sarah Tennelly, dau. of Charles B. Tennelly. In the first edition it was reported that Raphael Spinks m. 2dly Sarah Burch (d. c 1849), a sister of Eleanor Burch who was Nicholas Mudd's (ABABC) 1st wife. This Eleanor Burch did have a sister Sarah but she was not the 2d wife of Raphael Spinks.

Raphael Spinks made his Will May 18, 1831 (copy in file) (not 1837 as in 1st edition, if we have the correct Raphael Spinks) and it was not probated till 7-16-1860. He devised to his wife Sarah and at her death to his brothers and sisters and their children (Will Bk. K 452, Washington Co., Ky.) In a suit of St. Rose Church vs Raphael Spinks heirs dated 2-20-1860 his many heirs through his brothers and sisters are listed (copy in file).

Jane Mudd, who m. Cornelius Kelly, was a dau. of Henry Lowe Mudd (ABCB) but was not mentioned in his Will. It could be that she was deceased or the father had good reason in omitting her. The signers of the marriage bond for the marriage of Jane Mudd and Cornelius Kelly were Cornelius Kelly and Walter B. Dummitt.

Edward Clarkson in his Will recorded on p. 1137, left the 100 a. of land to Lee Mudd during his (Lee's) father, Bennett Mudd's life and after Bennett Mudd's death, the land to revert to his (Edward Clarkson's) son Henry. Ref. 236, p. 218).

See Ref., 51, Vol. 2, p. 298 for reference to Henry Lowe Mudd's oath of Fidelity and Support.

1138a.

In the 1st edition in the Will of Henry Lowe Mudd the wife was referred to as Martha C. The "C" as middle initial was probably incorrect as a careful reading of the Will indicated that the "M" in the Mudd name was made with a peculiar hook which made it look like Martha C. Mudd.

1141a.

John Mudd probably had a dau. who m. a Smith. The John Smith who became the administrator of the estate of Sophia Mudd was referred to as "Nephew" of Sophia.

Mr. Harry W. Newman feels this is enough proof that a dau. of John Mudd m. a Smith.

1148a.

Robert Abell (mentioned in 2d paragraph, 1st edition), son of Samuel Abell and Eleanor O'Bryan, and brother of Alethaire Abell, who m. Benedict Spalding, Jr., led his own and a group of other Catholic families to the Rolling Fork in Ky., in 1788. He prospered and was a leading man in the community. (Ref. 235, p. 19).

The parents of Philip Miles, father-in-law of John Mudd (ADA) possibly were John Barton Miles and Elizabeth Gardiner. Tim O'Rourke, Kansas City, Mo., stated that Philip Miles might have been named after Philip Key who married his aunt, Susannah Gardiner.

Elizabeth (Gardiner) Miles, widow of John Barton Miles (he d. Nov. 1764) made her Will in St. Marys Co., Md. (probated 5-12-1772) (Part 2 Will Bk. 38, p. 848). She devised to Rev. Fr. James Walton; to son, Philip Miles (m. Eleanor O'Bryan); daughter, Elizabeth Wildman; grand-daughter, Dorothy Wildman; daughter Rebecca Hill (wife of Thomas Hill); son John Miles; daughter Ellender Miles; and son Henry Richard Miles. (see p. 851 for Wildman family). Tim O'Rourke felt that Elizabeth, daughter of Elizabeth(Gardiner) Miles above did not marry a Wildman.

Whether or not the above Philip Miles was the father-in-law of John Mudd (ADA) is somewhat doubtful.

Eleanor, the wife of Philip Miles, is reported to have been formerly an O'Bryan (I don't know if this is the same Philip Miles as above).

Elizabeth (Gardiner) Miles, above, was a sister of Susannah Gardiner, wife of Philip Key and was dau. of John Gardiner and Mary Boarman. (Ref. 236, p. 586). This John Gardiner appears to have been an uncle (father's brother) of Ann Gardiner who m. Thomas Mudd (ABA) (see p. 405).

Following is additional information on the children of Philip Miles and Eleanor O'Bryan:

William, b. 1749?, d. Washington Co., Ky., 1827. Left a Will.
Barton Elexious - Possibly the Elexious Miles who left a Will in Washington Co., Ky., 1832, married Sarah. Witnesses: Joseph Vain and others.
Joseph went to Perry Co., Mo., d. there 1821.
Edwin Francis, b. 1757, d. Perry Co., Mo., 5-11-1823, m. 10-1-1796, Eleanor Forrest, dau. of Thomas Forrest and Catherine Spalding. Eleanor was b. 1781, d. 2-5-1826.

In Footnote #1, the Thomas James Boarman (d. 1785) referred to was "Sr." The latter had a son, Thomas James Boarman who m. Susannah Semmes, dau. of Marmaduke Semmes and Henrietta Jenkins. The Jean Boarman referred to was wife of Thomas James Boarman, Sr. She was Jane Edelen, dau. of Richard Edelen, Gent of "Lanterman". (Ref. 35, p. 200 et sequa.)

1150a.

Mrs. Ruth P. Burdette located the m. bond of Henry Mudd (who was referred to therein as son of Elizabeth Mudd) and Marie Canter, dau. of Zachariah Canter. Witnesses: James Busick and Richard Hardesty. This further identifies Henry Mudd. The date of his bond was 11-2-1818.

A Zachariah Canter, m. Amney (?) Adams in Prince Georges, Md., 12-12-1797. (Ref. Mrs. C.W. Isbell). He could have been the father of Marie Canter. There is a Charles Co., Md., land transaction referring to Zachariah Canter of Jackson Co., Tenn. Whether or not this is the same Zachariah Canter is not known. Ashby H. Canter, Falls Church, Va., sent considerable records on this family. (See Canter file).

Mrs. C. W. Isbell stated that Zachariah Canter, who appears to have been the father of Marie, who married David Henry Mudd, had a brother, Elijah. The latter was a son of William Canter, Jr., who left a widow, Elizabeth, who filed a first account of her husband's estate on 6-15-1793. John R. Adams and Walter Burch were the appraisers. Elizabeth, William Canter's (Jr) widow, died and Elijah continued as administrator.

1151a.

The following marriage license was found in Nelson Co., Ky.: Henry Mudd, son of Elizabeth Mudd, m. Acquilla Nalley 11-24-1826. Surety: James Nalley. Possibly this was a second marriage of (David) Henry Mudd; or Henry Mudd and David H. Mudd were 2 persons instead of one.

Mrs. Ruth F. Burdette located the bond of marriage of Kitty Mudd to Leonard Alley, age 21. Kitty is referred to as over 21, and a sister of Thomas Mudd. The only Thomas Mudd of proper age was John Thomas Mudd, probably son of Rhodias Elexius Mudd and wife (Elizabeth?).

Mrs. Burdette also located the marriage bond of Rebecca Mudd ("dau. of the widow, Elizabeth Mudd") and Edward D. Marr dated 1-6-1820. Surety: Samuel Weller. Witnesses: Charles Weller and Martha Weller. These bonds increase the probability that Kitty and Rebecca were children of Rhodias E. Mudd and wife, Elizabeth.

Mrs. Ruth F. Burdette located the following marriage bond in Green Co., Ky., dated 1-2-1819 of David Higgins and Helen Mudd, dau. of Elizabeth Spencer. Note that we report the marriage of Thomas Spence and Elizabeth Mudd in Washington Co., Ky., 7-13-1805. This would indicate that Elizabeth Mudd was a widow when she married Thomas Spence. Thomas Spence made a Will (Will Book 2, f 208, Green Co., Ky.) which was undated (unfortunately). In it he wills 104 acres of land to Helen Mudd after the death of his wife, Elizabeth Spence, and himself. The Will was signed by Thomas Spence and Elizabeth Spence. Witnesses were: Robert Jarboe and Augustin Heston. It was produced in court 6-17-1832 by David Higgins and proved by Augustin Heston. This Will suggests it was made prior to Jan. 2, 1819 because after that date Helen Mudd was Mrs. Helen Higgins. It also indicates that this Helen Mudd is the one who m. David Higgins.

Obviously Elizabeth Mudd, who m. Thomas Spence(or Spencer) was not the widow of Rhodias E. Mudd because in 1820 Elizabeth Mudd, widow of R. E. Mudd, was referred to as "widow Eliz. Mudd" (RDM).

Mrs. Ruth Burdette, who found these Spence (or Spencer) records feels quite sure that Helen Mudd was Elizabeth Spence's daughter. If this be true that Elizabeth Spence, formerly Elizabeth Mudd, was a widow but she could hardly be a widow of Rhodias E. Mudd since she married in 1805 and Rhodias Mudd d. about 1817. Mrs. Burdette suspects that Elizabeth Mudd married Thomas Spencer because the Spencer name is so common in Taylor Co., which was formed from Green Co.

After the above was written and awaiting printing, Ashby H. Canter, Falls Church, Va., sent record indicating that William Canter, Sr., left the following 5 children:

Jane Lyon, who had a dau. Susannah; Ann Hickey, who had a son, William; Susannah, who m. Gabriel Moran; Elizabeth Mudd and James Canter, Sr., and the representatives of Sarah Moran decd. This indicates that Elizabeth Canter married a Mudd who died in 1798. Ashby Canter could not find a marriage record.

William Canter's Will was prepared 1792-93? and Elizabeth was referred to as Elizabeth Canter, and in the final distribution she was Elizabeth Mudd so she married a Mudd between 1792/93 and 10/24/1801. If the Elizabeth Mudd who married Thomas Spence (or Spencer) was this Elizabeth (Canter) Mudd, then her husband died before 1805 when she married Thomas Spence (or Spencer). It is possible, if not probable, that Helen Mudd was her only child. Since a son of Rhodias Elexius Mudd, David H. Mudd, m. Marie Cantor and this is the only Mudd who married into the Canter (Cantor) family, it is likely that a son of Rhodias Elexius Mudd married Elizabeth Canter between 1792/93 and 1801 and died by 1805. This is a very thin line of reasoning. It is remarkable how little information has come down to us on the Rhodias Elexius family. (see p. 1353 for descendants of Helen Mudd and David Higgins). None of the Higgins family answered queries which were sent.

Mrs. Ruth Burdette carefully inspected the Court and other records of Nelson Co., Ky., about the period of 1848 but could find no record of the death of Mary Elizabeth Mudd. (No administration of her estate).

William G. Smith, Genealogist, could find no record of Military Service for Rhodias Elexius Mudd (or any of the other spellings of his name) in the U.S. Archives.

1153a.

When John Thomas Mudd m. Ann Queen, the latter was referred to as dau. of widow Elizabeth Queen so apparently James Queen was deceased. The date of marriage also was given as 5-23-1818. (Possibly date of license).

Mary S. Mudd, dau. of Richard Mudd is also referred to as Mary L. Mudd and her year of birth as 1862.

1155a.

The Will of Nancy Mudd was dated Jan. 10, 1877 and prob. in Nelson Co., Ky., 7-14-1884 (Will Bk. 19, p. 121). Therein she stated that she is old and feeble and that all her children have married and left her. She left all her landed property in Balltown, also her household and kitchen furniture to Meletus and Henry Mudd. Witnesses: J. A. Cecil and John R. Hagen.

Additional Queen family data: Joseph Queen, b. 9-17-1803, 2d child of James Queen and Elizabeth Boone also married a Hayden vis: Julia A. Hayden, dau. of Stanislaus Hayden and Henrietta Hinton. (See last para., p. 1155).

Elizabeth Boone, wife of James Queen is reported to have been the dau. of Nicholas Boone and Jane Gardiner (of John) instead of Ignatius Boone as stated in 1st edition and corrected. (Ref. 139, p. 137).

Frank Queen, a brother of Ann Ellen Queen, m. 1st Mary Malvina Price, 2d Mary Hayden, dau. of Stanley (Stanislaus?) Hayden. He died in Birmingham, Ala., which tends to suggest the relationship of this (John) Thomas Mudd family to James Mudd (ADAAB) who is the ancestor of the Birmingham Mudds. (see p. 1170).

1267a.

One record in file gives 4-15-1929 as date of marriage of John Thomas Mudd and Margaret Fern Cochran.

1269a.

Rudolph Linus Mudd stated that the wife of Edmund James Mudd was Mary Cecelia Queffenne, dau. of Alfred Queffenne.

One record in file gives date of marriage of Eleanor Cecelia Mudd and Edward Leo Hord as 6-16-1938, but 6-18 is believed to be correct. (See St. Louis Post Dispatch 6-15-1938, p. 5 d.)

1271a.

In the Trinity Church P. E. Parish records cited, on 7-13-1762 Clement Mudd's name is listed but is crossed out, further suggesting that Clement Mudd was married in 1761/62. Batchelors were taxed 30 lbs. of tobacco each and ceased to be taxed when married.

1277a.

Mrs. Marie Gardiner (Whitmore) Calhoun was reported (by Aug. 12, 1952) to be married to Clegg Monroe.

The George Gardiner, who made his Will 5-3-1865, probated 9-30-1873, was probably not George Washington Gardiner, as stated in 1st edition and corrected. A copy of the Will of this George Gardiner is in the file. There is no middle name.

Considerable evidence indicates that the home of Squire George Gardiner was located about 50 yards from the future home of Rose de Lima (Emie) Mudd and Albert G. Gardiner (see p. 531) which was built after the home of Squire George Gardiner's home disappeared (burned?). It was at this site where Booth bought the one-eyed horse in the Fall of 1864, used by Louis Powell, alias Payne, on the night of the Lincoln Assassination, April 14, 1865.

With respect to Mary Jane Simms, who was living at Dr. Samuel A. Mudd's (see ps. 425 & 533) in 1860 she was a different person than Mary Simms, a household worker for Dr. Samuel A. Mudd and also in his household. (See Assassination of President Lincoln, Benn Pittman, p. 182).

The reported marriage of Catherine (Kitty) Mudd to William Jordon, as stated in 1st edition, was incorrect. A Matilda Mudd married William Jordon and it is certain that she was not the daughter of Roswell Mudd. Her parentage is not established. (See p. 353a).

1282a.

The first name of the mother of Mary Gardiner, wife of Leonard Mudd (ADBB) was Nancy, maiden name unknown (as per report in Gardiner file).

Leonard Mudd's 2d wife was Clarissa McWilliams who had married, St. Marys Co., Md., 12-15-1801, Henry Reeder (Ref. Mrs. Isbell).

Additional information on the family of Thomas Sylvester Gardiner, who was b. 8-21-1806:-

Mary Virginia Gardiner (b. 1833) is reported to have m. Thomas Jamieson.
Beatrice Gardiner and James Gardiner did not marry.
One of the children of Thomas Sylvester Gardiner and wife is reported to have been Laura (possibly a nic-name or an error).
Joseph Bernard Gardiner, m. 1st Miss Dyer, 2nd Miss Coombs, is reported to have had a dau. named Bertie, who resd. in St. Marys County, Md. He served in the Confederate Army.

Thomas Richard Gardiner and Lucy Ann Higdon had following issues:

1. Ralph, d. inf.
2. Percy, d., age 20.
3. Hugh C., m. Mary I. ("Belle") Middleton, sister of Ernest Middleton, Sr. (for his issue see Gardiner folder). One son was Hugh C., Jr., who m. Margaret Frere, who had a son, William Ralph Gardiner, Jr., Perry, Ga., who supplied much information on the Gardiner family).
4. Beatrice, m. Julian Dyer.
5. Carl. (Note: Hugh C. Gardiner, Jr., stated that Thomas Richard Gardiner had a son, Andrew C. Gardiner. Possibly this was Carl.
6. Thomas Cecil, m. Mary Genevieve Mudd (p. 470).

1850 census, Charles Co., Md., (possibly Middletown District):
Thomas S. Gardiner, 44, farmer, valuation $850 and following - all Gardiners. Mary E., 39; Mary V., 17; William M., 15; Beatrice, 14; Joseph, 13; James, 9; Thomas R. 5; Albert, 3. (Note that there is no Roseellen or Laura.

1283a.

Benjamin A. Lancaster, husband of Clarissa Mudd, was known as "Jr." (See p. 522 for sale of lands to Henry L. Mudd).

1285a.

The Will of Elizabeth Reeves, dtd. 3-14-1837 (Charles Co., Md., L.18, p. 197) refers to her nephew, A. I. P. Boarman. She might have been the wife of Thomas Courtney Reeves. She is buried in St. Peter's new cemetery and the stone indicates she died 1840, age 85.

1287a.

The official record of marriage of Amelia Josephine Mudd reads (as copied): Josephine E. Mudd, m. to William S. Busch by Rev. Fr. P. B. Lenaghan on 1-31-1868. One researcher copied the date of marriage as 1-28-1872 and Wm. M. Burch as age 26. Wm. M. Burch, widower, age 34, m. 11-22-1876, Ida Gardiner, age 23 (Charles Co., Md., marriages). Mrs. Elsie Isbell felt that Wm. M. Burch (above) was son of Benedict F. Burch and Elizabeth..... The correct name of the groom in the above records was prob. William Mason Burch and not Busch.

1288a.

Ann Amanda Dyer, b. 1-7-1819, is reported to have married George Washington Gardiner, 2-25-1840 (Henry W. Newman records)(See ps. 152, 853).

George Washington Gardiner was nephew of George Gardiner, probably the one known as Squire Gardiner. Whether or not he was a nephew of an Isadore Gardiner is not known. An old photo of Bryantown, Md., in possession of Patrick C. Mudd, LaPlata, Md., shows the "Squire Gardiner Tavern." Whether this was the same Squire Gardiner is not known.

It is reported that the home of George Washington Gardiner and Rose Ellen Mudd was just North of the present St. Peter's(new cemetery, and the home of William Albert Mudd (ADBBA) was on the West side of the Zekiah Swamp and North of the old St. Peter's Cemetery - reported to be the home now (1966) occupied by Isaac Don Levine. His (William Albert Mudd's) daughters, Emma Sophia, Mary Eulalia and Frances Marian Mudd, lived very nearby but (East of the Zekiah Swamp). Isaac Don Levine says the property was once known as "White Marsh."

Mr. Levine stated in letter (May 1962) that "part of the house we occupy was at the turn of the century the home of Rose E. (Mudd) Gardiner and Emma Sophia Mudd, daughters of William Albert Mudd whose original homestead it may have been. He further stated that "the old wing of our house was constructed by William Albert Mudd around the thirties of the last century."

Mrs. Francis Raymond Mudd (9-10-1967) also confirmed that the Levine home was formerly the home of William Albert Gardiner family.

It is possible that John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Lincoln, passed through the present farm of Isaac Don Levine on the early morning of April 15, 1865 enroute to the Dr. Samuel A. Mudd home. His exact route is not known but the road through the Levine farm would have been much shorter than the one passing in front of St. Peter's Church and the old St. Peter's Cemetery, the commonly accepted route.

In the "Gardiner" file there is a list of descendants of (Joseph) Simms Gardiner (also referred to as Joseph Edward Simms Gardiner), b. 7-6-1856, and Mary Blanche Montgomery, b. Charles Co., Md., 12-15-1868, dau. of Benjamin Franklin Montgomery, b. Charles Co., Md., 1845, son of James Henry Montgomery, (direct descendant of Peter Montgomery, b. 1684 in France) and June E. Berry. (See file for her ancestry).

The Gardiner folder contains a fine description of the property on which (Joseph Edward) Simms Gardiner lived. Mrs. Francis Raymond Mudd stated that Simms Gardiner lived just over the Charles Co., line in Prince Georges Co., but always came to St. Peter's Church, East of Waldorf, Md., in Charles Co.

The Will of Ignatius Gardiner, possibly Ignatius F. (see p. 419?) (1-7-1835, prob. 10-8-1839) is of considerable importance to the Mudd family history because of many connections with the Mudd family. (Ref. Liber P.C. 1, Prince Georges Co., Md.). He devised to: son, Sylvester Francis Gardiner, plantation on which I live being a part of Gardiners Meadows which I purchased of Thomas Mundal. Also to Sylvester F., 1/2 of 106 a. bought from Philip I. Ford. To grandson, John Ignatius Gardiner, son of Walter (obviously Ignatius Walter); To grandson, George Washington Gardiner (see ps. 853, 1277, 1282) son of Sylvester. (George W. Gardiner m. Ann Amanda Dyer (see p. 425). To grandson, Ignatius, son of Aloysius, the plantation on which his mother Elizabeth now lives called Indian Fields, and 100 a. which I purchased of the estate of my late son, Aloysius. Also 1/2 of 100 a. purchased of Philip I. Ford. To grand-daughters, children of Aloysius and Elizabeth viz: Henrietta, Emily, Sarah Anne and Mary Jane. To son-in-law Sylvester Boone (see p. 852) part of Gardiners Meadows, 6 acres . To son, Isadore Gardiner, (see ps. 521, 1277). To son, George Gardiner (this appears to be Squire George Gardiner (see ps. 521, 1277). To sons, Ignatius Walter and Sylvester Francis; to dau., Elizabeth Ann Gwynn (she m. 1-24-1818, Col. Thomas Belt Gwynn) and son-in-law Thomas Gwynn; to dau., Elizabeth Boone (see p. 852) to children of deceased Aloysius: 1. Henrietta (see p. 890; 2. Emily, 3. Sarah Ann; 4. Mary Jane, 5. Ignatius.

To children of deceased dau., Hetty Dyer: 1. George (Ignatius). His son was George Fleming Dyer (see ps. 860,900); 2. Ellen (see Elizabeth Ellen Dyer, p. 428); 3. Mary Ann (Amanda) (see ps. 1277,1288); 4. Mary Jane (for Mary Jane see ps. 425,533,902,1277).

The above Hetty Gardiner was probably the Esther Gardiner who m. Theodore Dyer.

Executor, son George. Witnesses: Theodore Mudd, Edward Smith and Acquilla Marlow.

Ignatius Gardiner, who made his Will 1-7-1835 might have been the son of Ignatius Gardiner who made his Will 1-17-1777 and who mentioned 4 sons in his Will, one of whom was Ignatius.

George Washington Gardiner and Ann Amanda Dyer had a son, not mentioned in the 1st edition, viz: Constantine Aloysius. The Frank Gardiner, son of George Washington Gardiner, was Francis Sylvester Gardiner. The middle initial of George Gardiner (son of George Washington Gardiner) was "S". (Ref. Francis E. Old Jr.).

1289a.

It comprised several hundred acres and a fine old brick house which William Aubrey Mudd said he inherited from a Dyer ancestor. It was sold several times and recently restored. On the South side of the brick house, below the attic window, was inscribed I C D and E K D 1796. The home originally had 4 dormer windows on the front and 4 on the rear, and 8 rooms and a full basement. It has 4 outside chimneys.

Joseph Mudd (England #3) was born at Bethnal Green, London, England about 1805, m. ibid Rebecca Daymond.

Mrs. Ireta C. Ellis, Rigby, Idaho stated that Joseph Mudd (England #3) m. of Stepney, Middlesex, England instead of Bethnal Green, London, England.

The file contains the Will of a Henry Mudd of Stephany, Middlesex, England dated 5-28-1692. It is not reported here as there is no proof that Joseph Mudd is descended from this Henry Mudd, though it is possible.

Additional issues of Joseph Mudd and Rebecca Daymond were:

1. Rebecca, b. Bethnal Green, London, England 8-9-1823 (or 1819)
2. Joseph, Jr., b. ibid 1825, d. Sept. 1853.
3. William, b. ibid 1827.

Sarah Esther Mudd (6-8-1909 also given as her d/d and Edward George Davis (d. Bath, England 5-23-1863; (1867 also stated) had the following issue:

1. Sarah Rebecca Davis, b. London, England 8-8-1848, d. North Ogden, Utah 2-28-1935, m. 10-11-1870 David Edmund Garner (b. 1-10-1846, d. 6-24-1893).
   Issue:
   a. George Edmund Garner, b. North Ogden, Utah 12-15-1875, d. ibid 8-3-1948.
   b. Ella Garner, b. 11-29-1888 m. 3-24-1920, Myron R. Crandall .

2. Susan Kisiah Davis, b. Bath, England 1-28-1850.

4. Harriet Davis, b. ibid 7-25-1854, d. 3-18-1858.
5. Edward Joseph, b. ibid 9-27-1856.

There is a 15 page account of the family of Sarah Esther Mudd Davis, her parents and descendants and brothers and sisters. Especially interesting is their trip to Utah from England, from July 14 to Sept. 3, 1868. It also contains a fine account of the Davis ancestry (sent by Mrs. Louis P. Thomas).

1305a.

A Deed was located in the Island of Barbados entitled "Deed of Ambrose Mudd of Devon, England signed 10-25-1682." Ambrose Mudd appointed certain persons in the Barbados to be his lawful attorneys to collect his share of the estate of Henry Mudd his "brother and law" deceased, a merchant of Speights Bay, Barbados. The attorneys were: Richard Morgan, of Speights Bay; John Blaker (?), of same location, and Robert Bissin, of Dartmouthe. Mention was made of the plantations, lands or tenements of Henry Mudd. The attorneys were to take possession of these properties (suggesting that Henry Mudd had no living wife or children). Henry Mudd, probably the same one above, bought 14 acres and "6 chains" of land in St. Peter Parish, Barbados from John Gosling on 2-12-1678.

In the 1850 census of Scott Co., Ill., we found: Thomas Mudd, 38, farmer, real estate $1500, born England; Eliza A., 30, b. Ill., Mary E., 7; Richard A., 6; Sarah (J?), 4; John T., 3, Alexander, 1; Eliza Clark, 10, all b. Ill. (except the father). This Thomas Mudd could have been a son of Alexander Mudd (see p. 1305) or Robert Mudd (see p. 1306).

In the 1860 census this family was found in the same county as follows: T14, R 12, Post Office, Winchester (p. 924), Thomas Mudd, age 50, farmer, valuation $7200, b. England; Elizabeth, 45, b. Illinois; Mary, 17; Rachel A., 15; Jane, 13; John, 11; Alexander, 10; Harriet, 8; Hannah M., 5. All children born in Illinois; and David Shyen, b. Pa. (see also p. 1330, last para). It should be noted that the researcher copied Richard A., age 6 in the 1850 census and Rachel A., age 15, in the 1860 census.

1870 census, same location as above, Eliza Mudd, 58, keeps house, real estate $12,500; Mary, 25; Jane, 22; John, 21; Alexander, 19; Hattie, 17, Hannah, 15. All born Illinois. John Turner, 10; Hannah Shireman, 2; both b. Illinois. Marshall Blinds, 20, b. Mo., farm hand. Note: The father, Thomas Mudd, was probably deceased. No children married except possibly Rachel A., (or Richard A.). (Obviously one is incorrect).

The County (Scott Co., Ill. ?) records show that Thomas Mudd was married to Elizabeth Wells on 9-26-1839 by Rev. Lorenzo Edwards

1880 census, Scott Co., Ill. (p. 549). Eliza Mudd, 74, b. Illinois, father b. Ky., mother in Illinois; Mary, 38, dau. b. Ill.; Jane, 31, b. Illinois; Alexander, 28, b. Illinois - next on list to - John Mudd, 33, farmer, b. Illinois; Elvira, his wife, 29, b. Illinois; J. C. Albright, 22, Farm Lab. b. Pa.

1305a. (Contd)

In Winchester, Scott Co., Illinois (same year, 1880): Mary Mudd, 25, keeps house, b. Illinois; Sarah J. Snowden, 22, sister (at home); Cora Mudd, dau., 4; Alice Mudd, dau., 2.

Interpretation: Mary Mudd was probably a Snowden who married a Mudd (Sarah J. her sister) and she had two children. This tends to prove that these Scott County Mudds were of the English #5 group as the English #5 group intermarried with the Snowdens (see p. 1306). There is no indication who was the husband of Mary Mudd but he could have been either Alexander or John Mudd in these 1880 census reports.

Miss Alice I. Mudd, a long time resident of Winchester, Illinois retired from the Scott County Schools after many years of teaching, having begun teaching at age 18. In 1957 she was living with her niece, Mrs. Ruth Campbell, also of Winchester. She (Alice) died 10-8-1959, age 81.

San Francisco Chronicle, 6-10-25 - Maude Lee Mudd disappeared from her home 5-21-1925 after a lengthy litigation involving her fortune which resulted in the selection of William Simms, of Vinita, Oklahoma, as her guardian till she would be 21 years old. According to witnesses her mother attended the wedding to Earl E. Gordon and gave her consent. Alex Mudd, Maude's uncle, who was in Omaha attending the horse races, said he believed Maude was forced into marriage by her mother who thinks the marriage would hasten the girl's inheritance and eliminate the guardian. Maude Lee Mudd's marriage to Earle E. Gordon was performed by Rev. Calhoun.
Same paper, 6-14-1925. Her marriage to Earle E. Gordon of Miami (Okla. ?).
Same paper - 2-10-1927 - AP dispatch from Vinita, Okla. After a year's mysterious absence during which time she came into possession of a fortune of 5 million dollars, Miss Mudd came to Vinita to buy a car. She stated she became 18 on 11-23-1926 (therefore born 1908). She had disappeared from a theatre in Los Angeles previously and her husband reported her disappearance and was not heard of again till 8-21-1925 when she disappeared in Southern Kansas. Then she disappeared again - Kidnapping was suspected.

The following marriage bond dated 1-2-1819 was located in Green Co., Ky.: David Higgins and Helen Mudd, dau. of Elizabeth Spencer. This indicates that Elizabeth Spencer was a widow and that Helen was probably born when Elizabeth was married to a Mudd. It is probable that Helen Mudd was a dau. of an Elizabeth Canter, dau. of William Canter and her husband who was a son of Rhodias Elexius Mudd. (See file, Nelson Co., Ky., research of Mrs. Ruth Burdette). (See p. 1151a).

Unplaced Mudd #10 contd.

Other descendants of Simon Weiss and Martha Mudd are (1961): Wahneta Bridges, Eagle, Colo.; Raymond Weiss, Centralia, Ill.; Mrs. Silvia Skinner (a daughter) wife of Glen Skinner, Jacksonville, Ill.; Robert Weiss, a grandson died in Ohio; Leonard Weiss another descendant is deceased; Catherine Bridges, another grand-daughter, had a son, William Weiss (This is probably William Weiss Bridges). (From Ralph L. Mudd (p. 1220).

Simon Weiss is buried in Wolfcreek, Ill., and his wife, Martha, at Nashville, Ill.

Catherine Bridges stated that Simon Weiss and Martha Mudd had 13 children instead of 12 as stated in the 1st edition.

1362a.

Unplaced Mudd #26 - James Mudd, age 14, in 1850 census, Edmonston Co., Ky., living with John and Elizabeth Durbin.

Unplaced Mudd #27 - Benjamin Andrew Mudd, son of Benjamin Mudd and Julia Lafore, was b. 13 Oct. 1842 and baptised at St. Vincent de Paul Church, Houston, Texas. This family is unknown. They could be slaves. (Note the marriage of a Benjamin Mudd in D. C. Negro Mudds (p. 1349).

Unplaced Mudd #28 - A Mollie Mudd m. Tom White. They had a dau., Catherine, who m. Ruppert Little, age 80, in 1965. No other information available.

Unplaced Mudd (Mud) #29 - A file card in the California State Library refers to a Stenard Mud (or Meed) b. N. Y., d. in Placer Co., Calif., May 1860, age 36. No other information available.

Unplaced Mudd #30 - Elizabeth Mudd, m. Washington, D. C., 12-22-1836, John Perry Henley. There is no information as to her identity.

Unplaced Mudd #31 - A Richard T. (or L.) Mudd, porter, was in the 1850 census, Middletown District of Charles Co., Md., with wife, Mary E. Perry (or Berry), and Alexander Smoot , 25. There is no information as to his identity. It is possible he could be a Negro or might not have been a Mudd at all. He was listed between James M. Burch and Ann Cox; those residing 2 listings away were Robert S. Reeder and Daniel Jenifer on one side and Marion Maddux and Jenifer Morris on the other. Since Thomas Walter Mudd (ABBAC) (p. 1027) also resided in the Middletown District it is possible that this Richard T. (or L.) Mudd was another son of Walter Mudd (ABBA). This is only a mere guess. Another possibility is that he was a son of Joshua Mudd, II, (p. 71). A check of the 1860, 1870 and 1880 Charles Co., censuses shows no such family, or part of it, leading to the suspicion that the entry is erroneous.

Unplaced Mudd #32 - Julia Ann Mudd and William Ingman took out a license to marry in D. C., 4-9-1831. There was no minister's return. The 1850 census, Washington, D. C. (Ward 2, 10th St. between G & H, p. 130) has the following:

Wm. Ingman, 44, cabinet maker, b. Md.; J. A., 42, b. D. C.; Wallace, 19, b. D. C.; Ambrose, 10, b. D. C.; Mrs. Beck, 48, b. Md.

Julia Ann Ingman d. 12-29-1868. She was born in Georgetown, D. C. Buried in Glenwood Cemetery.

Wallace W. Ingman, d. of TB, age 23 years and 8 months, on Aug. 13, 1855. He was buried from St. Patrick's Church.

There is no indication as to the identity of the Julia Ann Mudd. The best guess is that she was of the family of George Washington Mudd, (p. 360) or of Bennett Mudd (AAGA)(p. 353). The latter is more likely.

1362a. (Contd)

Unplaced Mudd #33 - James Mudd and Bridget Throney took out a license to marry in Washington, D. C., on 2-12-1958. There was no minister's return.

John B. Alvey (see p. 696) m. Mary Lake..... and had issue:

Issue: George, John B. Jr., Aaron, Nancy Jane, Suzanne and Henrietta. They are buried at Leopold, Ind.

The Thomas Alvey who m. Henrietta (maiden name unknown) had the following issues:

William, b. 5-12-1838.
Luke, b. 2-29-1840.
Charlotta, b. 8-16-1842.
Sarah Letitia, b. 1-19-1844.
Mahala Ellen, b. 3-5-1846.
John Leonard, b. 3-20-1848.
Sylvester, b. 1850.

The above are reported here because the above Henrietta might have been the daughter of Thomas Alvey and Henrietta Mudd.

John B. Alvey and brother Thomas Green Alvey, the latter a Revolutionary Soldier, "took up" land in Perry Co., Ind. together. A William H. Harlen, Salem, Ind. (in 1969) is a descendant of this John B. Alvey. Thos. Green Alvey was b. c 1749 & d. 2-12-1824.

Thomas Green Alvey, the Revolutionary Soldier, m. Elizabeth Mitchell, dau. of John Mitchell. The Will of Thomas G. Alvey was probated 2-21-1820 and mentions wife Henrietta and sons Luke and Thomas Green Alvey. It is very possible, based upon vague information supplied by descendants, that this Thomas Green Alvey m. 1st Eliz Mitchell who died and then as an older man married Henrietta Mudd and died not too long after marriage. If this were true it is doubtful if there was a daughter Henrietta and a son Leonard Lafayette as shown in 1st edition. Sr. M. Ignatia might be correct when she stated that Henrietta Mudd married two Thomas Alveys. If so it would appear that the first Thomas Alvey was Thomas Green Alvey whose estate was probated in 1820. There is no positive solution to this problem with information available.

706. Mrs. Dorothy (Mattingly) Jenkins, Lexington, Ky., has made a detailed study of the Mattingly families as they relate to the Mudds. She found the records very meager. Some of her conclusions are conjectural. She concluded that Philip Mattingly, b. before 1765, was probably son of John Baptist Mattingly.

She concluded that this Philip Mattingly had 11 children, the first of whom was Philip Mattingly II who m. 1st (?) c 1808 Mary Yager and had 10 children, prior to marrying 2d Mary Elizabeth Mudd. (See p. 706 for the issues of Philip's second marriage). Two of Philip Mattingly's (II) children by his 1st m. married Mudds viz. Mary E. to Thomas William Mudd (p. 716) and Stephen James to Sarah Elizabeth Mudd (p. 711). In her report she quotes the Washington Co., Tax and Census records to indicate the age and family relationships of the various Mattinglys. These are too extensive to list here (See Mattingly folder).

ANNEX (Contd)

706. (Contd)

She found Philip Mattingly in the Washington Co., Tax lists for most years from 1799 to 1842. In some years there were two Philip Mattinglys, the last being in 1806, which is the possible year of death of Philip I.

Stephen J. Mattingly (see p. 711) is listed from 1840 through 1847 and had 35 a. of land on the Road Run. (Note that he married Sarah Elizabeth Mudd in Washington Co., Ky. in 1843).

She also attempted to determine the parentage of George C. Mattingly who m. Elizabeth Mudd (see ps. 288, 288a & 288 Annex). George C. was first taxed in Ky. in 1828 and until 1830. (Lists missing 1833 to 1842). She guessed that he might be the son of George Mattingly and Elizabeth Wimsett who were married in Md. 12-30-1794.

852. Wilbur Draper Gill had a daughter Polly Wickes Gill, who m. Elmer Lester Schowe, whose son Robert Edward Schowe, res: (1968) Jeffersonville, Ind. His chart indicates that the parents of DeLancey Gill were William Harrison Gill and ..... McClure. He left all his property to his daughter Rose de Lima Draper.

Lemuel James Draper made his Will (copy in the file) while in the U.S. Navy on 5-6-1863 at a U.S. Naval Hospital. However available records indicate that he died 8-20-1879. He refers to his mother as Ann T.H. Draper.

Dr. Lemuel Draper is reported to have been dismissed from the Navy for befriending a Confederate Soldier on a prison ship but was later reinstated without prejudice.

865. The relationship of the Kidwell, Thurmond and Sands families with the Mudds makes an interesting but confused picture.

A Benjamin Kidwell married Elizabeth Mudd (see ps. 1352 & 1353). She is unplaced but may have been the Elizabeth, daughter of Francis Mudd (Abag) though there is no proof. There is a good chance that she was the widow of a Mudd.

There is a folder on this Kidwell family. Interested persons have made guesses as to the identity of Elizabeth (Mudd) Kidwell but none of them give any definite clew.

As we prepared to go to press Mrs. Margaret (Elliott) Thurmond, Silex, Mo., widow of William Thomas Thurmond Jr., sent the following information:

John Kidwell (this might be Benjamin mentioned above) married Elizabeth Mudd and had a daughter Elizabeth Delilah, b. Va. 3-17-1799, who married George Sands. The latter couple had 14 children, "3 of whom had descendants." One of the 14 was Elizabeth Sands who married Fountain Moore (See F.N.10, p.98 and p.1291). One of their issues was Elizabeth Moore who m. William Thomas Thurmond Sr. whose son, William Thomas Jr. married the informant, Margaret Adelia Elliott. Her family records are in the file.

Fountain Moore and wife had 4 children, 3 daughters and one son viz. Mary Fletcher (see p. 1291). Mary Ellen; Fountain Jr. (see p. 198), and Harriet Elizabeth, b. 4-10-1852 who m. William Thomas Thurmond Sr.

C.M.B. Thurmond (brother of William T. Thurmond Sr. (above) married a French girl named Josephine Bovier.

The George Sands mentioned above was the son of Robert Sands and wife Margaret. Mrs. Thurmond states that Robert Sands imported tradesmen to build the "White House" in Washington, D.C. George Sands and wife and 7 sons helped to build the Millwood Church. The seven Sands boys (sons of George Sands and wife) put the roof on the church.

"In 1873 William T. Thurmond Sr. and brother, C.M.B. Thurmond (above) took charge of Christian Institute and organized the public and high school in Troy, Mo., inducing the directors to rent that year and buy the building and grounds the next year. In 1876 he (William T.) purchased half interest in the Troy Herald and 2 years later became sole owner. He married (Harriet) Elizabeth Moore, 8-10-1874, a devoted member of the Troy Catholic Church. They had 2 children: Mary Lorene who married Ed Mudd (Edward Nathaniel Mudd, p. 899) and William T. Thurmond Jr." (see above).

Dayton Henry Mudd was "born in the little house of C.M.B. Thurmond across from the store in Millwood, Mo." (For Dayton Henry and Edward N. Mudd, see ps. 897 and 898).

All of the above is from Mrs. Margaret Adelia (Elliott) Thurmond. It appears that the ancestors of the Kidwells mentioned above were Benjamin Kidwell and Elizabeth Mudd but there is no proof.

ABBREVIATIONS

Following is a list of abbreviations, most of them used frequently, but some used occasionally or rarely in the text. Such common abbreviations as those for day of week, months, directions and states are omitted. Some of the abbreviations used in old records and manuscripts could not be identified and are not listed here. In some instances there are two abbreviations for the same word. This was in part due to the fact that several individuals typed the book.

Very few names are abbreviated in the book. This list includes the few that are abbreviated. Nic-names are not considered abbreviations for purposes of this list.

The designation of children and descendants by the use of letters a, b, c, etc., and numbers 1, 2, 3, etc., is described in the Introduction (Part I).

All abbreviations herein are capitalized for convenience in listing. However, in the text some are uniformly capitalized; others uniformly not capitalized.

INDEX

In spite of countless hours spent on the following index, many mistakes will be found. In great part this was due to the fact that several persons worked on it and the names were recorded in long hand, transcribed and re-transcribed as the index expanded. In this manner page numbers for some of the names were lost or inadvertently omitted and accordingly a few names appear without page numbers. Those finding mistakes are requested to inform the author in order that a corrected copy can be maintained.

Only two groups are indexed, vis: all personal names and names of estates, plantations, manors and other similar properties.

To a great extent nic-names are omitted from the index as it would have increased the size of the index unreasonably to index them.

If a name found in the index does not appear on the page listed it is suggested that a search be made on the page next to the one listed. It was found that this error may occur often enough to call attention to it.

It will be noted that full names are indexed except that where an individual has more than two "given" names, only the first letter of the third name is in the index, thus Catherine Ann Marie is indexed Catherine Ann M. In many cases, the name used in the index is the middle name, because the middle name is the one customarily used by the individual. The names in the Bibliography list are not indexed; nor are the names in the "Acknowledgement" section of the introduction.

Since some individuals are referred to by several names, the one chosen for index may not be the one the individual uses regularly. Accordingly it is suggested that the name be sought under all its equivalents e.g. Mamie, May, Mae, Marie, Molly, etc. for Mary; Kate, Katherine, Catharine, etc. for Catherine; Fannie, Fanny, for Frances; Lou, Louisa for Louise; Roseanna, or Rosannah for Rose.

All names herein are alphabetized according to the first name. For example Gerald William precedes Geraldine Mary.

CORRECTIONS AND ADDITIONS TO ORIGINAL INDEX

March 1, 1969

It was my original intention to rewrite the entire index making corrections and additions listed below. It was concluded that this would be a mammoth undertaking as the indexing of the first edition required about 5 months of spare time for several people.

The index to the second edition will be found in four places: 1st. The original index to the first edition (pages, 1389 to 1461); 2d Corrections and Additions to the original index, beginning below; 3d. Index to the pages added for the second edition, which will be found at the end of the second edition; and 4th. Additions and deletions to the original index necessitated by Corrections or Additions to the first edition. Inasmuch as additions, deletions and corrections may continue to occur up to the date of delivery to the printer, this portion of the index has been placed at the very end of the book.

Index for pages 1470 to 1765

As was done for the first edition only two given names are recorded in addition to surname. Nicnames have been omitted except where it is the only known name. Names of estates, manors, towns, cities, countries and states have not been indexed.

In a few cases the page number for a given name has been omitted accidently. If and when such page numbers are located they will be added to a list of corrections to be prepared if sufficient errors are found.
